Council swears in Wiley as Acting Fire Chief

By Laura Plummer

On Oct. 5, the Winthrop Town Council met in the Harvey Hearing Room of Town Hall, where Winthrop Fire Capt. Scott Wiley was promoted to Fire Chief. The meeting was broadcast live on WCAT, and residents could participate in person or on Zoom.

New Fire Chief

Town Manager Terence Delehanty appointed Fire Capt. Scott Wiley to the position of Fire Chief. The Council Clerk swore in the interim chief, who was surrounded by his friends and family.

Town Manager Delehanty called Chief Wiley "well-suited and well-deserving."

"He has all the knowledge necessary to carry the department forward," he said.

In an emotional speech, Chief Wiley thanked his family for their support. He has served the department for three decades, and is only the sixth chief in the department's century-long history.

"Each left his own unique legacy on this department and I hope to do the same," he said.

he said. "Thank you for the opportunity to serve the community."

Town takes proactive steps to maintain water quality

Special to the Transcript

Interim Town Manager Terence Delehanty wishes to inform residents that the Town of Winthrop is taking several steps to monitor and address lower than usual chlorine levels in the water system.

Winthrop is one of many communities served by the Massachusetts Water Resources Authority (MWRA) that is experiencing lower than usual chlorine residuals in water this year, though no harmful bacteria have been de-ected in Winthrop's water.

The lower than usual chlorine levels are caused by high levels of reactive organic carbon in source water at the Wachusett Reservoir as a result of heavy rains over the summer. The elevated levels of reactive organic carbon in the source water creates more demand for chlorine in the water and causes the chlorine to decay more quickly, which leads to decreased levels of chlorine in local water systems like Winthrop's.

Lower than usual chlorine levels leave water systems susceptible to desachusetts communities to urge communities to discontinue enforcement of sign regulations as they pertain to political speech and review such regulations under current legal principles. After speaking with the Town's attorneys and reviewing the ACLU letter, I find it in the best interest of the community to suspend enforcement of the Sign Ordinance as it relates to non-commercial signs until such time as the Sign Ordinance has been reviewed to ensure compliance with current legal requirements."

D'AMBROSIO RESPONDS TO TO CHANGE OF COLUMBUS DAY IN BOSTON

Senate candidate Anthony D'Ambrosio has issued the following statement on Boston Mayor Kim Janey to change the name of the Columbus Day Holiday to Indigenous Peoples' Day:

Mayor Janey's actions have caused more division and anger in Boston and throughout Massachusetts. I am proud of my Italian immigrant roots. No insider politician's decision will change that.

This could have been done in a way that recognizes the plight of Indigenous people while not offending many Italian Americans.

When will political insiders learn that true leaders unite people not divide them."

'BUILDING AND SHARING SOLIDARITY' SERIES PLANNED

Interim Town Manager Terence Delehanty and Public Health Director Meredith Hurley announce that the Town of Winthrop will hold a virtual series to help residents process the acts of violence committed in June against members of the BIPOC community.

The town has partnered with And Still We Rise to develop the 'Building & Sharing Solidarity' series. The series aims to support the community in processing this event, as well as other experiences of social injustice by providing psychoeducation on emotions, as well as how to identify and cope with emotions. Participants will be provided with resources and take away information.

The series will also address ideas around diversity, equity, inclusion and bias and will acknowledge the diversity of the Winthrop community.

The 3-part virtual series will take place on Thursday, Oct. 14, 21 and 28, from 6 to 7:30 p.m. To register for the series, please visit: <https://tinyurl.com/Wint-Solidarity-form>.

"Our goal is to foster a safe environment for residents to work through the trauma and grief that they may have experienced following the horrific and hateful events that took place in June," Director Hurley said. "This will be a way for residents to come together, communicate their collective experience around social injustices and lean on each other for support. And Still We Rise staff members are experts in mental health care, especially for those in marginalized groups, and we are very pleased to be working with them to curate this series."

And Still We Rise specializes in mental health care for marginalized groups, including women, as well as the BIPOC, queer and trans communities. The goal of the organization is to create healing spaces for marginalized people by focusing on the values of community, critical consciousness and decolonizing mental healthcare.

STATE HEALTH OFFICIALS ANNOUNCE EIGHTH HUMAN CASE OF WNV

The Massachusetts Department of Public Health (DPH) last week announced the eighth human case of West Nile virus (WNV) in the state this year. The individual is a male in his 50s who was exposed to WNV in Middlesex County.

Twenty-seven communities in Essex, Middlesex, Norfolk, and Suffolk counties are at high risk and 71 communities are at moderate risk. There are no additional risk level changes associated with this new case.

"The risk from WNV is starting to decline but some risk will remain until the first hard frost," said Acting Public Health Commissioner Margret Cooke. "Although people over the age of 50 are at greater risk from West Nile virus, all ages can be affected. People should remember to take steps to prevent mosquito bites anytime they are outdoors."

In 2020, there were 11 human cases of WNV infection identified in Massachusetts. WNV is usually transmitted to humans through the bite of an infected mosquito. While WNV can infect people of all ages, people over the age of 50 are at higher risk for severe disease. Most people infected with WNV will have no symptoms. When present, WNV symptoms tend to include fever and flu-like illness. In rare cases, more severe illness can occur.

General Updates

The Town's Annual Fall Forum will be delivered on Oct. 19, in the Senior Center.

October is White Cane Awareness month, and Oct. 15 is White Cane Awareness Day. The initiative is meant to raise awareness of visually impaired individuals using a cane to navigate in public. Read our interview series with local resident John Morgan from last fall on our website.

On Oct. 22, the Town will celebrate the dedication of Frankie Fabiano Way.

A ceremony is proposed for next spring to inaugurate the "Never Forget Garden," a project to honor Winthrop's veterans.

Construction continues in the CBD. Town Manager Delehanty and DPW Director Steve Calla met with one of the construction foreman to express their concerns that work seems to be lagging behind schedule. The Town is still hoping the project will be complete by the December deadline.

