Delehanty tells council COVID cases increasing

By Laura Plummer

The Winthrop Town Council met in the Harvey Room of Town Hall on Sept. 7, where it heard updates on the coronavirus. As of Sept. 7, Winthrop had a percent positive rate of 4.3, almost double the rate over the summer. DPW Director Meredith Hurley called the recent spike in COVID cases “pretty significant.”

In the two weeks preceding the meeting, there were 94 new positive cases. Forty-two percent of these were breakthrough cases of the Delta variant in individuals who had already been vaccinated.

Hurley said she was “most concerned” about individuals in the age 50 to 64 group, which has shown the highest level of vaccine hesitancy, especially among males.

“Please get vaccinated,” said Pres. Boncore. “It’s not going away. We don’t want to go back and put a joint emergency order in.” “I talked to some people who were reluctant. There’s a lot of people out there who think that it can’t happen to them,” said the Board of Health’s Bill Schmidt. “We don’t want to go back to a mask mandate. Hopefully people will start to do the right thing.”

Director Hurley said that businesses should use “whatever platform they have” to urge the public to get vaccinated. One business recently sent out a newsletter to its customers, telling them not to come in unless vaccinated. “COVID’s here to stay,” said Town Manager Terence Delehanty. “We

Two Winthrop residents to participate in next month’s Jimmy Fund Walk

By John Lynds

Two Winthrop residents will choose their own route on October 3 and raise money for cancer research during the socially distanced Boston Marathon Jimmy Fund Walk.

Winthrop’s Leighanne Strangie and James Nelson, along with thousands of other walkers, will participate in virtual programming during the Walk that aims to recreate the most inspiring elements of Walk day.

Strangie, who lost her son Ritchie to cancer in 2018, is part of Team Ritchie, which has raised $3,030 so far towards their goal of $20,000 for Dana-Farber.

“This year I will be walking to Wipe out Wilms Tumor,” she said. “This will be my third year walking in the Boston Marathon Jimmy Fund Walk. After losing my son, Ritchie, to Wilms tumor in 2018 at the age of 28 I decided to walk in his honor. I can’t think of a better way to honor those we have lost and help those who are currently fighting—especially the 500 to 600 new cases of Wilms tumor that are diagnosed every year in the United States. The tragic events began the international military campaign, the War on Terror; and now, 20 years later, the nation honors the day with American flags lowered halfway, and a moment of silence at 8:46 a.m.

On September 11, 2021, the Town of Winthrop honored the 2,977 lives lost because of that tragic act with a solemn ceremony on City Hall lawn. Government officials, residents, and veterans gathered with the Police and Fire Departments to remember not only the despair and grief, but the heroes who rushed to New York to help.

First responder, fireman, Chuck Flanagan, of the Massachusetts Task Force Urban Search & Rescue, recalled when he heard the horrifying news – he was teaching a class in Texas. Since all the planes in North America were grounded, many of his fellow members drove 30 hours straight to New York.

“When I got to the site that night, it was clear that there was probably no way to survive this. Most of the rescue victims had been evacuated in the first four hours. The most eerie thing that hit me was when the heavy dust settled, and I could hear beeping from a devise when firefighters are motionless,” Flanagan explained. “It’s an excruciating sound. Because it was an attack on America, as responders, we took risks that were beyond the scope of what we are supposed to. We were trying to recover respectfully the remains of those who perished in the incident. It was a difficult task, and took a long time.”

OUR Opinions

CONGRATULATIONS,
RON SPINNEY

The term “living legend” often is overused, but in the case of former long-time Winthrop High girls basketball coach Ron Spinney, it is, if anything, an understatement.

Ron, who is being inducted into the Massachusetts Basketball Coaches Association Hall of Fame, guided the WHS girls’ program from its infancy in the 1970s, an era when women’s athletics at the college and high school levels were beginning to blossom thanks to the advent of Title IX, the federal law that mandated that there be equality of opportunity for girls and women.

Over the course of a career that would span 29 years, Ron Spinney’s Lady Viking teams racked up 402 wins, capturing seven Northeastern Conference championships, four MIAA North Sectional titles, and four Eastern Mass. titles.

The legendary 1983 team, led by Maureen McManus Hill, Lisa Monteleone Ferrara, Pamela Hubley Sullivan, Eileen Kelly, Mary Wood, Denise Millerick, Leann Mirabella, and Christine Bruce, went 23-1 and won the Eastern Mass. title by avenging its only regular-season loss to Westwood in the Eastern Mass. championship game on St. Patrick’s Day in Braintree. (There was no state championship game that season because of the energy crisis.)

The teams of the early 1990s, led by Lori Thomas, Joanna Saggese, Liz Doherty, Krissy Indresano, and Cheri Lee, represented another era in which Ron Spinney coached the WHS program to greatness.

But those two teams are just the proverbial tip of the iceberg when assessing Ron Spinney’s coaching prowess and impact on the WHS girls program. There were countless other tremendous teams right from the start in the 1970s throughout Ron’s entire tenure, bringing to mind countless outstanding athletes such as Amy Sullivan, Marie Biggio, Debbie Consoli, and Linda Wessling -- the list could go on and on.

What always impressed us while writing about the WHS girls team for all of those years is how Ron often took a group of girls that at the beginning of the season may not have been either the most experienced or talented, but then, together with his long-time assistant coach, Jim Nimblett, molded them, through his emphasis on defense and fundamentals, into a force that by the second half of the year had far overachieved expectations and gave even the top teams in the NEC in any particular year a run for their money.

We know we join with all of Ron’s former players, their parents, and WHS fans in offering our congratulations to Ron Spinney upon this great honor.

AMERICA SINCE 9/11: ONE
STEP FORWARD, MANY STEPS BACK

Amidst the solemn ceremonies and remembrances this past weekend of the terrorist attack 20 years ago on 9/11, one thing is clear: America is far better protected from a similar act of terrorism than we were on 9/10/01.

