The Council Vice President has historically been a ceremonial position, filling in for the Council Representing Precinct President in his absence. But Councilor Letterie said the role has taken on more significance in recent years, and that his experience as Vice President has prepared him to lead the body.

"Winthrop is at a crossroads both financially and structurally," he told the Transcript in an email. "We need to act, not react."

Whoever is elected Council President also becomes an automatic member of the School Committee. Councilor Letterie is passionate about the school department and welcomes the chance to "raise the bar on education."

Councilor Letterie will be challenging the current Council President, Phil Boncore, who has also pulled papers. As of our deadline, no other councilors had expressed a desire to run for Council President.

"We are lucky to have two highly qualified candidates running," said Councilor Rob DeMarco. "I enjoy working with both Jim and Phil."

U.S. Postal Service releases dog attack national rankings

More than 5,800 postal employees were attacked by dogs in the United States in 2020. From nips and bites to vicious attacks, aggressive dog behavior poses a serious threat to postal employees and the general public. To highlight the enormity of this serious issue, the U.S. Postal Service is providing the public with information on the do's and don'ts of responsible dog ownership as part of its annual National Dog Bite Awareness Week public service campaign. The campaign runs through Friday, June 18. This year's theme is "Be Aware: Any Dog Can Bite." Spread the news of the campaign by using the hashtag #dogbiteawareness. Dog bites are entirely preventable. One bite is one too many.

"Raising awareness about dog bite prevention and how to protect our letter carriers as we deliver the mail is paramount," said USPS Acting Employee Safety and Health Awareness Manager Jamie Seavello. "Dogs are instinctive animals that may act to protect their turf and that why's it's important to inform the public about this campaign."

Prevent the bite

Dog owners are responsible for controlling their dogs. The best way to keep everyone safe from dog bites is to recognize and promote responsible pet ownership. Most people know the approximate time their letter carrier arrives every day and having their dog secured as the carrier approaches their property for delivery will and the dog - such as minimize any dog carrier interactions.

Pet owners should:

- Remind their children not to take mail directly from a letter carrier as the dog may view the carrier as a threat.
- When a letter carrier comes to the home, keep
- Inside the house or behind a fence
- Away from the door or in another room
- On a leash

Also, Informed Delivery is a great tool for customers. It's a free service that gives customers a digital preview of the mail and packages that are scheduled to be delivered so that they can take precautions and secure their dog when parcels are delivered to the door. Sign up at informeddelivery. usps.com.

Carrier and the Canine

Letter carriers are trained to observe an area where they know dogs may be present. They are taught to be alert for potentially dangerous conditions and to respect a dog's territory.

- Letter carriers know:
- Don't startle a dog.
- Keep your eyes on the
- Never assume a dog won't bite.
- If entering a yard, make some noise or rattle a fence to alert the dog.
- Never attempt to pet or feed a dog
- Place your foot against an outward swinging door. If a dog attacks, carriers are also trained to stand their ground and protect their body by placing something between them their mail satchel - and use dog repellent, if necessary. Even though postal officials ask customers to control their dogs, unfortunately dog bites still happen, which may cause injuries to our carriers and costly medical expenses for dog owners. Please heed the above best practices to help stop dog bites and protect your letter car-

Kansas City, KS letter carrier James Michael Benson recognizes the importance of the safety training he's received as a letter carrier to help protect himself from dog attacks while delivering the mail. However, even though he diligently follows dog bite safety protocols while on his route, he was recently attacked by a dog.

"I knocked on a customer's door to pick up a package and as a young child answered, a dog came bursting out of the door and bit my forearm, knocking me to the ground " said Benson. "I was in shock and struggling with the dog, when he lunged and bit me again on my face, under my ear."

Benson stated the attack was so fast and forceful he couldn't react to get his dog repellent and it was one of the most terrifying moments of his life. The attack happened in seconds before the dog was abruptly restrained by the owner.

Carriers do have tools to remind them about dogs on their routes. There is a dog alert feature tool on their handheld scanners to remind them of a possible dog hazard and they use dog warning cards as reminders when they sort their mail for their routes that a dog that may interfere with delivery.

Lastly, when a carrier feels unsafe, mail service could be interrupted, not only for the dog owner, but for the entire neighborhood. When mail service is interrupted, mail must be picked up at the Post Office. Service will not be restored until the dog is properly restrained.

OUR Opinions

A LONG, HOT SUMMER?

The images of parched reservoirs in the western part of the country that have been filling the news lately paint a devastating picture of the effects of climate change coupled with the overuse of natural resources.

While it is true that the West has been experiencing drought conditions for the past few years, the reality is that western states have been using far more water than nature is able to provide, even under normal circum-

The combination of large-scale farming operations -which require enormous amounts of water for irrigation - and the rampant expansion of housing developments into desert areas has created a scenario that is clearly unsustainable for the environment.

Water always has been a precious resource in the West that has been ripe for meddling by politically-connected special interest groups, but in the present situation, with more than 75 percent of the West in extreme drought, there is barely a drop of water for anybody to fight about. The combination of a lack of moisture on the ground and extreme heat creates a feedback loop that makes for even hotter temperatures and even drier weather, not only affecting water levels in lakes and reservoirs, but making for prime conditions for the wildfires that have been a scourge in the western states for the past few

By contrast, the southern coast of the U.S. has a different kind of problem. The warming atmosphere is making our oceans warmer, providing the primary fuel for a different sort of cataclysmic event -- catastrophic

The South was assaulted by a fast-forming tropical storm this past weekend that wreaked havoc in its path with heavy rain and tornadoes. Meteorologists are predicting another active hurricane season that promises to cause billions of dollars of damage, both along the coastline and further inland.

We in the Northeast have been lucky for most of the past decade. Hurricane Sandy occurred in 2012 and we've been fairly fortunate since then. However, if ocean temperatures and sea levels continue to rise, it is only a matter of time before a storm of a magnitude far greater than the fabled Hurricane of 1938 strikes this

Bob Dylan wrote that we don't need a weatherman to tell us which way the wind is blowing.

What we are seeing on our TV screens in the South and West is giving us a glimpse of a future dominated by the effects of climate change -- and it isn't pretty.

