WHS graduation set for Friday night at Miller Field

By Cary Shuman

More than 145 Winthrop High School seniors will receive their diplomas at the Class of 2021 graduation exercises Friday (6 p.m.) at Miller Field.

Class President Jenna Dorr, Vice President Maura Dorr (Jenna's twin sister), Secretary Rachel Farley, Treasurer Grace Galuris, Class Marshal Bryan Conceicao, and Videographer Stephen Perullo will lead the procession of graduates onto Miller Field. As Class Marshal, Conceicao has the official honor.

Supt. of Winthrop Schools Lisa Howard and Winthrop High School Principal Matt Crombie will present diplomas to the graduates. Assistant Principal Michael Capasso will announce the list of graduates.

Town Council President Phil Boncore, Interim Town Manager Terence Delehanty, School Committee Chair Brian Perrin, State Sen. Joseph Boncore, State Rep. Jeffrey Turco and Fire Chief Paul Flanagan head the list of town dignitaries that will be present at the ceremonies.

Jenna Dorr, President.

Maura Dorr, Vice President.

Grace Galuris, Treasurer.

Rachel Farley, Secretary.

Bryan Conceicao,
Class Marshal.

Jami Snow, Valedictorian.

Colleen Whittaker, Salutatorian.

Stephen Perullo, Videographer.

Jami Snow, the top-ranked student academically in the Class of 2021, will deliver the valedictory address. Colleen Whittaker, the second-ranked student academically in the Class of 2021, will deliver the salutatory address.

Jenna Dorr will deliver the presidential address. Bryan Conceicao will lead the recitation of the Pledge of Allegiance.

Major scholarships and awards will be presented during the program. The Bentley Swift Memorial Cup and the Wallace B. MacLean Athletic Trophy will be awarded to the most outstanding male and female athletes respectively in the Class of 2021.

Despite the unprecedented times of the COVID-19 pandemic that dramatically affected the final two years of their high school careers, the Class of 2021 graduates showed their resiliency and continued to achieve excellence in academics, athletics, extracurricular school activities, and community service. The graduates will now begin the next chapter in their lives.

Remembering and Honoring, 'Judge Joe,' the Honorable Joseph V. Ferrino Sr.

Story and photos by Al Terminiello Jr.

The Honorable Joseph V Ferrino Sr. passed away on November 22, 2020. He was a US Navy WWII veteran, an attorney, a district judge, and most of all a champion for human rights and giving everyone a chance to obtain their goals in life.

In 1971 Joe Ferrino was appointed to the East Boston District Court, there he served his community and the general public with honor and compassion for 25 years. Through his vision he developed many programs to help those in need that appeared before him in court, including a medical clinic. In 1989 was awarded the Public Service Award by the Massachusetts Bar Association, stating his courtroom was "unparalleled" in the state.

BOSTON GLORY TO HAVE FULL CAPACITY AT HOME GAMES

In accordance with state and local guidelines, Boston Glory will have full capacity at Hormel Stadium. Boston Glory is a professional ultimate team and member of the 22-team AUDL (American Ultimate Disc League). Featuring men’s players from across New England, the team is poised to begin its inaugural season.

“This is what it is all about,” team owner Peter Collery said. “Going through this past winter and spring without the guarantee of fans in the building was tough, we’re so excited to be able to share our product. We’re going to create a really fun environment for fans of all ages. With an incredible product on the field, we’re excited to get the stands packed. Even if you’re not too familiar with ultimate, we’re confident you’ll fall in love after a couple hours at Hormel.”

The AUDL has been gaining popularity across the country since 2012. Boston Glory’s season will begin in Pittsburgh on June 5. Glory will make their home debut at Hormel Stadium in Medford on June 11 against Atlanta. Tickets are available now on the team website at <https://theaudl.com/glory>.

recognized Memorial Day with a virtual tribute honoring our fallen military heroes and their families. The video released highlights Governor Charlie Baker’s remarks at the Massachusetts Military Heroes Fund’s Flag Garden on Boston Common, and a recent visit by Governor Baker and Lt. Governor Karyn Polito to the Massachusetts State Veterans’ Cemetery in Agawam.

The video is available at www.mass.gov/MemorialDay.

Governor Baker’s Remarks:

“Now most of the recipients of that very special class [Medal of Honor recipients] don’t usually make it back.

And there are plenty of examples of that represented by many of the flags that are behind us today.