To be sure, our higher level of protection has come at great cost, but we have had nothing close to a similar incident since that terrible day, unlike in other countries, especially France, where high-profile, coordinated attacks by known terrorist groups have killed dozens of innocent civilians.

But if we are to assess our country today vs. where we were 20 years ago, by almost every other measure our nation is worse off.

The 9/11 attack rightly spurred us to invade Afghanistan, from where Osama bin Laden was directing his terrorist organization. Our military took care of business in short order, destroying bin Laden’s network. But our rapid and easy success led us to continue with our military occupation of Afghanistan for 20 years and undertake an invasion of Iraq, even though there was no connection between that country and 9/11.

Those two foolhardy, deceitful, and hubristic endeavors have had disastrous consequences that reverberate today.

In addition, newly-released documents have revealed that both wars essentially were nothing more than a money-grab both by special interest groups in this country and by corrupt government officials in those countries. The vast majority of the trillions of dollars we spent lined the pockets of corrupt individuals and groups both here and abroad.

If we examine our domestic situation since 9/11, drug overdose deaths in the U.S, which reached an all-time high of almost 90,000 in 2020, are six times greater today than they were in 2001. The simple arithmetic tells us that we presently are losing as many Americans to drug overdoses every 12 days as we lost on 9/11.

The average life-span of many American sub-groups, especially white males who are victims of the so-called deaths of despair, has decreased for the first time in more than a century, even without factoring in the COVID-19 pandemic.

Income inequality and the accumulation of obscene wealth by a small group of individuals already was a problem in 2001, but 20 years later, the unequal distribution of our national wealth into the hands of a few has accelerated many times over and continues unabated. Combined with the Supreme Court’s 2010 decision in the Citizens United case, we are realizing that a democracy exists in name only when we have a stratification of wealth in our society that is the equivalent of a real-life Hunger Games.

Natural disasters were few and far between prior to 2001, but nine of the 10 costliest hurricanes in our history have occurred since 2005. Thanks to our refusal to acknowledge climate change and to take the necessary steps both to reduce its impact and prepare for its consequences, our nation (and the world) routinely has been ravaged by an ever-accelerating number of natural disasters that have far exceeded the cost of what we might have spent to reduce greenhouse emissions, the source of atmospheric warming.

Facebook, Twitter, and similar platforms did not exist in 2001, but today they dominate our informational and political landscape and chiefly are responsible for the spread of misinformation and disinformation, from both domestic and foreign sources, that have undermined both our democracy and our ability to fight COVID-19.

As for COVID-19, today we are losing 3000 of our fellow citizens -- the equivalent of those we lost on 9/11 -- every two days because of COVID-19, which in the past 18 months has claimed the lives of more than 660,000 Americans.

We have the ability to fight back against COVID-19 -- masks and vaccines are our readily-available weapons -- but with tens of millions of Americans failing to join in the battle, spurred on by disinformation on social media and dishonest politicians such as Gov. Ron DeSantis of Florida, our tragic and horrific daily death toll is the best evidence that we are losing the war vs. COVID.

Lastly, if someone had predicted in 2001 that within 20 years, a right-wing mob, spurred on by social media, would have stormed the Capitol building in an attempt to stop the counting of the Electoral College -- in support of President Donald Trump -- the entire scenario would have been the stuff of a fictional satire in a humor magazine. (And probably would have been rejected for being outlandishly ridiculous.)

To those of the younger generation for whom 9/11 is not even a memory, we sadly report that by almost every metric, America today is in far worse shape than when the twin towers tragically were attacked 20 years ago.

So the question is this: If things have gotten this bad over the past 20 years, is there any hope that things will be better 20 years from now?

Cardinal Seán P. O’Malley statement on 20th anniversary of Sept. 11 attacks

By Sean P. O’Malley

“Throughout the history of the United States, events have occurred that profoundly changed who we are as a country.

Breakthrough developments in medicine and science, and technology that allows for instantaneous communication, have provided us opportunities to improve our lives and be connected to one another in ways not previously possible. Sadly, war, socio-economic disparities, systemic racism and political divisions have made life more difficult for generations of Americans and deeply divided our society.

In the twenty years since the tragic day when America was attacked on September 11, 2001, we have witnessed great courage and bravery by our countless men and women who came to the aid and support of their brothers and sisters in the midst of crisis. First responders, many of whom ran towards danger never to return, exemplify the American spirit, and we honor them always. Flight crews facing unimaginable horror that day focused on caring for their passengers who turned to them for help in moments of fearful desperation. And the men and women of the military courageously stepped forward to defend our freedom. A shining tower of architectural beauty now calls us to the place where the World Trade Center towers once stood. The 9/11 Memorial honors the lives lost and helps us to heal from the trauma of that day while holding up America’s resolve to never forget. Memorials have also been erected at the Pentagon and in Shanksville, Pennsylvania where, in those attacks, the extraordinary heroism of citizens and those who serve to protect us saved many lives.

In the years since September 11, 2001, we have also experienced two deep and long-term economic downturns, a global pandemic that has led to more than 600,000 Americans losing their lives. And we have seen far too many people fall into poverty through no fault of their own, continuing an inequity that has for too long unfairly burdened those whose goal is to realize the dream of a better life for their families. A lack of civility and a too-quick readiness to denigrate and assign blame to others, amplified through social media, is fracturing communities and making us less trusting of our neighbors. Our brothers and sisters within the interfaith community have experienced an unprecedented amount of hate; we stand in solidarity with men and women of all faiths to combat this evil.

Almost 3,000 people lost their lives on 9/11. Many have since died from the health impacts directly attributed to the collapse of the towers. Two wars have cost thousands of American lives and also the lives of our allies and citizens in Afghanistan and Iraq. Many men and women who answered the call to defend us suffered life-altering injuries. We are now called to support them as they return to our communities.