LETTERS to the Editor

THANK YOU FOR BEING INCUSIVE

We are writing to acknowledge the Winthrop Town Council, Council President, Philip Boncore, Council Vice-President, Peter Christoper, Councilor-at-Large, Tracey Honan, Interim Winthrop Town Manager, Terence Delehanty and those members of the community who advocated for the very first LGBTQ Pride flag to be raised and flown at Winthrop Town Hall. This is a very proud moment in our town's history. We would also like to extend our gratitude to Senator Joseph Boncore for his very poignant remarks at the June 15th event. His presence and that of the town council, and interim town manager resonates strongly to those of us who are part of Winthrop's LGBTQ community, and to our many allies that live here. And there are many of us. People outside of Winthrop should know and understand this. It truly matters.

Systemic change is never easy and the road is long, tedious and exhausting. But here in Winthrop, we just took a huge leap towards making significant progress and shifting the culture. Diversity does exist here in Winthrop and part of that includes LGBTQ people. We are your neighbors and your friends. We are woven into the fabric of society and very much an integral part of the communities in which we reside. Winthrop as a community is evolving. The "Rainbow of Diversity" includes our ethnicity, color, race, religion, gender, disability, age; each of these are part of a larger cultural shift that has been going on forever. Each of us is part of the rainbow and that should serve to unify us as human beings, not divide us and create a larger chasm than what already

My husband and I have lived in Winthrop now for seven and a half years. We have been together as a couple for almost 20 years. Standing together last Tuesday and watching the Pride flag being raised at town hall was a huge milestone in our relationship as a couple. We have chosen to make Winthrop our home and seeing the Pride flag, listening to Town Council President Boncore and Senator Boncore's remarks made us feel valued, validated and respected by our town government as members of the community.

Our sincere appreciation to everyone in Winthrop past and present who paved the way in making this happen.

Happy Pride 2021 Scott Mahoney-Wright Fred Wright

Invest in yourself

The best investment you can make is in yourself.

By Dr. Glenn Mollette

You can work, invest, save and accumulate wealth but what good is it if you ignore yourself? A friend of mine once said, "If I had known I was going to live this long, I would have taken better care of myself."

A sure way to undermine your financial security is to neglect your health. Failing health always results in life insecurity. When your health fails you don't feel like working. You aren't able to enjoy life or take care of others. Whatever you have accumulated financially will go to pay for emergency medical costs, rehabilitation or a nursing

A family member was sick years ago and the out son and elk which I have of pocket monthly cost for her care was over $15,000 a month. Obviously, this soon became financially debilitating.

While you are living life, working, going to school, raising your family, enjoying your golden years, keep this in mind, an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure.

I know there are no silver bullets when it comes to our health. I've had health issues, two cancer procedures and other ailments. I've spent the last 30 years eating grilled chicken and salmon. I've walked, jogged, played sports and lifted weights most all of my life. My doctor told me I have to do more. He literally said, "No red meat, no sugar, no dairy, no fried foods." What is left? He did say I can eat some bison, venitried and enjoy them all.

My 100-year-old friend who lives close by says she eats a little of everything but very little of everything majoring on vegetables, fruits and staying active. There has to be something to her lifestyle because it works for her. She still lives alone, in her own house and cares for herself. She laughs a lot and has a lot of adoring friends.

So, while you are building your financial security, invest in your health. See you doctor. Have routine blood tests. Monitor your blood sugar, LDL (bad cholesterol), blood pressure and have an occasional CT or MRI scan to find out what you really look like on the inside. If your doctor finds something then you can tackle what you know about. If you don't know what your enemy is then you can't put up a defense or an offense.

Investing time in taking care of yourself means you can enjoy your life longer. You will be in a better position to help your family or friends, instead of them taking care of you. Keep moving. Take your vitamins, eat as healthy as possible and try. What do you have to lose? Consider, all you might gain.

ARTICLE 971 - EARLY WINTHROP SCHOOLS

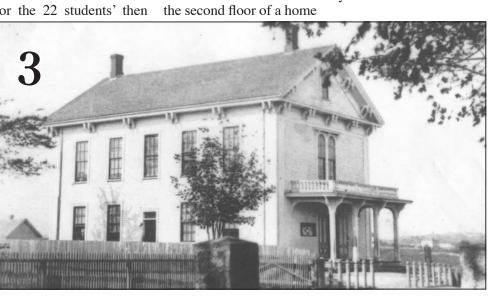

Winthrop has been able to provide and maintain a group of modern school buildings over the years and conduct an excellent educational program for our children. This article will review the early development of our school facilities from the use of a room in a private home up thru the construction of our first public full 12 grade school building. From 1637 to 1753, there were only 4 or 5 houses on our peninsula and the few children residing here were home schooled. In 1753, a fishing industry was started at Point Shirley which began to contribute children to be educated. One of the four homes to appear here before 1640 was built by Reverend John Oliver at about 29 Beal Street very near the intersection of Lincoln Street. (See photograph #1) He was one of the original 15 men to receive an allotment of land, on what was then called Pullen Point, from Governor John Winthrop. This home changed hands about 1645 to the Bill family who transferred ownership to John Tewksbury in the 1770's. In 1779, one room of the home was used as the first school for the 22 students' then living on our peninsula. Teachers were brought in from neighboring communities to conduct classes. The house remained in the Tewksbury family until about 1900 when it was sold to a Mrs. Hanley. After her death, the house was un-occupied and, although several attempts were made to develop an interest in saving the building, it was allowed to deteriorate to the point that it had to be torn down in May 1927. Recognizing a need for a school house in Pullen Point, the wooden structure depicted in picture #2 (also shown on the Town Seal) was built in 1805 at the corner Police Station is located. Lucius Floyd, who was born in 1834 at the Deane Win-throp House, wrote that as a boy he attended this school which had "seats and desks made of 2 inch pine planks that ran the whole length of the Schoolhouse so that the scholars were obliged to crawl over one another to get to their places". This small schoolhouse was replaced in 1845 with a larger one room school which was subsequently moved in 1854 to become that still stands at 278 Winthrop Street where our own Steve Moran and his wife Maryellen now live. The Town Hall shown in picture #3 was constructed in 1856 for $5,000 with the first floor to be used for two classrooms. For comparison purposes, the current Town Hall built in 1929 cost approximately $200,000. One of the rooms on the second floor was used by the Winthrop Lyceum, a predecessor of today's Public Library, and for practice by the Winthrop Brass Band, under the direction of Albert W. Richardson, which played for pa-rades and on the local band stands during of Pauline and Hermon the summer. By 1881, the Streets where the current requirements for additional classrooms resulted in the construction of a new four room school building, for $6,000, on the site of the present E.B. Newton School. It was known as the Pauline Street School and follow-ing being enlarged in 1893 it is shown in picture #4. Then, on January 27, 1907, it was con-sumed by fire and the current E.B. Newton School was constructed on this site. Future articles will continue with the development of our school system facilities.

