Winthrop Police lieutenant facing child rape charge

By Transcript Staff

A Winthrop Police lieutenant is facing charges of child rape and two counts of indecent assault and battery on a child under 14, according to the Suffolk County District Attorney's office.

Police Lieutenant James Feeley was arraigned in East Boston District Court on Wednesday morning and ordered held on $200,000 bail. He is due back in court again on Jan. 29.

In the criminal complaint, it was alleged that Feeley "did unlawfully have sexual intercourse or unnatural sexual intercourse" with the victim and that the victim was "under 12 years of age."

Assistant District Attorney Benjamin Hui said the assaults occurred over the past year. Feeley was arrested on Tuesday night after an investigation by State Police detectives assigned to Hayden's office.

Hayden said his office has prosecutors and victim witness advocates specially trained to work with child victims of sexual assault.

"We have a far better understanding of the care and approach to child victims of violence and sexual assault than in the past, and this victim and the victim's family will receive all the help and support they need as this case moves forward," Hayden said.

On Wednesday morning, Winthrop Police Chief Terence Delehanty issued a statement regarding Lt. James Feeley.

Town Council honors outgoing members

By Adam Swift

Last week's Town Council meeting was the final one for Councilors Barbara Flockhart, Tracey Honan, and Stephen Ruggeiro.

Council President Jim Letterie presented citations to the councilors for their service to the town. In addition, several residents thanked the councilors for their time in office during the public comment portion of the meeting.

"Time goes by really quickly, and Barbara, Steve, and Tracey have been here for four years," said Letterie. "They each bring different traits to the council."

Letterie thanked Ruggeiro for taking on the chair of the council's rules committee and putting in countless hours in the effort.

"Barbara, you have been a calming influence on many of us; your work ethic is second to none, you've put in the time needed and we very much appreciate that," said Letterie.

Letterie thanked Honan for providing some of the best conversations he's had on the council in the past 18 years and thanked her for the time she has put into her role.

"It's been said in a lot of ways that it is a thankless job, and to put your name on the ballot and to serve for those four years is incredibly appreciated and we thank you very much," Letterie told the three departing councilors.

Honan thanked the citizens of Winthrop for allowing her to serve and

A look back at Winthrop's top stories this year

Compiled by Adam Swift

The fate of a proposed new fire station was one of the most hotly contested issues in Winthrop in 2023.

In November, voters rejected a ballot question for a debt exclusion that would have allowed the town to move forward with the building of a new fire station at the location of the Wadsworth Building and Kirby Funeral Home. The total cost of the project was expected to fall between $36-$40 million.

There was support for building a new fire station in town to replace the two current facilities, which are both well over a century old. But there were questions raised about the cost and location of the project.

Following the election, Town Council President Jim Letterie said the town is committed to building a new fire station/public

OUR Opinions

HAPPY NEW YEAR

We often quote a verse from Alfred Lord Tennyson’s “Ring Out Wild Bells” when we write our annual New Year’s editorial.

But after re-reading the poem in its entirety, we are printing the whole thing, because it sums up -- better than we ever could express -- our feelings about 2023 and our hopes for 2024.

Although it was published in 1850, its verses are timeless. Indeed, one could apply every stanza to something going on in the world today.

So we hope you take the time to read it and enjoy it, as we did the other day:

Ring out, wild bells, to the wild sky,
The flying cloud, the frosty light;
The year is dying in the night;
Ring out, wild bells, and let him die.
Ring out the old, ring in the new,
Ring, happy bells, across the snow:
The year is going, let him go;
Ring out the false, ring in the true.
Ring out the grief that saps the mind,
For those that here we see no more,
Ring out the feud of rich and poor,
Ring in redress to all mankind.
Ring out a slowly dying cause,
And ancient forms of party strife;
Ring in the nobler modes of life,
With sweeter manners, purer laws.
Ring out the want, the care, the sin,
The faithless coldness of the times;
Ring out, ring out thy mournful rhymes,
But ring the fuller minstrel in.
Ring out false pride in place and blood,
The civic slander and the spite;
Ring in the love of truth and right,
Ring in the common love of good.
Ring out old shapes of foul disease,
Ring out the narrowing lust of gold;
Ring out the thousand wars of old,
Ring in the thousand years of peace.
Ring in the valiant man and free,
The larger heart, the kindlier hand;
Ring out the darkness of the land,
Ring in the Christ that is to be.

