TEMPLE TIFEREH ISRAEL PRESENTS A DISCUSSION ON THE HOLOCAUST

Temple Tifereth Israel will present "The Holocaust: Its Origin, Planning, and Execution Author Talk & Discussion at Temple Tifereth Israel, 93 Veterans Road, on Tuesday, June 25 from 6:30 - 8 p.m.

The Holocaust, carried out by Adolf Hitler's Nazi Germany during World War II, was the most heinous organized crime of the 20th century, if not all of human history. If we wish to prevent such horrors from ever happening again, we must first educate ourselves on how and why it happened.

The goal of this discussion is to contribute to our community's knowledge of the history of the Holocaust and to help ensure that that history - or any similar series of events and deeds - does not repeat itself.

A significant portion of the session will be devoted to the personal experiences of survivors, their families and neighbors from the city of Vilna, Poland (now Vilnius, Lithuania.) Also the discussion will focus on the origins and growth of anti-Semitism that made the Holocaust possible; how the Nazis organized and carried out their "Final Solution;" and why America and the rest of the world were slow to act on evidence of atrocities.

The speaker will be Thomas Burke, who grew up in Winthrop, attended BC High

Internal Audit Report given to Town Council

By Sue Ellen Woodcock

Every year the town departments undergo an internal audit report to see how the town is operating. For the past few years the town officials have been using the firm of Powers and Sullivan.

Tuesday night principal James Powers presented the results of the audit and basically said the town isn't perfect, but it is in good shape.

"It's a clean report with no issues," he said about the financial statement and the report on federal award programs (mostly tied to schools).

It's Summertime! Lifeguards back on the beach

By Sue Ellen Woodcock

Summer is here and the Department of Conservation and Recreation lifeguards are back at Winthrop Shore Drive Beach, as well as Lynn Shore and Nahant Beach Reservation's Nahant Beach and Revere Beach.

"The Massachusetts Department of Conservation and Recreation (DCR) employs hundreds of lifeguards across the Commonwealth in an effort to make designated swimming locations safer experiences for visitors to enjoy," said spokesman Troy Wall. "DCR lifeguards are professional rescuers who are trained to both prevent injuries from occurring, and to respond in an emergency to help save a life. As part of a team, lifeguards must work together calmly and efficiently to manage crisis situations.

"The main duty and responsibility of a lifeguard is to provide surveillance of swimmers from the lifeguard chair or on the edge of the water, and react should a swimmer become distressed or is in a dangerous situation," Wall said.

The DCR has stationed lifeguards, who are mostly

BHCC AWARDED $140,000 GRANT TO SUPPORT EARLY COLLEGE PROGRAMS

Bunker Hill Community College (BHCC) was among eight public colleges and 13 high schools that were awarded new early college designations giving high school students the opportunity to study college-level courses and obtain credits before graduating high school. On June 13, BHCC and Madison Park Technical Vocational High School's Roxbury Massachusetts Advanced Post-Secondary Pathways Program (RoxMAPP) partnership was awarded a $140,000 grant to expand their early college program.

Gov. Charlie Baker and Education Secretary James Peyser made the announcement at BHCC during an event recognizing the high schools and colleges that launched early college programs this school year. With the new designations, 35 high schools and 18 colleges will offer opportunities for students that are low-income, minority or potentially first-generation college students to take traditional high school classes with college courses at a local college/university. The goal of this program is to create a continuous path for these students to move from high school to college and careers.

"We believe early college has such an impact on student success," Governor Baker said. "Our administration proposed making it part of a school district's state aid calculations so that more districts can provide students with these opportunities."

The RoxMAPP Early College High School partnership with BHCC has been engaged in curriculum alignment in math and English to develop greater connections between high school and college instructors and to assist greater numbers of students to be college ready in these key subject areas. A "Bridge to Success" curriculum was developed by the partners to provide college exploration and readiness that complements the robust vocational curriculum already offered to Madison Park students. Most early college students take up to two courses per semester at BHCC and select courses in business and marketing, health science, technology, general education and more.