The Dept. of Transportation has told the Town not to rely on them for funding the Winthrop Ferry going forward. Town Manager Delehanty said regionalization was "the way to go" and "the only way I see it succeeding."

ON THE CAMPAIGN TRAIL

Layne Petrie announces candidacy for Winthrop School Committee

Special to the Transcript

Candidate for School Committee, Layne Petrie.

Layne Petrie has announced her candidacy for School Committee, and has shared her statement:

I am excited for the opportunity to serve on the Winthrop School Committee. My name is Layne Petrie, and I have been a resident of Winthrop since buying my home here when I was 25 years old. Since that time, I have become a parent and am proud to be raising my family as members of the Winthrop community. I consider myself fortunate to have established family roots here, and for the opportunity to raise my daughter, who is now a student at Fort Banks, in Winthrop.

I firmly believe that strong schools make strong communities.

As a resident, parent, educator, and small business owner, I have a vested interest in ensuring that we're collectively working to make decisions that will provide the most benefit to our students, staff, schools, and community as a whole. I'm a product of public schools (save for my undergraduate degree from Boston College), and much of my career has been dedicated to supporting and bettering public schools, by playing different educational roles in several communities. In addition to holding a Master's degree in Education, professionally I am a Board Certified Behavior Analyst and Licensed Applied Behavior Analyst, and have been a special education administrator for the past four years.

As an employee of a school district, I have a deep understanding of the capacities and limitations of public school budgets. I am experienced and proficient at making choices that benefit the students and programs that I support as well as the staff that I supervise.

Prioritizing our students' social/emotional growth and well-being is a top priority for me. I share the sentiments of many parents and educators when I say that the past couple of years have been challenging, to say the least. I am constantly in awe of how, despite spending some time apart, communities have come together for one another. I will advocate to ensure that the well-being of Winthrop's students is both protected and prioritized.

I have made a career out of putting students first, and I am looking forward to the opportunity to do the same for the students of Winthrop.

D'AMBROSIO OPENS CAMPAIGN OFFICE

Many residents came out to support candidate for State Senate Anthony D'Ambrosio during his opening of a campaign office in Winthrop this past Saturday, Oct. 9. Shown above, D'Ambrosio meets with some of the attendees.

Edwards holds concert for seniors and veterans at Elks

Special to the Transcript

On Tuesday, Lydia Edwards held a "Salute to our Seniors and Veterans" concert at the Winthrop Elk's Lodge which featured Grammy Award-winning vocal group, The Platters, as well as local group Smokin' Joe and the Henchmen.

The nearly 100 seniors and veterans in attendance heard from Edwards about her childhood growing up on military bases with her mother who is now a retired Air Force veteran. The Platters performed their hits such as "Only You" and "The Great Pretender" along with a tection of total coliform bacteria in water samples, and can also create more suitable environments for harmful water-borne bacteria.

As a result, the MWRA is proactively transferring water from the Quabbin Reservoir to the Wachusett Reservoir to improve water quality, and also increasing chlorine levels in source water.

The MWRA is also recommending that water system managers take several proactive steps to monitor and improve chlorine levels in local water systems that get water from the MWRA.

Those steps include:

- Monitoring chlorine residuals throughout the water system

- In areas where residuals are low, performing gentle flushing of the system to increase residuals

- Performing additional chlorine residual monitoring to identify areas where residuals are low, and to assess whether flushing the system is improving chlorine levels

- Ensuring that when residuals are low, water systems with water storage tanks monitor chlorine residual levels when the water tanks are feeding into the larger system. If those residuals are low, systems are advised to increase cycling of tank water, or even to drain and refill the tanks to increase chlorine levels by freshening up the water.

The Town of Winthrop is taking all of the recommended steps to address the issue.

Flushing the water system and water stored in tanks helps increase chlorine residuals by ensuring the water is fresher.

When flushing is being conducted, tap water may become discolored as a result of iron buildup that is disturbed by high-pressure flow through underground pipes. The best way for residents to clear discolored water is to run high flow faucets, like bathtubs, for several minutes until the water clears.

"I want to emphasize that, despite close monitoring, no harmful bacteria have been detected in the Town of Winthrop's water supply," Interim Town Manager Delehanty said. "The Town of Winthrop intends to continue watching this issue closely, keeping residents informed and taking all recommended proactive steps to ensure our community's water quality remains at the highest levels."

Edwards addresses a group of nearly 100 seniors and veterans to thank and celebrate them. "This event is not about me, it is about you."

School Committee Vice-Chair announces re-election run

Special to the Transcript

Jennifer Powell, vice-chair of the Winthrop Public School Committee, has announced that she will be running for reelection on November 2. The following is her statement.

"It has been my privilege and honor to serve Winthrop as a member of the School Committee for the past four years. I am running for reelection to be able to continue the vital work of providing our children with an education that enables them to achieve their full potential.

I believe that a society's most important job is to raise its children as they will not only be the leaders of tomorrow, but they are the future. And, having raised five children in the Winthrop School system, I've come to understand that tomorrow comes more quickly than we sometimes appreciate. The job of improving our schools must be today's challenge. This means providing a premier education to all children, regardless of their background and ability. In pursuit of that goal, I believe Winthrop's public schools should be second to none. We owe it to the children and families of this town.

I bring to this role my experience as a parent and volunteer within the school system. I also bring expertise in communications and business management as the owner of the Excellent Writers Group. I launched this communications and marketing business a decade ago after nearly twenty years as a journalist, including being a business reporter and columnist for the Boston Herald.

I value opportunities to be involved with the community and currently serve on the board of Mi Amore, an organization that brings the community together to provide food and other resources for local families and recovers food that would otherwise be wasted. I also serve on the Cottage Park Yacht Club Youth Sailing Board, helping to manage the summer youth sailing program. Through my work as a writer, editor, and consultant, I have learned the value of listening to people and taking the time to carefully and fully understand issues. As a committee member, I have been guided by making decisions that are in the best interest of our students and community.

