VISITING AT THE WHITE HOUSE

Winthrop was well represented at the White House on Thursday May 9th as the President hosted the 2018 World Series Champion Boston Red Sox. From L-R Winthrop Police Officer Andy Biggio, Ed Cash, Meghan Chavis, Michael Chavis, Carrie Grainger from Fox Sports and Patrick Lally also with Fox Sports.

Winthrop ferry faces problems

By Sue Ellen Woodcock

Due to serious mechanical issues the Winthrop Ferry service will be suspended until repairs can be made, according to Town Manager Austin Faison.

Last week the Winthrop Ferry, Valkyrie was out of service on June 25 with a problem in the port engine. Then town officials announced on June 28 that there were "serious mechanical issues" and service would be suspended until further notice due to "engine malfunctions".

"The problem is an overheated engine. We may have to replace a cylinder or the entire engine," Faison said, adding that the town may be looking for an outside operator of the ferry. "The town has done a commendable job running the ferry service."

The Winthrop Ferry Valkyrie had to suspend service on Wednesday, June 19, and the morning shift on Thursday, June 20 due to a shortage of eligible captains to drive the boat.

Town officials had hope to jump on board the opportunity to utilize the ferry for shuttling people to the new Encore Boston Harbor via the ferry stop at the Aquarium.

"The ferry will be down for the remainder of the week and my office is working hard to continue to service commuters in Winthrop and Quincy," Faison said. "We are looking how to continue service in the near term."

Winthrop comments on new Massport CEO

By John Lynds

Last Thursday the Massport Board voted 5-2 to confirm Massport's Port Director Lisa Wieland as the Port Authority's new CEO.

Wieland replaces Thomas Glynn as CEO who stepped down in November. Massport's CFO John Prankevicius has filled in as CEO since the nationwide search began last year.

Massport board member John Nucci and Massport board chair Lee Evangelidis

were the two that voted for Boston Planning and Development ment head Brian Golden for the post.

"On the one hand I'm disappointed because I think that Brian (Golden) would've brought fresh eyes to Massport and would have been a great consensus builder in the community," said Nucci after the vote Thursday. "On the other hand, Lisa (Wieland) will work herself into the job just fine and I will support her thoroughly as we move ahead".

Residents gearing up for Fourth festivities

137th Horribles Parade and fireworks planned

By Sue Woodcock

A family riding unicycles, potato sack and relay races, the best blueberry pie you've ever had, and a variety of floats and participants marching through Point Shirley are just a few of the scenes that you will get to witness at the annual Horrible's Parade on the Fourth of July.

Tomorrow will mark the 137th year of the traditional old-fashioned small-town parade. Deemed as "a parade for the kids," the Horrible's Parade will commence at 9 a.m. on Thursday morning and parade contestants can begin registering at 7: a.m. on the landing.

There is no pre-registration required and everyone is invited to march or ride in the parade, whether it's for a little friendly competition or just some plain old fun. As in year's past, the parade will begin at the landing and make its way through Point Shirley, going past the four judges who will be stationed in front of the Point Shirley Association (PSA) Hall. Cash prizes will be awarded to floats and groups who go above and beyond in the categories: most beautiful, most original, most hilarious, most patriotic, best float, and of course, most horrible. Traffic will be blocked starting at the Winthrop Yacht Club until the parade comes to a close. There will be countless free activities for the family in Coughlin Park following the parade.

"This is a parade for the kids," said Peter Gobiell, who has been the parade director for 25 years. "Now more than ever, we need to go back to the way things used to be 25 years ago and with a little effort and old time fun, this parade is a tradition that we have to continue going forward."

"I love being involved in this beloved community event," said parade committee member, Wendy Millar-Page. "Very few towns still have amazing community events like this, which makes our community a community! We need to keep traditions like these going."

If you are interested in volunteering at the parade, please contact, Peter Gobiell at: 617-823-5359.

ASIAN TWIST CHICKEN WINGS

Ingredients:

2 sun-dried tomatoes	1 tablespoon cornstarch
1/4 cup white wine	20 chicken wings
1/4 cup barbeque sauce	2 teaspoons minced garlic
1 teaspoon sesame oil	1 teaspoon chili powder
1 tablespoon hot pepper sauce	salt and pepper to taste
2 tablespoons soy sauce	1 lime, cut into wedges
1 tablespoon distilled white vinegar	1 1/2 teaspoons sesame seeds
1 tablespoon honey

Directions:

1. Place the sun-dried tomatoes and white wine into a blender; puree until smooth, then pour into a saucepan. Stir in the barbeque sauce, sesame oil, hot pepper sauce, soy sauce, vinegar, honey, and cornstarch. Bring to a simmer over medium-high heat, then reduce heat to medium-low, and simmer for several minutes until thickened. Remove from heat, and allow to cool.
2. While the marinade is cooling, pierce the chicken wings using a fork, and place into a mixing bowl. Toss the chicken wings with the garlic, chili powder, salt, and pepper. Pour the cooled marinade over the wings, and stir to coat. Cover, and refrigerate at least 2 hours.
3. Preheat an outdoor grill for medium heat, and lightly oil the grate.
4. Remove the chicken wings from the marinade, and shake off excess. Discard the remaining marinade. Cook the wings on the preheated grill until no longer pink at the bone, about 20 minutes. Turn the wings frequently as they cook to ensure even cooking. Place the cooked wings on a serving platter; squeeze the lime wedges over the wings, and sprinkle with sesame seeds to serve.

Winthrop sailing program launches the career of two future Olympians

By Kate Anslinger

Winthrop might have an opportunity to boast about two of its own joining the 2020 Olympics in Tokyo. Nora (27) and Atlantic Brugman (28) may currently live elsewhere, but they have deep seated roots in Winthrop by the sea. The two sisters, who were born in Spain 16 months apart, and are the daughters of Daniel Brugman, three-time All-Star and MVP Hall of Fame athlete for Winthrop High School and the granddaughters of the late Richard and Mary Brugman, longtime residents and members of the Cottage Park Yacht Club. While the entire Brugman family participated in the sailing program at CPYC at one time or another over the years, Nora and Atlantic, developed a passion so strong that it will likely land them in the 2020 Olympics.

While the sisters were born in Spain, they have U.S. citizenship through their father, and grew up spending their summers in the Boston area, sailing at every opportunity they could. “We come from a very sports-oriented family,” Nora said, noting that her father played hockey at Yale and later as a pro in Europe, where he met the girls’ mother. “My father also played at Winthrop High and was on the 1976 team that won the State Championship and was the MVP of the state tournament.”The question that has to be addressed is the irony of Atlantic’s name. In addition to her parents wanting her to be a sailor, they named her after the ocean that lies between her American father and her Spanish mother’s native homeland.

This isn’t the first time the Brugman family has set their sights on the Olympics, as their uncle was an Olympic skier. The fact that they started sailing Opti boats at ages three and four combined with their love of the sport that runs deep in their family, are two of the key ingredients for Olympic athletes. Setting themselves up for success, Nora and Atlantic are currently training full time focusing on endurance, speed, technique, maneuvers and starts.