We wish all of our readers a Happy and Healthy New Year.

Eruzione Foundation donates equipment for school CPR training

By Adam Swift

The Eruzione Foundation has never hesitated to step up to help the residents and students of Winthrop.

Recently, the foundation donated equipment to the Winthrop Public Schools that will help middle school students learn CPR, Superintendent of Schools Lisa Howard told the School Committee at its most recent meeting.

“The students really seem to enjoy it, and it is such a great skill to have,” said Howard.

During the CPR training, Howard noted that there have also been discussions about AED machines, what they are and how to find them in case students ever have to assist in locating or getting one during a medical emergency.

In other business at the School Committee meeting, Howard noted that the district was looking to fill several positions, including several food service workers as well as an assistant food service manager at the Middle/High School.

In addition, she said the district was also seeking an ABA technician to work with special needs students in the autism program at the Gorman Fort Banks School, as well as a long-term ESP substitute at the middle school to cover for a maternity leave.

DAVID GREEN MEMORIAL HOOP TOURNEY THIS WEEK; TITLE CONTESTS SET FOR TODAY

The Winthrop High boys and girls basketball teams are hosting the third annual David Green Memorial Basketball Tournament this week.

On the girls' side, Ham-ilton-Wenham and Stone-ham opened the tourney yesterday (Wednesday) morning and Gloucester and Winthrop met at 2:00.

For the boys, North Reading met Greater Law-rence at noon and Win-throp met Saugus at 4:00.

Today (Thursday) will feature the girls' consol-ation contest at noon and the girls' championship game at 4:00. The boys' consolation match will be at 10:00 and the boys championship game is set for 2:00.

WHS GIRLS HOCKEY BLASTS MARBLEHEAD; HOSTS GLOUCESTER SAT.

The Winthrop High girls hockey team cruised to its third win in as many games this season with a 9-0 victory over Northeast Hockey League (NHL) rival Marblehead last Wednesday at Salem State College.

"We started off a little but slowly," said WHS head coach Anthony Mar-tucci. "The bigger ice sur-face at Salem State is al-ways an adjustment for us. It is a warm barn, and the ice is soft. So it takes us a bit to get acclimated to the place."

However, once the Lady Vikings made the adjust-ment, it was a nightmare for Marblehead. Sami Di-Mento started the scoring, assisted by Izzy Cash and Hannah Parker. "Sami has been on fire for us so far this year," lauded Martuc-ci. "She is playing great hockey and it has resulted in her scoring goals."

After DiMento got the puck rolling, Winthrop rattled in two more goals, the first being a bomb of a shot from sophomore defenseman Tegan Peri-era. "We are very lucky to have a bunch of defense-men who can really ham-mer a puck, but that shot by Tegan was an absolute bullet," said Martucci.

Izzy Cash then made it 3-0 with an all-out ef-fort goal. "Izzy was flying around and disrupting ev-erything Marblehead was trying to do, until she fi-nally got them to make a huge mistake," said Mar-tucci. "Sami DiMento picked off a pass and slid the puck across to Izzy for a tap-in goal. We love the tap-in goals because it means that they found each other in open space. Sami does that a lot, and this time 'Bones' was re-warded for her forecheck-ing effort."

The Lady Vikings' sti-fling forechecking contin-ued to make life difficult for the Lady Magicians in the second period, result-ing in goals by Hannah Parker (two gems), Ange-la Coscia, and Reese Fer-rara, extending the Win-throp lead to 7-0.