As Chair of the School Committee's Policy Subcommittee, I oversaw updates on policies across the school system that help protect our students and promote an equitable and safe environment. I also serve on the Committee's Budget Subcommittee, overseeing the finances of the town's schools.

We have strong schools because we have a strong community with parents who care deeply and get involved. We need to maintain an open environment that allows everyone to be respectfully heard. We must forge ahead with finding common ground that unites us including giving our children every opportunity to thrive."

OUR Opinions

THE PERNICIOUS EFFECTS OF SOCIAL MEDIA

The recent revelations about the harmful influences of social media upon young people that first appeared in the Wall St. Journal and then before Congress with the testimony of a former Facebook employee (who had provided the Wall St. Journal with the documents for its expose) have demonstrated once again to the world what we already know about these platforms: They will do anything just to make a buck.

The former Facebook employee provided the Journal with Facebook's own internal research that shows that Instagram (which is owned by Facebook) can have a negative effect on teen mental health, especially among girls. The Facebook researchers concluded, "We make body image issues worse for one in three teen girls."

In addition, the researchers concluded that its algorithms on Instagram can steer users toward content that can be harmful.

Yet despite its own research, Facebook has done little or nothing to address this issue, as well as a host of others, ranging from spreading disinformation to human trafficking.

The reason that Facebook and other social media companies can get away with such atrocious behavior is that they are shielded from civil and criminal liability by a federal law, known as Section 230, that was enacted in the mid-1990s before any of today's popular social media platforms even existed.

Thanks to Section 230, a social media platform cannot be sued for libel (unlike traditional media such as ourselves) and cannot be prosecuted for any role it may play in enabling a criminal enterprise.

The information that was brought to light by the former Facebook employee once again has highlighted the pernicious effects of social media upon our society in general and young people in particular.

More significantly, the Facebook Papers show that these companies never will police themselves because they place profit above anything else. Their irresponsible behavior essentially is part of their business model.

Congress needs to repeal Section 230 -- it's as simple as that.

SUPPORTS BONCORE FOR COUNCIL PRESIDENT

Dear Editor,

I am avidly supporting current Town Council President Philip Boncore, who is running for a second term on election day, November 2. I support President Boncore because of his leadership during a once-in-a-century pandemic. He also promoted a very safe infrastructure of water, sewer, and drainage repair during a raging virus, when I had reservations. Phil answered my concerns about this very important project that will prevent Center flooding like that of 2017-18.

In addition, Boncore supported creation of a human rights body (Commission on Diversity, Inclusion, and Community Relations) that upholds tolerance and respect for residents of ALL races, nationalities, religions, abilities, and personal persuasions.

However, it's the area of responsible Center redevelopment that spurs me to vote for and encourage others to vote for Council President Boncore for a second term. You see, after the Center Business District (CBD) rezoning of 2014, some planners had crayon lines drawn around 4 of our homes on Cottage Park Road. In addition, residents in homes on Bartlett Road, Burrill Terrace, Fremont Street, and Winthrop Street had been drawn into various CBD maps. This left 12 home owners vulnerable to potential absorption into the CBD.

It was Philip Boncore, however, who noted publicly, "When we changed the CBD zoning in 2014, we never meant to include people's houses." Phil delivered on his word, and, as then Chair of the Rules & Ordinances Committee, called for the Planning Board to define what's truly in and what's out of the CBD. Then the Rules and Ordinances Committee met, and under Chair Boncore's direction, reviewed each and every property listed on the above-mentioned streets.

After this R&O meeting, the Council met jointly with the Planning Board, and as of 10-15-2019, the Town has an official CBD map. Now we residents feel secure in our homes, and prospective developers know exactly where they can build.

It was Council President Phil Boncore who led this fight for clarity and security by pushing for a concrete CBD map. I certainly will vote for Phil Boncore again on November 2nd. I encourage you to do the same. Thank you.

Sincerely,

Donna Segreti Reilly

RECREATING A WINTHROP CENTER FOR PEOPLE

Dear Editor:

I took a walk through the Center last week and it was magical. Yes, there was heavy machinery blocking access to roads and parking, construction workers crowding sidewalks, and excessive noise making clear thoughts muddled, but what was happening before my eyes and ears was beautiful and exactly what I and so many in this community have been waiting for-- the restoration of Winthrop Center as a place for people.

Let's face it, the last couple of years "down the Center" have been miserable. Constantly rotating detours, unsightly staging of construction materials and pipes, and below grade digging and drilling that made accessing businesses challenging at best. Many have probably avoided the Center all together. The promise of a vibrant pedestrian plaza connected by shiny new sidewalks felt worlds away from the dearth of asphalt and crumbling concrete that has dominated our town center for years, but now, it seem feasible and even tangible...everywhere you look, curbs are being brought out to expand the amount of sidewalk space, including spots for new trees, street furniture and lighting, and the massive parking lot occupying French Square-- a temporary construction mitigation feature-- has been reclaimed for what every town center should be: a place for people.

Imagine going to the Center, whether by car, bus, bike or foot, and wanting to stay not just the errands or appointments you came to conduct, but the whole afternoon or evening; just wandering, lingering with a book on a nice bench under a tree, browsing stores not even on your to-do list, and running into friends, perhaps grabbing coffee or takeout to eat al fresco because there is live music setting up in the square or simply because it is a lovely place to be. Imagine bringing your children or your out of town guests to the Center as part of the day's entertainment and a way to truly get to know the character of the town (in addition to visiting the beaches of course!). Imagine the Center as a place where people of all ages, all backgrounds, all abilities, come to gather, to dine, to shop, to live and to play. That is the Center that's unfolding before our eyes today.