And as one of these people who’s had a chance to spend a big part of my professional career serving in public office at the local and state level, I am acutely aware that it’s the sacrifices and the generosity of spirit, and the courage, of those who serve – and their families – who make it possible for our democracy to continue to operate on behalf of the people that we all serve.

The debt that’s paid by the flags here and the folks they represent can never be repaid.

But the one thing I have heard time and time again from Gold Star Families in my conversations with them over the years, is ‘Through the tragedy, I hope you never forget, and you always take time to honor and remember, those who have made possible through their sacrifices, all that we hold dear here in Massachusetts and across the country.’”

NATIONAL GUARD RETURNS FROM WASHINGTON D.C. MISSION

This week, 400 soldiers and airmen of the Massachusetts National Guard returned home from a 10-week public safety support mission in Washington, D.C. The deployment fell under Governor Charlie Baker’s Jan. 25 activation order, which made up to 700 Massachusetts National Guard personnel available to augment the security and logistics capabilities of various agencies in the region. With the Governor’s consent, these service women and men undertook this second phase of the federally funded mission.

On Friday, May 14, Governor Baker had the chance to meet, address, and thank members of the Guard for their continued service while he was in Washington D.C. for a series of meetings with federal authorities.

OUR Opinions

CONGRATULATIONS TO THE CLASS OF 2021

Graduation Day is one of the few occasions that brings a smile to the faces of everyone in a community, regardless of whether they have a personal connection to a graduate. It is an occasion when all of us share in the joy -- and pride -- that graduation day marks in the lives of our young people. For older folks, graduation day recalls a time when we too, were young and our entire future lay in front of us.

Graduation day marks a bittersweet moment for parents, friends, family, and teachers, as well for the grads themselves. As befits every turning point in our lives, it is a time of mixed emotions of joy, sadness, and reflection. Although the graduates and those close to them are looking forward to the exciting future that lies before them, they also will be looking back on the passing of their carefree youth and the experiences that have shaped their lives to this point.

The young women and men who will be receiving their diplomas no longer are considered “youths” in the eyes of the world. They are full-fledged adults who have been deemed ready to assume all of the rights -- and responsibilities -- that adulthood implies.

The graduates, most of whom have turned 18, can vote, run for public office, enter into contracts, be tried fully as adults in the criminal justice system, and fight and die for their country.

For the parents of the grads, watching their “little boy or girl” proceed to the podium to receive his or her diploma will be a poignant moment. No doubt every parent will be thinking of the sentiments expressed in the song, Sunrise, Sunset, from Fiddler On The Roof:

Is this the little girl I carried?
Is this the little boy at play?
I don't remember growing older
When - did - they?
When did she get to be a beauty?
When did he grow to be so tall?
Wasn't it yesterday when they - were - small?

Although economists these days tell us that the value of a high school diploma is not what it was a generation or more ago, the graduates should keep in mind, as they contemplate venturing out into an uncertain world, that their mere presence on the podium has proven that they have the ability and the determination to achieve whatever goals they may set for themselves.

We recently came across a news item that appeared in the Winthrop Sun on June 24, 1898. The article, which reprinted the Class Ode for the Winthrop High Class of 1898, is as timely today as it was 123 years ago, and sums up the feelings of all of us on Graduation Day.

The years pass by in swift array
We cannot check their onward flight;
The moments that were ours today,
Have passed forever from our sight.

Yet while the course of life moves by
We too, must never lag behind;
But work and strive as best we may
To aid and benefit all mankind.

This we must do, or soon too late
We think in sadness of our loss,
For “Each is Master of his Fate,”
Though some must bear a heavy cross.

And when the race of life is run,
This life that holds so much for each
Shall come the gentle words, “Well done!”
As we at last the goal have reached.

PBS's ‘Antiques Roadshow’ coming to New England

Special to the Transcript

“Antiques Roadshow,” PBS’s most-watched ongoing series, is filming at two New England locations as part of an all-new 2021 production process.

The Boston-based series will film at Wadsworth Mansion in Middletown, Conn., on August 10 and Omni Mount Washington Resort in Bretton Woods, N.H., on Sept. 1.

Health and safety are top priorities for “Roadshow,” which is using a modified production process this year that features invitation-only filming on closed sets. Fans can enter to win an invitation to the Connecticut or New Hampshire filming now through the “Antiques Roadshow” 2021 Appraisal Contest. The deadline to enter by is June 7.

