TEXT TO 911 NOW AVAILABLE ACROSS THE COMMONWEALTH

The Massachusetts State 911 Department is pleased to announce that Text to 911 is now available throughout the Commonwealth. All Massachusetts 911 call centers now have ability to receive a text message through their 911 system. The Baker-Polito Administration has supported making these system enhancements since 2015.

Text to 911 allows those in need of emergency services to use their cellular device to contact 911 when they are unable to place a voice call.

"This is a significant improvement to our 911 system that will save lives," said Public Safety and Security Secretary Tom Turco. "By giving those requiring emergency services this option we are greatly expanding the ability of first responders to provide critical assistance to those in need."

To contact emergency services by text message, simply enter 911 in the "To" field of your mobile device and then type your message into the message field. It is the same process that is used for sending a regular text message from your mobile device. It is important to make every effort to begin the text message indicating the town you are in and provide the best location information that you can.

Storm causes school closures

By Sue Ellen Woodcock

After a Martin Luther King Jr. holiday on Monday, Winthrop students got their first snow day on Tuesday, but it wasn't so much the snow as it was the ice that blanketed the area after a deep freeze over the weekend.

The icy walkways also forced the closure of the public library and caused town hall to shorten its hours from 8-4:30 p.m. instead of the usual 7 p.m. on a Tuesday night said Town Manager Austin Faison.

"This weekend our custodial staff and the DPW staff have been working tirelessly to clear the streets, sidewalks and parking lots at each of our schools," Superintendent of Schools Lisa Howard said in a social media post. "Due to the timing of the icy rain that fell Sunday, with the drastic drop in temperature, the ice has created a huge challenge. Due to unsafe conditions all school activities will be cancelled (Jan. 22)."

This was also the first storm as town manager for Faison, who stressed that safety was the driving factor in canceling school. He lauded the DPW and other employees who worked to remove snow.

"And then the ice came," Faison said, with the reality that the equipment the town has for snow and ice removal is woefully inadequate and the workers do the best with what they have.

The low temperatures also

Candidates sought for Precinct 1 seat

With the passing of Precinct 1 Councilor Michael McDuffee on Jan. 6 came a vacancy on the Town Council.

According to the Town Charter, a vacancy can be filled by the second runner up in the election. McDuffee had served on the council for a year and was elected to his position unopposed.

In this case, the vacancy can also be filled by an appointment from the Town Council. So far two residents have come forward to express an interest in the seat. Nick Bracy and Richard Ferino, both attended the council meeting Tuesday night. The council is accepting letters of interest until Feb. 5, there will be interviews Feb. 12 and the vote will be taken on Feb. 19.

Water rates rising again

By Transcript Staff

Town Manager Austin Faison announced Tuesday night at the council meeting that the Town of Winthrop will increase water and sewer rates by $3 per hundred cubic feet beginning with the current billing cycle.

The increase, from $19.90 per hundred cubic feet to $22.90 is the result of a drop in the amount of water used by the Town in the first half of the billing year.

Information on what an average water bill will be was not readily available at the meeting.

"It's a combination of decreased usage and the future borrowing that we are going to take on for the center business project," Faison said.

Water and sewer rates were just raised 17 percent in May 2018 because of a water and sewer budget deficit when Police Chief Terry Delehanty was interim town manager. It was said then that there was a risk to raise the rate because it often resulted in less usage. This has been the case with a 6 percent reduction in use from last spring.

Governor appoints Winthrop native Maylor as new Comptroller of the Commonwealth

Transcript Staff

Gov. Charlie Baker has announced the appointment of Andrew Maylor as Comptroller of the Commonwealth, an independent overseer of the Commonwealth's financial transactions, accountability and service delivery across all branches of state government.

Maylor, a native of Winthrop and at one time the town's tax collector, most recently served as Town Manager for the town of North Andover and has over three decades of experience in both the public and private sector in financial management.

Most recently he and fellow Winthrop native and Andover Town Manager Andrew Flanagan, son of Fire Chief Paul Flanagan were faced with the largest natural gas explosion in the state's history. The explosion made worldwide news, killed one and displaced thousands in the Merrimack Valley area.

"It was surreal," Maylor said of the 90-day catastrophe. "You went from a normal day with no issues to 130 fires and explosions within a one-hour period."

Students go live on 'Wake-Up Winthrop'

Weekly newscast by Winthrop High School students for Winthrop High School students

By Kate Anslinger

The students and teachers at Winthrop High School have a new way of getting their news. Every Friday morning at 8 a.m., "Wake Up Winthrop" is aired and viewed in most classrooms, complete with student interviews and weekly updates.

The 10-minute program is produced and edited by students in Brian Donnelly's Digital Media class and designed to give interested students hands-on experience in television production. The students take on the various roles needed to execute a polished finished product and have the opportunity to work on a variety of different tasks amongst the many roles including: on-air talent, sports reporter, field reporter, editor, program director, script writer and producer.

"I feel like a lot of the students really love what they are doing in the class," said Connor Clarke, veteran digital media student who prefers behind-the-scenes work. "We get to pick a topic and project that interests us so that makes it fun."

Senior, Mike McCone, finds the hands-on experience extremely beneficial and feels that it will give him an advantage in college, where he plans to major in television production.

"We get to come up with ideas and we spend a good amount of time in brainstorming sessions," McCone said.

The class has been on the

THANK YOU, JAY ASH

When Gov. Charlie Baker was elected to his first term of office four years ago, his first major announcement was the appointment of Jay Ash to the post of Secretary of Housing and Economic Development.

The announcement by Gov. Baker, a Republican, came as a surprise to many political insiders because Ash was a lifelong Democrat and at the time was serving as the City Manager for the City of Chelsea, a post he had held for almost 15 years. Moreover, the Secretary of Housing and Economic Development is among the most important members of a governor's cabinet, and typically goes to a person who is among those most trusted by the governor to implement his broad policy objectives.

However, Ash's appointment by Gov.-elect Baker signaled two things about the incoming administration: First, that Baker was going to "reach across the aisle" to Democrats and second, that he was seeking the most-qualified persons he could find to serve in his administration.

During the past four years, Charlie Baker's appointment of Jay Ash, who officially stepped down from his cabinet post in December to become the new president of a nonprofit business group known as the Massachusetts Competitive Partnership, has proven to be a win-win for Gov. Baker -- and the people of Massachusetts -- on both scores.

Ash, who had served for many years as the chief of staff to former House Ways and Means Committee Chairman Richard Voke, not only knew the ins-and-outs of the legislative process, but also was on a first-name basis with many legislators, most notably House Speaker Bob DeLeo, who played a key role in working with Jay in implementing the many initiatives put forth by the Baker administration.

In addition, Jay Ash brought to the table his experience as the City Manager of Chelsea, a small city that is the prototype for both the potential and pitfalls of economic development of urban areas throughout the state.