Combined with the pandemic, the last couple of years have been nothing short of devastating for Winthrop Center. We lost our French Square park to a parking lot, missed our beloved annual tree lighting lost several mature shade trees, and watched our local businesses struggle to survive (shop local!!). But there's light at the end of the tunnel now (in addition to the vaccine!). That vision we were shown in public meetings with the landscape architects back in 2017 is finally feeling feasible, even tangible. We've done the necessary grunt work of digging up the streets, replacing the below grade critical infrastructure, and inconveniencing everywhere who comes to and through the Center. Now it's time for the fun stuff! The stuff that brings people back to the Center, that makes people want to stay in the Center, and that gives us all reason to feel proud. That's what I'm looking forward to watching over these next few months before the end of the construction season, and again with what will hopefully be the finishing touches this spring.

Yes, the Winthrop Center we see coming to life this (and next) year will be different from the one we've known since it's last redesign in the early 1980s. But so, too, is our community, our region, our country and our world. If there's one thing I've learned in life so far it's that change is the only constant. And the changes we are seeing now in our center are reflective of both the priorities set forth by hundreds of residents during the CBD master planning process, and of a vision for Winthrop Center as the thriving heart of our community. I can't wait to see this magic extend to the vacant middle school property just down the street...

GUEST OP-ED

Freedom to enjoy life's passions relentlessly and some ended up homeless because while they pursued their dream, dollars were not coming in to support them.

Writers have spent their lives trying to write one great book that someone would notice. Painters often paint their entire lives without much fanfare or few sales. Would be entertainers and artsy folks from all walks of life know that the road to success is filled with disappointments, constant rejection, little to no support and poverty.

I was a weird guy in high school as I aspired to be a full-time minister. Sixteen years old was an odd time in life to start shunning my electric guitar, lose my passion for basketball and aspire to be a minister. It also didn't do a lot for my dating life either. My dad thought I was crazy but never said a whole lot. Once he did say, "Why don't you get a good job and preach on the side?" I thought that was a crazy idea because I knew of too many ministers who had full time careers and seemed to do okay. Thus, I went to school until I was 29 years old to be a full-time minister. The post college degrees that I attended full-time for seven years were enough time for medical school, Law school or whatever but I pursued my calling and followed my heart.

I don't regret pursuing my dream. I had about 35 years of being an average wage earner as a minister and sometimes did better than average. However, my dad had respectable advice as parent's usually do. Today I give the same advice. Follow your dream but you need a sawmill on the side for stable cash flow. Church has changed. Many churches are small and can't afford a full-time minister. Sadly, often ministers and congregations can't survive in harmony for more than a couple of years so this makes for a very unstable life.

When I say, "you need a sawmill on the side," I mean you need something in your life you can count on. You need a plumber's license, a teaching certificate, carpentry skills or a business of some kind that renders dollars. Why? You can't always depend on what you love doing to produce income. It may be what you love to do and you may be terrific at what you do but often you can't count on it financially.

Find a work that people must have or want very badly. If you are in a work that someone must have then there will be financial rewards. If they want very badly you have to offer there will be financial rewards. If they want and need it both you are golden. It may not be your passion but you will generally make enough money from your "sawmill" so you can sing, dance, paint, entertain, write, act or even preach on the side. When you do what you love to do without the constant pressure of needing money then you are free to do it enjoyably without the stress of wondering from where your next meal will come.

ARTICLE 984 — SOUTH SIDE OF GREAT HEAD DEVELOPMENT

THE MORE Things Change ...

Items selected from past issues of the Winthrop Sun, The Winthrop Review, The Winthrop Visitor, The Transcript and The Sun-Transcript

The most enjoyable sequence of pictures to assemble into a Then & Now article is one that depicts a great recognizable change to a familiar location with all photographs taken from about the same location. Such a set of pictures is printed here. There are a number of easily identified buildings shown which the reader can track from their earliest appearance through the first 25 years of existence. All four pictures were taken from about the center of Yirrell Beach looking North toward Great Head (Cottage Hill).

Picture 1. (1884) Great Head was laid out with streets in 1883 and construction of the first buildings was under way shortly thereafter. The little dark building in the center was the Short Beach Station of the train line that ran on the trestle shown below Great Head bluff. Constructed in 1883, the tracks were washed out during the Thanksgiving storm of 1885.

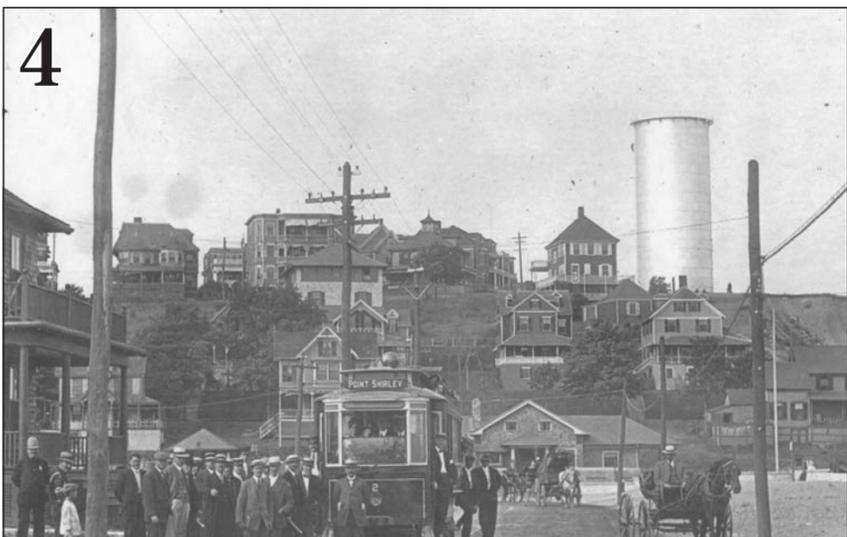

Picture 2. (Approx 1890)

Electricity came to Winthrop in 1887 and power poles can now be seen. The railroad station in the first picture has been replaced by the Ridgeway House shown under construction in the center of this photograph. Mr. Ridgeway was the owner and builder of the Point Shirley trolley car line that will later be constructed in 1910 to run from Delby's Corner to the car-barn at the corner of Otis St. and Taft Ave. near where the Point Shirley Club (formerly Taft's Inn) stood.

