MBTA signs lease to operate Winthrop Ferry

By Adam Swift

Winthrop is getting out of the ferry business, but commuters who rely on the ferry for transportation to Boston and beyond shouldn't worry. Winthrop and the MBTA have signed a two-year lease agreement, with three one-year extensions, for the MBTA to take over operation of the Winthrop ferry. In addition to the operational transfer, there will be reduced ferry fares of $2.40 each way in July and August as part of the Sumner Tunnel closure mitigation efforts. The MBTA officially takes over operation of the ferry on July 1, but town officials said there will still be logistical issues such as scheduling and ticketing that will be ironed out in the coming weeks. "The runs will be the same, they will go to the same places, and there will be more on that to follow," said Council President James Letterie. "But the ferry will be run by the MBTA. It will be a while, but the goal is to have Charlie Card access on the ferry, but that will not start on July 1." The goal is for the MBTA to eventually take over permanent control of the ferry service, Letterie said. "We are out of the ferry business as of July 1 is the way I look at it," said Letterie.

grants to Suffolk County nonprofits

Special to the Journal

Suffolk District Attorney Kevin Hayden announced the distribution of $260,000 in grants to Suffolk County nonprofit organizations dedicated to improving the health and safety of residents in Boston, Chelsea, Winthrop and Revere. Hayden's Community Reinvestment Grant (CRG) program awarded 45 nonprofits with grants ranging from $4,000 to $7,500. This year's fund dispersal is the largest amount in Suffolk County CRG history. "I am extremely proud our office has been able to provide the most funding ever from this important program. The mission-driven work undertaken by all of these organizations is inspiring and important. Throughout my career as a prosecutor and a defense attorney, I have witnessed young people with promise veer onto dangerous paths due to lack of opportunity and guidance. We fail these children when

The town's administration and Town Council have spent the last several months finalizing the new trash and recyclables policy for the town.

"Even though it goes into effect on July 1, with the way the Fourth of July falls, people will get a little reprieve that first week with the holiday week," said Town Manager Tony Marino at a council meeting earlier this month. "So

Although the new restrictions go into place in July, Marino said he expects there to be continuing education efforts for residents in July and August.

"We expect people will be upset and there will be some pushback," said Marino. "But in July and August, we'll have time to educate people in the process."

There is information about the new policy on the town's website, and Marino said there are continuing education efforts through social media, WCAT, and direct mail, as well.

Senate resoundingly approves bill for progressive tax relief

Special to the Journal

The Massachusetts Senate approved last week a $590 million Tax Relief bill which delivers support to low- and middle-income earners and chips away at the headwinds that threaten Massachusetts' competitiveness. Focusing on providing relief to residents across Massachusetts while upholding fiscal responsibility, the Senate's tax relief package will provide relief to renters, seniors, and parents struggling with high early education costs while also increasing much-needed housing production. With the recent passage of the FY24 budget last month, the Commonwealth is now poised to secure and strengthen its economic foundation to weather future uncertainty.

"As I have said from the outset, tax relief should go to the workers, families, and elderly residents of the Commonwealth who need it most," stated Senate President Karen E. Spilka (D-Ashland). "Massachusetts doesn't need just any tax relief; we need permanent, progressive, smart, and sustainable tax relief. Too many families have been caught between the rising costs of healthcare, housing, education, and basic goods. While we advance reforms to lower these costs and shore up our social services, meaningful tax relief is another tool in our kit to encourage people to live and raise their families in Massachusetts. I want to thank each of my Senate colleagues who contributed to this proposal, especially Senator Rodrigues and Senator Moran for their leadership in developing this strong package."

"While there has been calls for the Senate to act more swiftly on tax relief, my colleagues and I took a deliberative and practical approach to tax relief, centering our proposal on what we saw as major areas of concern to individuals and working families of the Commonwealth. Namely, providing critical housing assistance to the demographic that is most affected by housing instability and unaffordability; the 25-40 age group who are being priced out of the Commonwealth at an alarming rate. We need this group to remain in Massachusetts, put down roots, and buy a home of their own.” said Senator Michael J. Rodrigues, Chair of the Senate Committee on Ways and Means (D-Westport). “Consistent with the views of the Senate membership, our Senate tax package is forward-looking, fiscally sustainable, comprehensive, and progressive. It puts money back into the pockets of our residents, providing permanent tax cuts for low-income workers, families, renters, seniors, persons with disabilities, while focusing on the largest issue that is undercutting our Commonwealth’s overall competitiveness – which is the affordability and availability of housing. Thank you to my colleagues in the Senate, especially my colleagues on the Committee, whose advocacy, collaboration, and dedication helped to inform and shape this comprehensive tax relief proposal. A sincere thanks to the Ways and Means staff, whose seamless transition from the budget to this tax relief bill was truly remarkable. Lastly, a very warm and genuine thank you to Senate President Spilka for her determined and compassionate leadership as we work together to rebuild our economy and bolster our state’s long-term economic health.”