September 11th changed all of us and our society. We owe the families of those lost on 9/11 the honor of finding ways to overcome our differences and building communities of compassion and love that unites us. We should be motivated to take meaningful action by looking past our differences and embracing a culture of mutual respect and dialogue. The Church has a role in this and endeavors to be a beacon of hope for the distressed, friend to the forgotten and helping hand to the less fortunate.

Many of us remember where we were and what we were feeling on that tragic day twenty years ago. I was in Washington, D.C., for meetings at the United States Conference of Catholic Bishops. Shortly after the attacks, we canceled our meeting and made our way to the nearby Shrine of the Immaculate Conception for Mass on the campus of Catholic University, where a crowd had already gathered to pray. With the help of the University’s president, who made his car available, I was able to return to New England with my fellow bishops to be with the people of the Diocese of Fall River where I was bishop.

All across the world, there was a strong sense of community and solidarity. Our need to share the profound sorrow of that time that brought people together in a profound way. The events of September 11th demonstrated the fragility of human life and also our resilience and recognition of our common bond of humanity.

Remembering the events of September 11th twenty years later, we pray for the victims, the families and the survivors who may still be traumatized and whose health has been compromised by the effects of the attacks.

We pray for peace in our world. We pray for wisdom to overcome our differences. We pray for a future free of terrorism and hate. We pray for the healing that comes from communities of love for another, mutual respect and caring. And we commit to never forget those whose lives were lost that day.”

Sean P. O’Malley is an American cardinal of the Catholic Church serving as the Archbishop of the Archdiocese of Boston.

“It is with a heavy heart and excitement towards the future that I announce my resignation from the Winthrop School Committee,” said Capobianco. “I am truly blessed and humbled to have served as an elected official in the town of Winthrop for the past six years. I am proud of the work that the School Committee has accomplished over the past few years including campaigning for a new Middle/High School and Miller Field, investing in our kindergarten program by reducing class sizes and adding an ESP in each classroom, and reinvigorating our Little Vikings program by making it more affordable for working families.

“Since my time on the School Committee our teachers have received a 16 percent salary increase, early retirement incentives and zero layoffs,” said Capobianco. “All of this was done without a Proposition 2 1/2 override. It has been an honor to have served as Chairman for two years and during that time being named the Massachusetts Association of School Committee’s School Committee Member of the Year. “I could not have done this without my mother, Valerie Dalton, father, James Capobianco, and my top supporters Denise LoConte, Donna Segreti Reilly, Mary Alice Sharkey, Gus Martucci, and Jim Lederman. I will continue to live a life filled with optimism, happiness, love, and peace.”

Capobianco has had a zest for politics and public service since high school when he was elected class president. He has participated in numerous local, state, and national political campaigns.

At the age of 18, Capobianco became a Democratic Party official and later served on the Airport Hazards Committee. He is a graduate of Suffolk University where he was a student leader.

Capobianco also worked as a legislative aide for Speaker of the Mass. House Robert A. DeLeo.

ARTICLE 980 — CENTER NARROW GAUGE RAILWAY STATION

Art 793 -Dr. Samuel Ingalls Influence on our Town

Many family names have left their imprint on our peninsula such as the Winthrop's (for whom the Town is named), the Belcher's, Floyd's and Tewksbury's (three young men who came to town and married three Bill girls in the early 1700's thereby eliminating the Bill family name from the town), the Bartlett's (whose son William F. Bartlett was a famous Civil War Major General), Orray Taft (who ran the famous Taft Inn for some 40 years during the mid 1800's at Point Shirley) and Dr. Benjamin Metcalf (who built and managed the first hospital in Winthrop some hundred years ago). A number of recent questions have been received asking about Dr. Samuel Ingalls which prompted this update of a previous article. Today's article will discuss how Dr. Samuel Ingalls influenced the development of our community from 1870 to 1884. In the 1870's, Dr. Ingalls laid out house lots on Waldemar Avenue, Pleasant Street, Palmyra Street and on what was to become Pauline Street. On Ingalls Hill, he laid out Ingleside Avenue (note Ingalls had been changed to Ingles) and built himself the home shown in picture #1 on this new street. The picture was taken about 1880 looking up from what is now the intersection of Edgehill Road and Pleasant Street. This home is still standing as can be seen in picture #2 While much of the original architectural appearance remains, additional dormers/windows have been added. In 1875, Dr. Ingalls bought the Ocean Spray track of some 43 acres, along what is now the Northern end of Shore Drive, from the Wheeler Estate, and divided it into streets and house lots. The eight avenues contained in this resort complex all have names with a salty beach flavor i.e. Dolphin, Pearl, Wave Way, Sea Foam, Trident, Coral, Mermaid and Neptune. All deeds to cottage lots had a prohibition clause prohibiting the possession or consumption of alcoholic beverages thereon.

Our former Town Counsel, Joe Harvey, stated that even though this clause is still in many of the deeds, it is no longer enforceable. Dr. Ingalls was also largely responsible for the development of Winthrop's early railway line. It is ironic that on June 11, 1884, he was struck and killed by a standard gauge railroad engine near the Ocean Spray Station. When the Narrow Gauge Railroad line became operational in 1886/87, one of its nine terminals, located on what is now Walden Street near the current Stasio's Lumber Company, was named Ingalls Station. His family also donated the area known as Ingleside Park to the Town for recreational purposes. While Dr. Ingalls spelled his name Ingalls, the street and Park that were also named after him had the name spelled Ingleside.

As Winthrop began to grow in population, the desire for a road from Columbia Square (now Metcalf Square) to the Cottage Park and Court Park sections of Town increased. In 1872, such a road was authorized by the Town Meeting to be laid out from the Old Town Hall with a long sweeping curve up the hill to Pleasant Street. It was built in 1875 and named Pauline Street after Dr. Ingalls' Wife, Augusta Pauline. Picture #3 was her home at 193 Pauline Street after he died and we have been told that it is Pauline that can be seen seated on the front porch. Picture #4 depicts the same house as it appears today. As information is located on other early residents that were actively involved in the development of Winthrop, "Then & Now" will run an article on them.