Picture 3. (1909) Again, many of the previously shown houses can still be seen and, up on the top of the hill, the water tower is under construction. Note how far back from the edge of the cliff that the tower is located. One can see the amount of erosion that has taken place since it was built. The four gentlemen appear to be involved in the construction of a new sewer line.

Picture 4. (1910) The water tower has just been completed and put into service. The previously mentioned trolley line is just beginning its 18 years of providing passenger service to Point Shirley for residents and visitors. These trolley cars had large batteries, charged by a gasoline driven generator, which provided power to electric motors connected to the wheels. When the car reached the end of each run, the driver would remove the controls and carry them to the other end of the car to install for the return trip. When one stops to think about all the problems we have today to make our present bus line a profitable business venture, here was a man who installed a little more than a one mile long set of tracks to provide passenger service from Delby's Corner to Otis Street and was able to keep it running for almost two decades. In addition, he had two sets of trolley type cars, one open on the sides for summer weather and one closed in for in climate weather.

There was an excellent turnout for the HarborCOV candlelight vigil Tuesday in front of the E.B. Newton School building (Winthrop Cultural Center), the purpose of which was to heighten public awareness of domestic violence issues. Police Chief Terence Delehanty and members of the department, including event coordinators Judy Racow and Sean Delehanty, were out in full force and their presence sent a clear and symbolic message that the WPD considers domestic violence a serious matter in our community. Town Manager James McKenna delivered some personal thoughts about the domestic violence issue and how it is one that must stay in the forefront.

Many Winthrop residents will be watching Monday night, a debate between incumbent Town Council President Jeff Turco and challenger Peter Gill either live on WCAT or on the replays of the debate that will be aired afterwards on the Winthrop cable channel. The selectmen met with MWRA Exec. Dir. Paul Levy to express their dissatisfaction with the lack of hiring of Winthrop residents by the MWRA at the Deer Island sewage treatment plant under construction. Although Levy said the MWRA is only hiring the most qualified people, Selectmen Robert Noonan and Marie Turner disputed that assertion, stating that many Winthrop residents are qualified for MWRA jobs, but only one local resident has been hired in the past 15 months.

The Viking Chronicle, the student newspaper of Winthrop High, made its debut as an insert in the Sun-Transcript this week. The co-editors of the paper are Julie Jackson and Liz Doherty.

The selectmen are appealing to a single justice of the Appeals Court a preliminary injunction issued by a Superior Court judge that orders the town to assign pregnant Police Officer Nancy Dalrymple to light duty at the desk. The town's position is that Dalrymple is unable to perform her regular duties as a patrolman and that light duty is not within the scope of the union contract. The town further asserts that even desk duty is not without its hazards, thereby posing a risk to Dalrymple and her unborn child.

A huge throng of friends and family members turned out for the funeral services for Private Simon J. Donovan, who was killed in the Argonne Forest on October 25, 1918, while holding a position with his section of the former Winthrop Machine Gun Company. Many of his comrades carried his casket on their shoulder as the funeral procession made its way from St. John the Evangelist Church to the bridge at Main St., where the body then was taken to Holy Cross Cemetery in Malden for burial. Donovan was a popular figure in our town who attended the local schools and was a clerk in a store in the Center when he volunteered for service. Though he was only 16 years old, he was a tall boy, so he got past the doctor, a examination. He participated in all of the engagements of the Yankee Division until he met his death. Pvt. Donovan is survived by his mother, two brothers, and four sisters.

SQUEEZEBOX STOMPERS PRESENT 'BEYOND THE BLUES' AT DEANE WINTHROP HOUSE

By Marianne Salza

The Squeezebox Stompers performed musical selections from Ralph Tufo's play, Beyond the Blues, on recently on the Deane Winthrop House lawn. Presented by the Winthrop Improvement and Historical Association, and supported in part by the Winthrop Cultural Council, the outdoor concert featured preambles describing the song's relevance and context in the play.

"The play takes place in the brickyard section of Lynn -- where I grew up -- in 1982, ten years after about 80% of it was demolished by urban renewal," explained Tufo. "The Urban Legend Bar and Grill was able to survive the destruction, and each year they have an open mic blues competition. There are four contestants, each singing two songs about their hardships and obstacles."

Beyond the Blues emphasizes the therapeutic power of music, and was originally performed as a Zoom production and posted on YouTube in November 2020. Tufo hopes a local theater company will perform the musical in 2022.

WHS SPORTS ROUNDUP

WHS GIRLS CROSS COUNTRY OUTRUNS SALEM, SALEM ACADEMY

The Winthrop High girls and boys cross-country teams trekked to Salem last Thursday to take on Salem High and Salem Charter School on the three-mile course on Winter Island.

On the girls' side, April Ferguson outran the field to finish in first place in a fast time of 23:00.

Teammate Libby Carney was the next Lady Viking across the line, sprinting down the stretch to come in third place overall. Winthrop's Sage Calinda was the next runner, coming in fourth spot overall with a personal-best time of 27:33.

Freshman Sophia Lindinger, who also ran a personal-best time of 28:07, finished in fifth place overall. Lucy Giraud then earned Winthrop the victory, finishing with a time of 36:41.

For the boys' team, Tim Vargus turned in a fine performance to finish in third place overall with a clocking of 20:49. Teammate John Rice came across in eighth overall in 24:01 and Ryan Cash finished in ninth overall in 26:56.

"Both the girls and boys did a fantastic job," said WHS head coach Mark D'Amico. "They have been improving all season and it showed in this race."

D'Amico and his crew were scheduled to race at Swampscott yesterday (Wednesday) and will trek to Bradley Palmer State Park to face Masconomet next Wednesday.