"I'm so proud to see the students, teachers, staff and administrators of Madison Park being recognized for years of hard work and dedication," said Nuri Chandler-Smith, Dean of Academic Support and College Pathway Programs at BHCC. "A hallmark of the RoxMAPP Early College High School partnership with BHCC is that it enables students to earn both an industry recognized credential and significant number of college credits by the time they graduate high school. Madison Park students have demonstrated that they are capable of excellence and deserve the best of our resources."

"Early college leverages academics, advising and career literacy," said BHCC President Pam Eddinger. "In this initiative all students, not just the top 1-percent, can excel when given the right support and the right environment. I believe this is the practice of equity in our college work, when we stop seeing our students as 'at-risk', but at promise."

In 2018, the Richard and Susan Smith Family Foundation awarded $2.4 million to BHCC to establish early college at BHCC. The funding covers a three-year project horizon and will allow BHCC to consolidate its early college efforts into a core model that anticipates growth in scale and performance. Through partnerships with area high schools and community-based organizations, nearly 500 students participate in BHCC's early college program annually. For more information on BHCC's early college programs visit bhcc.edu/hspartnerships/earlycollege.

High school grads trending toward community colleges

By Kate Anslinger

Out of the 156 high school graduates this year, 31 are attending community college, an all-time high for Winthrop graduates in recent years. This high enrollment in the smaller, two-year schools is proving to be a trend nation-wide, and for good reason, as the financial burden of four-year colleges often turns into a lifelong commitment, leaving graduates paying off loans well into adulthood.

Still undecided on what she wants to major in, recent Winthrop High School graduate Kiera Turner will be starting at Bunker Hill Community College in the fall and has plans of transferring to a four-year college when she has a better idea of her future career plans. North Shore Community College is also popular with students.

“I’m going in undecided,” said Turner. “I have ideas as to what I want to go for though. My current thoughts are either theatre technician or psychology. But something could easily change in the next two years. I chose community college over a four year because I don’t have an actual idea as to what I want to study so it felt like a perfect starting point.”

Turner’s reasoning for opting for community college is similar to the many other high school grads who don’t want to be burdened by debt when they are unsure of what they want to do for a career. The lower tuition rates at a community college offer both savings and an opportunity to explore a variety of different majors without breaking the bank. For those students who choose to work while attending school, a community college offers a flexible schedule with both day and night classes, catering to students who want the opportunity to attain more experience.

“I think it’s being a smart consumer,” said resident Nichole Vatcher, who works as an adjunct professor at both a four-year private university and a community college. Vatcher also has a history in academic advising and admission. “Higher education is becoming a buyer’s market and a lot of kids have clued into that. Also, many community colleges offer arrangements for direct admission to four-year schools once students complete an associate degree and many students see that as a great path to a college that may not be accessible otherwise.”

While the number of enrollments at four-year colleges declines, the enrollment numbers for community colleges continue to rise. The affordability of community college tuition is contributing to the upswing of graduation rates overall, as two-year schools are allowing students to get their foot in the door with half the cost of a four-year college. These fiscally responsible students have the opportunity to explore and determine what they truly want to major in before moving on to a four-year college, where they set themselves up on a positive path to graduate with a bachelor’s degree that straps them with far less debt than if they went straight to a four-year university undecided.

Smaller class sizes with easier access to professor guidance is an added bonus of attending a community college, but the numbers are what recent high school grads are really looking at, as there is a fear of being trapped in a life of debt like prior generations are struggling with now.

A student attending Salem State University will likely pay an estimated $11,019 for in-state tuition alone, whereas a student attending Bunker Hill Community College will pay only $4,718 per year. Taking it a step further, a student accepted into Harvard without any financial aid, will pay $47,730 per year for tuition alone. This does not include additional fees, health insurance, room and board, and personal expenses.