An evening boating trip on Boston Harbor turned tragic last weekend when a 25-foot privateer operated by Winthrop resident Lloyd Thompson struck a moored sailboat in Hull Harbor, sending two of his nine passengers overboard and killing one of them. Regina Mosher, 55, also of Winthrop, died at Brigham and Women's Hospital Sunday after being transported there from South Shore Hospital early Sunday morning with severe injuries from the boat crash. Also thrown overboard and treated at South Shore Hospital for her injuries was 32-year old Danielle Buharali of Waltham. Thompson, 39, of 614 Shirley Street, was charged with operating a vessel under the influence of intoxicating liquor and homicide by vessel in the death of Mosher. He was arraigned on Monday in Hingham District Court on the charges and was released on $1,500 bail.

One of the most anticipated social and culinary events on the local calendar is set for next Wednesday when the Chamber of Commerce hosts the annual "Taste of Winthrop" at the Winthrop Yacht Club. Many Winthrop restaurants and food establishments will be participating in this great and fun evening. This year's event has the additional treat of live musical performances. There also will be a silent auction.

Two local families were directly affected by the World Trade Center terrorist attack last week. Kathy Nicosia, a Winthrop resident and American Airlines flight attendant, was among those on board one of the jets that was flown into the twin towers. She was 54 and is survived by her daughter Marianne and husband George. She and her family lived in Winthrop for 32 years. Trudy Alagero grew up on Court Road before moving to Saugus. She was an Executive Vice President with Marsh McClellan Insurance and is presumed to be one of the thousands presumed dead when the towers collapsed. She was 37.

Winthrop Fire Captain Charles Flanagan Jr. and fire fighter Mark Aliberti, both members of the FEMA urban rescue team, were dispatched to New York City last week to aid with the relief and rescue effort.

Townpeople are mourning the loss of beloved Winthrop High teacher Neil Shapiro, whose WHS Drama Society annually was among the top competitors in the state. Shapiro passed away Tuesday at the age of 48. He had suffered from a rare blood disorder, myelofibrosis, for three years.

Winthrop voters will go to the polls Monday to decide on the Prop. 2 and 1/2 property tax override referendum in the amount of $2.5 million. Marty O'Brien and Barbara DeLeo are co-chairs of the "Vote Yes" Committee.

Only a handful of residents attended a public meeting to discuss proposed plans for a new sewerage system in town. Most of the town's sewer lines have insufficient slopes and capacity that frequently cause back-ups and overflows. The engineers have recommended the re-laying of 32,500 feet of gravity lines, the installation of three pumping stations, and 300 feet of force main.

The transportation of students between the Chase and Dalrymple schools reportedly is running smoothly. The School Committee consolidated the two schools as a cost-cutting measure, with students in grades 2-4 going to the Chase and grades 5-6 going to the Dalrymple. Army Corps of Engineers has been called in to assist with the problem. Residents, who have been complaining of rashes, illnesses, and damage to their property, believe that the rotten egg fumes are being caused by pollution from the MDC's Deer Island sewage treatment plant and claim that the same smell is coming from the MDC's manhole covers along the town's sewer lines. Health Officer Ralph Sirianni said the problem is spreading from Pt. Shirley to Belle Isle.

*God looks around his Garden
And found an empty place.
He then looked down upon the earth,
and saw your tired face.
He put his arms around you,
And lifted you to rest.
God's garden must be beautiful,
He only takes the best.
He saw the road was getting rough,
and the hills were hard to climb,
so He closed your weary eyelids,
and whispered,
"Peace be thine."
It broke our hearts to lose you,
but you didn't go alone.
For part of us went with you the day
God called you home.*

All types of services for all types of people.

Some people prefer traditional funeral services. Others prefer cremation. Some want an elaborate ceremony. Then there are others who don't want any ceremony at all. When it comes to funerals, there are as many options as there are people. And we take pride in being able to say we offer them all.

‘Jazz and Blues’ exhibit on display at Winthrop Public Library

Special to the Transcript

Tim Curry’s photograph collection, “Jazz & Blues” will be in the Winthrop Public Library until the end of October.

Mr. Curry: said, “The photographs exhibited were taken at several Jazz and Blues locations over the past ten years. I began to photograph Jazz musicians in 1960, when I purchased my first Nikon F camera. At that time, I was a student at Boston University but had been involved in Jazz since I we 13 years old.

Although never by profession, I became a Probation Officer at the Boston Municipal Court, but I continued to photograph Jazz musicians and then started my own record company with Bob Porter, a record producer and longtime friend. I did the artwork, which included some of my own photographs for Phoenix Jazz Records. My ability to photograph Jazz musicians came to an abrupt stop when I suffered acoustic trauma in 1970 from recording sessions for Prestige Records, as I could no longer enter

In the 1990s, I decided to try taking photographs of Blues Musicians with ear plugs, as Jazz had taken a back seat and I was involved with both Jazz and Blues. Within a few years, I would also have my own Jazz and Blues radio shows on Zumix Radio, WZMR 94.9 FM in East Boston. Since then and long retired, I attend as many Blues Festivals that I can find in the area and look for some rare opportunities for Jazz musicians, as the interest in Jazz has dwindled. I try to capture the artist when he or she is unaware that I’m shooting them. It has been a pleasure to be part of the world of both Jazz and Blues for over the past 60+ years, not only photographing them but also having my own record company and more recently, having both Jazz from The Top and Blues From Maverick Square on Zumix Radio since 2007. I will continue my adventure as long as I am able to do so.”

This library features DVDs based on the lives of Chet Baker and Miles Davis as well as live performances recorded in the 50’s and 60’s of such luminaries as John Coltrane, Dave Brubeck, Quincy Jones, Ella Fitzgerald, and Sarah Vaughn.

Our CD offerings run the gamut from Duke Ellington, Bill Evans, Ahmad Jamal, Wes Montgomery, Charlie Parker, Herbie Hancock, and The Modern Jazz Quartet to more contemporary artists like Wynton Marsalis, George Benson, Christian McBride, Carmen Lundy, Tierney Sutton, Diana Krall and The Manhattan Transfer.