“Working families aren’t leaving the Commonwealth because of taxes on day-traders,” said Senator Susan Moran, Chair of the Joint Committee on Revenue (D-Falmouth). “They are leaving because they can’t find housing they can afford. This package aimed at growing housing will also grow our workforce and the Commonwealth’s competitiveness.”

“We gave the choice to municipalities to reward the good behavior of landlords who make rent affordable.

- This is just one more tool in the toolbox to get people housed.” said Senator Edwards, Chair of the Joint Committee on Housing (D-East Boston).
- This package includes a variety of initiatives as tax relief for the residents of Massachusetts. The bill:
- increases the Earned Income Tax Credit (EITC), which provides critical support to working families, from 30% to 40% of the federal credit
 - merges existing credits into a new and enhanced Child and Dependent Tax Credit (CDTC), increases the amount of the credit from $180 to $310 per child/dependent, and eliminates the current cap of two children/dependents
 - increases statewide cap for the Housing Development Incentive Program (HDIP) from $10 million to $57 million on a one-time basis and then to $30 million annually
 - increases the cap on the rental deduction from $3,000 to $4,000
 - raises annual authorization of the Low Income Housing Tax Credit, which directly supports the production of affordable housing units across the Commonwealth, from $40 million to $60 million
 - doubles the maximum senior circuit breaker credit, which supports elderly residents who struggle with high housing costs, from $1,200 to $2,400
 - excludes homes valued at under $2 million from the Estate Tax and eliminates the “cliff effect” by allowing a uniform credit of $99,600 for all estates
 - triples the maximum credit under the Title V Tax Credit, which supports families who must replace failed septic systems, from $6,000 to $18,000, and lifts the amount claimable to $4,000 per year
 - increases the statewide cap for the Dairy Tax credit from $6 million to $8 million
 - expands eligible occupations for the Apprenticeship Tax Credit
 - doubles the credit for lead paint abatement to $3,000 for full abatement and $1,000 for partial abatement
 - expands the types of alcoholic drinks which qualify for a lower tax rate as part of the cider tax
- Notably, this legislation ensures that student loan payment assistance offered by employers will not be treated as taxable compensation. The bill also adds regional transit fares and bike commuter expenses to the allowable commuter expenses eligible for favorable tax status.
- To encourage affordable housing, the bill gives municipalities the option of adopting a local property tax exemption for real estate that is rented to a person below a certain area-dependent income level.
- Additionally, the bill also directs the following studies:
- A study by the Executive Office of Administration and Finance on the feasibility of making advance quarterly payments of the Child and Dependent Tax Credit
 - A study by the Department of Revenue on the efficacy of an additional, elective entity-level tax of up to 4 percent on a portion of qualified taxable income in the Commonwealth, coupled with a refundable credit, for eligible pass-through entities
- As different versions of this legislation have passed the Senate and the House of Representatives, a conference committee will now be appointed to resolve differences between the two bills.

A groundbreaking ceremony set for Tuesday at the site of the Winthrop Hospital on Lincoln Street where a new assisted living residential facility will be built. The property has been vacant for a long time, but soon there will be a facility that will be beautifully landscaped and provide for the health and well being of the residents who will live there.

Winthrop residents will go to the polls Tuesday to cast their ballots in the U.S. Senate special election. Two candidates, Democratic Congressman Edward J. Markey of Malden, who has served in the House of Representatives for 37 years and is Winthrop's representative in Congress, and Republican Gabriel Gomez of Cohasset are vying for the Senate seat. The winning candidate will take over the Senate seat previously held by John Kerry, who left the position to become Secretary of State for President Barack Obama. "Mo" Cowan has been serving as the interim U.S. Senator.

Thanks to the efforts of the Winthrop Police Department and with assistance from their colleagues in Revere, a major drug distribution operation on Main St. has ceased to exist. letic programs because of budget constraints.