During his tenure, Jay Ash brought to fruition many projects that will bring economic benefits for future generations of our state's residents. Among Ash's signature accomplishments, he played a key role in bringing the Pawtucket Red Sox to Worcester, which included the redevelopment of the city's Canal District with $35 million in infrastructure and affordable housing funds; he brought $12.5 million in state funds to the Berkshire Innovation Center, which will focus on life sciences in Pittsfield; he played an integral role in persuading General Electric to locate its world headquarters in Boston's Seaport District; and he was instrumental in bringing about a significant reduction in the number of homeless families living in motels.

All in all, Jay Ash's tenure as Secretary of Housing and Economic Development has been among the most successful and remarkable of any Cabinet member of any administration in the state's history.

We know we speak not only for the residents of his native Chelsea, but also for citizens throughout the state, in thanking Jay Ash for his years of public service and wishing him well in his future endeavors.

LETTER to the Editor

BOUDROW THANKS TOWN

Dear Editor,

To my family, friends, and neighbors,

Christmas Eve 2018 will forever be etched into my memories. On this night, my family, friends, and fellow Winthrop residents came out to show me just how wonderful it is to live in a town like Winthrop. After 35 years of being a firefighter for the town and being the guy who drove Santa Claus around town on Christmas Eve, I decided to retire from the job I love. So, this having been my last year as a firefighter and Santa's driver, the outpouring of love and well wishes is something I will truly never forget. I am deeply humbled, and am overwhelmed by your love and support throughout the years.

Baker-Polito administration files legislation to improve road safety

The Baker-Polito Administration filed legislation to improve road safety entitled, "An Act Relative to Improving Safety on the Roads of the Commonwealth." The proposal makes a number of changes recommended in the Strategic Highway Safety Plan and updates existing statutes that were drafted before recent advances in various forms of mobility.

"Keeping the Commonwealth's networks of roads as safe as possible for everyone using them is one of our administration's top public safety priorities," said Gov. Charlie Baker. "This bill includes common sense proposals to substantially reduce distracted driving, stiffen penalties associated with operating under the influence, improve safety requirements for certain trucks and to begin establishing a regulatory framework for new forms of transportation. We look forward to working with our colleagues in the Legislature to pass this comprehensive road safety bill into law."

"Our administration believes empowering law enforcement and transportation officials with the tools contained in this bill will make a real difference in road safety for drivers, workers, bicyclists and pedestrians," said Lt. Gov. Karyn Polito. "This bill will put in place important safety measures for First Responders and highway construction crews working every day to improve road conditions and overall safety for everyone travelling in Massachusetts."

Between 2012 and 2016, 15,662 people were seriously injured and 1,820 people lost their lives on the roadways of the Commonwealth, including 14 road workers who have been killed. To protect those working, the legislation would allow the Massachusetts Department of Transportation (MassDOT) to set up temporary mandatory speed limits in construction zones. To protect people walking, bicycling and using motorcycles on Massachusetts roadways, the legislation would require state-owned heavy trucks and state and municipally-contracted vehicles to be equipped with convex and cross-over mirrors and require the installation of side guards between the front and rear wheels of these vehicles to protect people from being caught under a truck and run over by its rear wheels. The bill expands efforts to limit distracted driving by having Massachusetts join sixteen other states, including all of our neighboring New England states, in requiring hands-free use of electronic devices while driving. Law enforcement would also be able to stop motorists who are not wearing seatbelts under this legislation.

The proposal corrects inconsistencies in the law for those convicted of Operating under the Influence (OUI) by requiring first-time offenders who apply for hardship licenses to be placed into the ignition interlock program and clarifying the ability of the Registry of Motor Vehicles to penalize those who attempt to drive after consuming alcohol, even with an ignition interlock device.

Emerging micromobility technologies like electric scooters and increased use of electric bicycles present both opportunities as a compliment to current means of transportation and challenges as an industry without any existing statutory framework. As a first step, the administration proposes treating electric scooters and pedal assist electric bicycles the same way bicycles are treated under state law and establishing a multi-party advisory group to recommend more permanent policies.

An Act Relative to Improving Safety on the Roads of the Commonwealth includes proposals on the following topics:

- Hands-free: Requires electronic devices to be used in "hands-free" mode and would not allow anyone operating a motor vehicle to touch or hold a mobile electronic device, "except to perform a single tap or swipe to activate, deactivate, or initiate hands-free mode." The bill would permit talking, texting and other tasks to be completed by voice commands and would allow law enforcement officers to better enforce distraction laws.

- Primary seatbelt: Law enforcement would be permitted to stop motorists for not wearing seatbelts.

- Work zone safety: Allows MassDOT to establish mandatory temporary lower speed limits in construction zones that would double fines when workers are present.

- Ignition interlock, hardship licenses: Proposal would require the use of ignition interlock devices for first offenders who apply for hardship licenses, requiring an interlock device for a minimum of six months as a condition of obtaining a hardship license.

- Ignition interlock, penalties for violating terms of interlock program: Clarifies the ability of the Registry to penalize those who attempt to drive after drinking alcohol, (even with an interlock device), or who tamper with an interlock device.

- Side guards and additional mirrors: The proposal would require all Commonwealth-owned and operated vehicles over 10,000 pounds to have side guards, convex mirrors, and cross-over mirrors after January 1, 2020. This law would require all Commonwealth and municipal contractors to have these devices by January 1, 2022. Certain vehicle classifications would be exempt and the law grants the authority to the Registrar of Motor Vehicles to grant additional exemptions, in keeping with U.S. DOT standards.

- New technology: Electric scooters and other low speed mobility devices, such as electric bicycles, currently lack a specific vehicle classification. The proposal treats these new technology items the same as bicycles according to existing Mass General Law. For example, these operators, like bicyclists would need to wear a helmet if under the age of 16, would be required to yield to people walking and provide an audible signal when passing, and could not block vehicular or pedestrian traffic when parked. In addition, the law would require MassDOT to establish a micro-mobility advisory working group to propose future changes for safe adoption of emerging and undefined low speed mobility devices.

The proposals to increase road safety being made by the Baker-Polito Administration stem, in part, from discussions with members of the Massachusetts Legislature, strategies outlined in the 2018 Massachusetts Strategic Highway Safety Plan and input from key stakeholders like The Massachusetts Vision Zero Coalition and various law enforcement professionals.