“We have dreamed of being in the Olympics since we were little Optimist sailors,” they said. “We started talking about going to the Olympics together when we were just kids. When we began sailing in the 420 class, and we were trying to motivate ourselves to perform better, we use to pretend that if we passed the boat ahead of us it meant we won a Gold Medal. Eventually we realized that this was too important of a dream to not give it 100 percent of our effort and to try and turn it into a reality.”

With successful training comes funds for proper equipment, travel and coaching, which adds one more challenge for the dedicated sisters. Because funds are not provided by the USA Olympic Committee, they are currently raising money to cover their budget for this summer’s regattas, and in August they will be traveling to Japan to compete in the first Olympic trials event, the World Championships of Enoshima. They are hoping to raise $50,520 to cover the flights, coaching fees, housing, coach boat rental, coach boat gas, living expenses, regatta entry fee, new racing equipment, which includes their very first new boat, as well as the transportation of the boat to and from Japan.

“We are sailors because of the love our father had for sailing and his encouragement that we take up this wonderful sport. Had our grandparents never signed our father up for classes at CPYC, where he learned to love this sport, we would have never become sailors ourselves, and our lives would look very different today,” Nora said.

Over the years, the sisters have embraced the sailing community everywhere they’ve lived, and they’ve built lifelong connections in the sport. The connection that goes back the furthest is the one they formed at the CPYC. Committed to their roots they encourage Winthrop sailors to contact them if they have any questions about the sport or traveling to events in the US or outside the US.

“I was very pleased to see two Winthrop sailors join the sailing team at my alma mater, Connecticut College. Cecilia Moreira just finished her Junior year and Simon Moreira his Freshman year,” said Atlantic. “For many people the idea of going to the Olympics begins as a dream when they are just young kids. Sometimes, when we are young, we may think that because we are not the best, strongest or most knowledgeable, the Olympics is an unattainable goal. However, most Olympians are not those who won all the races in the Optimist days, but the ones with the most passion, with hardworking skills and drive. We encourage all those young sailors with a dream, like going to the Olympics, to never give up on those dreams. With hard work, you can attain any goal you set your mind to.”

The Brugman Family is having a fundraising event at the Winthrop Golf Club on Saturday, July 6, from 6-10 p.m. to help support them and pave the way to Tokyo in 2020. There will be raffles, silent auction items and a 50/50 raffle. For more information, please contact Mark D’Ambrosio at mjdambsio@gmail.com or 617-750-4956.

Winthrop Senior Center gifted with new bus

By Kate Anslinger

Members of the Robert A. DeLeo Senior Center celebrated a long-awaited gift last Friday. Thanks to a MassDOT grant, the old bus was replaced with a brand new, eight-passenger bus, that will be used to bring seniors to and from medical appointments, grocery store trips and local field trips.

“It’s been a long-time coming that we have a new bus, and we are so happy to be able to provide this service to our seniors,” said Senior Center Director Kathy Dixon.

According to the staff, this is the first time that the center has a brand-new bus, and in the past they’ve been provided with used transportation.

Speaker of the House Robert DeLeo, Town Manager Austin Faison, and Town Council President Ron Vecchia join senior center members and staff during the celebration of the new bus.

Ave. to Siren St. This is the side of the street near the Holy Rosary Church. Signs will be posted.

At the end of the fireworks, all cars will follow the loop back on to Shirley St. and out of Point Shirley. Cars will not be allowed to travel out of Bayview Ave. on to Shirley St.

Motorists may be diverted to other streets to ensure a continuous flow of traffic out of Point Shirley at the conclusion of the fireworks. Motorists are asked to follow the directions of the Police Officers directing traffic.

Residents and other motorists are advised that there may be significant delays getting in to the Point Shirley area at the conclusion of the fireworks. Non-residents may be diverted away from the area until the flow of traffic has returned to normal.

The Winthrop Police and Fire departments will have extra personnel assigned to the Point Shirley area on July 3 and 4 in order to manage the large number of people and events in the area.

TOWN MANAGER'S TIPS ON RECYCLING

Here are a few tips and explanations about the town’s waste disposal and recycling efforts from Town Manager Austin Faison.

What is going on with recycling in Winthrop?

Recently, the Town learned that the contracted waste disposal vendor has been com-mingling solid waste (non-recyclables) and recyclable materials. This means that although Winthrop residents have continued to do their part by recycling, the materials are not getting where they used to.

Why?

Recycling is based on the commodities market, where the materials we recycle – paper, cardboard, some plastics, and glass – are purchased, processed and reused in other products. Recently, the commodities market has adjusted and the companies that purchase and process the recycled materials are no longer buying, removing the economic incentive to recycling.

But don’t we have a contract?

Yes, but that contract – which is set to expire next year – does not specifically require that the vendor recycle everything that we put out. The Town Manager will be appointing a special committee of town staff and residents to review the current contract, more up-to-date contracts and policies from other municipalities, and solid waste best practices to include in a new contract.

What can the Town do?

Keep recycling! The commodities market may change quickly, making Winthrop’s recyclables desirable and reusable.

Stay involved! We will continue our outreach in the coming months to get your priorities on recycling, materials reuse, composting, and other solid waste related issues.

Please reach out to the Town Manager’s Office at townmanagersoffice@town.winthrop.ma.us to share your thoughts!

voted to promote Wieland from Acting Port Director to Port Director.

Wieland has served as the Acting Port Director since March of 2015 and previously as Maritime’s Chief Administrative Officer. As Port Director, she oversees planning, development, marketing, operations, security, financial management, administration and maintenance of all of Massport’s non-aviation properties. Before joining the Maritime team, Wieland served in several roles at Massport, including the Director of HR Strategy and Employment and the Director of Corporate Planning and Analysis. Wieland has been with Massport since 2006.

Prior to her employment with Massport, Wieland worked as a consultant for Bain & Company serving health care and consumer products clients, and for CNN in various news and political assignments. She received her B.A. from UCLA in Political Science, and her M.B.A. from the Harvard Business School.

East Boston’s Logan Airport Impact Advisory Committee (AIR, Inc.) said they have discussed the pros and cons of confirming either Wieland or Golden for the CEO post.

In a statement after the vote AIR, Inc.

“This important hire will have long-lasting implications,” the statement reads. “It comes at a time when the rapid spread of Airport impacts is increasingly deteriorating Boston’s health, economy, quality of life and our reputation. We now have a label hung on our necks: the most congested city in America. That puts us right up there with LA as a polluted city. And there is no single institution which is creating more health, environmental and traffic impacts, than Logan Airport. The airport currently attracts more motorists than a Red Sox, Bruins, Celtics, and Patriots game combined every weekday. And our city’s roadway infrastructure simply can’t handle it.”