Francis J. ("Frank, Bud, Brother") Valley, 92, of Winthrop, passed away June 19.

Frank was born in Boston in 1928 and was raised in East Boston, Medford and Somerville by his loving parents the late Elizabeth 'Ma' Valley (Darragh) and Louis 'Pa' Valley.

In the 1940's, he chose

Winthrop as his home, where as a child, he spent the summers with his family. He often spoke of the fond memories of those days and credited his parents for giving him that gift. He had a great appreciation for the town and its proximity to the sea, beach and, in his words, 'the great City of Boston.'

Frank started working as a young child, taking any job he could, from unloading ships on the docks of Boston to fixing and assembling bikes to setting pins in bowling alleys. In his younger days, he spent his free time in city pool halls seeking out a match and enjoying the satisfaction of the competition. He had the inherent spark of a pool shark. As a graduate of St Clements High School in Somerville, Frank started his professional career directly out of high school working as a technician at Harvard University on one of the first computers, which is now on display at Harvard University and the Smithsonian National Museum of American History. His only higher-level education being a management certificate program from Northeastern University. Frank's wit, intelligence, determination and drive brought him to places that most educations could not. He went on to hold several leadership roles at various manufacturing companies and would become a Vice President at Sippican Corp (now Lockheed Martin). And with his reputation and relationships, in 1974 Frank then acquired his company, GEL Systems which he ran for over 30 years with the support of his management team and staff, many of whom were with him from the company's inception to its dissolution. He thrived on the independence of running the company, persevered through many difficult times and achieved great successes. Frank's company would eventually have Laboratories Language equipment in 102 countries around the globe, supporting U.S. and Allied foreign militaries in language training. Frank of 77, and he and Ame shared their time between Winthrop and Merritt Island, FL for the next several years.

A truly self-made man

A Life Member of Cottage Park Yacht Club for over 67 years and commodore in 1978, Frank 'Bud' was a competitive PHRF sailor, captaining his boats Aquarius, Amalie and Goose to many victories. He was instrumental in repairing the extensive damage to CPYC following the Blizzard of '78. After Bud gave up sailing, he enjoyed stopping in for a pool match. While he didn't frequent 'the club' in later years, CPYC meant a great deal to him, he had great times there over the decades where he made lifelong friends. He would tell sailing stories and loved the annual Commodore's Ball and other parties where he'd dance much of the night. He was affectionately called "Brother" by his late sisters: Rita Bolton (Bob), Louise Sacco (Lou) and Clare Powers (Martin 'Joe'). His fondness, appreciation and love of his sisters was unmatched and he spoke of them and missed them every day since each of their passings. And to his many nieces, nephews, grandnieces and grandnephews who he adored; he was lovingly known as "Uncle Brother."

He leaves behind his brother, Tom Valley and his wife, Marie of Holden, ME for whom he had the utmost respect, pride and warmth. He was so proud of his brother and his accomplishments and his sister-in-law and their large extended family. And while in later years, despite the geography that separated them, he would speak of Tom affectionately, saying never in their lives had an unkind word been said between them as he'd reflect on the times they spent together.

And Frank's wife of 47 years, Amelia (Ame), he credited with giving him a second chance at the happiest life. He cherished and loved her. He often said Amelia was a perfect complement to his imperfections and she gave him the greatest gifts of his life. Ame was there for him in his best times and most difficult times and he would speak her praises for supporting and understanding him. And even as aging took its course, he was comforted simply by her presence. After spending their honeymoon in Puerto Rico in 1974, they bought a vacation home where endless memories were made and where he was most relaxed. The family spent 15 years enjoying that treasure thanks to him.

But of all his achievements in life perhaps the greatest in his eyes were his daughters, Danielle Valley and Celeste Sax, both of Winthrop, with whom he had an indescribable connection. Frank made it so that they would want for nothing but learn the value of independence from hard work and managing money. Along with Ame, he was their biggest cheerleader, inspiring confidence and guiding them through navigating many of life's challenges and victories. But most of all, whatever he did for or with them was out of the purest love and sincerest intent for their best interests. He was truly a devoted father. And in his final years Danielle tirelessly and happily returned that same devotion in giving the gift of fulfilling all of his wishes as his primary caregiver.

And lastly, Frank leaves Danielle's partner, Rob Ferland and Celeste's husband, Michael Sax with whom he was so happy to come into our lives. Frank would gush with love and pride over his grandsons, Chase Donovan and his namesake, Vail Francis. And, always a dog lover, he'd look forward to visits from his grand-dogs, Bitzy and Rummy.

He was intelligent, principled, proud, exceptionally wise, empathetic, a financial wizard, and he had a way with words that was oh so meaningful and eloquent. Frank was practical, conservative, yet progressive and a visionary. In every sense a 'self-made man', he was self-taught in almost every aspect of his life, from business to sailing to pool playing to many of his endless trades.

Frank was handy with almost everything and found much enjoyment in the results of a job well done and done himself. He was funny and loved music and he'd always be whistling a tune or singing a song. Forever a dancer, it was hard to get him off the dance floor or to get him to leave a party. He had a way of connecting with people in his professional and personal life and simply overall, he would go out for a quick errand and come back hours later after striking up conversations with friends and strangers alike along the

And even though we had him more than most, we're not prepared for the void of his loss. He will live in our hearts and minds profoundly each and every day. Because without him we would not have been. We will forever be grateful and thankful for him.

Frank's services are private. In lieu of this, for those that knew and loved him, please reflect, cherish and keep hold of a happy memory of him.

A 19 year old local girl, Miss Mary E. Hare of 104 Highland Ave., was saved from drowning near the Highland Pier by Metropolitan Park Police patrolman Daniel Murphy. Murphy had watched Miss Hare start off for a swim, but then saw that she was struggling about 250 yards from the shore. He asked Thomas Bernard, a painter for the Park Commission, for assistance and together they ran down to Pearl St. to launch the lifeboat. After rowing for about half a mile into the wind and against the current, they got to where Miss Hare last had been seen, but she was now under water. However, she soon was spotted at the stern of the boat and was pulled up into it unconscious. She was revived by the time they reached the beach. The Winthrop Police brought the new lung motor in case it was needed.