"Senior captain Han-nah Parker led the way in this period with her size, speed, and strength," not-ed Martucci. "She was able to pretty much domi-nate and it led to two beau-tiful goals. Ang' Coscia is only a freshman, but she is a tireless worker who has excellent skills, and her goal showed that. Reese Ferrara is that player ev-ery coach needs on their team. She works so hard and never says a word. Her goal was a great one, and it was nice to see her hard work pay off."

With the clock in run-ning-time mode in the third period because the goal differential was six, the final 15-minute stan-za went by quickly, with the Lady Vikings adding two more goals, one from Chloe Couture and the other from Talia Martuc-ci. Both goals were scored off excellent passes, with Couture's goal coming on a 2-on-1 break in which Martucci was able to get her the puck and Chloe was in great position to pound it home. Talia's goal came off a brilliant feed from Izzy Cash (her fourth assist and fifth point of the game). "Both goals were the result of unselfish passing plays," said Martucci.

"The story of this peri-od though, was the play of Avery Shea, Stella Pel-letier, Claudia Alquinta, and Fran indresano," Mar-tucci continued. "All four of these players played great."

Their performance also earned some praise from assistant coach Chris Palmer. "I was very im-pressed with Fran Indri-sano in this one," said Palmer. "She skated well, made some great moves, and made a few excellent passes."

Assistant coach Sean Carleton also chimed-in about this forward group. "I thought that the trio of Avery Shea, Stella Pellet-ier, and Claudia Alquinta gave us some big shifts in the third period. They went out there and worked hard. I was impressed."

Assistant coach (and former WHS great) Caro-line McKinnon was equal-ly impressed with some of the forwards and the defense.

"This was a very good effort from a lot of players, but I am going to have to say it was Avalina Coffey, Izi Hain, and Tori Bates whom I noticed having a very good game".

WHS goalie Riley Towse posted the shutout, making 12 saves on the evening. "Riley has been great for us," said Mar-tucci. "She is focused and driven. It has really been on display early on."

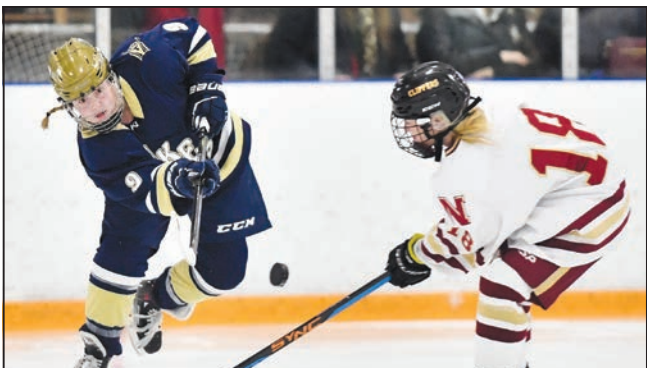

"Overall it was a great team win and we are now looking forward to a huge week when we play both

WHS GIRLS HOCKEY ROLL OVER NEWBURYPORT, 7 - 1

The girls wrote the script for Winthrop hock-ey Saturday afternoon at Larsen Rink, exploding for six second period goals on the way to a 7-1 victory over Newburyport. Later in the afternoon, the boys did pretty much the same thing—six goals in the second period—with a du-plicate 7-1 socre in a win over Danvers. Sami Di-mento let the way with a pair of goals as Winthrop improved to 2-0 going into a Wednesday (Dec 20) en-counter with Marblehead.

CLEARING THE WAY: Amelia Spencer (9) fires a clearing pass out of the Winthrop defensive zone as Newburyport's Lainey Pare circles in to forecheck.

EYES ON IT: Winthrop's Avalina Coffey (14) and Newburyport's Katelyn Brown (2) vie for a bouncing puck.

POINT BLANK: Gabby Buonopane (16) puts a shot on the Newburyport net from in close.

DIGGING: Hannah Barrett (21) reaches between Newburyport's Delaney Belanger (20) and Riley Freeman in the fight for a loose puck along the boards.