Many of the Library’s jazz holdings were purchased in memory of Ron Bergman, a passionate jazz aficionado and a tireless supporter of the Winthrop Public Library & Museum.

William A. “Bill” Miller, the last Winthrop soldier killed in the world war, who died just a few weeks before hostilities ended, was laid to rest with full military honors this past week. His body arrived here on Friday, almost two weeks after that of the body of Richard F. Metcalf, the first Winthrop soldier killed in the war, arrived and was buried. Both were members of the 101st Regiment, Winthrop Machine Gun Company. Miller’s body lay in state at the American Legion on Sunday where a procession of hundreds of men, women, and children paid their respects. The funeral mass was said in St. John the Evangelist Church and the burial was in the family plot in St. Joseph’s Cemetery in W. Roxbury. Many of Miller’s comrades attended and wore their battle uniforms. Miller came to Winthrop as a young boy and attended local schools. He went to Mexico with the local Machine Gun Company to fight Pancho Villa. He leaves his mother and two brothers.

A 19-year-old East Boston girl, Miss. Dorothy E. Smith, is being credited with saving the life of a two year-old boy who was a summer visitor to the Point. The toddler had ventured out in a boat with a nine year-old friend when he fell out of the boat and the boat drifted away. Almost nobody was on the beach at the time because all of the children were in school. However, Miss Smith, who was vacationing, saw what happened and immediately swam out 100 feet to snatch the boy as he went under a second time. The boy’s mother arrived as Miss Smith reached shore and together they resuscitated the boy by the time the police arrived with the pulmotor.

WHS SPORTS ROUNDUP

WHS BOYS SOCCER TOPS MARBLEHEAD, E.B.

The Winthrop High boys soccer team is off to one of the best starts -- if not THE best start -- in the program's history as a member of the Northeastern Conference.

After routing NEC rival Saugus in their season-opener last week by a score of 8-1, coach Kyle Gagin's squad defeated Marblehead and non-league rival East Boston by identical scores of 2-0 before dropping a 3-1 decision to a strong Beverly team.

The victory over the visiting Magicians from Marblehead took place in the rain on the turf and under the lights at Miller Field last Thursday evening in conditions that would have been unplayable in the old Miller swamp.

After a level first half in which neither team could reach the back of the net, the Vikings put home two goals after the intermission, the first by Danish exchange student Gustav Hemmingsen and the second by Aymane Cherki. Hemmingsen and Juan Guauque were credited with assists.

"The big story was the play from our goalie, Mateo Martínez," noted Gagin. "He made a number of big saves to record his first career varsity shutout."

On Monday the Vikings grounded the Jets of East Boston by the same score. Hemmingsen accounted for both Winthrop markers, scoring on a penalty kick after being brought down in the penalty box in the first half and beating the E.B. keeper in the second half on which sophomore Loert Mana delivered a nice, low crossing pass for the assist.

Martinez once again was immense in net to pick up his second straight

Recalling WHS All-Star Mike Williams, 'a Bolt of Lightning on a Sunny Day'

Staff Report

"A bolt of lightning on a sunny day" was used to describe Winthrop High School's All-Star running back Mike Williams, Class of 1959. Williams scored three touchdowns in a single game for Winthrop High against Amesbury High at Miller Field during the 1958 football season, the phrase was coined by the Winthrop Transcript reporter, Bob Remer that day. Mike Williams was un-stoppable, ferocious as a football player and a speed demon as a member of the WHS track team, holding numerous track records for many years at WHS.

After graduating from WHS, Williams went to the University of Southern Illinois, where he played football with 3 future NFL players. In 1960 the Boston Patriots invited Mike to try out for the team and was signed as a member of the kick-off return squad. Shortly after that, tragedy struck the future Patriot, he was involved in an auto accident that ended his career.

Mike left college and in 1961 he joined the army and served his country with honor. Upon completing his tour as a soldier, Mike returned to his home in Winthrop. He opened Mike's Barber Shop on the corner of Beach and Shirley Streets. Mike being Mike and a competitor, used his passion for 10 pin bowling to become a pro bowler, appearing on many TV tournaments for 10 years.

Mike Williams has two loving sisters, Karen Hanafin WHS Class of 69, and an educator in Winthrop Public Schools for nine years, now living in Florida. Mike's other sister, Marie, WHS Class of 61, lives in California. Mike's niece, Jess Hanafin lives with him in Winthrop in the family home. Mike Williams is just one of the many personalities that make Winthrop one of the most wonderful places to call home.

Donations to Nelson can be made at https://danafarber.jimmyfund.org/site/TR?fr_id=1660&pg=personal&px=1004212.

Both Nelson and Strangie will take part in the Jimmy Fund’s “Walk Your Way” event from wherever they feel most comfortable. They can walk in the neighborhood, on their favorite trail, or from a treadmill in their own home.

While the event will not physically bring walkers together along the famed Boston Marathon course, it will unite the community to raise funds to support all forms of adult and pediatric care and cancer research at the nation’s premier cancer center, Dana-Farber. The event has raised more than $150 million for Dana-Farber in its 30-plus year history.

“While we can’t see everyone in person this year, we are excited for the virtual programming which will give participants the opportunity to support breakthroughs in cancer care and research at Dana-Farber Cancer Institute,” said Zack Blackburn, Director of the Boston Marathon Jimmy Fund Walk. “Together, from a safe distance, we will take critical strides in the journey to defy cancer.”

This year’s event will have a lower fundraising requirement, $100 for adults and $25 for those under 18, with a $5 registration fee. All registered walkers will receive a bib and medal and the first 5,000 to register will receive a Jimmy Fund Walk T-shirt.