Hannah Belcher announces candidacy for Town Council

Hannah Belcher has officially announced her candidacy for the position of Town Council, representing Precinct 3. The following is her statement:

As a lifelong Winthrop resident, the future of our town is of the utmost importance to me. From its beaches and parks to its outstanding residents, Winthrop has no shortage of allure. Winthrop holds immense potential, and we must move forward by making progressive and mindful decisions to usher our community into the future. It is paramount that the character and charm of Winthrop is preserved, while continuing to build an inclusive, successful, and thriving community.

Precinct 3, which includes Point Shirley, Cottage Hill, and a small section of Winthrop Beach is such a unique part of town with equally unique needs. With neighbors such as Logan Airport and the MWRA, this precinct deserves a stronger voice than it has been given in the past - something I am promising to provide. I wholeheartedly believe that the role of a Town Councilor is not only to make decisions that benefit the town and their precinct, but also to be readily available to their constitu-

My promise is simple – to tirelessly advocate on behalf of the residents of Precinct 3 and Winthrop as a whole. I promise to make myself available to the residents; to listen to their concerns and ideas, and to put into motion actions that will ensure the highest quality of life both in Precinct 3 and beyond.

My qualifications for this position come from a wide range of experiences, both professional and personal in nature. A graduate of the Winthrop School system, I have continued on to earn a Master's in Psychology from Harvard University and a Bachelor's in Communication from Suffolk University. educational background shows a proven track record of success in learning, internalizing, and understanding new information which will be incredibly helpful in learning about both current and historical town issues.

Professionally, I am the student coordinator in the Physics Department at Harvard, where I counsel students and work toward building better programs for both the undergraduate and graduate populations in the department. Many of the skills I utilize in my work will help me be a better town councilor - my ability to listen to concerns and implement change in the academic setting translates well into local government.

Regarding my involvement with the town, I am currently the chair of the Winthrop Air Noise, and Airport Hazards committee. After a brief period of low membership, the committee will be reigniting this month to continue to provide residents with important information regarding issues related to our proximity to Logan - most notably, soundproofing. The fight for adequate and much deserved soundproofing has been long fought, and I am committed to continuing that charge. I also serve on the Scholarship Committee, which awards town scholarships to graduating WHS seniors, which I have found to be immensely rewarding and am looking forward to continuing my work with that group. Last year I also worked at early voting, mail in voting processing, and as the Precinct 3 Clerk for the November general election, as well as the Precinct 3 warden for the state representative primaries this past March.

Hannah Belcher.

I am sincerely looking forward to connecting with many Winthrop residents in the months leading up to the election this fall and plan on hosting several "meet and greet" events as well as times that Precinct 3 residents can stop by and sign nomination papers in the near future. I encourage people to reach out to me with any questions or concerns, as well as their ideas for how to make Winthrop, and specifically Precinct 3, a better place! I can be reached at hannahbelcher-

WHS SPORTS ROUNDUP

WHS BASEBALL TEAM WINS TOURNEY OPENER

The Winthrop High baseball team defeated Georgetown, 8-4, in the opening round of the Division 4 North Sectional of the MIAA state baseball tournament this past Monday.

The victory advanced the Vikings, who are seeded ninth in the 11-team D-4 North with a 5-12 record, to the quarterfinal round, where they took on top-seeded Snowden International School (11-2 record) yesterday (Wednesday).

If coach Mike DeFelice and his crew prevail in that encounter, they will meet the winner of the contest between #4 St. Joseph Prep and #5 Manchester/ Essex tomorrow (Friday) afternoon at a location to be determined.

"It was an absolutely outstanding day," said DeFelice of his team's win at Georgetown, an opponent that often has been a fierce competitor for the Vikings in state tournament play through the years. "We have started to play much more consistent, much better baseball at the right time. The kids just prepared all week to have a good day, and they showed up with that level of energy and focus that just had the coaches saying, 'We're going to have a great day today.' And boy did we ever."

Viking senior ace Bobby Hubert turned in a complete game on the mound, throwing 101 pitches, to earn the victory.

Although the Vikings did not score in the opening inning, they gave an indication of things to come with a solid performance at the plate.

"We came out right away in the top of the first and had the first five guys in the line-up hit the ball in play," said DeFelice. "We stranded two runners, but we had five quality at bats, hit the ball hard, got two hits, and you could already feel it starting to build."

Hubert gave up a walk and two hits to load the bases in the bottom of the first, but pitched his way out of the jam without yielding a run.

"Bobby threw 34 pitches in the first inning alone, which is typically about half a game's worth for him, so we immediately were concerned about his ability to go the distance (the maximum pitch count in high school is 115), and it was something we were watching very carefully throughout the game," noted DeFe-After an uneventful second frame, the Vikings broke the nil-nil deadlock in the third.

Freshman third baseman Jack Andy continued his torrid stretch of hitting (Jack went 3-for-4 and currently is batting over .700 since he took over the job at third) by leading off with a hit. Joey Hayes (3for-5) and David DiCicco

(3-for-4) followed suit to load the bases.

Hubert (3-for-3, three RBI) then stepped up to the plate and helped his own cause, smashing a monster double deep into the right-center field gap that cleared the bases for a 3-0 Winthrop lead.

Cam Conway came up next and did the same thing, smashing the ball into the gap and scoring Hubert to make it 4-0.

Georgetown, which always is an exceptionally well-coached team, executed outstanding fundamental baseball over the next two innings with bunting, hit-and-runs, and stealing bases. By the end of the fourth, the teams were back to level at 4-4.

"At that point we were concerned about Hubert," said DeFelice. "He was at 86 pitches after four innings. It was 96 degrees out and for the first time all year, he looked like he was running out of gas.

"We gathered before the top of the fifth and talked as we came off the field defensively," DeFelice noted. "I asked the team to embrace their identity as a tough team made up of tough individuals and to just find a way. Cam Conway, as our vocal leader, told the boys that it was time to forget our team motto of 'compete' and shift the mentality to 'win'. I knew right then and there it was going to go our way."

Hubert led off the fifth with a single and Zach Bogusz did the same, moving Bobby H. to third. After Colin Kinsella sacrificed Hubert home, Cam Martin stepped into the box and changed the game with one swing of the bat that ultimately proved to decide the outcome.