“I am so pleased that New England will help us to put the road back in ROADSHOW this August!” said executive producer Marsha Bemko. “Always wondered if the stuff around your house is junk or a gem? Now is the time to find out!”

More information around 2021 process:

Production at each of five 2021 filming locations will follow Antiques Roadshow’s COVID-19 protocols and will be on closed sets, accessible only to ROADSHOW production teams and pre-selected invited guests and appraisers.

“Roadshow” will record scheduled appraisals in small, independent groups, keeping contact to a minimum and distance as much as is possible.

Most filming will take place outdoors.

“Antiques Roadshow” will not be appraising any other items than the pre-selected submission items.

Invited guests will be selected based on submission of their item and story entered for their chosen location for the “Antiques Roadshow” 2021 Appraisal Contest.

The five locations “Antiques Roadshow” will be visiting to film their new season include: Wadsworth Mansion in Middletown, Conn., on Aug. 10; Omni Mount Washington Resort in Bretton Woods, N.H., on Sept. 1; Hempstead House at the Sands Point Preserve in Long Island, N.Y., on Sept. 14; Colonial Williamsburg in Williamsburg, Va., on Sept. 28; and Grounds For Sculpture in Hamilton, N.J., on Oct. 6.

Eighteen-time Emmy Award nominated “Antiques Roadshow,” produced by GBH, airs Mondays at 8/7C PM and is the most-watched ongoing PBS series. In 2021, “Roadshow” is seen by around 6 million viewers each week.

To learn more about ANTIQUES ROADSHOW’s 2021 Production, visit <https://www.pbs.org/wgbh/roadshow/ontour/>.

To learn more about ANTIQUES ROADSHOW’s 2021 Appraisal Contest and see official rules, visit <https://www.pbs.org/wgbh/roadshow/tickets/>.

No purchase necessary. To enter, submit photo and description of item online. Up to 130 Winners per location who’s entries “wow” the producers will be selected at producers’ discretion; prize has no monetary value. Must be 18 or older. Must be U.S. resident. Must be available to attend with selected item. Restrictions apply. Void where prohibited. Sponsored by WGBH Educational Foundation, 1 Guest Street, Boston MA 02135.

Museum of Fine Arts releases June schedule of events

Staff report

This month, the Museum of Fine Arts, Boston (MFA), hosts its ninth annual Juneteenth—the MFA’s first in-person community celebration in over a year—and continues its partnership with the Roxbury International Film Festival (RIFF). Additional virtual events include a program hosted by the Center for Netherlandish Art, the annual Daphne Farago Fund Lecture featuring three contemporary artists working in jewelry, and a series of conversations in conjunction with the MFA’s upcoming outdoor project, Garden for Boston.

JUNETEENTH: On June 19, the MFA is hosting a day of outdoor programs to celebrate Juneteenth—the oldest nationally recognized commemoration of the ending of slavery in the U.S.—and honor the contributions of Black artists, scholars and creative voices to the City of Boston. Drop-in activities will include art making, Spotlight Talks focused on artwork by the MFA’s artist-in-residence Rob Stull and musical performances curated by BAMS Fest. Limited free tickets will be available for an outdoor screening of Summer of Soul, presented in partnership with the Roxbury International Film Festival. Additionally, a virtual panel discussion titled “Disruption by Design: A New Path to Liberation” will take place on June 16 at 6 pm.

Guests visiting the MFA will no longer be required to wear a mask. The Museum still recommends following along with CDC guidelines for vaccinated and unvaccinated individuals.

ROXBURY INTERNATIONAL FILM FESTIVAL: The 23rd annual Roxbury International Film Festival (June 17–26) takes place virtually on mfa.org and in person this year, including outdoor film screenings on June 19 and 24. RIFF is the the largest festival in New England dedicated to celebrating films by, for and about people of color. Tickets will be available to purchase on June 2.

GARDEN FOR BOSTON: This spring, the MFA will launch Garden for Boston, a new outdoor project by local artists and activists Ekua Holmes (African American, born 1955) and Elizabeth James-Perry (Aquinnah Wampanoag, born 1973) that welcomes visitors and opens conversations about the land that the Museum occupies. The project will be further activated through a series of public discussions with artists, scholars and thought leaders about the deep connections and intersections between Black and Indigenous histories in Boston. Upcoming events include “Community Crossroads: Black and Native Experiences in Boston” (June 1) and “Planting Together: Conversation with Ekua Holmes and Elizabeth James-Perry” (June 22).