“I am pleased to see Lisa Wieland selected as Massport’s chief executive officer. I congratulate her,” said Gina Cassetta, who is chair of Winthrop’s Airport Hazards Committee. “While I realize that focusing on the economic development and transportation goals must certainly be her top priority, I feel it’s equally important that she not only interact with top politicians, members of Congress, federal agencies but also include neighboring community committees like the WAHC, who work tirelessly on behalf of Winthrop residents who are severely impacted by airport noise and pollution. It truly would be remarkable to have Ms. Wieland bring a new level of passion and diversity by offering her accessibility and willingness to meet, discuss and offer fair solutions for the severe impacts the airport has on Winthrop residents, while it’s constantly expanding. I wish her great success and hope to someday have her attend one of our meetings.”

AIR, Inc. said as Massport’s new CEO Wieland needs to address and improve Massport’s planning model so those who now have disproportionate access to the Port Authority’s higher ups and help shape transportation get in line behind those who are impacted.

“Tom Glynn’s Massport grew the airport by 35 percent with impacts rising in equal measure,” continued the AIR Inc statement. “The air and noise pollution and traffic congestion driven by Logan are regional crises which themselves are driving asthma, COPD, stroke, heart disease, sleep interruption, and a host of painful outcomes for people on the ground -not just in neighborhoods such as East Boston but also in communities such as Milton nearly ten miles to the south, cities like Somerville to the west and across the entire region in a ten mile footprint. The next CEO will need to show that they can collaborate with community stakeholders to shape the transportation services that Massachusetts needs in a manner that we can live with.”

ENJOY AN AWESOME -- AND SAFE -- 4TH OF JULY

With the Fourth of July falling on a Thursday this year, many of us will be enjoying an extra-long holiday weekend for which the weather hopefully will cooperate.

The Fourth of July rekindles fond memories from our childhood of the times when we spent the holiday with our families and friends for gatherings at barbecues, at the beach, and at municipal fireworks displays in the evenings.

Amidst all of our celebrating however, we often overlook the reason why we have a Fourth of July: The date in 1776 when a group of America’s leaders and best thinkers gathered in Philadelphia to declare their independence from England by means of a proclamation to the world in which they stated that the truths “... that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness” remain self-evident to this day, 243 years later.

Another overlooked aspect of the Fourth, especially during a long holiday weekend, is that too many among us will engage in behavior that is risky not only to ourselves, but to our loved ones and others around us.

Fireworks are illegal for everybody, and in no event should be allowed in the hands of children. It is a sad -- but inevitable -- fact that countless Americans will be maimed for life because of accidents involving fireworks this week.

Alcohol abuse is rampant in our country today and the Fourth unfortunately provides an opportunity -- which is to say, another excuse -- for those who have alcohol abuse issues to indulge way more than they should, especially when operating a boat or automobile.

It is the responsibility of each of us to ensure that the Fourth is enjoyed safely not only by ourselves, but by those we care about. If someone has had too much to drink, take their keys -- none of us wants to say to ourselves the next day, “If only I had not let them drive....”

We wish all of our readers an awesome -- and safe -- Fourth of July.

HAPPY FOURTH OF JULY

Baby Boomers should be wary of Medicare changes

By Sandip Shah

Baby boomers are aging rapidly. Around 10,000 Americans celebrate their 65th birthday every day.

Unfortunately for these seniors, the government health care to which they're entitled may put their lives at risk. That's thanks to a new proposal from the Department of Health and Human Services that would impose price controls on certain medicines covered through Medicare.

HHS' plan could save Uncle Sam a few dollars in the short run. But its long-term side effects would be far costlier for both the government's budget and patients' health.

The proposal impacts treatments covered through Medicare Part B. These are highly potent medications administered in doctors' offices, including oral cancer drugs, infusions, vaccinations, and IVs.

Currently, doctors purchase Part B drugs ahead of time and store them on site. Once physicians administer a treatment to patients, Medicare reimburses them the average sales price of that particular drug.

Under Sec. Azar's proposal, Medicare would instead reimburse doctors a flat fee for the drugs they administer. This reimbursement would correspond to the average price of that drug in 14 benchmark countries.

The majority of these countries rely on artificial price controls to keep drug spending in check. By copying this model, HHS hopes to cut Medicare spending by as much as 30 percent.

Implementing price controls would harm American patients in a couple of ways.

First, artificially capping the cost of medicines will devastate access to quality healthcare providers. Consider what happened when the government tried cutting Medicare reimbursements in 2013. Eight in 10 oncologists said payment cuts impacted their practices. And half had to turn cancer patients away because of it.

Second, HHS' plan would stall the medical advancement that benefits patients today -- and paves the way for breakthrough cures for the patients of tomorrow.

Drug development isn't easy. It takes $2.6 billion and over a decade to develop a single drug. Scientists and investors need ample financial incentives to put money towards future medicines.

Price controls make development even harder than it currently is. Innovators won't risk billions on pharmaceutical research if they don't think they'll recoup their upfront costs. And when pharmaceutical investments start drying up, so will new cures.

In addition to undermining seniors' health, the proposal would cost more money in the long run.

Hospitalizations due to mismanaged conditions cost Medicare more than $5 billion a year. If HHS is really concerned with lowering costs and improving patient health, it should invest in more preventative medical innovation.

HHS should look for better ways to keep seniors healthy in their homes. Not only would the new proposal sacrifice seniors' care, it would cost more in the long run.

LETTER to the Editor

ON THE RIGHT
WHALES

Dear Editor:

We appreciate that your June 21 editorial “Another Sad Sign of the Times” calls attention to critically endangered North Atlantic right whales, but it made several misleading claims about their fight for survival and the current protections in place.

The most immediate threats to right whales are entanglement in fishing gear and ship strikes. Neither the U.S. nor Canada is doing enough to protect right whales from the maze of thick ropes and the dearth of commercial shipping vessels they are forced to navigate in their annual migrations. Although long protected in the U.S. under the Endangered Species Act and the Marine Mammal Protection Act, it has been several years since any new laws designed to protect right whales have been put in place in the United States.

Your article suggests that the U.S. has fully protected right whales in the Gulf of Maine, however, the reality is starkly different.

For example, more than 70 percent of Maine waters — where most of the fishing in the Gulf of Maine occurs — are exempt from federal regulations to protect right whales from entanglements. These exemptions include requirements to mark fishing gear so that problematic gear can be identified (and ideally removed), and to use sinking lines between traps to decrease the risk of entanglement. Further, any most speed restrictions in the Gulf of Maine, when implemented after a group of whales are sighted, are merely voluntary. Thus, they are largely ignored.

Just this year, six more whales died out of a population of barely 400. At least two of these whales were mature females capable of bearing calves. This is catastrophic, and both countries need to treat this like the emergency that it is for a species at risk of extinction. Since 2017, Canada has moved quickly to close areas to fishing as soon as whales were spotted and to implement mandatory speed restrictions in certain areas. However, even these measures were not enough to prevent the last six deaths. Here at home, right whales are increasingly present south of Martha’s Vineyard and Nantucket for much of the year, yet the U.S. has not created a new closure in this hotspot with fishing and mandatory speed restrictions to decrease risk.