"Cam has been frustrated with his production at the plate lately and has worked tirelessly to live up to a standard he has set for himself as a ballplayer," said DeFelice. "He works and works and works at his craft, and it paid out huge dividends."

Cam took an 0-1 curveball and swatted it 355 feet over the right-center field fence for a two-run homer.

"The home run ignited our team in a big way," noted DeFelice.

Winthrop tacked on an added insurance tally in the sixth. Freshman Pete Silverman (2-for-4), led off with a single and DiCicco did the same, sending Silverman to second.

Peter then tagged up on a sac fly by Hubert to advance to third and scored on a well-hit ground ball by Conway. "We now were ahead

8-4 and we were flying," said DeFelice. "We took the field in the bottom of the seventh with only the lingering doubt of whether Hubert, who was at 98 pitches entering the frame, would be able to finish with only 17 pitches left in the bag.

'Well, Bobby, who has a habit of doing such

A Triple Threat

Sofia Vitale leads her team to 4-3 victory in Agganis Game

By Cary Shuman

After Winthrop's Sofia Vitale scorched a fastball down the left line in the Harry Agganis Softball Classic Sunday at Fraser Field in Lynn, the only question was whether Vitale would stop at third for a standup triple or go for the home run.

"Sofia has good bat control and is a very good bunter, but she showed a little bit of pop in her bat," said Guffey.

Vitale elected to remain at third for the triple before South All-Star teammate Izzy Mahoney of Winthrop came on as a courtesy runner and scored on a wild pitch, producing what would be the game-winning run. Vitale Guffey said that Vitale also pitched two strong innings in relief to earn the victory on the mound.

"It felt good to get the triple," said Vitale, who will be attending Regis College. "I thought about going for the home run but it all worked out well."

Izzy Mahoney, who played very well in the game, enjoyed representing Winthrop High in the Harry Agganis All-Star Classic. A versatile infielder and outfielder for the Vikings, Mahoney has

Winthrop's drinking water complies with state and federal standards, according to MWRA report

By John Lynds

The Massachusetts Water Resources Authority (MWRA) has begun mailing its Annual Water Quality Report to every household in its service area. In the report published online the MWRA includes statistics on the quality of Winthrop's drinking water, which Winthrop Public Works Director/Water Superintendent, Steven Calla, said meets state and federal guidelines.

Winthrop purchases all of its water directly from the MWRA and was happy to report the town's partnership with the MWRA has led to the supply of some of the best quality water in the country. This water is delivered through a series of master meters and the Town's pressure reducing station before being conveyed through the network of water mains and ultimately to homes or business.

"The Department of Public Works is committed to actively monitoring and reducing the amount of lead in your water," wrote Calla in the report. "One of the testing protocols for lead and copper occurs twice per year, once in March and once in September."

Calla said in 2020, Winthrop met the Department of Environmental Protections (DEP) Lead Action level of 15 parts per billion (ppb) in March with a result of 9.6 ppb and in September with a result of 7.7 ppb.

"Copper results of 122 ppb and 100 ppb in March September 2020 met the DEP copper Action Level of 1300 ppb," he wrote. "In addition to regular sampling, the Winthrop DPW has taken steps to address lead."

The DPW has completed identification of the remaining lead services and updated the database to account for converted services; continued a program to remove 7 percent of the Town-owned portion of lead services each year coupled with a program that offers homeowners an opportunity to replace the private portion of the service; and committed to making lead line replacement a priority in planning MWRA-funded water main replacement projects. "Property owners with existing lead services who wish to participate in the lead removal program, or want further details, are encouraged to call the DPW at 617-846-1341 or email scalla@town.winthrop.ma.us," wrote Calla. "We urge owners of older homes and buildings to inspect their plumbing and, if possible, replace fittings that have lead joints or lead solder. We also encourage you to review the information contained in this report to take practical steps to reduce exposure to lead and other common contaminants."

MWRA's Executive Director Fred Laskey said While 2020 was a year filled with uncertainty, one thing remained constant: the quality of your drinking water was excellent.

"MWRA takes hundreds of thousands of tests each year and, for 2020, we again meet every federal and state drinking water standard," he

Laskey said the MWRA also wants its customers to know that their water was again named 'Best of the Best' at a national taste test conducted by the American Water Works Association. "In just a few vears, our water treatment has been upgraded from chlorine with its taste and odor issues, to ozone and ultraviolet light, which resulted in better tasting, safer water," said Laskey.

As part of its $1 billion merger with East Boston Savings Bank (EBSB), Rockland Trust nounced it will close several branches that EBSB opened as part of a massive expansion over the past decade.

While EBSB's branch in Winthrop and its flagship branches in Maverick Square on Meridian Street and on Bennington Street in Orient Heights will remain open, Rockland plans to close two branches in Allston/Brighton, one branch each in Chinatown, Dorchester, Mission Hill, Roslindale, West Roxbury, Brookline and two branches in Cam-

Rockland will also close one of its own branches in Jamaica Plain at 725 Centre St. and keep the EBSB branch at 515 Centre St. near the Curley School.

In a statement to news outlets Rockland Trust wrote that the bank is looking forward to welcoming customers from EBSB as it deepens its presence in and around Boston.

"We have carefully considered where there are overlaps between our branch networks so that we may strategically consolidate and maximize the impact of each branch," read the statement. "These were very thoughtful decisions, the factors of which included how we can most effectively serve our customers and the proximity of our retail branches."

Back in April EBSB. established in and Rockland Trust announced the two banks inked a merger agreement for Rockland to acquire EBSB's parent company, Meridian Bancorp., thus acquiring EBSB in a $1.15 billion deal.

Under the agreement each Meridian stockholder will receive 0.275 of Rockland common stock for each share of Meridian common stock.

According to the two banks the merger is expected to close in the fourth quarter of 2021.

EBSB currently has 42 full-service locations, one mobile branch and three loan centers in the greater Boston metropolitan area.

CHRIS CAPPUCCIO PLACES THIRD AT D-2 STATE MEET: ADVANCES TO ALL-STATE MEET

Winthrop High track and field man Chris Cappuccio turned in a third-place performance in the 200 meter dash at the Division 2 North State Meet this past Sunday in Weston and now will advance to the All-State Meet this Saturday morning at Norwell High.