CELEBRATE: Gabby Buonopane reacts after a goal gave Winthrop a 3-0 second period lead.

NO TRESPASSING: Goaltender Riley Towse backed the strong Winthrop defense and kept Newburyport offense marooned throughout the afternoon.

QUICK MOVE: Talia Martucci (52) cuts a change of direction as she carries the puck up ice.

Bobby Fisher hit for 10 points and Jake Chiudina added nine. "We're overall a young team and we're a work in progress," said WHS head coach Mike DiMarino.

Gregory Tzannos

He led a rich, full and fun life and will be sorely missed by those who knew him

 Gregory F. Tzannos, 77, of Winthrop, passed away peacefully after an unexpected event on December 5 surrounded by his beloved family. He is survived by his wife of 40 years, Linda Wagner-Tzannos, daughters Krista Tzannos-Byron of Salem and Kimberly Wagner-Melendez of Winthrop; granddaughters, Elektra Newman and Ysabelle Regis and grandson, Oliver Pocknett; brothers, Nicholas Tzannos, Jr. of Billerica and Mark Tzannos of Saugus; his nieces and nephews, aunts, uncles and many cousins and friends.

Gregory was born on December 30, 1947 to Mary (Balliro) and Nicholas Tzannos and spent the earlier part of his life in Boston's North End, Somerville and East Boston. Greg was an avid world traveler and explorer. He and Linda shared a passion for visiting Europe, Germany especially, and always came back with wildly entertaining tales of their many adventures. He was an artist who dabbled in painting, but found true medium in designing and building miniature scale replicas of medieval castles in incredible detail. Greg served briefly in the US Navy, was a historian with a special fascination for war and military strategy, and was equally fascinated by knights as by World War II fighter planes. He was an entrepreneurial spirit.

Greg worked an eclectic array of jobs during his life, started and assisted with multiple businesses and had a refreshingly imaginative approach to money, finance and income. He loved food and he loved to dress sharp. He was known as generous, had a wonderful sense of humor, and went out of his way to make anyone he was talking to feel important or special. When someone needed him, he was always there for encouragement and good advice. He led a rich, full, and fun life, and will be sorely missed by those who knew him. He definitely did it his way.

A Celebration of Life Service will be held on his birthday in the Caggiano-O'Maley-Frazier Funeral Home, Winthrop on Saturday, December 30 from 4 to 6 p.m. Please join the family downstairs in the funeral home's Cafe for some birthday cake and refreshments from 6 to 8 p.m.

Mass., A.F. & A.M.

A fire destroyed the premises at 36 Woodside Avenue. Fortunately, no one was injured and the adjacent property at 38 Woodside Ave., the Smith and Wells Buick auto dealership, was saved. Another fire destroyed the old wooden boat storage building at the East Boston bridge. The owner of that property, Walter G. Baker, who also owns the gasoline station nearby, has plans for an attractive set of buildings to replace the burnt-out structure.

The committee appointed by town meeting to discuss the consolidation of town departments will meet next week.

There are two interesting bills before the legislature that have been presented by the Automobile Legal Association. One would change the penalty for reckless or drunk driving from a fine or imprisonment to solely imprisonment. Another would compel drivers of horse-drawn carts to carry lights after dark.

A new law pertaining to the issuance of bonds by municipalities will take effect this year.

Rev. W.J. Sherman is the new pastor at the Union Congregational Church.

Winthrop welcomed the New Year with many parties throughout the town. The bells at the central and Beach fire stations were rung at midnight.

safety facility and that there would be more information about the future of the project in the new year.

In other election news, 2023 saw a combination of new and familiar faces elected to the Town Council and the School Committee.

Letterie won reelection as council president, while Max Tassinari, John Munson, Suzanne Swope, and John Daros were also elected to the council.

The School Committee saw the election of Layne Petrie, Zachary Purinton, and incumbent Gus Martucci.