Long term solutions will require both countries to increase their monitoring so that mandatory speed restrictions can be put in place as soon as whales are sighted. Innovative new technology such as ropeless fishing also holds great promise because it eliminates dangerous lines from the water altogether and would allow fishermen to fish whenever and wherever they want.

Right whales can recover, but humans need to stop killing them first.

Fire officials urge the public to leave the fireworks to the professionals

“Last year, several people lost fingers and suffered serious burns lighting off illegal fireworks in Massachusetts,” said State Fire Marshal Peter J. Ostroskey. “Thirty-four firefighters were injured when an errant firework ignited a six-family building. Have a fun but safe Fourth of July and leave the fireworks to the professionals,” he added.

Fourth of July No Holiday for Firefighters

Needham Fire Chief Dennis Condon, president of the Fire Chiefs’ Association of Massachusetts, said, “The Fourth of July holiday is a busy time for firefighters. We are supervising the professional displays so that they are safe for spectators and licensed operators; we are busy responding to all types of fires and medical emergencies. In fact, the week of July Fourth is one of the busiest times of the year for fires.”

State Fire Marshal Peter J. Ostroskey said, “This year, set a good example for your children. Just as children know where you keep the matches and lighters, they know where you stash your illegal fireworks.” He added, “Children imitate adults. If you use fireworks, children will copy you, not realizing how very dangerous fireworks are.”

Fireworks Cause Many Dangerous Fires

Last summer, there were many fires, amputations and burn injuries from illegal fireworks in Massachusetts. In the past decade (2009-2018), there have been 800 major fires and explosions involving illegal fireworks in Massachusetts[1]. These incidents resulted in 12 civilian injuries, 39 fire service injuries and an estimated dollar loss of $2.5 million.

On June 25, 2018, people shooting fireworks in the street started a fire in a six-unit Lynn apartment building. One ricocheted to the second floor porch and ignited several items. The fire spread to the rest of the second floor and to the third. Thirty-four firefighters were injured at this fire.

On July 2, 2018, the Worcester Fire Department was called to a fire in a three-unit apartment building. The fire was started by fireworks

WINTHROP'S MILITARY SITE AT CAMP LORBEER

Over the years Winthrop has had the privilege of hosting the military personnel of seven encampments, Fort Banks, Fort Heath, the Revolutionary War Fortification on Hale Avenue at Point Shirley the Cutler Street/Crest Avenue Civil War Canon Test Firing Range and Camp Lorbeer (all within our peninsula's 1.63 square mile land area) as well as those troops operating out of the Coast Guard facility on Shirley Street across from the Crystal Cove Inn and those troops stationed at Fort Dawes on Deer Island. While we are all aware of Fort Banks, Fort Heath, Fort Dawes (Deer Island), and the Point Shirley Revolutionary War rock wall fortification, few remember Camp Lorbeer, the 1915 to 1918 World War I encampment located on the waterside of Court Road where the present houses at #165 thru #195 currently exist. It derived its name from the previous owner of the site, Henry Lorbeer. As the first shadow of World War I was cast over Winthrop, two military companies were formed in our Town. One was the Winthrop Machine Gun Company (WMGC #5) Regiment – Massachusetts Volunteer Militia and the second, a detachment of the mounted scouts. Winthrop was the first Town in our Commonwealth to have its own Machine Gun Company. The Town financed these two organizations but was subsequently reimbursed in large by the state. In 1916, the WMGC, under the command of 1st Lt. Richmond G. Stoehr, and the Mounted Scouts were called into action at the Mexican Border. The Selectmen officially commended Winthrop's 61 young men who were members of the WMGC as they were dispatched for duty for "their remarkable record of efficiency and high standing." Upon their return, the WMGC again set up an encampment at Camp Lorbeer to wait further orders. A short time later they were called for service in WWI where 1,100 of Winthrop's young men eventually participated at home and abroad in the European conflict.

All four of the pictures presented here look out across the bay toward Orient Heights and the same home can be seen, to varying degrees, at the rear of each. In the first photograph, one can see most of the pyramid tents standing like unopened umbrellas. In the second picture, the troops are lined up between the two rows of fully opened tents ready to march out for a training hike. The third picture depicts a group of soldiers posed with their mascot, a dog seen held by one of the men standing in the third row at the right hand side. The fourth picture is titled "This is the life" and shows a group doing their laundry by hand. We are writing a book on the seven military sites that have been located in Winthrop and if any reader can identify those persons appearing in any of these pictures, your information would be greatly appreciated. The WMGC was distinctly a local outfit and very proud of its individuality as the only group of all – Winthrop servicemen.

July 2, 1999
Superintendent of Schools Joan Connolly told the School Committee this week that she has named Jim Noiles, a teacher in the Winthrop school system for 33 years, as the new Principal at Winthrop High School. Noiles will succeed Nancy Mrzyglod, who announced two weeks ago that she is leaving to take a similar post in Grafton. Connolly told the School Board that an evaluation of Noiles's performance will be conducted in mid-winter to determine whether he should stay on. Winthrop School Supt. Joan Connolly has called for an end to the "chronic battering" of the Winthrop schools by those who harp on the negative and for the town to provide sufficient funds for the schools to do their job. A fireworks show is set for Sunday evening, July 4, at Coughlin Playground, and the annual Pt. Shirley Horribles Parade is set for Monday, to celebrate the Fourth of July. The selectmen have announced the appointment of long-time Police Lieut. Michael McManus as Interim Police Chief. "The Wild, Wild West," "Summer of Sam," and "Big Daddy" are playing at the Revere Showcase Cinemas.

Amid growing anger and frustration on the part of motorists, local gas station owners say this: "We simply don't have enough gas to go around," because of the oil embargo by the Arab states. The selectmen met with the 11 gas station owners in town to see whether one of them would agree to open on a Sunday. George Bolster, the largest gas dealer in Winthrop, said he would be able to open on Sundays only if the selectmen could assure him of 8,000 gallons above his current monthly allotment, which Bolster said was cut by 25 percent in June and another five percent in July. Bolster said he now closes his gas pumps daily at noontime because of the fuel shortages. Police report that attempted thefts of gasoline from automobile gas tanks have been reported by car owners. However, local businesses are reporting a big increase in sales during the energy crisis. Thelma Allen, who worked in the Town Clerk's office for 27 years, was tendered a retirement party at the Winthrop Arms. Townspeople are mourning the passing of Henry D.

The selectmen have requested a meeting with the Housing Authority to discuss the latter's apparent non-compliance with the local building and zoning codes regarding the construction of the elderly housing units at Ft. Banks. The Parks Commission has charged that the new housing complex will infringe on the newly-constructed softball field at Ft. Banks. Joseph Simone and family were rudely awakened in their home at 61 Orlando Ave. at midnight when a wall of the next door neighbor's above-ground pool collapsed, flooding their home with three feet of water. Paul Roy was installed as the new President of the Winthrop Jaycees this week. William Kincade was installed as the new President of the Winthrop Rotary Club. Former Building Inspector Bill Bennett has cast off for Newfoundland aboard his 24-foot sloop, Valhalla. Bennett's cousin and a friend will accompany him on their long-planned voyage on the open sea. Copley Griffiths will serve as Chief Marshall for this year's Pt. Shirley Fourth of July Horribles Parade. Richard Burton and Clint Eastwood star in "Where Eagles Dare" at the Winthrop Theatre.