"Chris ran a great race," said WHS head coach Mark D'Amico. "He ran a time of 23.54 in the fifth heat which gave him second in the heat and third overall. Chris had a good start, but really accelerated in the last 50 meters to pass everyone in the field in his heat except one runner from Dracut, who ran a 23.51.

"Chris has worked hard all season," D'Amico continued. "He has dedicated himself to becoming a better athlete in running and jumping and it has shown. He was always up in front of all the other teammates when working out in practice, trying to push himself and his teammates to better themselves. His work ethic is unparalleled.

"Chris joins an elite group of Winthrop athletes who have made the all-state meet," D'Amico added. "The last few to make it were Andrew McGrail in the discus in 2016 and 2017 and Marc Bouche in the triple jump in 2015.'

Cappuccio also competed in the high jump at the D-2 meet, for which athletes must qualify based on a predetermined standard, and tied for sixth place with a leap of 5'8". He had qualified for the meet with a jump of 6'-1" during the season.

Altogether, Chris placed 7.5 points into the scorebook for the WHS track team at the meet.

WHS SOFTBALL TEAM WINS

TOURNEY OPENER The Winthrop High softball team, the 10th seed in the Division 3 North Sectional of the MIAA state softball tournament, knocked off seventh-seeded Lynnfield by a score of 14-1 on a scorching-hot afternoon this past Monday in an opening-round contest.

The Lady Vikings were scheduled to meet St. Mary's of Lynn, the second-seed in the D-3 North with an 18-2 record, yesterday (Wednesday) in the quarterfinals. If coach Dave Guffey and his crew are successful, they will meet the winner of the Boston Latin Academy vs. Greater Lowell Tech contest in the semifinals today (Thursday) at a time and location to be determined.

Winthrop started out hot and never looked back in their victory over the Lady Pioneers. The Lady Vikings put up six runs in the top of the first inning and added five more in the second to all but put the game away. Winthrop tacked on three more markers in the sixth to end the contest by a technical knockout (i.e., the mercy rule). Speedster Izzy Mahoney led off the game with a base hit and Sofia Vitale beat out a bunt. After Summer Tallent beat out another bunt to load the bases, Rachel Farley reached on an error to score one run and a base hit by Syd Crotty made it 2-0.

Katie Gagnon then belted a grand slam to make it 6-0 and provide a measure of breathing room the rest of the way for the Lady

Vikings. Winthrop kept up the offensive pressure in the second inning. After Vitale reached on an error and advanced on a groundout, Farley brought Sofia across the plate with a base hit. Crotty then came through with an RBI double and Gagnon reached on an error. Katie's courtesy runner, Gabby Golden, then stole second with a head-first dive into the bag, electrifying the crowd.

Gabby duplicated that feat with a theft of third on the next pitch and then scored on an error.

Lily Tallent completed the Winthrop rally with a two-run double for a commanding 11-1 lead.

Lynnfield settled down and Winthrop took the gas off the pedal a bit until the sixth. Golden came up with courtesy runner McKenzie Margardo (for catcher Gagnon) on base and belted an 0-1 pitch to the deepest part of centerfield that Gabby legged out for a home run for the 14-1 finale. Winthrop played flawless defense on the day, with Izzy Mahoney getting the Gold Glove award. Vitale pitched all six innings, allowing just five hits, striking out three, and walking none.

NORTHEAST METRO TECH CLASS OF 2021 GRADUATION

Staff report

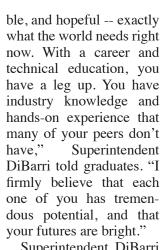

Superintendent-Director David DiBarri and Principal-Deputy Director Carla Scuzzarella are pleased to announce the graduation of the 301 students in Northeast Metro Tech's Class of 2021.

Northeast Metro Tech held four mini-graduation ceremonies, two each on Thursday, June 3 and Friday. June 4, smaller events planned before the state lifted its COVID-19 restrictions. Each ceremony contained graduates from four of the school's 16 Career Technical Education paths.

Graduates in each ceremony walked on to the School football field to different music, from the traditional "Pomp and Circumstance" to the classic Queen song "Don't Stop Me Now."

Superintendent DiBarri praised students for their commitment to Career Technical Education amid the trying times of a pan-

Superintendent DiBarri then challenged graduates to reflect on the dreams they had during a yearplus of COVID-19 restrictions, and to run toward those dreams in the coming year.

Principal Scuzzarella spoke about the return to a post-COVID-19 world and about interpersonal contact, and how the Class of 2021 remained resiltested, and you have not faltered," Principal Scuzzarella said. "As the sign at the bottom of the hill says: You are on your way!"

Vieira continued: "Although we many not always remember how to read old English or how to balance chemical equations, we must remember our determination and the obstacles we have overcome. I urge you to continue taking that step forward, no matter how cumbersome life appears."

Salutatorian Victoria Fama, a drafting and design student from Malden, spoke about the obstacles the Class of 2021 overv-

"Our time at Northeast has brought us opportunities to be mentored by understanding teachers, build lifelong bonds with our peers, and even find a sense of who we are as individuals," Fama said.

Class President Anna Falasca, an early childhood education student from Saugus, focused on the unexpected lessons learned along the way. "Class of 2021, you have taught me so much in a short time: Strength, determination, perseverance, and how to avoid Zoom," she said. "We're going to have one crazy story to tell one day."

The first of four graduations included a surprise presentation. Bryan Garosano, an HVAC student from Exeter, N.H. and formerly of Wakefield, was presented his diploma by his brother, U.S. Army Staff Sgt. Kevin Garosano. Sgt. Garosano, an armored crewman currently stationed at Fort Hood, Texas, and a nine-year military veteran, had been home visiting his family a few weeks ago. The surprise of his return was well-kept.

A Year in Retrospect

By Dale Dunbar

The Winthrop Vikings boys varsity hockey team gathered at JW's Restaurant June 12 for its year-ending banquet. What a difference a year makes as last season's rather unceremonious gathering was in the rear parking lot of the high school, with everyone wearing masks while social distancing.

The disappointment then for our seniors, their parents and our entire program was indescribable. COVID-19 had devastated so many lives and on so many levels. As a high school senior the banquet culminates the journey and cements the memories of all the great times had on and off the ice. For many it's their last team experience and a huge piece of their lives they can't rewind.