ARTICLE 863 - CORNER OF PAULINE AND HERMON STREETS

Previous “Then and Now” Articles have featured groups of buildings located around or near “Columbia Square”, now named Metcalf Square in memory of Dr. Metcalf’s son Richard who died in the service of our country during WWI. Today’s article is about the group of three buildings on Pauline Street, at the corner of Hermon Street, which are also in this same general area. Picture one depicts only the corner building known then as the E.S. Read block as it appeared in 1886. Note that this was before the street was raised to curb level and that the original roof was pitched to a peak rather than being flat as shown in the last three pictures. The wooden building, at the extreme left of the picture with a tower on the rear of it, was the first Fire House in Town built in 1885. In addition to housing equipment, its primary function was to store the fire hoses and the tower was used to hang the wet hoses up to dry. When the present brick Center Fire Station was built across the street in 1898, the wood fire house was moved to a site in front of the present Memorial Auditorium where it served, along with another smaller building, as the Grand Army of the Republic (GAR) Headquarters. It was later moved again to 92 Woodside Ave. where it now serves as a private residence. Picture two again shows the same corner building, circa 1940, along with the two additional ones built when the Fire House was relocated across the street. The right hand corner building was opened as a series of Drug Stores operated first by Myer Rubin, then by the Pandoloffo Brothers and from 1947 to 1977 by Thomas Reilly, the father of our previous Council President Thomas Reilly Jr. who remembers that he and his many brothers and sisters had the pleasant experience of working there. Notice the lamp pole right on the corner. The teenagers of the day were known to have tied a rope from it to the door knob of the corner store (which opened in) to prevent patrons from leaving. Remember when Newspapers used to be stacked on the floor of drug stores for customers to select the one they wanted? One lady is remembered to have paid for her paper each day by leaving the money also on the floor. These pranks sound like a patron’s desire to aggravate an excitable proprietor. Picture three shows the same area eight years ago when the corner store was occupied by “Nicks Place” restaurant, now relocated to the old MacDonald’s building at the corner of Pauline and Putnam streets. The second business in this corner building was, at that time, “Casa Bella Beauty Salon”. Prior to Casa Bella’s there was a small typewriter repair shop and the Bartlett Plumbing Company in that side of the building.

The middle building, which now contains the offices of Frank M. Costantino, Architectural Illustrator, was the home of Fred Burns. The third and most left hand building formerly housed the Metropolitan Credit Union. This third building now contains the Metro Driving School with the Law Offices of John G. Tardif. At the extreme left side of this picture can be seen the E.B. Newton School built in 1912 and now recognized as a National Historic Building which, among other things, currently houses the Winthrop Cultural Council, the Winthrop Art Association, the Heritage Room of the Historic Commission, the Clock Tower Gallery of pictures, the Community Christian Center, the Winthrop School of Performing Arts and the Town Facilities Management Offices. Picture four shows the corner store which now houses the Lucky Convenience Mart. It is convenient to those working at our Town Hall, Police and fire Stations as well as at the Public Library and Cummings School.

Jan. 27, 1899
There was standing-room-only at the big town meeting last evening, at which members approved an appropriation of $800 to complete the new engine house. Curfew by-laws were passed, after much discussion, by a vote of 102-13. Another point of contention was an article calling for the free use of Town Hall by religious organizations on Dec. 6 and 13, which was defeated.

Constantinos Tsiotos

A man who embodied compassionate concern and selfless generosity, a wonderful teacher of humane values who strove to inspire others to seek excellence

Constantinos “Dino” Tsiotos, a longtime Winthrop resident, passed away peacefully on his 94th birthday, Jan. 17, surrounded by his loving children.

He was the beloved husband of the late Polixeni (Con-dakes) Tsiotos, the devoted father of Nick and his wife, Nitsa Tsiotos of Winthrop, Christos and his wife, Angela Tsiotos and Elaine and her husband, Steve Mallios and son John Tsiotos and grandchildren: Vasili, Katerina and Constantinos Mallios, Niki and Polixeni Tsiotos, Constantinos, Vasili, and Polixeni Tsiotos, all of Winthrop. He is also survived by many loving nephews, niece, and cousins, whom he loved, in the US and in Greece. He was the son of the late Christos and Eleni Koumaniotis Tsiotos, late brother of George Tsiotos of Greece and Demetra Zikos of Winthrop. He is survived by his sister Militza Manoloules and brother in law Antonios Zikos of Winthrop.

He was born in small village named Kokova in the beautiful mountainous region of Kalavrita, Greece, on Jan. 17,1925. During World War II he helped his family survive The Great Famine of 1941-1943, which killed hundreds of thousands of Greeks during Nazi occupation.

He was part of a group of villagers who saved an American pilot whose airplane had crashed. He told his family that the barefoot poor villagers would use the airplanes tires to make shoes.

In 1945, Dino joined the Greek City Police Force in the port city of Piraeus and worked the toughest area of the port city. He joined his mentor, Uncle Ioannis Tsiotos, Police Chief of Piraeus, who was instrumental in issuing fake identity cards to save Jewish-Greek citizens and resistance fighters to escape Nazi occupation.

He graduated Panteion University, in Athens, Greece, with a degree in Political Science while serving in the police force. He truly loved being an officer of the Greek police. During this time, he helped a Greek-American woman named Polixeni Con-dakes with her suitcases one day at customs in 1948 and corresponded with her for five years. In 1953, they were married in Vassara, Sparta.

After arriving in the United States in 1953, he worked long hours at various jobs eventually working at the famed Jimmy’s Harbor Side Restaurant as a waiter until age 76.

He had a deep and abiding respect for education, paideia in Greek. All four of his children received undergraduate or graduate degrees. His grandchildren have extended this legacy of pursuing higher education. He was a deep reader of the ancient Greek philosophers, and lived according to the classical ideals of truth and human dignity.

He treasured his copious library of great works from the ancient and modern world, especially German philosophy. For Mr. Tsiotos, these texts were always filled with living examples of how to confront the problems of daily life which enabled him to help people he came in contact with.

Throughout his life, Dino was the embodiment of compassionate concern and selfless generosity. He was a wonderful teacher of humane values, and strove to inspire others to seek excellence.

He loved America and considered his neighbors as extended family. He had an interest in politics hosting family functions for Sens. Markey and Tsongas, Gov. Michael Dukakis, and family friend, Winthrop resident Speaker of The House Robert DeLeo.

Every year the Tsiotos family at 249 Pleasant St. would host a traditional Greek-Orthodox Easter with lamb on a spit and other scrumptious Greek delicacies. The Easter celebration became a family and neighborhood event filled with lots of laughter, song, and dance.

He delighted in watching his children and grandchildren compete in athletics at Winthrop High School, and always emphasized to them the Ancient Greek emphasis on sound mind in a solid body. He loved the friendships and comradery that sports brought to his family and community.

He cherished the legacy of his heroic ancestry that his family had fought in the Greek War of Independence in 1821, Balkan Wars, and the Nazis. He sang the traditional folk songs and quoted famous Modern Greek poetry. He was a superb Greek dancer of the athletic tsamiko dance.

Throughout his life he had a passion and love for nature and gardening. Since 1961 he created an amazing garden oasis around his home. He shared the fruits of his labor including tomatoes and vegetables with family and friends. He would simply let people come into his garden and enjoy picking peaches, cherries, and pears. Constantinos Tsiotos requested that his tombstone display the famous saying form the great Greek novelist Nikos Kazantzakis, author of “Zorba the Greek:” “I fear nothing. I am free.”

His Funeral was held from the Maurice W. Kirby Funeral Home, Winthrop. Donations in his memory may be made to Saint George Greek Orthodox Church, 54 S. Common St., Lynn, MA. 01902 for Greek School or to the Viking Pride Foundation, Winthrop High School 400 Main St., Winthrop, MA 02152. For guestbook, please visit: www.mauricekirbyfh.com.