The future of education is shifting nationwide, as students are arming themselves with smart decisions that are less likely to be a burden on their bank accounts.

“We do not want to reduce service. We have reached out to several companies for captains. We are working as hard as possible to make sure that all shifts are full. This just speaks to the difficulty for a municipality to manage a ferry. We don’t have captains that can come in at any time and staff us. We want to provide an alternative for people driving into the city.”

Faison also wants to fulfill obligations to the Transportation Network of Metro of Greater Boston.

In the management letter, Powers pointed out areas the town needs to address to move forward. He noted that the town’s pension program was in great shape and is almost 90 percent funded.

“You’re retirement board has done a good job and they should be commended,” Powers said.

As for improvements, Powers urged the town to embrace technology and software that would allow for electronic permitting, a purchase order system, and being on top of cyber security.

He said they continue to recommend software for tracking town employees’ sick and vacation time. This sick and vacation time continues to be tracked manually at the department level. The letter continues to recommend that the town formalize their disaster recovery plan – how town data would be saved during a disaster and how the town would react.

thorp, and of course the new middle and high school and Miller Field projects.”

While Calla has a resume that proves her value in the town, she is most proud of her role as chair of the Public Health and Safety Committee. In 2016, Calla advocated for the creation of a peer recovery program, which now runs effortlessly thanks to the combined efforts of the Winthrop Police Department, CASA (Community Action for Safe Alternatives), the Public Health Department, and the town council. Known as CLEAR (Community and Law Enforcement Assisted Recovery), the program provides resources and services to those suffering from opioid addiction and abuse.

Calla credits Police Sgt. Sarko Gergerian, for being a major force in getting the program up and running and she has witnessed a lot of people benefiting from the program which has brought her a sense of accomplishment and pride.

“My platform was to be a voice for my precinct, and I think I followed through with that, said Calla, who plans to spend her free time traveling with her recently retired husband. “I loved my time on the council, but I think it’s time to rotate and elect someone new. I have to thank my family, constituents, friends, fellow councilors, and campaign committee for supporting me for the last 14 years.”

ARTICLE 884 - WEGENER'S RESTAURANT

As previously discussed, Point Shirley has had a number of prominent food service establishments since 1910 - - Orcutt's, Pulsifer's, Wegener's, Dupees', Houghton's, Surfside 16 and Madrid's to name a few. Today Wegener's and its successors will be featured in this Then and Now article. This name, long associated with Winthrop as a place for good food, entered our town in the early 1920s when Fred and Marie Wegener came here from Germany where Marie had competed in the Olympics as a shot putter. In November 1926, they first opened a small restaurant at 15 Somerset Ave. A few years later they moved to Short Beach, at the bottom of Upland Road where it meets Revere Street, as shown in the first picture. While extremely unlikely, a rumor existed that this new location was thought to be just outside the town boundary and therefore they would be able to sell beer and wine, however this was later determined to not be true. The current seawall had not yet been constructed and children can be seen enjoying time on the beach in front of the restaurant. Sometime in the early 1930s, Wegener's relocated to a new building on the Point at 16 Taft Ave. where the business operated until 1964. The second picture depicts this building in the 1950s, after a plow cleared the snow deposited by a Northeast storm. In 1964, Dan Houghton bought the business which he continued to operate until 1971 when Lil Douglas then purchased and renamed it the "Surfside 16" Restaurant. Picture three shows the sign for the new restaurant being mounted on the front of the building. The Blizzard of 1978 destroyed the original building and a new restaurant was constructed on the site which continued to provide excellent seafood dinners until it closed in 1992. The fourth picture depicts Lil Douglas pointing to one of the many local pictures that hung in her restaurant. Today this building is a duplex home.

A 19-year-old So. Boston young man learned the hard way, at a cost of a $31 fine imposed by Judge Barnes in the East Boston District Court, that it is not wise to sound a false alarm of fire in our town. Chief Tewksbury, speaking to the court, noted to the judge that the $31 fine, which was the cost to the town for the call firemen to respond to the alarm, was a sufficient punishment given that the young man had spent Saturday and Sunday nights in the local jail after he was arrested.