WHS BOYS SOCCER TIES MALDEN, 1-1

The Winthrop High boys soccer team earned a dramatic 1-1 tie in a contest at non-league opponent Malden this past Saturday.

The host Golden Tornados grabbed a 1-0 lead in the opening half on a penalty kick and appeared headed to victory as the clock wound down. However, with just seconds to go, Viking Loert Mana delivered a free kick that bounced to Luke Riley, who beat the Malden goalie to bring the contest to level. The goal was Luke's first of the season.

"We started off well, but at half it was 1-0 Malden," said WHS head coach Kyle Gagin. "In the second half both teams had their chances, but we were able to score at the last second. It was great to see the team fight right to the end to earn the point."

Last Thursday the Vikings came up short in a 3-0 loss to Northeastern Conference rival Marblehead, a team that the Vikings had defeated in their first meeting earlier this season.

"We started off slowly and couldn't find our rhythm vs. Marblehead," said Gagin. "It was 2-0 at half. Their first goal was a penalty kick and the second was an own-goal. Marblehead was able to get a third in the second half thanks to another own-goal. We didn't play well and the two own-goals didn't help."

Gagin and his squad have a busy week ahead with four games in seven days. They will host non-league opponent Northeast Regional this afternoon (Thursday) on the turf at Miller Field. They will trek to the Manning Bowl to take on Lynn Classical -- which is a member of the Greater Boston League -- Saturday evening at 6:00 and then will travel to Masconomet Regional on Monday and to Gloucester on Wednesday.

WHS GIRLS SOCCER HOSTS NORTHEAST TONIGHT AT 6:00

The Winthrop High girls soccer team will host Northeast Regional this evening (Thursday) under the lights at Miller Field.

Coach Tracey Martucci and her crew will entertain Masconomet on Monday at 4:00 and Gloucester on Wednesday at Miller at 6:00.

Cameron Martin gets a big hole to run through for a Viking first down.

Martin stars as Vikings defeat Gloucester in NEC South opener

By Cary Shuman

Sparked by a breakout performance from running back Cam Martin, the Winthrop High football team defeated Gloucester, 32-0, in the Northeastern Conference South Division opener Friday night at Miller Field.

Martin rushed for 193 yards and a touchdown as the Vikings raced to a 25-0 halftime lead over the Fishermen. Martin had a 56-yard touchdown run in the second quarter.

"Cam has been our main back all year, and he'd showed some flashes in other games, but this is the kind of performance we expect out of Cam," said Winthrop head coach Jon Cadigan.

Junior quarterback Robert Noonan opened the scoring with a 1-yard touchdown. Following Martin's 56-yard YD scamper, Noonan connected with senior Mikey Chaves for a 28-yard touchdown pass.

Juan Sanchez booted a 24-yard field goal before Evan Rockefeller scored on a 1-yard run. Rockefeller also had a 2-point conversion in the game, finishing with 39 yards on eight carries.

Cadigan was pleased with the team's effort in all phases of the game.

"We're starting to get

healthy," said Cadigan. "This was Victor Marquez's second start at guard this year and he's rounding into shape [after a pre-season injury].

VIKINGS BOYS SOCCER FALL TO MARBLEHEAD AT MILLER FIELD

DIAGONAL BARRIER: Winthrop's (19), Chad Bernstein (6), Cherki Aymna (14), and Liam Turner (12) form an obtuse angle of defense.

GROUND FIGHT: Winthrop's Estaban Alvarez tangles with Marblehead's Oliver Buckhoff (6).

YOURS OR MINE? Viking Michael Soares (5) and Marblehead's Harrison Curtis (25) battle for the ball.

The Vikings three-game winning streak was snapped when they lost to Marblehead 3-0 on Thursday, October 7 at Miller Field.

SPRINT TO THE BALL: Winthrop's Jonathan Paker (17) and Marblehead's Oliver Buckhoff (6) race for the ball.

PERSONAL ENCOUNTER: Winthrop's Drew McLaughlin (22) and Marblehead's Damien King (15) have a close encounter with the ball.

SNEAK ATTACK: Zane Bower comes up behind Marblehead's Isaiah Pina (2) and makes a sliding move to break up a Marblehead offensive.

REASON TO WINCE: Winthrop's Jonathan Parker (17) and Marblehead's Isaiah Pina (2) collide as they both leap to control a kick.

CHASE IS ON: Loert Mana (12) and Marblehead's Oliver Buckhoff (6) chase down a loose ball.

SOARING SAVE: Goalkeeper Mateo Martinez gets above the crowd to make a save during Winthrop's 3-0 loss to Marblehead on Thursday, Oct 7 at Miller Field.

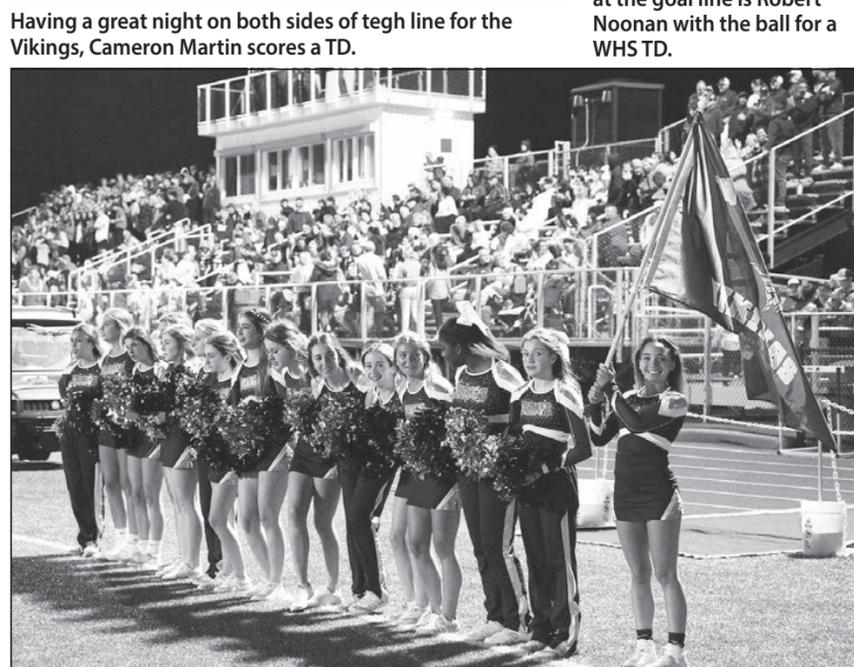

VIKINGS FOOTBALL TOPPLER GLOUCESTER FISHERMEN

Coming out of the pile at the goal line is Robert Noonan with the ball for a WHST TD.