Airline inspectors at Boston Logan Airport warn passengers of safety concerns amidst the government shutdown

By John Lynds

Local concerns regarding Air Traffic Controllers working without pay at Boston Logan Airport during the government shutdown are surfacing. The shutdown and working without pay maybe making an already stressful job more demanding an impacting safety.

With hundreds of thousands of residents living in the shadow of the one of the busiest international airports in the nation, air traffic control safety at Logan is paramount to the welfare of the community.

As the government shutdown moves into its fifth week, aviation safety specialists across New England and the country are speaking out to warn passengers that skeleton inspection staffing is lowering safety standards at airports throughout the country. While a handful of inspectors were mandated back to work under "emergency" conditions, many remain sidelined by the shutdown in New England-including Logan. This means more flights across the region are taking off without independent oversight by qualified aviation safety specialists at the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA). Now, inspectors like Stephen Brown are speaking out, saying skeleton crews are not enough to keep the skies as safe as possible for passengers flying out of airports in the region like Logan.

Brown said while airline companies may conduct their own checks, the FAA safety inspectors charged with double-checking the work of those airlines and ensuring companies play by the rules have been sidelined since Dec. 22.

Workers like Brown say that it's a major concern for all travelers. "The government shutdown has put a tremendous strain on the workers, but more so I believe it has put a strain on the aviation industry and its safety," said Brown in a statement on behalf of employees belonging to the Professional Aviation Safety Specialists (PASS) union. "With the government shutdown and the furlough of Aviation Safety Inspectors across the nation, this line of defense on regulatory and safety oversight has just disintegrated. Aviation Inspectors, like myself, have been forced to cease inspections on the airworthiness and operations of many commercial entities, from the large major air carriers down to the local commercial flight school."

Brown added that the nation and the public are now in a position where the is little to no oversight on all these commercial operations, yet they are allowed to operate.

"Unscrupulous or naive operators and operations can be conducted within our system without any regulatory oversight, inspections or investigations," he said. "While some inspectors are being recalled, we are all essential to the safety of the National Airspace System and should all be on the job for the American flying public." Historically, inspectors like Brown had been classified as excepted employees and would have been required to work. However, that was changed in 2013 with the nation's second longest shutdown.

Last Monday, some of Brown's colleagues were called back to work on an "emergency" basis, but it's unclear how long that will last for – and when the services will return to being fully staffed. PASS National President Mike Perrone spoke at a federal employee rally on Capitol Hill last week. "We stand with those in the labor and aviation communities to let Congress and the White House know that this government shutdown hurts the employees we proudly represent and impacts the ability of the Federal Aviation Administration to conduct important safety-related functions," said Perrone at the rally. "Essential aviation professionals have been forced to the sidelines and their important work is not getting done. Without a fully functioning FAA, a layer of safety is missing. Let me say that again: Without a fully functioning FAA, a layer of safety is missing."

WHS VIKINGS BOYS HOCKEY VS SAUGUS AT LARSEN RINK

VIKINGS TAKE IT IN THIRD PERIOD, WIN 3-1

Photos and story by Bob Marra
robertmarraphotography.com

The Vikings struck for a third-period pair of goals that broke a 1-1 tie, then hunkered down on defense to knock off Saugus, 3-1, in Northeastern Conference North hockey action Saturday at Larsen Rink.

JD Parker's unassisted goal with 12:56 remaining in the third, Luke Evangelista's insurance tally barely two-and-one half minutes later accounted for the 3-1 final. The win solidified the Vikings hold on first place in the Conference North division as they boosted their overall record to 9-3, 5-1 in the conference.

Corey Cherico got Winthrop on the scoreboard first when he took a Sam Yarrow pass and put it past Saugus goaltender Jack Devereaux. Joe Holgerson also picked up an assist on the play. Yarrow is the division's leading scorer with 11 goals and 12 assists.

Saugus tied the game at the 10:53 mark of the second period as a Charles Graffeo tipped an Adam Rodrigues centering pass between the goalpost and the right leg pad of Winthrop goalie Ryan Skoczylas. But the freshman Parker picked up his second goal of the season when he scored the game-winner when he raced alone down the left wing and whistled a shot past Devereaux.

The Vikings have four players among the division's top 10 scorers: Yarrow, Evangelista (14-4-18); Holgerson (3-6-9) and Cherico (5-4-9). The Vikings, ranked 10th in Division 2, played at Peabody Wednesday, January 23, and play Medford at Larsen Rink Saturday, Jan. 26, at 1:30 p.m., and then square off against Marblehead, ranked 8th, next Wednesday evening, Jan. 30, at Salem State with a 7:30 p.m. faceoff.

Luke Evangelista has a point-blank shot but was stymied by Saugus goalie John Devereaux.

Joey Holgerson rips a shot in front of a sprawled Saugus defender.

Winthrop's Mike Brooks (#19) is entangled with Saugus's Ron Paolo.

Freshman JD Parker celebrates his unassisted goal that put the Vikings up 2-1 en route to a 3-1 win over Saugus Saturday at Larsen Rink.

WHS SPORTS ROUNDUP

VIKINGS WINS PAIR; RANKED #4 IN DIV. 2

Senior captain Sam Yarrow scored a goal with 27 seconds to play to give the Winthrop High hockey team a dramatic 2-1 victory over Bishop Fenwick last Thursday at Larsen Rink.

Prior to Yarrow's heroics, the two squads had battled to a 1-1 deadlock through the first 44:33 of the contest. The Vikings took an early lead on a goal by Andrew DiMento, assisted by Noah Evangelista and Yarrow, in the opening period.

After a scoreless middle frame, the Bishops finally broke through the Winthrop defense and goalie Ryan Skoczylas (a superb 25 saves on the night) in the third period to bring the contest back to level at 1-1.

That set the stage for Yarrow, who broke down the wing after taking a nice pass from fellow captain Chris Finn, to reach the back of the Bishops' net for the game-winner (Sam's 11th goal of the season) against a Fenwick team that is a Division 1, non-league opponent.

Two days later the Vikings hosted long-time Northeastern Conference foe Saugus and skated to a 3-1 triumph in similar fashion.

Winthrop once again seized the initiative, grabbing a 1-0 in the first period on a goal by Corey Cherico, assisted by Yarrow and Joey Holgersen, only to see Saugus knot matters with a lamp-lighter in the second period to leave matters at 1-1 entering the final 15 minutes of play.

However, this victory would not prove to be quite as dramatic as the Fenwick triumph. Freshman JD Parker scored an unassisted goal and assistant captain Luke Evangelista, assisted by Finn (his seventh assist, tied for second-best on the team) and Yarrow (a team-high 14 assists), gave the Vikings some insurance with his team-high 15th goal of the season.

The Winthrop D and net-minder Skoczylas (23 saves) once again were solid in the manner of a typical Viking squad that has been a trademark of Winthrop High hockey under head coach Dale Dunbar, a former star defenseman at WHS, Boston University, and the NHL.