Established in Boston in 1948 the Jimmy Fund is made up of community-based fundraising events and other programs that solely and directly benefit Dana-Farber’s lifesaving mission to provide compassionate patient care and groundbreaking cancer research for children and adults. The Jimmy Fund is an official charity of the Boston Red Sox, the Massachusetts Chiefs of Police Association, the Pan-Mass Challenge, and the Variety Children’s Charity of New England.

Winthrop's Leighanne Strangie, who lost her son Ritchie to cancer in 2018, is one of two Winthrop residents walking and raising money for Dana-Farber through the annual Jimmy Fund Walk.

WHS Vikings fall to Stoneham in opener

By Cary Shuman

In the big picture, the Winthrop High football team showed it could be very competitive against one of the best teams in its division.

And that’s exactly why head coach Jon Cadigan scheduled Stoneham, to see how the Vikings might match up if the two teams meet again in the playoffs in November.

The Vikings gave the visiting Spartans all they could handle before dropping a 30-20 decision on opening night Friday at Miller Field.

The Vikings had sliced the deficit after junior quarterback Robert Noonan connected with senior wide receiver Mikey Chaves for a 60-yard touchdown early in the fourth quarter.

But Stoneham later responded with a clock-consuming scoring drive to expand its lead and deny the Vikings a chance at a fourth-quarter comeback.

“Stoneham is a very good, well-coached team and they were able to close it out against us,” said Coach Cadigan. “The penalties hurt us in some critical spots. From my observations as a coach, I think you need to go through games like that for the experience factor. I thought we played well at times, but we just weren’t consistent enough offensively.”

Jurovich receives ‘Black Shirt’ award

Senior defensive lineman Pete Jurovich received the Vikings’ defensive player of game award. Jurovich had nine tackles and forced a first-quarter fumble during a quarterback sack. Joe Hayes recovered the football.

Jurovich also excelled on the Vikings’ offensive line.

Martin makes solid debut

Cam Martin had 12 carries for 86 yards and a touchdown in his first starting assignment.

“I think people found out Friday night that Cam’s a pretty good player,” said Cadigan.

Noonan-Chaves for the play of the day

Mike Chaves, who had so many bright moments for the 2020 championship team, was right back at it with a nice catch and run for a 60-yard touchdown. Chaves soared for the pass from Noonan and then used his speed to outrace the Stoneham defenders to the end zone.

DRAGGED DOWN: Cam Martin (8) is dragged down by Stoneham’s Marshall Albrecht as three more Spartans move in to help out.

Coach Cadigan said that Mikey “called for the football” prior to the play. “He said to me, ‘Coach, I think I can beat [the cornerback] on the slant’, and he beat him on the slant and Robert threw a nice pass,” related Cadigan.

Noonan was 5-for-12 for 130 yards in his debut as the starting quarterback.

Harris makes an impact on both sides of the football

Linebacker Ian Harris made a team-high 12 tackles on defense. Offensively, he had two catches for 44 yards.

“Ian’s been a guy who has been pretty steady the last two or three years at linebacker,” said Cadigan. “He played a very good game for us.”

A trip to Austin Prep

The Vikings travel to Reading for a non-league game Austin Prep Friday (7 p.m.) The Cougars (0-1) fell to Pentucket, 14-7, last Friday.

FINAL BLOW: Stoneham’s Joshua Nardone (7) intercepts a pass intended for Winthrop’s Mikey Chaves to end a late-game Viking drive and preserve Stoneham’s 30-20 win over Winthrop Friday night at Miller Field.

HE LIKES WHAT HE SEES: Mikey Chaves comes down with a pass reception and sees nothing but clear field ahead of him. Chaves raced to the end zone to cap off a 60-yard play that pulled the Vikings within five points, 23-18, at the start of the fourth quarter.

ESCAPE ROUTE: Winthrop’s Ian Harris turns the corner on Stoneham’s Timothy Doherty (33).

LATE ARRIVAL: Shown above, Winthrop’s Welvis Acosta fights off a block from Stoneham’s Nick Baker and pressure’s quarterback Jason Nutting, but not before Nutting got off a pass during Stoneham’s 30-20 win over the Vikings Friday night at Miller Field in the season opener.

TIME TO CELEBRATE: Mikey Chaves (2) is hoisted by teammate Alessio Marccocio (78) after Chaves completed a 60-yard touchdown play.

SEEKING YARDAGE: Cameron Martin (8) escapes Stoneham’s Domenic Florino (4) and looks for more yardage.

In the contest with Beverly this past Tuesday, Hemmingsen -- who appears to be en route to setting a WHS single-season scoring record -- recorded his ninth goal of the season in four games.

"Our defensive back line of seniors Ryan Kfoury, Zane Bower, JD Parker, and Chad Bernstein have been the rock of the team and have put in a great defensive performance every game," noted Gagin. "Beverly is one of the better teams in the state, let alone the NEC, so overall I was pleased with the performance. We controlled the second half for quite a bit. This game showed we can hang with great teams. Even though we lost, we can still build on this."

Gagin and his crew return to the pitch this Tuesday when they will host the Fishermen from Gloucester in another evening battle under the lights at Miller. The opening kick-off is set for 6:00. The Vikings then will hit the road to Danvers next Thursday.

Volleyball team earned an exciting, come-from-behind victory over Northeastern Conference rival Swampscott on Tuesday.

The Vikings won the first set handily, 25-13, but dropped the next two by scores of 25-14 and 25-20.

The Big Blue appeared headed to victory when they grabbed a lead in the fourth set, but the Vikings hung tough and made some clutch plays to eke out a 25-23 win to tie the match at 2-2.

That set the stage for the dramatic fifth and deciding set, a quick race to 15 points, and Winthrop prevailed thanks to some more clutch performances, 15-12, to claim the match.

"We were down during the fourth set, but ended up pulling through to win it," said WHS head coach Lauren Kelly. "During the fifth set, captains Megan Goudge and Jessica Soares both had successful serves that brought us the advantage."

"In the fourth and fifth sets, the team worked together to focus on communication and passing to the setter to make more effective plays," added Kelly.