Many people feel that although there is a constant complaint made about the mischief caused by young boys, there rarely is enough of a follow up in terms of punishment. Modern criminal law practice has been greatly modified by the probation idea. For a great many first offenses, a man may be let off without a sentence for the time being, with a warning as to his future conduct. But many believe that young mischief-makers simply brag how they can commit all kinds of criminal acts and get away with them because the system is too lenient.

STUDENT HIGHLIGHT:

Tolliver heads to Case Western in the fall

By Kate Anslinger

Jackson Tolliver knows a great opportunity when he sees one. The recent Winthrop High School grad was awarded $57,000 in university grants to attend Case Western Reserve University in Cleveland, Ohio. He jumped at the chance to take advantage of what the top-tier school was offering him. After working as a counselor at Charles River Creative Arts Program this summer, Tolliver will be heading to Cleveland in the fall, with a double major in economics and political science and a minor in music.

Why did you choose Case Western Reserve University?
I chose Case because it is a top-tier university with a lot of opportunities that I can take advantage of. I initially applied to Case because they have a reputation for distributing a great deal of merit-based financial aid, which was very important to me. I didn't expect to get into the college, as acceptance this year was under 30 percent, but when I did, I knew it was an opportunity that I had to take advantage of. Cleveland is a great city; when I visited, I immediately felt like I was at home.

You've spent your high school career as a major player in the Drama Society. Will you be partaking in any activities while you attend college?
I will be participating in the University's a cappella team, "Case in Point," and I will be on the improv comedy team. I will also continue pursuing my music individually throughout college, my EP "Love Letters to a Dream" will be releasing this summer, and I hope to produce more music while I am in college.

Going off to college can be bittersweet. What will you miss about being home in Winthrop?
I will definitely miss the Drama Society, specifically Mrs. Karen Calinda, and I will forever be thankful for all of the opportunities she has given me. I have developed myself as an artist through my Music Composition for the METG Competition Shows, and I have developed myself as a person through her guidance. I will miss all of the teachers and friends who have supported me throughout my entire high school journey. I will also miss the Winthrop Open Discussion Group, which has helped me become a local celebrity.

What are some of your favorite memories that you'll be leaving behind?
My favorite memories throughout high school have been the individual and group accolades won at the METG festival. I have won nine All-Star Company awards, the most of anyone in the drama society, and I am thankful for each and every one of them. Nothing in my life has made me prouder than our shows Antigone and Faustus winning the state championship. Those two moments have been the best of my life, and I will miss those experiences more than anything.

LITTLE LEAGUE CHAMPIONS Rockies Roll and Purple Reigns

Special to the Transcript

The Orioles and manager Paul Pellechia had their backs against the wall on Monday June 10th when Patrick O'Mara-Gomis took the mound against the Angels. Both teams had lost on Sunday and faced elimination in the B Division playoff tournament. But O'Mara-Gomis dug deep and came up big on the mound and at the plate as he also hit a home run for the Orioles, keeping them alive for another day as the Orioles won in a slugfest, 19-13.

On Wednesday it was Marissa MacMullen who pitched a complete game gem against the Dodgers. She also came up with a timely bases-loaded double in the first inning to set the tone offensively, and the Orioles prevailed 10-2. Just like that, the Cinderella squad and 4th place seed had overcome a first round defeat and earned their way into the championship game. But they would need to wait another day, as the Thursday night showdown with the Rockies would be postponed until Friday night because of rain.

The Rockies meanwhile, were feeling confident after their 8-0 victory over the Orioles in round one Sunday June 9. That day Francesca Indrisano, Joe Dalton and Luke Griffin combined for the shut-out. Dalton, while pitching, had made an amazing snag when JJ Melchionda smashed a line-drive right back at him in the second inning. "That catch saved us at least two runs, and probably saved Joe his teeth!" quipped Coach Jack Joyce. Orioles manager Pellechia commented "JJ has come up big for us all over the field and at the plate all year. I thought he'd done it again, but that catch was something else!"