The Massport Board of Directors has voted to establish an unprecedented mitigation agreement between the town and Massport that gives Winthrop a $500,000 upfront payment and then $150,000 annually thereafter for the next 17 years. All four votes in favor of the agreement are appointees of former Gov. Michael Dukakis, while the three appointees of current Gov. William Weld either abstained or voted against it, including new member Kathleen Card. The Board of Selectmen said the first use of the money, which must be dedicated to park improvements and soundproofing programs, will be to renovate Pico Beach and Ingleside Park.

The former President of the Wakefield Surety and Trust Company, Daniel D. Moore, has received a seven-year sentence for his mishandling of bank funds that led to the seizure of the bank by the FDIC. The Town of Winthrop was one of the biggest losers of funds because of Moore's fraud. The town had placed hundreds of thousands of dollars in the bank which had been set aside for the construction of the new middle school. However, the town got back only about 50% of its funds after the FDIC sold off the bank's assets.

The program draws from cash and assets seized from drug distribution cases to support organizations preventing youth violence or providing substance abuse prevention or treatment. State auditors have praised the Suffolk County process for turning "the profits of crime into something positive for the community," while carefully documenting all forfeiture-related income and expenditures.

Town Manager Tony Marino said long-term, the MBTA could look to shuffle some stops along the ferry route around, but for now, they will stay as is. In addition, Marino said the MBTA is bringing in some of the current staff to operate the ferry service.

In addition to working out Charlie Card access, Marino said the town and the MBTA also have to work out dock access agreements.

Marino seconded Letterie's statement that the MBTA is eventually looking to take over permanently as the operator of the ferry service out of Winthrop.

Marino said the ferry boat itself is being leased by the MBTA, and if the operational lease is not extended, the town will maintain ownership of the boat. The MBTA will be responsible for all maintenance and repairs of the boat during the life of the lease.

"This is a big win," said Council Vice President Stephen Rugeiro.

The fifth annual Boston Frogman Swim fundraiser took place in Boston Harbor and raised over $215,000 for the Navy SEAL Foundation, a non-profit organization that provides support for active, reserve, and veteran

SEALs, SWCCs, support personnel, and their families. The 5K swim, which left from the Piers Park Sailing Center in East Boston, featured nearly 100 swimmers. The group was comprised of former SEALs, special operations veterans, military family members, and supporters, including Gold Star family members of current Navy SEALs. The swimmers were joined by more than 60 kayakers. 100-year-old Navy Veteran and Boston native Frank Bellotti, who also served as the Lieutenant Governor of Massachusetts from 1963 to 1965, was in attendance for this year's swim.

WHS SPORTS ROUNDUP

BOYS LACROSSE PRESENTS TEAM AWARDS

The Winthrop High boys lacrosse team, which completed the most successful season in the program's history just one year after emerging from club sport status in 2022, honored its top performers recently.

Head coach Brian Donnelly, whose squad won the South Division of the Northeastern Conference and was ranked 13th in Division 4, qualifying for the state tourney and then winning a tourney game, presented the following awards to his players and made appropriate comments for each:

Rookie of the Year: Rookie of the Year goes to the player whose first year was here at Winthrop. This year we asked a lot of the freshman class and the players responded. We had a ton of great first year players this year who added to the team in many ways. Whether it was through many face-off wins, amazing long stick defense, or key goals, there were a ton of new players who added to this year's team. The particular player who is receiving this award got 23 assists on the year and 44 goals, including four assists and six goals in our playoff win against Tyngsborough. He won the game in overtime against a tough Beverly game that set the tone for us for the rest of the season. He has a quick stick and will no doubt continue to pick apart the NEC in the future. The 2023 rookie of the year is Ace Daignault.

Valhalla Award: The Valhalla award is an award chosen by the coaches to the player who epitomizes what we want a Viking Athlete to be. This is someone who works hard on and off the field to be a better competitor, a player who is unselfish and creates opportunities for those around him, and a player whose work ethic is unmatched. This year the Valhalla award goes to a player who made amazing strides in the off-season to become a better competitor, who creates opportunities for others with his hustle and drive, and who is probably our best short stick defender. This player had 22 assists and 23 saves on the season and was our go-to guy for various situations. He is one of the hardest working guys on the field which was a massive reason he was selected as an NEC All-Star. He has a great attitude and work ethic. This year's Valhalla award goes to Michael "C YA" Holgerson.