The victory over Saugus (which was beaten 5-0 by Fenwick this past Monday) propelled the Vikings (9-3 overall, 5-1 in the NEC North Division) into sole obsession of first place in the NEC North and into the fourth spot in the Division 2 rankings on Hockey Night in Boston.

Dunbar and his crew, who need just two points to qualify for the state tourney, have three NEC North contests this coming week, starting at Peabody last night (Wednesday). The Vikings will host Medford Saturday afternoon at Larsen at 1:30 and then will trek to Salem State College next Wednesday evening to take on Marblehead (ranked #7 in D-2) in a battle that could determine the NEC North championship.

WHS GIRLS HOCKEY DEFEATS MEDFORD, 2-1

The Winthrop High girls hockey team kept alive its hopes for a league title and moved one step closer to qualifying for a berth in the post-season state tourney with a 2-1 victory over Medford Wednesday evening at Larsen Rink.

The win was a come-from-behind effort for the Lady Vikings, who found themselves trailing 1-0 after the first period thanks to five penalties that produced the Medford goal on a power play.

Emma Carleton brought Winthrop back to level in the second period on a nice shot, assisted by Bella Perotti, to leave matters even-steven at 1-1 entering the final 15 minutes.

The third period proved to be a hard-fought battle, but neither team was able to break the deadlock until, with just under five minutes to play, Olivia Driscoll scored the eventual game-winner, assisted by Carleton.

"That whole line (Carleton, Driscoll, and Mia Martucci) has been big for us all year, but that goal was huge," said WHS head coach Anthony Martucci. "It bailed us out when we needed it most."

However, Martucci and Lady Vikings fans still had to undergo some tense moments down the stretch when a Winthrop penalty gave Medford a power play, which then became a 6-on-4 advantage when the Lady Mustangs pulled their goalie.

Although Medford had some chances, the Lady Viking defense and goalie Summer Tallent held firm to preserve the victory.

"Summer was unreal again," noted Martucci. "She has been all-world for us this whole season. If Summer can continue to play like she has, she gives us a chance to win every game we play, and we can do some damage should we get into the state tourney."

Martucci also lauded the play of captain Emma Carleton as a huge reason why this team has been able to win key games.

"Emma has a way of raising her level of play with the importance of the game in front of her," said the coach. "She is just the type of kid that has ice in her veins. The bigger the game, the better she plays. She treats every game

Winthrop's Boyajian laces up skates to fight cancer on Feb. 2

Fifth Annual Dana-Farber Rink Rats vs. Boston Bruins Alumni

Winthrop resident Rich Boyajian, will be among the Dana-Farber Cancer Institute doctors, researchers, and staff who will play a charity hockey game against Boston Bruins Alumni to benefit adult and pediatric cancer care and research at Dana-Farber. The 5th annual Dana-Farber Rink Rats game will be held Saturday, February 2 from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. at Warrior Ice Arena in Boston.

Boyajian is a Director of Virtual PSA Monitoring Program at Dana-Farber and has committed to raise $1,200 to play in the Feb. 2 game. The event is open to the public. Game tickets for spectators are $20 for adults and $10 for children (10 and under) and are available online at JimmyFund.org/RinkRats and at the door.

The event is sponsored by The Donald C. McGraw Foundation, SFJ Pharmaceuticals, and Pure Hockey.

Parking is available. To support a player or for more information, please visit www.jimmyfund.org/rinkrats.

From achieving the first remissions in cancer with chemotherapy in 1948 to developing the very latest new therapies, Dana-Farber Cancer Institute is one of the world's leading centers of cancer research and treatment. It is the only center ranked in the top four of U.S. News and World Report's Best Hospitals for both adult and pediatric cancer care.

Dana-Farber sits at the center of a wide range of collaborative efforts to reduce the burden of cancer through scientific inquiry, clinical care, education, community engagement, and advocacy.

Dana-Farber/Brigham and Women's Cancer Center provides the latest in cancer care for adults, Dana-Farber/Boston Children's Cancer and Blood Disorders Center for children. The Dana-Farber/Harvard Cancer Center unites the cancer research efforts of five Harvard academic medical centers and two graduate schools, while Dana-Farber Community Cancer Care provides high quality cancer treatment in communities outside Boston's Longwood Medical Area.

like it was the season-opener. Big moments are nothing to her. She finds a way to get it done, and carry the team."

Martucci also mentioned the play of Carleton's line-mate, Olivia Driscoll.

"Olivia has become a go-to player for this team," added Martucci. "She has played in all situations, and can be counted on in all of them."

The Lady Vikings now stand at 8-3 on the season and, with seven games left to play, they are just one victory (or two ties) shy of qualifying for the state tourney, which requires a .500 record.

Martucci and his crew were set to meet Beverly last night (Wednesday). The Lady Vikings then will take on two non-league rivals in the coming week, traveling to St. Mary's of Lynn on Saturday for the teams' annual battle and hosting Belmont on Monday at 6 p.m.

WHS GIRLS TRACK STROLLS PAST SALEM, 69-15

The Winthrop High girls indoor track and field team cruised to a 69-15 victory over Salem in their meet last Tuesday that was held at the Revere High field house..

The Lady Vikings took first place in eight of the nine individual events: Olivia Brandi-Miller, who was a double-winner in the high jump with a leap of 4'-4" and in the 300 dash in 56.2 seconds; Marykate Pote with a shot put toss of 30'-2"; Daniella Zaneli in the hurdles in a time of 8.4; Nora McCaffrey in the 600 in 2:05.5; Devon Barry in the 1000 in 4:12.7; Camilla Miranda-Llovera in the mile in 5:54; and Anyra Silva in the two-mile in 14:38.

Earning three points for the Winthrop side of the scoresheet with second-place finishes were: Sydney Crotty with a high jump of 4'-2" Clare Nargi in the hurdles in 8.7; Charley DeAngelo in the 300 in 58.2; Catherine Zufante in the 1,000 in 4:15.1; Isabel Skomro in the mile in 7:38; and Adrianna Hester in the two-mile in 16:47.

Adding single points with third-place efforts were: Crotty in the hurdles in 9.5; Alexandra Gibbons in the dash in 7.6; Anallese Bruno in the 300 in 58.4; Kat Thano in the 600 in 2:13.9; Mary Teixeira in the mile in 7:31.8; and Gianna Doherty in the two-mile in 17:17.

The Lady Viking 4 x 400 relay quartet defeated their Salem counterparts handily by 24 seconds with a clocking of 4:40 to Salem's 5:04.

The Winthrop girls were scheduled to take on Lynn Classical yesterday (Wednesday) at Revere.

HUBERT, MACPHAIL WIN FOR BOYS VS. SALEM

Bobby Hubert and Cormac MacPhail grabbed first place in their individual events for the Winthrop High boys indoor track and field team in the Vikings' meet with Salem last Tuesday that was held at the Revere High field house.

Hubert sprinted to victory in the 50-yard dash in a time of 5.9 seconds. Cormac captured top spot in the 1,000 meter run with a clocking of 3:03.2.