On Tuesday night the Rockies faced the Dodgers, and starting pitcher Danny Connolly. The Rockies batters oohed and ahhed as they watched Connolly fire in his warm-up pitches before the bottom of the first. "He throws hard," acknowledged Rockies second baseman Will Beattie, who had taken a Connolly pitch in the back earlier in the season. But the Rockies breathed easier after a one-out single by Dalton and an RBI double by Griffin, who would later be driven in by Owen Carver, giving the Rockies a 2-0 lead that they would never relinquish, ultimately winning 12-0, highlighted by a bases loaded triple by Dalton in the second inning. Dalton had also started the game at pitcher, going 2 1/3 innings before handing off the ball to Antonio Sullivan who closed out the inning, and Luke Griffin who would lock down the fourth. "Hats off to those kids," commented Rockies manager Greg Sullivan, "they're a very good team, and they have a lot of heart. They never let up."

Friday afternoon the sun shone brightly, and the field was in great shape when the Rockies took the field. They had finished the regular season in first place with a 10-4-1 record, but their last defeat was at the hands of these same Orioles. That was on coach Kim Griffin's mind during pre-game warm-ups. "These kids can hit," said Griffin, "we're going to need to be sure to score runs if we're going to beat this team." Coach Steve Indrisano agreed, "They're a good team, and they play 'till the end. Just because we beat

But Luke Griffin took the mound and took control of the day, pitching a complete game no-hitter. Meanwhile the offense took care of business scoring 5 in the 1st, highlighted by an Indrisano 2 run double. But Orioles pitcher Kyle Johnson settled down and shut them down in the second. Then they scored another 5 in the third, to go up 10-0 heading to the last inning. "We were still nervous," admitted Sullivan, "things can turn on a dime. We had a 10 run lead earlier in the season against he Dodgers and we were lucky to walk away with a tie! No lead is really safe, and Luke was nearing his pitch limit, but we had everyone ready if we needed them, Franny (Indrisano), Joe (Dalton), Antonio (Sullivan), and we felt good turning to Beattie or DaSilva too. But Luke was not to be denied tonight! 10 strikeouts, no hits! What a performance!"

In all, the Rockies pitchers combined for three shutouts, not allowing a run in the playoffs (IP: Griffin 7.1; Dalton 3; Indrisano 1; Sullivan .2), in fact, Rockies pitching only allowed 2 hits in the playoff run, as they outscored their playoff opponents 30-0.

While distributing the trophies Sullivan took the time to recognize each of his players "These kids are just an amazing group," Sullivan announced, "They started the season at all different levels of experience and talent, and they all were coach-able and worked their tails off. It's been a pleasure to coach them, and I know I speak for the other coaches when I say that. The parents of these kids should be awfully proud of the people that they're becoming."

"Jordan DaSilva, new to Winthrop Little League this year, rose to every occasion and came up big when we needed him with his glove and bat, and even closing out a few games; Speedy Will Beattie tore up the base paths and became a solid hitter; Owen Carver never played baseball before, but he showed up early to every practice and game, paid attention and tried hard everyday and became a feared presence in the order; Michael Gergarian was our quiet leader in the outfield and an extremely patient hitter; Antonio Sullivan worked awfully hard to improve as a hitter as well as a pitcher and catcher; Liam Gallagher was tough as nails, there's no quit in this kid! We saw his hustle backing up every throw and he locked down left field; Brady Aiello was persistent and overcame some jitters in the batter's box after getting hit by pitches a few times early in the season; Luke Griffin has a ton of talent, but he's coach-able- he listens, and has tremendous focus, and is a great teammate;

Evan DeMayo didn't play last year, but with athleticism and hard work he became a trusted glove at 3b,1b and C as well as a beast at the plate; Francesca Indrisano was our vocal leader, always rallying the troops, she spoke loudly and carried a big stick, coming up with some huge hits all season. Being able to coach her for two years now, I am tremendously proud of the player she has become; and Joe Dalton, the purple people eater himself, just so clutch all year with his bat, glove and pitching, he's a remarkable player and such a nice kid."