Fortunately, this spring we were able to celebrate our great season as a team. Our Booster Club once again created such a great atmosphere with pictures, awards, gifts and food. This incredible group of parents who dedicate their time and efforts behind the scenes deserve a lot of credit. In a small town like

Winthrop it's extremely difficult to ask businesses for donations especially during a pandemic yet these wonderful business owners reached out and supported our program and we are very thankful.

This year was simply a season of adjustments. In the past, parents would graciously open their homes to 25 boys for team dinners which are great team-bonding experiences, but not this year. Our locker room, which is a sacred place and steeped in tradition, was reduced to 25 folding chairs in the rear of the frigid Larsen

Players waited in the cold everyday as part of a COVID-19 protocol before entering the rink. They reverted back to their youth hockey days transporting their equipment every day. The pre-game and post-game speeches, along with the post-celebratory music after a win, were not the same; our sacred room that created so many memories and life lessons over the years was

But through it all our kids never lost their focus or passion and I attribute that to our senior leadership. Our captains, Ryan Hovermale, Stephen Hol-

In what has become an esteemed tradition in the Winthrop High School boys hockey program, the graduating seniors receive "Director's Chairs" in recognition of their contributions to the program during their careers. gersen and Chris Ferrara, were exceptional. Their exemplary leadership was instrumental in our success this season and they were always in the forefront in difficult situations.

Each season our goal is simple: Win the NEC Championship! Although we accomplished our goal, it's extremely unfortunate and unfair that we cannot officially claim it in the record book or on a banner in the rink. The Vikings beat powerhouse Masconomet, 2-0, in one of the best-played games in my tenure and later in the season tied despite a two goal deficit in the third period. So Winthrop and Masconomet technically are NEC co-champions with 18 points. We realize that tough decisions had to be made during these unprecedented times and we will have to accept the fact that the powers-to- be had a different perspective.

Our staff feels the 2020-2021 Vikings would have been a very dangerous team in the state tournament. Through all the adversity this resilient group gained confidence with each game and proved they could play with anyone. Seniors Charlie Lane, Conor Hurley, Matt Hurley, Evan Smotrich and Conlan Petersen all contributed significantly, and our staff is so thankful to have such outstanding young men as mentors to our younger players.

Coach Mike Norris deserves an enormous amount of credit for all his hard work and dedication. Mike is a great coach and a better person and continues to amaze me with his passion. Our players have benefited immensely over the years from his knowledge of the game but more importantly life. I would like to thank Athletic Director Matt Serino for all his work and dedication during these difficult times and fighting for us to play last season.

Ironically this was one of the most rewarding seasons I've had coaching Winthrop without being rewarded. Our game plan was constantly being adjusted but everyone adapted and created new visions. Rather than making excuses, our kids forged forward and developed new habits that allowed them to grow as individuals and more importantly as a team. Congratulations to our entire program for a great job this season.

CANNABIS LICENSE BEING SOUGHT

CHELSEA - La Colab-

orativa Director Gladys

Vega announced this week that her company, Vida Verde, would pursue a cannabis retail and transportation license at the former tuxedo shop on the Parkway in Chelsea. Vega and business partner, Leah Piantidosi, will pursue the Chelsea license with the goal of having three recreational cannabis shops in the region – with one already in the works for Somerville and another one in Malden.Vega said she considered the marijuana industry when it was first legalized more than three years ago, trying to decide if she would get involved in the new industry. She said coming from a home where there was drug use was prevalent, and she felt she would be the kind of responsible person to introduce the industry into Chelsea cor-

"Because I grew up in Chelsea, I have experienced growing up in a household where my brother used heavy drugs, she said. "The abuse of marijuana in our family was very hard growing up. As I got older, I wondered what I would do if marijuana was legalized, and if I would get involved...I want to make sure Chelsea, these businesses go in and come out without doing anything for the residents. Many people become rich and are I and out of our city. I want to create a foundation and have this do things to support our city. I have invested my whole life into Chelsea and I want to make sure whomever makes an investment in Chelsea gives back to Chelsea.' Vega said one of the main reasons she is involved is, one, for the health aspects that her business partner, Piantidosi, has testified to - finding that it helped her late mother when she had cancer. The other reason is to set up a foundation that will help La Colaborativa and other non-profits continue their critical work in the community.

"My plan is to kick-off these businesses and have Chelsea managers that are able to manage the operations and hopefully three years from now, I can be at all location three locations," she said. "I want to be able to do that when I have the resources for La Colaborativa and the Foundation is intact and I don't have to stay up late figuring out how to make our payroll. Right now we're okay because of the pandemic, but the pandemic is old news and people will forget about it and our blanket of poverty will continue. The problems from this pandemic will be something we have to battle for years and years. I'm not going to say I don't want to make money, but I also want to make money for our community."

She said they will be hiring staff, and she said she probably would bring some people along that she trusts to help the business along. Meanwhile, she said security will be paramount, and she would not tolerate loitering, using the product in the surrounding neighborhood or throwing packaging on the ground. She said to prevent such litter, they would tag each package with a unique ID and anything found could be tracked to the customer who would face consequences if they returned.

She said she plans to really upgrade the old tuxedo shop (Russo's) on the Parkway, and indicated the shop they are building in Somerville is very luxurious and professional. That will be the same case in Chelsea as well.

She said if anyone is to be trusted with this new industry, she said she hopes Chelsea will trust her and her company.

"I've invested years into Chelsea and I have nowhere else to go," she said. "Chelsea is my hometown.'

MATEWSKY RETURNS TO COUNCIL POST

EVERETT - Council President Wayne Matewsky visited death's door for certain after having a critical heart attack three months ago while on vacation in Florida, but it was a door he did not pass through and now has recovered and was on hand to re-assume his post and tell the tale.

Last week before the early City Budget special meeting, Council Interim President Anthony DiPierro introduced Matewksy back to the body, and relinquished the seat back to Matewksy - where the long-time councilor relayed the harrowing tale of how he survived a major heart attack, recovered in Florida and at home, and discovered just how much he is appreciated in from the COVID pandemic and ended up having a major heart attack. "I went to Florida for a rest and I was there eight days and the heart attack hit me," he said. "It was sudden. I had no chest pains but just couldn't breathe. Thank God there is a fire station right behind the motel. I actually went there to get away from sirens and trains, but thank God for that fire station. The day of the heart attack, when I opened my door and told the manager at the pool to call 9-1-1, that fire department was there in a minute, and they rushed me to Holy Cross Hospital. They saved my life. For two weeks I was in an induced coma from what I'm told."