Ryan Khoury earned three points for the Vikings with his second-place performance in the 300 meter dash in 42.5 and Matt Skoboleff likewise scored three points for his second-place effort in the 600 dash in 1:45.7.

Adding single points to the Winthrop tally with third-place finishes were: Ryan Buccini in the 300 in 45.7; Ryan Cash in the mile in 6:34.9; and Michelangelo Marcoccio in the two-mile run in 13:50.

The Vikings were scheduled to meet Lynn Classical yesterday (Wednesday) at Revere.

GIRLS BASKETBALL BATTLE FIERCELY AGAINST EVERETT

Although the Winthrop High girls basketball team came out on the short end of a 54-49 decision this past Friday to Everett at the WHS gym, the Lady Vikings once again displayed the sort of resilient, never-say-die attitude that has been their trademark this season.

The visiting Lady Crimson Tide led at all the junctures, 13-12, 27-23, and 42-35, but could not shake the Lady Vikings, who made a comeback in the closing minutes that turned the contest into a one-possession game down the stretch.

Maura Dorr and Lily Pulsifer paced Winthrop in the opening period, scoring five points apiece. However, poor Winthrop free-throw shooting (1-for-4 in the second period, five misses in the third) allowed Everett to expand its margin to seven after three frames.

Undaunted, the Lady Vikings continued to play hard and started their comeback, led by Dorr (who hit for nine points in the final period), and eventually drew within three points, 52-49, with possession of the ball and a baseline inbound under the Everett basket with eight seconds to play.

However, a Lady Crimson Tide defender made a fine play on the inbounds pass and tipped the ball to a teammate. Winthrop hastily committed the foul, but the Everett shooter sank both free throws to seal the contest.

"I was proud of the girls," said WHS head coach Rick Pulsifer. "They played hard and never gave up."

The difference in the contest was evident from the free throw statistics. Everett shot 85-percent from the line and hit 7-of-8 attempts from the charity stripe in the fourth quarter, while Winthrop managed to sink just 35% of its attempts on the night.

"Despite our poor free throw shooting, we were still right there and had a chance in the end, and that's all you can ask for," noted Pulsifer. "It took Everett's best performance of the season to get the win and break our three-game home win streak."

Dorr led the Lady Vikings in the scoring department with a superb effort, pouring in 25 points. Emma Turner and Grace Galuris struck for eight points apiece and Lily Pulsifer added six.

Pulsifer and his crew have a busy week ahead with four games in eight days. They were set to take on Revere this past Tuesday and will play at non-league rival Lynnfield this evening (Thursday). They will host Malden tomorrow (Friday) at 7 p.m. and will trek to Marblehead next Tuesday.

WHS JUNIOR VARSITY GIRLS PLAY WELL VS. EVERETT

After a slow start, the Winthrop High junior varsity girls basketball team turned in an overall fine effort against Everett, though eventually coming up short by a score of 35-27.

The Lady Vikings' offense stvarted slowly and found themselves trailing, 8-4, after the first period. However, the Winthrop squad picked up the pace in the next eight minutes, scoring 10 points to leave the floor at the half trailing by three, 17-14.

Everett increased its advantage to 25-17 after three frames and maintained that margin over the final period for the 35-27 finale.

Molina Bell led Winthrop with seven points. MacKenzie Acevedo and Emma Forsyth hit for six points apiece.

Adyana Barbarisi.

STUDENT HIGHLIGHT
Barbarisi looks toward medical school

By Kate Anslinger

When asked who her role model is, without hesitation, Adyana Barbarisi said her mother. "She is the hardest-working person I know. She has several different degrees and still continues to educate herself," said Barbarisi, who is a hardworking sophomore herself. "She always tells me, if you take failure out of the equation you're only left with success. I've lived by that for as long as I can remember, always going into something with a positive attitude and confidence can make you do so much better. I don't know what I would ever do without her, she is always there for me and makes me a better person every day."

Barbarisi participates in a number of sports and activities at Winthrop High School, including: volleyball, track, tennis, and the Model UN Club. During both freshmen and sophomore years, she was awarded with "student of the month."

What do you love about the various activities you are involved in?

I really enjoy playing volleyball because we're all so close and can have a fun time at practice, but we know how to work together during a game. I enjoy winter track because this sport is a team sport, but you really have to know how to push yourself on an individual level. I love to play Tennis because it's such a fun sport and a lot of my close friends play it with me, and we've managed to form a balance of hard work and fun.

In the Model UN Club, we learn about current events and we prepare for conferences. At conferences you represent a country, and there are many people from across the world who represent other countries. At the conferences, there are three topics you have to debate on and try to find a resolution. I love being involved in this club because every time we go to a conference, I'm always so nervous, but when I get there I'm not because everyone is so kind, and I meet a lot of interesting people.

What is your favorite subject?

My favorite subject has always been science. This year I take chemistry, and I absolutely love it. Whenever I have that class, I look forward to it. My interest in science, really makes me want to work hard in that class and push myself to do better.

Any future goals?

Ever since I was little, I've dreamed of going to medical school to be a pediatrician. Since I was 13, I started to baby sit and I've just loved working with kids and my favorite subject is science so I thought if I combine the two then I will have a job that I enjoy. I've always been told that it's so many years of school and that it's going to be really hard, but that all motivates me. I think that if you truly have a dream the only way you can achieve it is by working hard. It may be a challenge and along the way I might want to quit but I can never know until I try.

Winthrop girls basketball team falls to Revere High, 36-27

By Cary Shuman

The Winthrop High girls basketball team failed to sustain a consistent offensive attack and fell to Revere High, 36-27, Tuesday night at the Roland Merullo Fieldhouse.

Winthrop had four single-digit quarters (three 7s and a '6') and as legendary Viking coach Ron Spinney will tell you, that type of point production will not win many basketball games.

The Winthrop defense was effective, especially improving sophomore point guard Carolyn Kinsella, who helped limit Revere's leading scorer, Erika Cheever, to nine points. Kinsella had seven points and three assists while delivering the basketball to teammates for good scoring opportunities.

Winthrop trailed 23-21 after three quarters, but Revere went on an 8-1 run to open the fourth quarter. A basket by Kinsella and a three-pointer by Pulsifer closed the margin to 34-27 but Revere's Katie O'Donnell sealed the victory with a basket in the final minute. Revere freshman Skyla DeSimone led all scorers with 11 points.

Caroline Earl led Winthrop with eight points. Pulsifer had two three-pointers for six points. Maura Dorr netted four points while Emma Turner had one basket for two points.

Winthrop coach Rick Pulsifer said the Vikings' offense was "sluggish" in the cavernous Revere gym that has vast open space behind each basket and thus hamper long-range attempts.

"The offense was a little sluggish, but I thought both teams really played hard defense," said Pulsifer. "We got some looks, but a couple of baskets didn't drop, and it came down to free throws. Revere made theirs and we struggled from the line."

Winthrop has a 5-5 record at the halfway point in the season. The Vikings have a key game against Lynnfield Thursday. Lynnfield is a Division 3 opponent and the Lady Vikings can qualify for the State Tournament (via the Sullivan Rule) by winning two of their three games against Lynnfield (2) and Austin Prep (1).