Members of the 2021 WHS volleyball roster, who are led by captains Elle English, Megan Goudge, and Jessica Soares, are: Evan Bernstein, Beatriz De Sa, Isabella Quilty, McKenzie Margardo, Lilygrace Mulligan Palacios, Grace Fleirel, Sara DeGennaro, and Hanna Essauabi.

Kelly and her crew entertain non-league rival Watertown today (Thursday) and then will head to Saugus on Monday and will return home to host Salem next Wednesday.

WHS GIRLS SOCCER SEEKING FIRST WIN

The Winthrop High girls soccer team will be seeking to break into the win column when coach Tracey Martucci and her Lady Vikings host Northeast Regional this coming Tuesday. The opening kick-off is set for 6:00 under the lights at Miller Field.

Winthrop has faced three of its top Northeastern Conference rivals thus far, but has come up short in battles with Saugus, Marblehead, and Beverly.

"We came out of the gates facing three strong opponents," said Martucci. "I think we have played well against them. I have to give a lot of credit to my defense, which has had a ton of pressure on them for most of the games."

After the encounter with Northeast, Martucci and her squad will make the long trek to Gloucester on Tuesday and then return home for another night game (6:00 kick-off) at Miller against Danvers.

BUSY STRETCH AHEAD FOR WHS GOLFERS

The Winthrop High golf team was set to host its first home match of the season yesterday (Wednesday) when coach Weston Lazarus and his Vikings entertained Gloucester at the Winthrop Golf Club.

Winthrop then will travel to Danvers today (Thursday) and return to the WGC on Tuesday to take on Saugus, whom the Vikings defeated in their initial meeting to open the season last week. Winthrop will be back on the road next Thursday to play at Marblehead.

10 years ago September 15, 2011

The Winthrop High football team dropped its season-opener to Danvers in front of their home crowd, 18-8, Friday evening. The loss was even more disheartening because the Vikings had led Danvers by the score of 8-0 for most of the game, but faltered late in the fourth quarter, allowing the Falcons to score 18 unanswered points in the final seven minutes of the contest. Winthrop got off to a good start, taking the opening kickoff all the way to the end zone on a 14-play scoring drive, capped by a one-yard quarterback sneak by senior quarterback James Barker.

The annual Pt. Shirley Road Race was held Saturday to benefit the WHS girls track team. Warren MacPhail won the five-mile race in 29:07 among a field of 138 competitors. The WHS football team won its second straight game in its NEC opener with a 35-14 thrashing of Saugus. Winthrop had 394 yards in total offense, with Lucas Guarino and Bobby Kneeland combining for 336 yards and five touchdowns.

Sophomore Caitlin Doherty and her freshman sister, Danielle, finished 1-2 to lead the girls cross country team to wins over Salem and Swampscott in a triangular meet. Caitlin completed the 2.8 mile course in 19:06.

Chuck Sullivan rushed for 100 yards and scored four touchdowns to lead the WHS football team to a 34-6 rout of Saugus in the season-opener on Saturday. Jim Gillis also enjoyed a banner day for the Vikings with 102 yards rushing and two touchdowns.

Although Winthrop won its 22-minute scrimmage against Saugus in the annual Jamboree at the Manning Bowl Friday night, it came at a high cost, as starting quarterback Doug Milne suffered bruised ribs and will miss the season-opener this week. Milne is being counted upon to direct Coach Ed MacFarland’s much publicized “cock-eyed T-offense,” also known as the single-wing T.

70 years ago Sept. 20, 1951

Cliff Tardif, Lester Towlson, and Tommy Trainor scored touchdowns to pace the WHS football team to a 20-6 win at Hingham in the season-opener. Winthrop High football fans are in agreement that coach Ed MacFarland’s Silver and Blue squad is rated as the best WHS grid team in many years.

East Boston Rep. Adrian Madaro bows out of Senate race

By Transcript Staff

East Boston Rep. Adrian Madaro has decided not to run for the state senate seat recently vacated by Sen. Joe Boncore (D-Winthrop).

Madaro, who has served as state rep since 2015 after winning a special election that year and is the youngest committee chair at the State House, was strongly considering a run for the state senate seat that includes Eastie, Winthrop, Revere, the North End, Beacon Hill, Chinatown and Bay Village.

“I greatly appreciate those who have supported me and encouraged me to run, and the confidence you all have in me,” said Madaro Monday. “I want you to understand my thought process and what brought me to this important decision. It ultimately came down to striking a balance between work and family. Anyone who knows me knows that when I commit to something, I am all in. I believe that is part of my success as East Boston’s state representative. I cannot do something halfway. As an elected official, that means being present and engaged in the community, and being truly accessible to the people I represent.”

Madaro said over Labor Day weekend while on a family trip with limited cell phone reception, he “unplugged” for the first time in over two months.

“I was holding my son Matteo when it hit me—I hadn’t spent any real time with him in the weeks I was considering the run for state senate,” he said. “I was all in for this race, and that meant not being present for my son in the way that I wanted to be. I overestimated my ability to carve out family time and began missing out on too much with Matteo, who is changing so quickly. Being a first time dad with a four-month-old baby, I now see that I cannot be “all in” for a state senate campaign, my full-time position representing you in the House, and my family, all at the same time. I want to be a reliable partner to my wife, Ariel, and be present for Matteo, as each week brings new and exciting milestones in his development.”

Madaro said he remains deeply committed to the community that raised him.

“I love serving as the state representative for East Boston, and there’s still much more to accomplish in this role,” said Madaro. “I can do this job well, while also being the father and husband my family deserves. Public service is about helping others and making a positive difference, and those are goals I can continue to work towards as your state representative.”

He added, “I love my family and I love my community. While this was a difficult decision, I know it is the right thing to do. I am excited to continue working with neighbors and colleagues on issues ranging from environmental justice and transportation, to universal childcare and housing affordability. I am also honored to be the House Chair of the Mental Health, Substance Use and Recovery Committee, where there is a lot of impactful work to be done.”