Defensive Player of the Year: This year our defense only allowed an average of 8.3 goals per game with two shutouts. Our defense played as an awesome unit and week after week we tasked this long pole defender with their best attackman or midfielder. This defender did everything that we asked of him and more, from coming off the win, to taking face-offs, to covering their best guy week after week. He was a ground ball machine and clearer in tough situations and ended the year with assists and two goals on the season. He was a leader on the field and pushed our guys every day in practice to become better dodgers, shooters, and players. He became our captain the second half of the year through his hard work and dedication to the team and is no doubt a reason that he was also selected as an NEC All star. He shut down Weston's number 5 in the tourney game and played out of control defense as the season progressed against their strongest guys. This year's Defensive Player of the Year is Welvis Acosta.

Offensive Player of the Year: Our Offensive Player of the Year was a guy who created opportunities both for others and for himself with his dodging game. Whenever we were in a tough situation he was one of the guys who looked for the ball and was always putting himself out in big situations. He had two game-winning goals, including an overtime goal to win in a tight Swampscott game where he recorded five goals and four assists. He was also pivotal in our win against Danvers, putting up five goals and three assists in the game. He was great not only on offense, but an amazing ground ball machine when he got into the mix, coming up with some huge ones that led to pivotal goals. He ended up with 33 assists and 43 goals and was voted NEC All Conference by the NEC coaches. Our Offensive Player of the Year is Alex Daigneault.

Most Valuable Player: Our MVP for 2023 is a guy who makes something happen whenever he is on the field. He does it all for us, from taking faceoffs, coming off the edge, being one of our better short stick defenders, or even grabbing a long pole on man-up and down. He is a great leader and one of the hardest-working players on the field. He had some huge goals throughout the season, including one against Swampscott with a minute left in the game to force an overtime. He was huge in a rain game when we were stalling out, getting six goals and five assists against Weymouth. He also had a huge performance against a very tough Marblehead team, getting the hat trick and having four assists. His toughness and tenacity are a huge reason that he was voted an NEC All Conference player by the NEC coaches and who usually drew the best defender. He is a ground ball machine and our go-to guy when we want a goal. He created opportunities for all the players around him through his dodging, explosive fast break. He ended the season with 52 assists and 47 goals. Our Most Valuable Player in 2023 is Robert Rich.

Leave fireworks to the professionals

Special to the Transcript

After a record-setting number of fireworks-related fires in 2020 and a sharp decline in 2021, fireworks incidents in Massachusetts rebounded last year. Massachusetts State Fire Marshal Peter J. Ostroskey and State Police Colonel John E. Mawn, Jr. are reminding residents to leave fireworks to the professionals this summer.

Fireworks-related fires and explosions in Massachusetts skyrocketed at the height of the COVID-19 pandemic, jumping from 57 in 2019 to 189 in 2020. These numbers declined significantly in 2021, when 80 incidents were reported statewide.

In 2022, however, Massachusetts fire departments reported 106 fires and explosions attributed to fireworks, an increase of nearly a third over the prior year. More than half of these incidents took place in the week of July 4, 2022. All told, the fireworks-related incidents last year caused 38 injuries and $414,279 in damages – more than double the property loss caused by fireworks in 2020.

“Every single year in Massachusetts, people are hurt and property is destroyed by illegal fireworks,” State Fire Marshal Ostroskey said. “As we count down to the weeks when most of these incidents occur, we’re reminding everyone that fireworks are illegal because they are dangerous. There will be plenty of permitted fireworks displays this summer, so stay safe and leave fireworks to the professionals.”

Last year, joint enforcement efforts by the Massachusetts State Police and Department of Fire Services led to about 40 criminal summonses for violating the state’s fireworks laws. They also took off the streets nearly 3,000 packages of aerial shells, cakes, fountains, bottle rockets, large rockets, Roman candles, sparklers, and other dangerous, illegal devices worth upward of $46,000. Those enforcement efforts will resume this year.

“The unlicensed possession, use, and sale of fireworks are illegal in Massachusetts,” said Colonel Mawn. “Massachusetts law requires the confiscation of any illegal fireworks we encounter, even if legally purchased elsewhere. Massachusetts State Police will seize any illegal fireworks that we discover during routine traffic stops and other activity. And with our local and state partners, State Police will be conducting targeted enforcement efforts to intercept illegal fireworks coming in from out of state.”