Plans for a gala Fourth of July were issued this week, with neighborhood and family parties being readied as well. However, American Legion officials were forced to cancel their annual carnival in Ingleside Park for the first time in 40 years because the carnival operator has indicated that he will be able to show up. Still, there will be the annual Horribles Parade on Pt. Shirley, as well as fireworks at night at Ingleside Park. Local realtor Horace Edwards is the new President of the local Rotary Club. Carol Lynley, lovely young actress and Hollywood ingenue, is scheduled to visit the home of her grandmother, Mrs. Lillian Felch, of 69 Bay View Ave., this week.

Several alert residents of Winthrop and East Boston, combined with quick action by police from both communities, averted a potential gang war on the East Boston side of the Belle Isle Bridge, where some 30 youths had congregated and were ready to engage in an all-out battle. The Winthrop Housing Authority may have to request an act of Town Meeting if the Board of Appeals rejects the authority's request to construct four, six-family dwellings as part of the veterans housing units to be built in the town. Building Inspector Bill Bennett has refused to issue a building permit on the basis that a six-family structure is in violation of the town's zoning by-laws, the so called Tenement House Act of 1911, that permits only one and two-family homes to be built in the town. Fred A. Baumeister is the new President of the Winthrop Rotary Club. The second annual Rose Festival of St. John the Evangelist parish will be held at the Hurley Estate on Nahant on July 9. Miss Esther Gustavson was inducted as Worthy Advisor at recent installation exercises of the local Order of Rainbow Girls. Betty Grable and Cesar Romero star in "The Beautiful Blonde from Bashful Bend" at the Winthrop and State theatres.

Three days of real entertainment are in store for all Winthrop residents with the grand opening of the American Legion's 19th annual Fourth of July carnival at Ingleside Park. Frivolity and entertainment is promised for patrons of all ages. There will be running races, bicycle races, boxing bouts, a magician, a Punch and Judy show, and a concert. The selectmen report that there is no news concerning the Narrow Gauge Railroad's fate, which still is in the hands of the bankruptcy court, but they assert they will ensure that the town's interest will be protected and that Winthrop will have quality transportation, no matter what the outcome is. Myrna Loy and Robert Taylor star in "Lucky Night" at the Winthrop and State theatres.

igniting trash in a first floor doorway.

- On July 3, 2018, Dartmouth District #1 responded to a pier fire at Anthony's Beach. Crews discovered remains of many fireworks on and around the pier after the fire was extinguished.
- On July 4, 2018, the Agawam Fire Department responded to a brush fire started by three juveniles who were using illegal fireworks.
- On July 5, 2018, the Lynn Fire Department put out a car fire started by fireworks.

Fireworks Injuries
In the past decade (2009-2018), 38 people were treated at Massachusetts emergency rooms for severe burn injuries from fireworks (burns covering 5 percent of more of the body) according to the Massachusetts Burn Injury Reporting System (M-BIRS). Fifty-five percent of the victims were under age 25. Eighteen percent (18 percent) were between the ages of 15 and 24; 8 percent were between the ages of 10 and 14; 18 percent were between five and nine; and 11 percent were children under five. The youngest victim was a six-month old boy. These victims are scarred for life. In the past year:

- A 22-year-old man was seriously injured when roman candles were set off inside an Amherst apartment.
- A 22-year-old was injured in Gloucester playing with sparklers.
- A 10-year-old boy was injured by illegal fireworks at a Marshfield beach on July 3, 2018. He was an innocent by-stander.
- A man lost part of his hand when a firework he was holding exploded. The explosion occurred in a Mansfield MBTA parking lot.
- The Tewksbury Fire Department provided emergency medical care to a man who lost a part of every finger on his right hand when a firework he was holding exploded.
- A 25-year-old Brockton man suffered injuries to

- A 22-year-old Kingston man suffered injuries to his hands, face and stomach from a firework.

All Fireworks Are Illegal in Massachusetts
The possession and use of all fireworks by private citizens is illegal in Massachusetts. This includes Class C fireworks, which are sometimes falsely called "safe and sane" fireworks. Class C fireworks include sparklers, party poppers, snappers, firecrackers, spinners, cherry bombs and more. Sparklers burn at 1,800°F or higher. It is illegal to transport fireworks into Massachusetts, even if they were purchased legally elsewhere. Illegal fireworks can be confiscated on the spot. For more information on the dangers of fireworks, go to the Department of Fire Services webpage Leave the Fireworks to the Professionals.

STUDENT HIGHLIGHT:

NICHOLS HEADS TO HOLLYWOOD FOR SUMMER INTERNSHIP

By Kate Anslinger

Recent graduate Russell Mason Nichols is getting a jump start on his education and his future career goals. Having always been a fan of FaZe Clan, an American esports and entertainment organization that hosts and competes in a variety of video game tournaments, Nichols took his chances and applied for an internship at the well-known gaming organization. Months later and just days after graduation, he heard back and within a few days he was on a plane to Los Angeles for a summer internship in the content department.

Originally founded as a gaming clan on YouTube, FaZe Clan competes in popular games such as Fortnite Battle Royale, Call of Duty, and Tom Clancy's Rainbow Six Siege. Nichols is part of the content department where he will be busy helping to produce, film, edit, and brainstorm material for the team.

"I'll be spending my summer in Los Angeles, interning for the most popular esports organization in the world," said Nichols, who will be staying in an apartment between the Sunset Strip and Hollywood Boulevard.

Having been a fan of FaZe Clan for years, Nichols found out about the internship through a family friend and immediately sent over samples of his work along with his resume. The internship will serve as a perfect stepping stone to his education and career, and not long after he returns home in mid-August, he will be starting at UMass Amherst. While he is enrolled at the local university, he plans on studying Business Management and playing intramural tennis.

So far, during his once-in-a-lifetime internship opportunity, Nichols has gained knowledge of many tricks of the trade and has experienced content production in a professional setting.

"Learning everything has been very exciting and I look forward to a great summer and big things to come," said Nichols, who hopes to one day work in management for esports, specifically at FaZe Clan.

Youth learn proper exercise techniques at Miller Field

By Kate Amslinger

If you happen to drive by the Miller Field track on Friday mornings at 7 a.m. this summer, you will see a group of dedicated youngsters lunging, stretching, and running their way to fitness. As part of the youth summer program run by RPM Fitness, the 40-minute class is designed for kids ages 10 to 15, from beginner to advanced athletes.

"It's important for kids this age to know how to lift weights and execute strength training moves using proper form, so they don't get injured," said Phil Lundberg, coach and trainer at RPM Fitness.

After the strength training class on the track, the athletes make their way over to RPM Fitness where they are led in a deep stretch class by a certified yoga instructor.