"But I'm still betting on these girls that we're going to have a record over .500 and get in to the playoffs that way," said Pulsifer.

Northeast Metro Tech earns skills capital grant for STEM programming

School Committee Chair Deborah Davis and Superintendent David DiBarri are pleased to announce that Northeast Metro Tech received a $106,320 Skills Capital Grant to increase students' access to STEM occupational opportunities.

Skills Capital Grants, which are administered through Gov. Charlie Baker and Lt. Gov. Karyn Polito's office, are designed to help high schools, colleges and other educational institutions invest in the most up-to-date training equipment to give their students an advantage when they continue in their chosen field or particular area of study. The awards cover a broad range of fields, from construction and engineering to healthcare and hospitality.

During a ceremony at Shawsheen Valley Technical High School on Jan. 17, Gov. Baker, along with Secretary of Housing and Economic Development Mike Kennealy and Secretary of Education James Peyser recognized grant recipients.

Gov. Baker spoke of the competitiveness of the Skills

Capital Grants, recognizing the schools that earned grants due to their successful programming and relationships with local employers and businesses.

"I am constantly amazed and impressed with the quality of the students and the quality of the programming that I see when I have a chance to spend some time at these schools," Gov. Baker said.

Northeast will use the grant allocation to expand opportunities for non-vocational high school students who are interested in drafting and design. To do so, the district will hold an eight-week exploratory program for participants interested in developing the skills needed to further their education and career as design programmers. The course will be conducted on Saturdays and will run for four hours and include demonstrations from iRobot and Shark Ninja. Northeast will also introduce night school classes for people who are unemployed, underemployed, veterans and those who are disabled.

To support the program, Northeast will purchase 30 Precision Work Station 5820 Towers and monitors and 30 Apple iPads. These two platforms will enable participants to create designs through advanced software.

"The demand for skilled workers in software development has continued to rise over the last decade," Superintendent DiBarri said. "Our goal is to give high school students in our district the same opportunities those at Northeast receive to expand their knowledge and technical skills for post-secondary education and careers. Thank you to the Baker-Polito administration for recognizing this need and allowing us to expand our offerings."

As part of last week's awards, 31 high schools and educational institutions received nearly $3.3 million in Skills Capital Grants. Since the inception of the Skills Capital Grant Program, the Baker-Polito Administration has awarded more than $52 million to 188 different programs over the past three years.

Cathedral High School in the South End revealed its brand new Applied Learning Center at a ribbon cutting ceremony on Sept. 4. Construction for the 15,000 square-foot center began in April 2017, and it will include programs in STEAM-based learning: science, technology, engineering, arts, and mathematics.

Head of Cathedral High School, Oscar Santos, said that the school was founded in 1926 with the purpose to “serve as a mission to make sure that inner city kids have a great place to have an education.”

With the completion of the Applied Learning Center, Santos said that along with the school building and the gymnasium, there are more opportunities for students to be successful. The center will allow students to have hands-on experiences with things like robotics, 3-D printers, and theater. “We know that as the world changes, students need opportunities to have applied learning experiences,” Santos said. “And that’s making sure that they content and the skills that they learn in the classroom is also implied and embedded into the work that we do here every day so that students are better prepared to go out into the workforce, and more importantly, into the world.”

Paul Chisholm, Chair of the Board of Trustees, told the students at the ribbon cutting: “This is your building...make sure you take advantage of it, make sure you challenge your teachers, because this is the type of education you need to be successful in the future.”

Senior Armani Lamin spoke about his third summer at the Crimson Summer Academy at Harvard University, where he lived on campus and studied macroeconomics and expository writing. “It gave me a sneak peek of what college would be like and so I enjoyed that,” Lamin said. He spoke about how great it was to be in the same room with people who came from all over the world for the same purpose: to get an education. “And with this building that you guys have funded and put all your time into we can advance our education, so for that I thank all of you,” he said. He said he’s most excit-

Forming the leaders of tomorrow at Malden Catholic

Since its founding in 1932, Malden Catholic High School has prided itself on delivering an educational program that turns the outstanding students of today into the outstanding leaders of tomorrow. Formed by a rigorous college-preparatory experience and steeped in the values of the Catholic and Xaverian traditions, MC students have gone on to pursue meaningful careers and vocations that touch all aspects of society. Malden Catholic counts among its alumni CEOs, doctors, lawyers, innovators, teachers and administrators, members of the United States military, priests, deacons, vowed religious, professional athletes, tradesmen, law enforcement officers, state representatives, ambassadors, a United States Senator, and a Nobel Laureate in Economics. This has not happened by accident! Regardless of what paths in life the graduates of Malden Catholic pursue, they all share a common vocation: the call to be servant-leaders.

As Malden Catholic begins the next chapter of its history as a codivisional school—all-boys and all-girls divisions on one shared campus—it does so with an intentional focus on providing unique programs for boys and girls to develop their God-given potential for effecting change through confident, ethical leadership.

Four programs at Malden Catholic stand out as foundational aspects of Malden Catholic’s focus on leadership:

The Malden Catholic Leadership Institute (School for Boys)

One of the most cherished of Malden Catholic’s traditions, the Leadership Institute is the signature event in the four-year progression of retreats at Malden Catholic School for Boys. Sponsored by the Campus Ministry team, the institute consists of a dynamic, four-day/three-night program on the campus of Endicott College where service, worship, team-building, and deep self-reflection converge, providing students with the opportunity to examine how their formation at Malden Catholic is calling them to live as faith-filled men of purpose and integrity in their senior year and beyond.

The Leadership Course (School for Girls)

Inaugurated in the fall of 2018, the School for Girls Leadership Course makes leadership learning and training a priority for students at Malden Catholic School for Girls, providing them with the tools to lead themselves and others. The four-year leadership course helps young women to explore who they are and what they believe. The first of its kind anywhere, the course provides students a way to merge the five values of Xaverian education—humility, simplicity, compassion, trust, and zeal—with effective leadership skills. This program equips girls with the courage to embrace the power of their own voice to affect change locally, nationally, and globally.

The Senior Service Program (School for Boys)

The Senior Service Program at Malden Catholic School for Boys is the culmination of students’ four-year commitment to compassionate Christian service to others. After moving through a 15/25/35-hour progression over their first three years at Malden Catholic, seniors carry out 90 hours of service under the direction of Campus Ministry, devoting 60 of those hours to a non-profit organization of their choice over a two-week period in January. Some of the most popular organizations among MC students in recent years have included Habitat for Humanity of Greater Boston, iPods for Wounded Veterans, Mission of Deeds, Housing Families, Inc., and the Greater Boston Food Bank. Following their two weeks of service, seniors use the second semester of their theology courses to share and discuss the insights, learnings, and movements of the Spirit that arose as a result of their service.