Officials emphasized that fireworks, including sparklers, are especially unsafe around children. Sparklers burn at temperatures of over 1,800° Fahrenheit – hotter than the melting point of glass and aluminum. According to a 2021 report from the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission, “there were an estimated 1,600 emergency department-treated injuries associated with firecrackers and 900 with sparklers” in 2020. This accounted for almost 10% of all fireworks-related injuries that year. Of those 900 injuries from sparklers, 44% were to children under the age of 5. Sparklers burn at such high temperatures that they can easily ignite combustible materials even after they are extinguished: in Dracut last summer, nine people were displaced after careless disposal of sparklers started a three-alarm fire in their home.

Unfortunately, fires, explosions, and injuries caused by fireworks are not a new phenomenon. Massachusetts fire departments reported nearly 1,000 fires related to illegal fireworks between 2013 and 2022, officials said. In addition to the 42 fire service injuries, five civilian injuries, and $2.5 million in damages attributed to these fires, Massachusetts medical facilities reported about 30 severe burn injuries extending to 5% or more of the victims’ bodies that were caused by illegal fireworks.

Agencies partner to host Elder Abuse Investigations Training session

Special to the Transcript

In recognition of Elder Abuse Awareness Day, the Municipal Police Training Committee (MPTC) last week partnered with the Massachusetts Attorney General's Office, the Belmont Police Department, and Springwell, a community-based service provider, to deliver a comprehensive Elder Abuse Investigations Training yesterday at the MPTC Lynnfield Academy. Recognizing the complexity of addressing this often-silent problem, state and local experts developed this training to equip 46 Massachusetts law enforcement officers with the necessary knowledge, tools, and strategies to effectively identify, investigate and respond appropriately to cases of elder abuse.

"Our Administration remains committed to safeguarding the rights and well-being of our most vulnerable residents," Governor Maura Healey said. "By leveraging the collective expertise of both state and community service agencies, trainings like this contribute to strengthening a safer environment for seniors and facilitating a swift, victim-centered response when needed."

"Elder Abuse can affect anyone, including those who are healthy, ailing, or living with a disability," Lieutenant Governor Kimberley Driscoll said. "Together, we ensure the safety, dignity and well-being of our neighbors and loved ones by raising awareness and providing officers with tools to address predatory behaviors."

This Elder Abuse Investigations Training provides awareness about services for older adults and resources for officers, including law enforcement best practices around investigating abuse, neglect, and exploitation. The training also included an in-depth panel discussion on relevant topics related to elder abuse, fostering a greater understanding of the challenges faced by both victims and investigators. The National Council on Aging (NCOA) estimates that 10% of Americans aged 60+ have experienced some form of elder abuse totaling at least $36.5 billion of annual financial abuse loss. One study also estimates that only one in 24 cases of abuse are reported to authorities.

Elder Abuse Investigations Training held at the MPTC Lynnfield Academy.

"Yesterday's elder abuse program responds to the growing number of dangerous, predatory behaviors targeting seniors in our communities," Secretary of Public Safety and Security Terrence Reidy said. "Advanced law enforcement training and strong community partnerships are instrumental to enhancing investigations, working effectively with older victims and holding perpetrators accountable. I commend the participating officers as well as our partners at Springwell and the Attorney General's Office for their dedication to the important work of protecting vulnerable residents."

"We are thrilled to collaborate with both state and community partners to deliver critical training to officers across the Commonwealth." MPTC Executive Director Robert Ferullo (Ret. Police Chief) said. "By equipping law enforcement with the latest knowledge, skills and community resources necessary to respond and combat elder abuse, we can make a profound impact on the lives of our most vulnerable community members."

"Elder abuse is a problem that not only impacts the health, safety, and dignity of elders, but all of us," Attorney General Andrea Joy Campbell said. "We owe our seniors more than just our respect. With partnerships and trainings like these, we have an opportunity to share best practices and take action to address the mistreatment, abuse, exploitation, and neglect seniors face."

"Springwell's Protective Services Program is there to respond whenever a report of elder abuse is made, and we are committed to the goal of alleviating the risk to the elder and supporting their safety, health, and independence. Our team is on the ground, working directly with the older adult, and often their family, as well as our partner organizations, to achieve the best possible outcome. We bring understanding to complex situations, working to respect the elder's decisions and meet them where they are, and that often gets us to the goal of safety." Springwell Protective Services Program Manager Elisa Espinal said.