The future of a public safety facility wasn't the only public building issue to come before the council and the town this year.

Over the summer, Letterie presented the idea of a proposed public-private partnership to build a sports complex at the Winthrop Middle School site.

Several councilors and residents praised Letterie's efforts in bringing the proposal for the long vacant old middle school site forward, but said they would like to see the town cast a wider net for the use of the vacant middle school. Marino worked on having the town issue a Request for Information (RFI) to gauge the interest in the development of the school as a sports complex or for other purposes.

Letterie has stated that one of the goals for the development of the property is to drive economic development and opportunities for the town.

The past year saw the council approve a new trash policy that allows residents to purchase trash bags to put out additional trash for collection on pick-up days.

The past year also saw the town enter into a two-year agreement with the MBTA for the T to run the town's commuter ferry service.

Town Manager Tony Marino and other town officials have had positive feedback on the new ferry arrangement and have expressed their desire to have the MBTA take over the ferry service on a more long-term basis.

The end of the year saw an ugly Zoombombing incident at a council meeting, as a masked internet troll made anti-semitic slurs during the public speaking portion of a meeting.

Police Chief Terence Delehanty and town officials vowed to investigate and prosecute those responsible for the incident. The town also looked to improve safety and security for online participation in public meetings.

The ugly incident did not overshadow the honors bestowed upon those who have contributed positively to the town.

The Miller Field ticket booth was named in honor of Amy Gallagher.

Gallagher was a beloved Winthrop educator who died at the age of 55 in 2020.

Gallagher graduated from Winthrop High School in 1983 and was known as the heart and soul of Winthrop Public Schools, serving for over 10 years as a Winthrop Middle School ESP. She was named Queen of the Café by the WHS Post Graduates, was a WMS Stuco advisor, co-Quiz Bowl advisor, Spelling Bee co-chair, and Winthrop Teachers Association PR officer.

Later in the year, the council voted to name the tennis courts at Ingleside Park after former Winthrop High School Principal and tennis coach John Domenico.

A member of the Winthrop High School Class of 1945, Domenico was an athlete, coach, teacher and administrator at Winthrop High School. He was captain of his baseball team in 1945 and the winner of the Bentley Swift Award given at graduation to the boy who has done the most for athletics during his high school years.

Domenico played baseball at Northeastern University and tennis at the University of Maine from which he graduated. He became the WHS baseball coach in 1953 and served in that capacity until 1960. He was the principal of Winthrop High School from 1970 to 1986 and the WHS boys tennis coach for many years.

The year also saw Rich Honan step back from running his lauded Christmas care package program for military personnel after more than two decades.

"After 21 years and over 43,000 pounds of peanut butter crackers, trail mix, Mac n' Cheese, magazines, granola bars, movie videos, Marshmallow Fluff, cans of clam chowder and letters and cards from the school children of Winthrop, I have decided to retire my military care package and Christmas Tree care package program," Honan said. "In 21 years, I have sent these boxes of support to men and women in all five branches of the military and to all seven continents."

putting their trust in her.

"I've met so many wonderful people that I don't think I would have otherwise in my position as a town councilor, and that includes everyone here in this room," said Honan. "I want to thank my fellow councilors, whom I've enjoyed working with. You've challenged me and we've had a lot of fun and it's been real."

Honan said she has learned a lot in the past four years and that she hopes to serve the community in other ways.

Flockhart thanked the voters, especially those in Precinct 4, and said it was a pleasure to work with the councilors.

"As somebody who has only lived here for 32 years, I'm still a newbie, and it's been a pleasure getting to know so much more about the town and so many more people, and I really feel like I understand so much better about Winthrop now," said Flockhart.

Rugeiro said he spent time reflecting on his tenure on the council and was proud of everything the council has accomplished.

"Some of the things that have happened over the past four years, I don't think anyone could predict, and I think we did a really good job of handling them," said Rugeiro.