"It's nice to see kids out here and moving on this beautiful track," said Ellen McGrath, a member of the senior center who is responsible for opening and closing the track for public access. The track is open to the public Monday through Friday, 5 to 8 a.m. and 6 to 8 p.m..

Tips for seniors on beating the heat this summer

Special to The Transcript

If you recall, summer 2018 ended up being a scorcher! And it won’t be long until the temperatures soar once again. During the hot months, Mystic Valley Elder Services recommends that it’s a good idea to keep a close eye on the older adults in our lives. Elders are much more likely to develop heat-related illnesses than younger people because as we age our bodies don’t adjust as well to drastic changes of temperature. Also, some medications that older adults are taking can affect the way their bodies regulate heat. Here are some tips and resources to help you beat the heat.

Slow down, and avoid strenuous activity. Don’t try to do too much on a hot day. Wear lightweight, loose-fitting, light-colored clothing.

Light colors will reflect heat and sunlight and help maintain normal body temperature. Protect your face with a wide-brimmed hat.

Drink plenty of water regularly and often, even if you do not feel thirsty. Stay hydrated.

Limit your intake of alcoholic beverages, as they can actually dehydrate your body.

Eat well-balanced, light, regular meals. Avoid high protein foods that increase metabolic heat.

Cover windows that receive morning or afternoon sun with drapes, shades, awnings or louvers. Outdoor awnings or louvers can reduce the heat that enters a home by up to 80%.

Stay indoors as much as possible.

Air-conditioning can provide a lot of relief in a summer like this one. On the most unbearably hot days when it’s too hot for fans to be effective, air-conditioners can even help you stay safe. If you don’t have air conditioning, stay on your lowest floor, out of the sun. Electric fans do not cool the air, but they do help evaporate perspiration, which cools your body.

Seek relief from the heat in air-conditioned schools, libraries, your local senior center, theaters and other community facilities that may offer refuge during the warmest times of the day.

The heat affects more than just people. Our pets can be in danger when the temperatures reach highs. Keep your animals safe and healthy in this heat. Do not leave them in a hot car or without water.

In extreme heat, it’s important that we watch out for each other and stay informed about how to remain healthy when the thermometer climbs. Stay cool!

town sought to construct the pier, marina and terminal building between 2003 and 2005. Both were finished by 2012 at a cost of $3,429,993 funded through a Public Works Economic Development (PWED) grant, the Seaport Advisory Council and the Executive Office of Transportation. There is an agreement for the state to purchase the vessel if the town stops operating the ferry. The final cost to build the ferry was $981,252 with the town paying $196,250. Another $28,000 was also paid by the town for electronics and navigation equipment. The town began running the ferry service in March 2016 after having the 73-seat vessel built in Maryland.

All types of services for all types of people.

Some people prefer traditional funeral services. Others prefer cremation. Some want an elaborate ceremony. Then there are others who don't want any ceremony at all. When it comes to funerals, there are as many options as there are people. And we take pride in being able to say we offer them all.

NEWS FROM AROUND THE REGION

PLANNING BOARD APPROVES 8 UNITS

CHELSEA - The Planning Board has approved plans for an eight-unit, four-story condominium building at Spencer and Eastern avenues, despite concerns from some board members about traffic and the size of the project.

The project at 254 Spencer Ave. will now go before the Zoning Board of Appeals (ZBA) for several variances, including parking relief. The developer is proposing eight parking spots at the site, where 12 are required by the City.

The developer will tear down the existing two-family house on the 5,000-square-foot lot and replace the home with the market-rate condo units. The units will be about 1,000 square feet each and likely sell for about $500,000 each. The project will abut the larger Acadia affordable housing development.

Although several Planning Board members raised concerns about the size of the project, Mimi Rancatore was the only board member to cast a vote against the project.

Rancatore said she appreciated the look and quality of the new building, “but I think it is just too big.”

While Rancatore said the four-story building would be comparable to the Acadia project, it would be bigger than other homes and buildings in the neighborhood. She said it could create a domino effect, with other developers buying smaller homes and knocking them down to build higher in the area.

City Council President Damali Vidot also said she liked the overall look of the project but was worried it could set a precedent leading to denser development in the neighborhood.

However, a number of residents who live in the neighborhood said they supported the project and questioned why the Planning Board had not taken greater action to stop the larger Acadia and 1005 Webster Ave. projects if they were concerned about traffic and overdevelopment.

“Why give (the developer) a hard time about this when it is the same level as the Acadia,” said neighborhood resident Barbara Richard. “We in the area approve of it.”

The Planning Board approved the project with the condition that the developer look at ways to add some more trees and shrubbery near the front of the building.

“In my opinion, the project will make a nice transition from the Acadia down to the two- and three-story buildings next to it,” said Planning Board Chairman Tuck Willis. “Certainly, what is there now is underutilized and in bad condition, and this building would clean that up.”

•In other business, the Planning Board discussed a proposed zoning amendment from the City Council concerning off-street parking regulations. Under the zoning change, residents of buildings where the developers have sought zoning relief for the number of on-site parking spaces would not be eligible to participate in the City’s off-street sticker parking program.

“This would be a way to encourage development, but not further burden the residents who live here,” said Vidot.

But Rancatore said she believes the amendment would be hard to enforce and only encourage illegal parking.

The Council, Planning Board and City officials will meet in the fall to further discuss the parking regulations.

•GreenStar Herbsals withdrew its site plan for a retail marijuana facility at 200 Beacham St., but are expected to be back before the Planning Board with a revised plan in July.

GREENWAY PROJECT UNDER CONSTRUCTION

CHELSEA - The Chelsea GreenWay project is fully under construction this week, and City officials expect to have the multi-million dollar job substantially completed by the fall.

The GreenWay project came through a $1.1 million commitment to the City from the state, as well as funds from the City Council to complete the beautification of the shared use path along the new Silver Line.

“This final part of the Silver Line project will result in such enhancements as the planting of more than 500 trees and several parcels will be landscaped, and there will also be hardscape plazas at key entryways such as Chestnut Street and Highland Street,” said Alex Train of the Planning Department.

That project goes from Eastern Avenue where the shared use path stats and concludes at Chestnut Street.

After that, there will be on-street improvements to continue the walking path such as signage, sidewalk replacement and crosswalk enhancements – filling out the walking path from one end of the project to the end at Market Basket.

Train said this is also an opportunity to plant more native trees that aren’t necessarily common in Chelsea.

“I think there is a real opportunity in the planting program,” he said. “This is one of the most intensive planting of local native species. These are trees that are native to the area, but may not be prevalent anymore.”

The idea with the GreenWay is to take pieces like the Chelsea stretch and connect it to other greenways and paths, such as the East Boston GreenWay and Everett’s Northern Strand Trail. Connecting those paths can create a network for alternative transportation that most planners only dreamed of a few years ago.

“We’re working very close now with an organization called the Land Line Coalition, which is working to try to connect all of these greenways together,” he said.

The same is true for the Silver Line’s potential expansion into Everett and Cambridge – a plan that is being considered by the MBTA in the near future.