"The best way to combat Elder Abuse is through a unified effort." Belmont Police Department Lieutenant Kristin Daley said.

In addition to elder abuse, MPTC provides specialized training in a variety of topics to equip officers with a as well as tools to respond swiftly and professionally.

FRESH AND LOCAL Induction Cooking

By Penny & Ed Cherubino

Most of our cooking has been done on induction burners for the past six years. We have a very nice glass top electric range. However, since we bought our first induction burner, that cooktop has been used as extra counter space.

Our first portable burner was a way to explore induction without replacing our range. Most of our cookware was stainless steel, carbon steel, or cast iron. We were induction ready. (You can use a magnet to test your cookware. If it sticks to the pan’s bottom, it can be used with induction.)

Penny loves the precise temperature control, ease of use, safety, and easy cleanup that induction offers. Now that the pandemic shortages are easing, we plan to buy an induction range.

Pros and Cons

The New York Times review site “Wireless” did a great job summarizing the pros and cons of induction cooking. They have separate pages for induction burners and cooktops. The most often cited negative aspect is the expense for the initial purchase of a range or cooktop. In addition, most full-size induction units require a 240-volt outlet which you may have to install. If switching from gas to induction, you’ll need a plumber to cap your gas line.

On the other hand, induction is energy efficient.

Choosing Induction

If you decide to buy an induction appliance, you’ll have to pay attention to specific features. In comparing ranges, here are a few decisions we’ve made. We’d like knobs rather than digital controls. We require one burner with extra power for jobs like searing meat and wok cooking. We need a cooktop that can bridge two burners for large, cast iron Dutch ovens or griddles. We would prefer a sealed and protected edge to the glass top to prevent chipping. We’d love to have a warming draw for storing pans.

Your needs and wants may be different and since we already enjoy the benefits of induction, we can wait to get the exact range that fits our needs. Your situation may add other priorities like availability, fewer demands for specific features, or a different budget to the mix.

BOOK REVIEW

"Seabiscuit"

By Laura Hillenbrand

Reviewed By Bernie Kelly

"Seabiscuit" by Laura Hillenbrand is a recounting of the fabulous career of Seabiscuit, the world-famous racehorse. Seabiscuit was in direct lineage from Man O'War, another earlier well-known racehorse.

Seabiscuit developed slowly, usually content to lope around the tracks at his own pace, letting other horses trot ahead of him. Somehow the horse caught the eye of C.S. Howard, a wealthy tycoon who dabbled in racehorses, and Tom Smith, a veteran horse trainer who dedicated most of his life to watching over the animals. In addition, Red Pollard, a down on his luck jockey went along for the ride, so to speak! All three men achieved fame and fortune as Seabiscuit garnered front page headlines all over the country.

Smith and Howard brought the horse along until he became not only competitive, but a proven winner in racetracks across the land. The only exceptions came about when Seabiscuit had to run on a wet, muddy tracks, wherein he fared poorly.

Seabiscuit's chief rival was War Admiral, another horse who had captured the fancy of the populace.

After a series of matchups, Seabiscuit emerged victorious in a highly featured race.

Tom Smith deserved most of the credit for developing Seabiscuit into a genuine champion, although Red Pollard, the jockey, achieved kudos as well.

Pollard was a diminutive Irishman with a proven track record. After some early success on the racing tour, he ran out of steam, so to speak. Fortunately, he encountered Smith and Seabiscuit by dint of luck and he bonded with the horse immediately.

Laura Hillenbrand has a storyteller's knack of keeping the reader interested and engaged. Her depiction of the lot of the majority of jockeys in the 1930's is admirable.

Pollard, after getting hurt in a big race, recuperated locally at Winthrop Hospital. It was here that he courted and married a nurse. Their marriage lasted through the years, but he took to drink after a time and his wife took care of him. After Seabiscuit, he became a drifter, going from stable to stable in search of work.

Laura Hillenbrand's style is refreshing and unpretentious. The author never indulges in fancy, instead relying on a mosaic of facts to roll out onto the page in a way that captures the reader's attention. She is an accomplished scribe who knows whereof she writes. She has also written "Unbroken", a war story.

This book is a testament to the intricacies inherent in horse racing. Tom Smith was one of the finest trainers who ever lived. He dedicated his sole attention to grooming and preparing his horses for the big races.

C.S. Howard, the gregarious millionaire who brought the horse should also be praised and credited. His pertinacity in developing Seabiscuit brought him to the apex of the racing world This book is a must read. Enjoy!