Matewsky, 62, has spent the last month or more recovering at Spaulding Hospital in Cambridge, and had spent some time in Florida recovering and gathering strength for the trip back to Everett.

Once he got back to Everett, Matewsky said he was touched at the outpouring of support from all of his colleagues - each of which he named and from residents and friends throughout the City. Some of his colleagues and his friends also visited him in Florida, such as DiPierro and Councilor Michael Marchese and Library Board member Edna Micelin.

He said he has gotten more than 400 cards in the mail, baskets and gifts as well.

"I can't thank the people of Everett enough," he said. "I've never been sick in my life, but there were so many people who visited me or sent me notes to get well and I'll never forget it. I'm lucky to be alive and I mean that. I want to thank the membership of this Council. I didn't realize people appreciated me as much as they did. When something this serious happens to you, you just really appreciate the kindness you receive.

Mayor Carlo DeMaria after the meeting sent out a statement welcoming Matewsky back to work.

"President Matewsky's return was a pleasant surprise on Monday evening," said Mayor DeMaria. "He gave us all quite a scare, but he has certainly come a long way and I look forward to continuing to serve the residents with him.'

After telling his story, Matewsky didn't seem to miss a beat - launching into a Budget meeting and then conducting a full City Council meeting that went nearly three hours.

It was to the amazement of many in the Chambers and watching at home.

MADARO SEEKS IN-STATE TUITION FOR UNDOCUMENTED STUDENTS

EAST BOSTON - Today, undocumented students who attend and graduate from East Boston High School and high schools across the state must pay out-of-state tuition to attend our public colleges and universities.

Rep. Adrian Madaro is of the opinion that these are our students, Massachusetts is their home, and it's past time to give them access to in-state tuition. "This session, I filed a bill (H1352: An Act to Ensure Tuition Equity for Massachusetts Residents) to make in-state tuition available to undocumented students with State Representative Michael Moran," said Madaro. "Not only would this bill remove a barrier to higher education for undocumented students, but it makes economic and fiscal sense." Madaro recently provided testimony to the Joint Committee on Higher Education in support of this bill. "I filed this legislation with Leader Michael Moran to ensure that every Massachusetts resident has the opportunity to pursue higher education at in-state tuition rates regardless of their immigration status," said Madaro. "This legislation would allow all students, except nonimmigrant individuals, to qualify for in-state tuition rates at our state public colleges and universities if they have attended a Massachusetts high school for at least three years and graduated or if they have obtained the equivalent through an adult basic education program."

The bill does not make state financial aid available to undocumented students, and undocumented students are not eligible for federal financial aid.

However, at a time when college enrollment is drastically down in the Commonwealth, Madaro argues this legislation would bring in additional revenue for the public higher education system through new student enrollment at virtually no

"This legislation would also increase the number of educated residents in the Commonwealth and affirm our commitment towards the inclusivity of our immigrant neighbors, many of whom grew up in Massachusetts and do not have recollection of any other place to call home,' said Madaro. "Further, at a time when the public health emergency has highlighted the myriad ways in which socioeconomic inequities exacer bate illness among marginalized populations, it is incumbent upon us to increase access to higher education for immigrant communities that have been disproportionately burdened by the coronavirus pandemic."

Madaro said his legislation would create economic, fiscal and social benefits for the Commonwealth.

"This proposal would bolster revenue for our public higher education system with nearly no new investment by increasing student enrollment," said Madaro. "Currently, highly-motivated and brilliant undocumented students who are already studying in our Massachusetts K-12 education system rarely, if ever, matriculate in our public colleges and universities due to the prohibitive cost of out-of-state tuition, which is significantly higher than in-state tuition. As such, decreasing the cost of tuition for undocumented students in Massachusetts would result in new enrollments." Madaro then pointed to a 2011 report by the Massachusetts Taxpayers Foundation estimated that 315 to 365 undocumented immigrants would enroll in public colleges and universities in the first year if Massachusetts were to adopt in-state tuition rates for graduating high school students. The report also concluded that the number of new students could easily be absorbed by the state's public higher education system.

"In Texas, where undocumented students have had access to in-state tuition rates since 2001, a majority of undocumented students have enrolled in community colleges," he said. "Assuming this trend would hold in Massachusetts, increasing access to higher education for undocumented students through in-state tuition rates would help stabilize and augment enrollment at community colleges and other public higher education programs. This rise in enrollment would enrich the student body of our public colleges at virtually no additional cost to the Commonwealth and is needed now more than ever. No private scholarship is ever enough to cover the full cost of attending our colleges and universities. Yet they are eager to learn and dream of a better future for themselves. their families, our neighborhoods, and our Commonwealth. I believe it is time for Massachusetts to join the seventeen other states across the country offering in-state tuition rates for undocumented

SAVING LIFE REVERE - The Revere City Council presented Police Officer David Wilson its highest honor - a Certificate of Merit - for his heroic actions of rescuing a girl from the frigid waters of Revere Beach on May 14,

Councillor-at-Large George Rotondo said he witnessed Officer Wilson's miraculous efforts that saved the life of the despondent girl. "Very few times in life you have the opportunity to see a miracle, pretty much the same time you see heroism in action," said Rotondo. "You just hear this woman scream ing for this little girl and she was just treading water 200-300 feet out. What you don't understand is that it was 8 o'clock at night and it was dark out and the water was probably around 48 degrees. "David starts making his way to the shoreline taking off his gear," continued Rotondo. "This young girl - if you know anything about people who struggle because they don't want you to help them, they fight and they fight hard – picture that in 48 degree water and pitch black by yourself, that's what he did. That's what Dave Wilson did to save this young girl.

life. I'm a nurse. I've seen heroism, too. Very rarely do. You get to see it, but I got it to see it that night," said Rotondo. "David Wilson saved her life. He did it in pitch black and he did it in frigid waters. He is the epitome of the Revere Police Department. He is a hero."

"I've seen miracle in

City Council President Anthony Zambuto read aloud the Certificate of Merit which recognized David Wilson's "extraordinary, distinguished, and meritorious actions."

"Without hesitation, you jumped into action and dove into the waters and saved her life that day," said Zambuto. "You have gone above and beyond the call of duty by putting your own life at risk and your actions will be forever remembered."