“We are ready to expand the GreenWay network if the Silver Line expands into Everett and to the casino and beyond,” he said. “That could be a tremendous connection for our residents.”

Work will continue throughout 2019 on the project, though it is expected to be finished in November, with punch list items finishing next spring.

The contractor on the project is D’Allesandro of Avon.

POLICE SEARCH FOR GROUP OF TEENS INVOLVED IN SHOOTING

EAST BOSTON - Just before 10 p.m. on Sunday, Transit Police got a call for a report of shots fired at the MBTA’s Aquarium Station following a scuffle aboard an inbound Blue Line train that originated in East Boston..

Once police arrived they spoke to several witnesses who told officers there was an argument onboard the inbound Blue Line train that involved several juvenile males.

The disturbance turned physical and continued onto the platform at Aquarium station.

Police said at some point as the juvenile males were proceeding out of the station at least two shots were fired from an unknown caliber handgun.

Luckily no one was struck. The shooting closed the station through Monday morning so police could thoroughly process the scene for evidence.

Police said this is an active and ongoing investigation being handled by Transit Police detectives and no further information will be released at this time.

“We are extremely grateful no one was injured during tonight’s incident and all available resources will be deployed to identify, locate and apprehend the person/s responsible for such reckless and criminal conduct,” said Transit Police Superintendent Ricgard Sullivan.

BPDA APPROVES PROJECT IN MAVERICK SQUARE

EAST BOSTON - A mixed-use development pitched by developer MG2 that hopes to transform an empty corner of Maverick Square received Boston Planning and Development Agency (BPDA) board approval at the board’s June meeting.

The 7,200 square-foot vacant lot at 2-10 Maverick Square that has been historically used as a parking lot will be transformed into an attractive, six-story building that will house 25 residential rental units that will include three income-restricted units. The six-story building will also contain bicycle storage and a trash/recycling room on the ground floor.

What made the proposal attractive to residents during community meetings is that MG2 will approximately 10,710 square feet of commercial/retail/restaurant space to the square as part of the project.

The project will provide an additional unique high density housing opportunity for the area with easy access to public transportation because it is located directly opposite the MBTA’s Blue Line Maverick Station.

In planning the building, great care was given to respecting the abutting properties, which share boundaries with the site, as well as modifications made during preliminary community outreach process with direct abutters. As a result, the proposed building has been designed and scaled to compliment other current and future potential developments in the area and the surrounding streets including Maverick Square and Sumner Streets.

“The newly approved project will bring approximately $40,000 in community benefits,” the BPDA board wrote in its decision. “These include improvements to the public realm around the project site and throughout Maverick Square. Additionally, mitigation from the project will help fund a future “Transportation Action Plan” for the PLAN: East Boston study area.”

The BPDA kicked off PLAN: East Boston this past summer. The ongoing planning initiative is working with the community in the existing neighborhoods in East Boston that are facing increased development pressure. Community discussions are focused on the preservation of the existing residential fabric, enhancement of the vitality of existing residential communities and businesses, anti-displacement strategies for residents and businesses, connectivity along the waterfront, mobility, and flood protection and climate resiliency.

TUCKERMAN NAMED NEW DEPUTY PRINCIPAL AT RHS

REVERE - It was announced at the last Revere School Committee meeting by Revere School Superintendent Dianne Kelly that Leah Tuckerman has been tapped to be the new Deputy Principal at Revere High.

“We are very pleased to have Leah Tuckerman join our team,” said Kelly. “I spoke to her current boss and he told me, ‘You just won the lottery’ and based on the other references we spoke to, her interview and everything we’ve learned about Leah already that seems to be a consensus.”

Tuckerman was selected for the RHS Deputy Principal post by a panel of interviewers that included parents, teachers, students and administrators.

“She was by far our first choice,” said Kelly. “She received nothing but glowing reviews.”

Tuckerman received her Bachelor’s Degree in Spanish with a minor in Education from Haverford College in Pennsylvania. She then received her Master’s Degree in Education from Lesley University and a Certificate in Advanced Graduate Studies in Urban Education Administration from UMass Boston.

An educator for the past 19 years, Tuckerman taught high school math and became the mathematics department chair at a charter school in Boston before serving as a mathematics specialist for the Department of Elementary and Secondary Education.

“She’s a certified cross cultural language and development educator and has worked extensively with English language learners,” said Kelly. “That experience, her knowledge of effective school practices and her fluency in both Spanish and English, as well as school administration will be assets to our students and staff at Revere High.”

Tuckerman said she was thrilled to come aboard and join the Revere High team.

“I’m really thrilled to be here,” she said. “I have been watching Revere both internally and externally for a long time. I’ve been in 70 or 80 school districts in the Commonwealth and this district has always stood out to me for having really incredible leadership.”

However, in her tenure with the Department of Elementary and Secondary Education Tuckerman was no stranger to Revere High.

“This is not my first time in this room,” she said. “I’ve run professional development here, I’ve sat on the Five District Partnership Steering Committee for six years so I feel like I know you.”

As a former teacher and department chair Tuckerman said she will focus on two things when the school year starts up again in the fall.

“I was a teacher for many years and a department chair what was most important for me in schools is relationship building and educational excellence,” she said. “I will strive to really focus on those two things when I start here (at Revere High). In the end it’s all about the kids.”

BEYOND WALLS ANNOUNCES PROJECTS FOR 2019

LYNN -Beyond Walls, the award-winning, place-making and public art organization based in Lynn, announced its 2019 projects that include the creation of outdoor spaces where Lynn residents and visitors can gather; enjoy colorful, large-scale murals by local and international artists, and celebrate the city’s historic connection to the waterfront.

According to Beyond Walls Founder and Executive Director Al Wilson, this year’s efforts will reinforce the non-profit organization’s overarching mission.

“With support from the City of Lynn, elected officials, our funders, local arts organizations and community members, Beyond Walls continues to present public art in urban spaces that are often overlooked,” he said. “Equally important, we remain committed to presenting programs that are inclusive, accessible and relevant.”

During this year’s Street Art Festival, July 22 to Aug. 3, Beyond Walls, in collaboration with the Essex County Community Foundation Creative County Initiative, will launch PATIO, a new initiative that will transform underutilized urban spaces into a series of three pop-up “parklets” in the Downtown Lynn Cultural District. Through this effort, curbside parking spaces and larger walkways will be reimagined, featuring temporary seating, a platform for performances, and opportunities for food and drink pop-up shops. Deployed throughout the summer, PATIO will make its debut during the Beyond Walls annual Street Festival, with diverse programming continuing through the fall including “el ROLOTON,” a friendly “battle of the downtown barbershops,” informal “Living Room” conversations with local political candidates, and sidewalk sales that support Lynn-based entrepreneurs.