ZUMIX to Host 2023 Walk for Music

Special to the Transcript

East Boston, MA – On Sunday, July 9, ZUMIX will host its annual Walk for Music. ZUMIX community members and other participants will walk through East Boston's parks to support ZUMIX's award-winning music and youth empowerment programs. registration at the ZUMIX Firehouse and the walk itself, starting at 4 p.m. Festivities will continue with the kickoff of ZUMIX's Summer Concert Series in Piers Park, also a part of the annual Eastie Week celebration spearheaded by Boston Harbor Now.

Created as a response to the need for high-quality music programming in Boston's schools and communities, the Walk for Music has historically been an afternoon of music, celebration, and community for local music organizations. This year's event will highlight the neighborhoods and green spaces of East Boston, including Piers Park, Bremen Street Park, and the Mary Ellen Welch Greenway. Walkers can sign up to walk or fundraiser in advance on the event page at <https://secure.givelively.org/donate/zumix-inc/walk-for-music-2023>.

"We're so thrilled to come out and celebrate with our community at Walk for Music," said Madeleine Steczynski, co-founder and executive director of ZUMIX. "It's always such a joyful day of creativity, connection, and the support that keeps us going."

Walk for Music is one of ZUMIX's largest annual fundraisers, allowing the organization to keep its creative programs free and low-cost and serve more than 1,000 youth each year. ZUMIX offers programs for young people ages 7-18 in songwriting and performance, creative media and technology, musical theater, private lesson instruction, and instrumental ensembles.

On Sunday, July 9 at 3 p.m., walkers will gather at the ZUMIX Firehouse at 260 Summer Street for registration and begin the walk. In the case of inclement weather, the concert and celebration after the walk will take place at

The free activities and entertainment will kick off at 11 a.m., including a Constitution-themed minigolf course, yard games, the sounds of Boston Music Award-winning Erin Harpe Country Blues Duo, and hands-on activities hosted by Military Service branches. Independence Day cake will be served, as well as an array of food trucks and other refreshments in the Navy Yard.

The event is made possible by the Bob Woodruff Foundation, who named the Museum as a winner of their Got Your 6 Event Contest in March 2023. The Contest is an initiative of the Bob Woodruff Foundation's Got Your 6 Network, which is named for a World War I expression meaning "I've got your back." With partners in every US state and territory, the Network responds to the needs of our military and veteran community on a local level.

Earlier, before the Block Party begins, the public is invited to participate in a service project from 9:30-11 a.m. creating 500 care packages for vulnerable

Veterans at the New England Center and Home for Veterans, Veterans Northeast Outreach Center, and Bedford Veterans Quarters of Caritas Communities. Registration is requested by visiting the Museum event website. Throughout the event, visitors are also invited to leave encouraging messages to Navy Recruits at Boot Camp. This letter-writing initiative will live on as a permanent part of the Museum's newest exhibit, "Honor, Courage, and Commitment," spotlighting the United States Navy sailor's experience today, from enlistment to deployment.

A lounge for Service Members, Veterans, and their families, will be available in the Museum throughout the day where the Museum will provide refreshments, a special gift, and a video game deployment with Frost Call, a Boston-based Veteran organization that specializes in connecting veterans through gaming.

The event is designed to bring communities together to celebrate Military service and Independence Day in the heart of the Charlestown Navy Yard, where maritime history, naval heritage, and the American experience come to life. USS Constitution Museum President Anne Grimes Rand adds, "We are grateful to the Bob Woodruff Foundation for the opportunity to host this event. Every day we see the dedication of USS Constitution's crew as we work alongside them. This celebration shines a light on their work and the impact of all Service Members and their families, who stand watch to protect us all."

To enhance the celebration, the Museum is launching dynamic digital content, including a free event guide, in the Bloomberg Connects app, available for download from Google Play or the App Store. The Museum's guide provides a range of features including video, audio, and text; expert commentary; and way-finding maps as another way for the public to expand their experience, learn more about USS Constitution's story, and gain a slice of the museum experience, with translations in multiple languages. The app platform is part of Bloomberg Philanthropies' longstanding commitment to supporting digital innovation in the arts, making it easy to access and engage with arts and culture from mobile devices when visiting in person or anytime from anywhere.

The event is free and open to the public. No registration is required for the Block Party. We request advance registration for the morning care package service project. Further information is available on the Museum's website.