As the Rockies celebrated they sang "The Purple People Eater," a 1958 novelty song written and performed by Sheb Wooley, and "Purple Rain" by Prince, which Indrisano explained were two songs the team adopted after a team BBQ at Sullivan's house the prior week. "We changed 'rain' to 'reign,'" added Carver.

They swigged and splashed purple Powerade, which according to coach Joyce was a theme all season. "Each coach recognized a different player for their hustle in each game all season, and we gave them Powerade. It was usually a very difficult decision, it was hard to narrow down to only 4 players each game because it was about the hustle, and these guys hustled all season."

"But today everyone gets a hustle award" Sullivan added, "and a trophy, and Purple Reigns!"

Cambridge Health Alliance raises $545K at its annual Art of Healing Award Dinner

Cambridge Health Alliance (CHA), an academic community health system serving Cambridge, Somerville and Boston's metro-north region, honored Mary Otto, an independent journalist, with its annual Art of Healing Award on June 13 at the Charles Hotel in Cambridge. Ms. Otto was recognized for her role in promoting awareness of oral health struggles and fiercely advocating for vulnerable populations. Mary Cassesso, President, CHA Foundation and Chief Community Officer, emceed the program, and comedian and Cambridge native Jimmy Tingle served as the auctioneer.

The award was presented during CHA's signature fundraising event, which raised more than $545,000 to benefit CHA's community health priorities. The Art of Healing Award celebrates visionary men and women who transcend boundaries, embrace humanity and inspire the healing of body and spirit. Past honorees include John Rosenthal, founder of Stop Handgun Violence, former Mass. Governor Michael and Mrs. Kitty Dukakis and Donald Berwick, MD, former Administrator of the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services.

Good oral health is an important indicator of the wellness of a person's overall body but unfortunately, there is a major gap across the country in routine dental insurance. Small issues that begin in the mouth can lead to more complex health issues down the road. According to a 2016 study led by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, cavities are one of the most prevalent chronic diseases of youth in America. Furthermore, youth who have oral health challenges miss more school and have lower grades than children who do not.

In 2007, Ms. Otto wrote about Deamonte Driver, a

Maryland child covered by Medicaid who died after bacteria from a dental infection spread to his brain. His story spurred change and increased attention to oral health access for Medicaid children nationwide. It also inspired her to write the book, Teeth: The Story of Beauty, Inequality and the Struggle for Oral Health in America in which she focuses on the oral health crisis and its wide-reaching effects.

"We were thrilled to celebrate Mary Otto and CHA at our Art of Healing Dinner," said Mary Cassesso, President of the CHA Foundation and Chief Community Officer. "There is a direct connection to underperformance in school and health issues for children. Mary brings attention to the unmet needs in dental services impacting some of our most at-risk populations. A special thanks to our donors who helped us raise funds to support vital programs at CHA including Oral Health, School-based Health Centers,

Encore Boston Harbor to open at 10 a.m. June 23

By Seth Daniel

Don't expect a long program ahead of the Encore Boston Harbor ribbon cutting on Sunday morning, June 23, but expect the City of Everett and the company to get things moving and get the doors open.

Encore will open officially to the public at 10 a.m. Sunday, June 23, and that will be preceded by a short program at 9:30 a.m. to celebrate the moment. However, after seven years of speeches and discussion about Encore, the time will be punctuated with the goal of getting inside the building.

Elected officials from the City and state are expected to be there, along with company executives from all over the world. A large contingent of media is also expected to be present for the opening morning as well.

There are to be a few small surprises, but the goal, once again, is to get people in the door.