Since its inception in 2017, 44 Beyond Walls artists from around the globe and the region have produced 46 large scale artworks on buildings located throughout Lynn. As part of Beyond Walls’ diverse offerings, 600 feet of dynamic LED lighting illuminates three MBTA underpasses and 12 pieces of vintage neon art adorn buildings within a five block area of the city. In addition, Beyond Walls has overseen public art projects in both Peabody and Cambridge and— as a “prequel” to its 2019 Festival— will work with two international artists to create murals in Beverly in partnership with the iconic Cabot Theatre.

Congressman Seth Moulton is a long-time supporter of Beyond Walls.

“Beyond Walls is so much more than the works of public art that illuminate downtown Lynn,” Moulton said. “It has brought people together from all walks of life and shined a spotlight on what many of us already know—that Lynn is an incredible, diverse, proud city that is on the rise!”

Among its most ambitious ventures, Beyond Walls is partnering with the Economic Development Industrial Corporation of Lynn (EDIC/ Lynn) to activate a vacant site adjacent to the Lynn Ferry Terminal located just off Route 1A/the Lynnway. Beyond Walls is working to redesign this three-acre waterfront parcel as a seasonal seaside park, which offers commanding views of the Boston skyline. Plans for this expansive site, dubbed The Launch, feature shipping containers that will delineate the parcel’s perimeters, serve as a waiting area for the ferry, canvases for art and house a revolving series of pop-up shops, beer gardens and cafes. A playground and climbing structures will border a self-guided outdoor fitness circuit and a multi-purpose court that can be used for basketball, volleyball and Futsal, a fast-paced variation on soccer. Plans for the site also include a stage for live music and theatrical performances. “Our primary goal is to connect downtown Lynn with the waterfront by creating a vibrant destination, offering multi-generational programming, performances and versatile facilities,” said Parke MacDowell, Project Architect, Payette, who collaborated with Beyond Walls on the lighting installations and will once again serve as a pro-bono partner.

HOST COMMUNITY AGREEMENT PAYMENTS FOCUS FOR CITY

EVERETT - The City’s Host Community Agreement (HCA) was signed and reviewed by residents such a long time ago, but with the opening of Encore on June 23, that agreement was triggered into action – and it will mean $25 million in payments to the City over the next fiscal year.

Chief Financial Officer Eric Demos said the HCA is now in effect, and he is actually expecting a $440,000 payment within the next 30 days for the eight days the casino was open during the current fiscal years. On July 1, a new fiscal year begins and the larger payments in the HCA will take effect.

The two big pieces of that agreement include a $5 million annual payment for the Community Impact Fee, a payment that goes up by 2.5 percent every year.

The second, larger payment is a $20 million Payment in Lieu of Taxes (PILOT) that the resort will pay annually to the City. The agreement is structured to require the PILOT instead of a regular property tax payment. That payment also goes up by 2.5 percent each year.

Together, Demos said, they make up the bulk of the $25 million mitigation payment.

“Those funds will be collected quarterly and they will go to the General Fund,” he said. “They will definitely be used for property tax relief to the residents and they’ll help us build our reserves back up. We had to draw down our reserves with the school funding issues. It’s important we start building our reserves back up, but we also want to make sure there is property tax relief for residents and businesses.”

Payments, he said, are due on Sept. 30, Dec. 31, March 31 and June 30.

In addition to the two big items that are now coming due, the City also expects to collect several million dollars on hotel excise taxes and meals taxes.

Demos said that used to be estimated at about $5 million, but he believes it will now be more like $8 million.

“I want to see how they do and how they hit their revenue targets between now and the setting of the tax rate,” he said. “From this point, $6 million seems conservative.”

Those payments go to the state and then are returned to the City on the “Cherry Sheet” each year.

Another source of revenue is the new Parking Lot on Lower Broadway across from Encore that the City will operate for three years.

“That will be in excess of $5 million to $6 million per year as well,” he said.

That money, however, will be dedicated to transportation – particularly to some of the transportation initiatives Mayor Carlo DeMaria has been talking about recently, such as “Gold Standard” Bus Rapid Transit on Lower Broadway.

Additionally, a separate payment – not associated with the City – goes to the new Everett Citizens Foundation and is meant for community initiatives.

Catherine Denisi of the Mayor’s Office has been heading up that effort, and the Foundation has been seated and they have had three meetings.

Denisi reported the Foundation will be releasing applications to the public on July 17, giving a two-month window to apply before the September deadline. The Foundation members will review the application and make grant awards from the $250,000 payment from Encore. Their next meeting will be in August.

Demos said the resort is going to be a major shot in the arm economically for Everett, and a great deal for taxpayers.

“The resort is going to be an economic engine,” he said. “It is also a big win for the taxpayers of Everett and for the businesses here too. It will only stimulate more growth and development. A project like this is transformational.”

FAMILY FUN DAY HELD AT POND STREET PARK

The Winthrop Parks and Recreation Department held its Family Fun Night in the Park at Maya and Macie with their cat face-paintings.

Hannah Dwiggins, and Taylor Geurin of Harbor City Church handed out Frisbees to all the kids.

Pond Street Park on Thursday, June 27. Tons of kids and families enjoyed games, cotton candy and summer fun.

Marc got a dinosaur face-painting.

Owen, Ethan and Cate Harty we're all smiles while running around.

Peter, Joe, Patsy, Sean Driscoll, Sean Delehanty, and Sandro manned the grills.

Toni, Rachel, Emily and Jill were handing out all the food.

HAPPY FOURTH OF JULY

The annual Winthrop fireworks display is scheduled for Wednesday, July 4th at 9:15 PM. The fireworks will be launched from Coughlin Playground in Point Shirley.

- The annual Horribles Parade will begin at 9:00 AM. The parade will start at the Public Landing and end at Coughlin Playground. The parade will take its traditional route, and there will be events at Coughlin Playground at the conclusion.
- No outdoor fires will be tolerated. All fires will be extinguished by the Fire Department.
- There is no sanctioned Bonfire.
- There will be no consumption of alcohol in any public area. Public intoxication will be dealt with accordingly.
- All Point Shirley residents hosting parties are asked to have their guests arrive early and park off the street or in public lots.
- Point Shirley will be closed to traffic around 6:00 PM on July 4.
- Bayview Ave. and Grandview Ave. will become a one-way loop from Bayview Ave. west to Grandview Ave. south. All motor vehicles should be parked facing in those directions.
- There will be no parking allowed on the west side of Shirley St. from Bayview Ave. to Siren St. This is the side of the street near the Holy Rosary Church. Signs will be posted.
- At the end of the fireworks, all cars will follow the loop back on to Shirley St. and out of Point Shirley. Cars will not be allowed to travel out of Bayview Ave. on to Shirley St.
- Motorists may be diverted to other streets to ensure a continuous flow of traffic out of Point Shirley at the conclusion of the fireworks. Motorists are asked to follow the directions of the Police Officers directing traffic.
- Residents and other motorists are advised that there may be significant delays getting in to the Point Shirley area at the conclusion of the fireworks. Non-residents may be diverted away from the area until the flow of traffic has returned to normal.
- The Winthrop Police and Fire departments will have extra personnel assigned to the Point Shirley area on July 3 and 4 in order to manage the large number of people and events in the area.