In other business, Letterie read a statement from the council condemning the anti-semitic Zoombombing incident that took place during the public comment portion of the Dec. 5 meeting.

UMass announces scholarships for top 10-percent of community college graduates

Special to the Transcript

The University of Massachusetts announced that the top 10 percent of the Commonwealth's future community college graduates will receive a minimum of $5,000 per year above federal and private financial aid if they enroll at one of the four nationally ranked campuses in Amherst, Boston, Dartmouth, and Lowell.

The Community College Advantage Scholarship (CCAS) is designed to incentivize highly talented community college students to finish their associate degree at one of the Commonwealth's 15 community colleges, and then complete their bachelor's degree at one of the four nationally ranked University of Massachusetts campuses.

The CCAS also seeks to address two challenges facing public higher education in Massachusetts:

- Providing equitable access to historically underrepresented groups of students in light of the recent U.S. Supreme Court decision on race-based admissions, and
- Strengthening the Commonwealth's talent pipeline as the number of high school graduates in Massachusetts is projected to decline in the coming years, the existing population is aging out of the workforce, and more young people are leaving the state.

"We want to send a clear message that UMass welcomes highly talented community college graduates to continue their pursuit of a college degree on our nationally ranked Amherst, Boston, Dartmouth and Lowell campuses," UMass President Marty Meehan said. "We believe this initiative will lead to more community college graduates choosing to finish their four-year degree at UMass, which will accelerate their upward economic trajectory and strengthen the Commonwealth's workforce."

"As New England's first Hispanic Serving Institution, Northern Essex Community College serves thousands of students each year, mostly from the Gateway Cities of Haverhill and Lawrence and towns across the Merrimack Valley, seeking a path to a college degree and greater career and economic opportunities," NECC President Lane Glenn said. "The Community College Advantage Scholarship will help more of them continue on that path from an associate degree to a bachelor's degree at one of the state's outstanding UMass campuses."

Starting in Fall 2024, the CCAS will help develop and retain diverse talent in Massachusetts by:

- Guaranteeing students in the top 10 percent of their community college graduating class automatic admission to a University of Massachusetts campus and a minimum of $2,500 per semester ($5,000 annually) for a total of at least $10,000 for the students' final two years of college.
- Students remain eligible for additional aid based on individual circumstances.
- The CCAS will supplement federal and private grants awarded to the student.

To be eligible for the Fall 2024 CCAS, students must:

- Complete their degree in the top 10 percent of their graduating class at their college. This will be calculated as of the end of the semester prior to the UMass financial aid priority deadline (Students applying for fall admission must have been in the top 10 percent of their class as of the end of the Fall 2023 semester).
- Complete the 2024-25 Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) or equivalent state financial aid application.
- Be eligible for in-state tuition.

- Have earned 45+ credits that are transferable to UMass.
- Be on track to complete their associate degree prior to the Fall 2024 semester.
- The CCAS is the latest in a series of state and UMass initiatives aimed at expanding access to a four-year college degree, which data shows significantly enhances a person's lifetime income.

The University has increased annual institutional financial aid by 67 percent to $395 million since 2015 and has launched an early college program that allows high school students in urban centers to earn UMass course credit while still in high school, thereby saving them tuition costs once they get to college.

The state has recently made community college tuition free for students 25 years or age and older and has expanded the Mass-Grant+ program by $62 million to close make public higher education more affordable for lower- and middle-income students.

Northern Essex Community College, the first Federally designated Hispanic Serving Institution in New England, is an education leader for the Merrimack Valley. Through a supportive learning environment and cultural inclusion, NECC embraces all identities and inspires initiative and excellence through top-notch affordable certificate and associate degree programs online and at campuses in Haverhill and Lawrence. NECC offers many bachelor's degree transfer options, workforce development and community education classes, and is host to the NECC Police Academy, MassHire Merrimack Valley, and Gallaudet University's Regional Center for the deaf and hard of hearing. Visit Northern Essex online at www.necc.mass.edu.