Kicker Juan Sanchez had a terrific night with point after kicks and keeping the Fishermen deep in their own territory.

The WHS Cheerleaders were ready to cheer on the Vikings last Friday night.

Offensive line opened the door for Martin

“Ian was exceptional blocking all game long,” said Cadigan. “He had the highest blocking percentage on the team.”

Running backs Welvis Acosta, Evan Rockefeller, and George Galuris were Martin’s partners in the backfield.

Jurovich stands tall on defense

Pete Jurovich, a 6-foot-4, 275-pound senior, was the Vikings’ defensive player of the game.

“He’s just becoming a dominant force for this team,” said Coach Cadigan. “Wherever we put him on offense, we know he’s going to block very well, and wherever we put him on defense, if you don’t double-team him, he’s going to wreck the game for our opponent.”

Jurovich introduced himself on Gloucester’s initial possession when he broke through the line and sacked the quarterback. “It set the tone that we were going to do what we wanted to do up front,” said Cadigan.

Jurovich is on the radar of college football programs.

Winthrop is in the playoff picture

Winthrop was ranked 14th last week in the MIAA Power Rankings and will likely move up after its 32-0 dismissal of Gloucester. The top 16 teams in each division make the playoffs.

Winthrop (2-3, 1-0) is tied for first with Salem in the NEC South, but many observers believe Friday night’s matchup against Peabody will go a long way to determine the NEC South Division champion.

“I think whoever wins this game has the inside track in winning the league title,” said Cadigan.

Dedication ceremony Friday at 4:30 p.m.

There will be a dedication ceremony Friday at 4:30 p.m. at which time two of Winthrop High’s Hall of Fame coaches, Tony Fucillo (football) and Pat McGee (track and cross country) will be honored for their incredible coaching careers in the school’s athletic program.

The fieldhouse at Miller Field will be named the Tony Fucillo Field House. The track facility will be named the Pat McGee Track.

Several of the coaches’ former athletes are expected to attend the ceremony.

We remember Tony Fucillo’s back-to-back Super Bowl teams and the undefeated Super Bowl championship team that was quarterbacked by his son, James Fucillo, who is now the defensive coordinator for the Vikings.

And we remember the great Pat McGee watching and hoping as Kenny Sirianni took the baton on the final leg of the meet-deciding mile relay event with the title on the line. In dramatic fashion, Sirianni blazed ahead of the Beverly runner right at the finish line, and the Vikings had their undefeated Northeastern Conference championship.

WHS fans had a great night of cheering on the home team, the WHS Vikings.

QB Robert Noonan is just as deadly on defense as he is on offense.

Andy Jackson readies to crush the Fishermen’s RB for a loss.

NEWS FROM AROUND THE REGION

OUTDOORS DINING IS EXTENDED

CHELSEA - Initially proposed in Chelsea and other communities throughout the country as a way to improve business for restaurants during the Covid-19 pandemic, on Tuesday, the Traffic and Parking Commission unanimously voted to extend outdoor dining for another 12 months.

"There are three restaurants that have really embraced the outdoor dining program, all on Broadway," said Public Works Director Fidel Maltez. "They have done a good job with outfitting their spots with Jersey barriers, and one of them even has a flooring system."

When it was initially approved by the traffic commission, Maltez said the plan was to review the program in October.

"We have reviewed it, and the three restaurants that have it have been successful," said Maltez. "What I am requesting is we grant them the approval to keep their spots and occupy them for another 12 months."

Alexander Train, the Director of Housing and Community Development, said making the outdoor dining program more permanent could entice other restaurants to take part.

"The restaurants that have embraced this have reported that it has been generating business for them throughout the pandemic by providing an outdoor location where people can feel safe and comfortable gathering," said Train. "Our hope is that by making this permanent, more restaurants will really see the justification of making the investment in these spaces. Some of the restaurants that we coordinated with at the beginning of the program didn't want to expend the money on making these outdoor dining areas because it was a temporary program, so I'm pretty optimistic that by making this permanent, we would see more outdoor dining in the downtown."

Increasing the number of restaurants providing outdoor dining would improve the streetscape of the city and benefit small businesses, Train said.

While the motion to extend outdoor dining passed unanimously, there were some concerns raised about some of the outdoor dining spaces being close to crosswalks, and making sure the crosswalks in those areas are marked better.

RALLYS AGAINST OVERDEVELOPMENT

EAST BOSTON - The grassroots group of concerned residents opposed to what they call an 'overdevelopment' of East Boston held their second protest recently in Central Square but this time they were joined by a slew of elected officials and candidates for office.

Stand Up for Eastie, founded by Frankfort Street resident Joni DeMarzo after she and her family opposed a development project next door to their home they feared would severely impact their quality of life, held their first rally back in July in Wood Island and Day Square.

This time the group was joined by current City Councilor and state senate candidate Lydia Edwards, senate candidate Anthony D'Ambrosio and At-Large City Council candidates Ruthzee Louijeune and Dave Halbert.

The group and its supporters spent the Saturday afternoon in Central Square handing out flyers, carrying signs and trying to educate people on the impacts development has had on the neighborhood.