A full plan for transportation will be put in place early that day, with officers from the State Police, Everett Police, Boston Police, Medford Police and Chelsea Police on forced overtime to monitor the streets into and out of the Encore casino area.

Transportation executives for Encore, the MBTA and law enforcement agencies have been meeting for several months to coordinate the opening period plan. That plan is flexible, and executives said that if there needs to be a change in routing vehicles, they will be able to do that on the fly.

The casino will be stressing the use of its shuttle from Wellington and Malden Center Stations, as well as the Neighborhood Runner in Everett/Chelsea and the water shuttles in the Harbor. For those coming from long distances, the Encore buses are the preferred option, with depots north, south and west of Greater Boston.

Parking on site at Encore is $22 for six hours, $42 for 24 hours, and $49 for 24-hour valet parking. As part of the special grand opening offer, Red Card holders can use one COMPDOLLAR to pay for onsite parking.

The new Oak Square entry garden is just steps from Lower Broadway in Everett – with a 45-foot-tall Red Oak from New Jersey (right) framing the roundabout. The space is meant to be a place for the public and guests to stop and enjoy.

WINTHROP MARKETPLACE

SHEET PAN DINNER WITH CHICKEN & VEGGIES

Ingredients:

1 cup mayonnaise

1 (1 oz.) package ranch dressing mix

2 large skinless, boneless chicken breasts, halved lengthwise

olive oil, or as needed

1 1/2 pounds potatoes, halved or quartered if large

1 pound baby carrots

salt and ground black pepper to taste

1/4 cup dry bread crumbs

Directions:

1. Combine mayonnaise and ranch dressing mix in a gallon-sized resealable plastic bag to make the marinade. Place chicken in the bag, squish around to cover, and refrigerate while preparing the other ingredients.

2. Preheat oven to 400 degrees F (200 degrees C). Grease a large rimmed baking sheet the size of your oven with olive oil.

3. Place potatoes and baby carrots along the outer edges of the baking sheet, leaving room in the middle for the chicken. Season with salt and pepper.

4. Pour breadcrumbs into a bowl or onto a plate. Remove chicken from marinade and drain off excess marinade. Coat chicken in the breadcrumbs and place on the baking sheet with some room in between the pieces.

5. Bake in the preheated oven until chicken is no longer pink in the center and the juices run clear, 25 to 30 minutes. An instant-read thermometer inserted into the center should read at least 165 degrees F (74 degrees C). Turn on the oven's broiler and broil for an additional 3 to 5 minutes.

Officials cut the ribbon for the public boat launch

By Kate Anslinger

The rain didn't stop town officials and guests from coming out to celebrate the official

Speaker of the House Bob DeLeo shares his thoughts on how the launch will be a resource for the community and surrounding communities.

ribbon cutting ceremony of the public boat launch at the Town Landing Tuesday evening.

"This boat launch will help us activate the waterfront of Winthrop and will hopefully draw economic activity to the town," said Town Manager Austin Faison during the opening remarks. "We will happily welcome the public to Winthrop to use the launch and enjoy nice weekends all summer long."

While the ribbon-cutting ceremony for the near $1 million-dollar boat launch project was delayed a week due to weather, the project itself was right on time for the annual 4th of July activities. As one of the many long-term construction agreements from Provincetown to Williamstown, the new public boat launch was developed by the Department of Fish and Game. Out of the many projects in seaside communities across the Commonwealth, the Winthrop landing boat launch was one of the biggest, and the hope is to maintain the site for years to come.

"This particular project is one of the biggest," said Department of Fish and Game Commissioner Don Amidon. "We are so pleased with MacKay construction for getting the project done ahead of time and it will be a priority to keep the site in tip-top shape so the public can utilize it for fishing and boating access for a long time."

Department of Fish and Game Commissioner Don Amidon addresses the crowd.

Town Council President Ron Vecchia reads the Safe Boating Day Proclamation, alongside Stephen Machcinski and Ray Julian from the U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary.

Town officials gather in the rain to cut the ribbon.