Madaro, who became chair of the Joint Committee on Mental Health, Substance Use and Recovery earlier this year has had a busy legislative season.

Madaro’s committee helped push a state investment of $40 million to address the spike in opioid-related deaths among people of color. Overdose deaths increased 30% during the first year of the pandemic--something Madaro called a devastating step back from the progress made in reducing overdose mortality since the 2016 peak. Though the first six months of 2021 saw a 5% decrease in overdose deaths, the opioid overdose crisis is still very much raging in Massachusetts, with a disproportionate impact on Black individuals and other individuals of color. Madaro’s push for more funding will address the disproportionate impact the crisis has had on people of color.

Madaro’s amendment was included in the state’s landmark climate legislation. The nation-leading climate legislation, known as the Next Generation Climate Roadmap bill, which overhauls the state’s climate laws, reduces greenhouse gas emissions, advances the clean energy industry, and prioritizes and protects environmental justice communities. Madaro’s amendment once and for all set criteria of what defines an environmental justice community based on race, income, and language-proficiency criteria.

In the spring Madaro filed a House Bill H1352: An Act to Ensure Tuition Equity for Massachusetts Residents to make in-state tuition available to undocumented students.

Madaro also pushed a bill through the House to establish a low-income fare program for low-income workers that use the MBTA and Regional Transit Authorities (RTAs) across the state.

Finally, his bill to end housing discrimination in the Commonwealth would increase penalties for discrimination in fair housing violations.

“Again, I want to thank the countless people who have been there for me, encouraged me, and thought I’d be a great state senator,” said Madaro. “I promise you that I will continue to be an effective state representative, being a strong voice for East Boston and the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.”

DHS to increase civil penalties for violations of the Federal face mask requirement

Staff Report

The Department of Homeland Security’s Transportation Security Administration (TSA) will increase the range of civil penalties that may be imposed on individuals who violate the federal mask mandate at airports, on commercial aircraft, and in various modes of surface transportation, including passenger railroads, intercity bus services, and other public transportation. The federal mask mandate for transportation, which was implemented by TSA on February 2, 2021, will remain in effect until January 18, 2022.

The new range of penalties, which take effect Friday, September 10, 2021, will be $500-$1000 for first offenders and $1000-$3000 for second offenders.

“Wearing a mask protects the traveling public and all of the personnel who make the travel experience safe, secure, and comfortable,” said Secretary of Homeland Security Alejandro N. Mayorkas. “We will continue to enforce the mask mandate as long as necessary to protect public health and safety.”

“We appreciate the majority of travelers each day who voluntarily follow the requirement, but find this action necessary to maximize the protections for those who use and work within the transportation system, and to contain COVID-19,” said TSA Administrator David Pekoske. “By doubling the range of penalties, we seek to reinforce the importance of voluntary adherence.”

TSA will provide updated signage at airports regarding these increased civil penalties. For more information about the federal face mask requirement, visit the TSA Coronavirus webpage.

These federal mask mandate-related civil penalties are separate from the civil penalties the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) issues for individuals who engage in unruly and unsafe behavior.

WINTHROP LOVES TREES PLANTS FIRST TREE

By Marianne Salza

Winthrop Loves Trees (WLT) donated their first tree on September 4 at the Robert A. DeLeo Senior Center. A four feet tall red maple was planted in the garden, which is now being maintained by the non-profit organization. The tree has been dedicated in honor of the youngest WLT member, ten-year-old, Ruby Viens, who dug a hole in the court yard with the help of her candy corn-loving sister, Hazel.

“The Winthrop Senior Center is happy to have the Winthrop Loves Trees group volunteering to work hard for us,” said Kathy Dixon, Director, Senior Center. “They are doing a beautiful job planting and making our backyard a serene place to enjoy.”

Northeast Metro Tech investigating possible social media threat with WPD

Staff Report

Superintendent David DiBarri and Wakefield Police Chief Steven A. Skory report that police are currently investigating a possible social media threat against the school.

At approximately 8:30 p.m. Tuesday, district officials were notified by a student who reported that they heard a possible threat made by an anonymous person on Snapchat. It is unclear at this time if the threat was directed at the school.

Police have spoken to the student who reported their concern and are actively investigating the situation.

Lenny Piazza Scholarship recipients announced

Staff Report

The Leonard Piazza Scholarship committee is pleased to announce the following students as recipients for 2021: Joshua Chaves, Ashley Fitzgerald, Thomas O’Shea, Kaleigh Snook, Gianna

Stickney-- and a donation to the Everett High School Band to aid in their awesome trip in December to play at the 80th anniversary of Pearl Harbor Day. These students have worked hard to move on to college, and we hope this will help in their quest.

Lenny was involved in education for his entire career, and involved with the city of Everett in many ways, and always willing to lend a hand. Through the efforts of family and friends, these scholarships help to continue his love of helping others.

All of this is done with the help of many people, and this year’s fundraiser is coming soon. Help may be given in many ways. This year’s event will be held on October 2, 2021, with golf at the Hillview Country Club in N. Reading, followed by a get together at the Moose Lodge- also in N. Reading. Those wishing to help us continue may do so in many ways-- golf & dinner, or attend the dinner, take part in the raffle by donating a gift, buying tickets, etc., or simply by making a donation and sponsoring a whole. Feel free to contact any of the family members, or emailing questions to lfpmemeorial14@gmail.com. Thank you to all who have helped in the past, and in the future.

After conferring with the Wakefield Police, district officials have determined that school will open at the normal time and schedule on Wednesday, Sept. 15. Out of an abundance of caution, there will be an increased police presence at school tomorrow. The district will continue to assist and cooperate with the Wakefield Police as they continue their investigation into the matter. “The safety and well-being of our students, faculty, and staff is one of our top priorities and we thank the Wakefield Police Department for their assistance in this matter,” said Superintendent DiBarri. Notifications will be made if there are any updates or further information available.