"We know development has always been going on, year after year the city expands, more people move here and that is all fine but it's never caused East Boston such disaster and tragedy before," said DeMarzo at the rally. "So why now? Why East Boston? There are 20 different neighborhoods in the City of Boston from Allston and Brighton to Charlestown and Chinatown, Downtown, Dorchester, Southie, continuing to Roslindale, Hyde Park, Jamaica Plain, Mattapan plus more...so why is East Boston being singled out, why is East Boston getting slammed with overdeveloped projects?"

DeMarzo argues that the system is being manipulated and residents are left to suffer.

"The zoning laws that are written in black and white are being violated by the authorities," she said. "The mayor's office, the ZBA and BPDA are putting the people of East Boston last. Although they all nod their heads and say "we hear you loud and clear" they are in fact failing us. Over and over and over, we send in our comments and concerns, and over and over they put profit over people. How many times are the authorities going to approve variances to the same old courageous LLC's with no demonstrated hardship? Is it because the more that is approved then the more the city profits off of our property taxes? Is that why there are so many tiny studios being built? Because more units equals more money? And yet we are told to believe that the reason to keep adding in more luxury condos is because of the "housing crisis". Is anyone in authority thinking how this is all affecting us, the people who actually live here?"

DeMarzo went on that development projects are taking away open space, knocking down mature trees, and the identity and history of the neighborhood is being demolished.

"Families are rapidly leaving this neighborhood and no one can afford to financially live here unless you're a millionaire," she said. "And no one can deal with all the stressors to continue to want to even live here. And most importantly many families are being displaced."

DeMarzo called on City Hall to, "Stop permitting developers that destroy our neighborhood. Stop the corruption of the system. Just do your job and protect your people."

Stand Up for Eastie's goal is to create homes that are affordable and encourage developments that restore family homes. The group also supports developments that build true 'family-style' homes adjacent to pre-existing one, two and three family dwellings.

OFFICIAL SEEKS TO STOP VANDALISM AT MANNING FIELD

LYNN - When Rich Avery, Lynn director of facilities at Manning Field, discovered incidents of vandalism inside the women's and men's restrooms at Manning Field two weeks ago, he developed a plan to prevent those incidents from happening again.

Because the incidents occurred during a high school football game and youth football games, Avery reached out to Supt. of Schools Dr. Patrick Tutwiler, principals and athletic directors at the Lynn high schools, and the presidents of the Lynn youth football organizations to address the issue.

"I'm happy to report that there was no damage this weekend, but we were pro-active about it," said Avery. "Dr. Tutwiler was very quick in responding and taking action."

Avery said the vandalism first came to his attention following football games played on the weekend of Sept. 24-26 at Manning Field.

"Someone had damaged every toilet roll dispenser in the men's restroom, every soap dispenser in the women's restroom, as well as six toilets in the women's restroom," said Avery, who estimated that there was $5,000 in damages done at the facility.

The incidents may have been the result of a TikTok "challenge," according to Avery. TikTok is a video-sharing, networking service.

Avery said he asked for an increased police presence at Manning Field during games. There were public safety personnel stationed outside the restroom facilities at the most recent football games, and no incidents of vandalism were reported.

Under Avery's leadership, Manning Field, a first-class, professionally run athletic facility, has become one of the busiest venues in the region, hosting both regular season and playoff games in multiple fall and spring sports.

PARKING METERS AT REVERE BEACH COULD BE GONE

REVERE - Representatives Turco and Giannino announced that legislation has passed that would put the parking meters on Revere Beach to a vote by the Revere City Council

"Today is a victory for the people of Revere and Winthrop. The meters will come down from Revere Beach and they will not go up in Winthrop. I want to thank my colleagues in the legislature, Speaker Mariano Boncore, my partner in Revere, Rep. Giannino, and specifically Rep. Jay Livingstone for his leadership in shepherding this bill to passage. I also want to thank Mayor Arrigo, Councilors McKenna, Novoselsky and Powers for keeping this issue at the forefront. Of course, thanks to the people of Revere who vocally and respectfully voiced their opposition to paid parking on America's First Public Beach. Today's victory is truly the result of a team effort," said Rep. Jeffrey Turco.

"I am so proud of the work we have done with Rep. Turco, former Senator Boncore, Mayor Arrigo and the Council. The meters on Revere Beach were a slap in the face to our residents, particularly those living along Revere Beach, like those in the Satter House. When we work together, we can accomplish anything and I am happy to deliver this great news to the people of Revere," said Rep. Jessica Giannino.

"I applaud our state delegation for their advocacy and speedy work on this legislation," said Mayor Brian Arrigo. "This is a great example of the power of collaboration. Thank you Representative Turco and Representative Giannino for their work on behalf of our residents."

"Removing the meters will now help the Ward One residents park freely in front of their homes instead of worrying about their cars being ticketed," said Councilor Joanne McKenna.

"This a great win for the people of Revere. The DCR had to be put in their place. No meters or residential permits were necessary and now we have the choice. Thanks to Representatives Turco and Giannino for their hard work," said Councilor Ira Novoselsky.

"The meters should not have been installed in the first place. There has been a vocal and lengthy fight with DCR – the Mayor and I were successful in negotiating the removal of meters on the westernly/residential side of the beach, and this legislation is another win for our residents. This is a great victory for the City of Revere and I applaud our legislative delegation for their efforts." – John Powers, Ward 5 Councilor, City of Revere

"I'm walking with my brother, and my sister, and my dad," said Leila Bracy, 2nd grade. "Always cross with them and don't run into the street."

Uonnabi, and his children, Nizar, and Mayssa, 1st grade.

Autumn, 3rd grade, Leila, 2nd grade, Kingston, pre-kindergarten, and their dad, Nick Bracy.

FALL FAIR AND CRAFT SHOW AT INGLESIDE PARK

By Marianne Salza

Little ones rustled through a pumpkin patch and rode on ponies during the Winthrop Parks and Recreation Fall Fair and Craft Show, where local vendors sold handmade Halloween decorations, jewelry, and Tupperware. On October 9, chil-