The Capstone Leadership Program (School for Girls)

The Capstone Program at Malden Catholic School for Girls provides students with the opportunity to put into practice the faith and character formation they have received. The Capstone invites students to investigate an area of social concern over four years and develop a substantial Christian service community outreach initiative in that area of concern, undertaken in the junior year. The senior service commitment is dedicated fully to the chosen area of social concern. The Capstone allows each student to become a flexible and self-directed learner, a strong team collaborator, an innovative problem solver, an effective communicator, a competent information researcher, a globally aware individual, and a compassionate

St. John School poised for academic success and future growth

Nestled in the heart of Boston’s North End, St. John School has prepared students for bright futures since 1895. We are a Catholic value-centered learning environment focused on educating students in an atmosphere that fosters the growth of each student in spirit, mind and body. We welcome pre-kindergarten through eighth-grade students and utilize innovative programs and a standards base curriculum to educate the whole child.

Our dedicated teachers and small class size ensure that each student’s unique progress is celebrated. Students enjoy a state-of-the-art computer lab, one-to-one iPad program, science lab, STEM programs, Italian language instruction, woodworking classes, our own hydroponic gardens, professional music classes and more. Our After School program cost $300 per month and is in session from 2:30 – 6 p.m. Drama, Yoga, Fitness, Dance, Guitar, Chinese and other programs are also offered in the After School program for an additional charge.

While a deep sense of tradition fills our community, St. John School’s learning environment is focused on preparing students for innovative futures. As we help students explore and master new subjects, we also open their lens to the world outside. We expose children to the vibrant culture of the city just beyond our walls, through frequent field trips to museums, theaters, and innovative companies helping students build the knowledge they need to excel in high school and beyond.

After graduating from St. John School, students launch into their high school years with the confidence of feeling one step ahead of their peers. This is due largely to our highly-trained teachers and our rigorous curriculum.

St. John School is in a truly wonderful position to move into the future and provide the best education for our students, so that they achieve their full potential. “Catholic Roots, Worldly Wings”.

ed to use the 3-D printers and getting to know the new Applied Learning Center, where he will have some classes this year.

The building was blessed by the Very Rev. James Flavin, who prayed that the center would become one where “students and teachers imbued with the words of truth will search for the wisdom that guides the Christian life and strive wholeheartedly by Christ as their teacher...”

Current Cathedral students provided those in attendance with a tour of the new facility, showing them the different dedicated spaces that they are excited to use.

Santos said that the school will start three new programs: maker space, which involves engineering, as well as creating robots, where the students will learn basic programming and then prototype and print. In addition, there will be a new art program with a new art teacher to increase the level of arts instruction at the school, and finally, programs for theater and music.

He said they surveyed the kids and asked what their interests and passions were, and these were the top results. Being able to provide the students with real-world experiences and input through having workshops with real firms and companies are some of the “things that help kids feel like they’re part of the solution and really creating,” Santos said.

“What I’m most excited about is really giving kids real world opportunities to make sure that the things that they’re learning in class, they can connect it to their real lives,” Santos said.

Santos said that most importantly, he wants to thank everyone who helped make this a reality, and that buildings go up and down every day in the City of Boston, but “this is really about opportunity for kids and it’s the Cathedral story,” he said.

The students are excited for the new center too. Senior Lisalina Pena said “I’m glad they’re making all these changes right now and they’re trying really hard to make us happy and listen to our voices and I like that.” She said she’s excited to take some law and justice classes, and is thinking about applying to Tufts University and Wellesley College to study law, or even heading down to Washington, D.C.

Lamin said he really wants to apply to some liberal arts colleges like Harvard, Boston University, and Boston College to study economics or something in the medical field.

Sept. 5 is the first day of school for Cathedral students, and though some of the equipment for the Applied Learning Center has not arrived yet, students will slowly ease into the opportunities it has to offer. Santos said that the new center ultimately “lets the community know that we’re around and we’ll be here for the long haul.”

Saint Anthony School opens new gym and new music room

By Cary Shuman

The students at the Saint Anthony School in Everett are enjoying the use of their new gymnasium and new music room during school hours and in after-school programs.

Maria Giggie, principal at the parochial school, said the new gym opened in September. The bursting of an interior pipe, in December, 2017, caused extensive damage to the gym, resulting in the installation of a brand new gym new floor and padding along the walls.

“The students absolutely love the gym,” said Giggie, who is in her 12th year as leader of the 245-student school. “We’re using it as a gymnasium, cafeteria, and auditorium, so we’re taking advantage of the space, especially during our after-school programs.”

Students participate in physical education classes in the gym. St. Anthony also has two boys and two girls basketball teams for Grades 5-8. After-school clubs, such as arts and crafts and a Valentine cooking club (that starts in February), also use the gym each school day.

The school also added a new music room, with classes and after-school instrumental lessons available for students. Julio Santos is the music teacher at the school.

One of the students in the after-school music program is Christian Dopinio, who started at St. Anthony’s in first grade and will graduate in June.

“I really love this school,” said Dopinio, who plays the piano. “Ms. Giggie really tries hard to make this school the best it can be. She listens to the students for their opinions. She is a great principal.”

Maria Giggie came to the United States from Italy when she was 15 years old. She holds undergraduate and graduate degrees from Boston University, where she met her husband during her freshman year in college. They have three children, who are all graduates of St. Anthony School.

and faith-filled citizen.

Through their participation in these leadership programs, each Malden Catholic student makes the school motto – “Plus Ultra,” Latin for “More Beyond” – a lived reality. In doing so, the Lancers of MC truly become leaders who walk in the way of Christ, the One who came not to be served, but to serve.

LOOKING FOR NEW SUPERINTENDENT

CHELSEA – It's been so long since Chelsea has sought out a new superintendent that there isn't even a current job description.

For so many years, Boston University (BU) appointed a superintendent as it ran the public schools for decades, and when current Supt. Mary Bourque came into the role, it was long-decided that she would succeed former Supt. Tom Kingston – the last BU appointee.

Now, for the first time in 30 or 40 years, the School Committee will be tasked with finding a new leader for the public schools.

"This is all new to all of us," said Chair Rich Maronski. "It's even new to the School Department. They don't even have a job description for superintendent. They have to create one now, which tells you how long it's been."

Bourque said the Collins Center was most recently used by the schools to hire Monica Lamboy, the business administrator who took the place of Gerry McCue. She said it was also used to hire City Manager Tom Ambrosino and former City Manager Jay Ash.

"The first couple of steps will go slowly, but from the

WINTHROP SEES FIRST STORM OF 2019

A BUNCH OF SNOW, A WHOLE LOT OF ICE AND BITTER WINDS

Photos by Kate Anslinger

The first snowstorm of the season brought in some less than desirable conditions. After a few inches of snow blanketed the town, a layer of freezing ice made for some slippery streets. On Sunday morning, several residents could be seen shoveling, snow blowing, and scraping the slabs of ice that coated drive-ways, cars, and sidewalks.

Vasili Mallios works on clearing out his driveway.

Marc Chapdelaine has fun snow blowing.

Lorenzo Caraglia enjoys a little play time in the first snow.

Barnacle is in his element, enjoying the frigid climate.

Carol Kuntz scrapes the ice from her car.