PAST-PRESENT-FUTURE: CONTEMPORARY JEWELRY NOW: The annual Daphne Farago Fund Lecture on June 3 will bring together three contemporary artists working in jewelry today: Melanie Bilenker, Tiff Massey and Mallory Weston. These artists create provocative, relevant and socially engaged work, each posing adornment not just as aesthetic decoration, but as a vital and urgent means of connecting past to present, and communicating visions of the future through design.

YOUTHFUL AMBITION: Flemish painter Anthony van Dyck was not yet 20 years old when he painted Self-Portrait as Icarus with Daedalus in about 1618. In a virtual program on June 8 organized by the Center for Netherlandish Art, leading experts on Flemish art take a closer look at the recently rediscovered work, which is a promised gift to the MFA from the Van Otterloo Collection. Participants will explore Van Dyck’s motivations behind the painting and the pictorial traditions from which it emerged, and preview the Museum’s plans for displaying works by Van Dyck and other Flemish masters in the new galleries of Dutch and Flemish art, opening fall 2021.

SOUND BITES: In conjunction with Writing the Future: Basquiat and the Hip-Hop Generation, the MFA is hosting a Sound Bites: Nancy Lee Clark Concert Series that explores how different generations expand on and redefine early hip-hop. The concerts—filmed inside the exhibition and available for rent on the Museum’s recently launched on-demand video platform, MFA Selects—conclude on June 3 with Slick Vick with Cake Swagg and Bernadine. The full suite of performances will be available to view on MFA Selects through the run of the exhibition.

ARTICLE 969 - MEMORIES OF OUR UNITARIAN CHURCH

With the beginning of Winthrop's rapid population growth in 1875, as the result of the development of ocean side resort accommodations and the Narrow Gauge Railroad transportation system, the desire for various Houses of Worship also began to increase. As part of this expansion, a Unitarian Church was constructed in 1889 on Hermon Street across from where the Town Hall is today. See picture #1 for how it appeared in the early 1890's. Notice that Hermon Street was then a dirt road which had wooden supports along both sides of it. The construction of Hermon Street began at Main Street about 1855 and slowly proceeded Southward until 1859 when it reached the spot where Lincoln Street would be laid out a year or two later. By 1862, the Town Fathers decided to finish Hermon Street through to what is now Metcalf Square. To the left of this Church building, down in the "Pit" area, was a large fresh water pond. This same pond is reported to have provided water for the Native American Indians who summered on our peninsula prior to 1630. Also during the late 1850's Sam Belcher, who lived in a house on what is now Belcher Street, had a small group of cows that grazed on what is now the location of our Town Hall and Public Library. These cows went down the slope to obtain water from the "Pit". When Hermon Street was completed through to Pauline Street in the mid 1860's, a tunnel was constructed under the street so Mr. Belchers cattle could continue to obtain drinking water from the pit. In picture #2, the rear of the 1872 Baptist Church building which later housed the theater for the Winthrop Playmakers, can be seen on the extreme right of the photograph. On the left side of this picture, the first high school, built in 1896 and razed in 1972, can be seen standing behind the subject church building. The front stairways to the Church had been converted from left and right flights of stairs into a single set of stairs to the building entrance. In 1929 this building was converted to civic use which included public meetings and other activities held by the local

Veterans of Foreign Wars organization. In the 1970's, it became a youth centre which was operated by the local Parks and Recreation Commission. Picture #3 depicts the building from a different angle as it appeared on a Postcard. In 1973 the pit area was filled in, with earth that had been used to surcharge the land where the skating rink was built in 1974, and a playground for the then existing E.B. Newton, Centre and Willis schools was constructed. Picture #4, taken from in front of the Hermon Street entrance to the current Town Hall Joseph Harvey Hearing Room, depicts the former site of the Unitarian Church as it appears today with the Arthur T. Cummings Elementary School (constructed in 2002) on it. On the second floor hallway of this school is a large framed collection of photographs, provided by the 2002 Sesquicentennial Celebration Committee and framed by Matt Honan, which depicts the various schools that have existed around the "Pit" since the first school was built there in 1881

This past weekend's E.B. Newton Gala was a success from all vantage points. When Massachusetts Speaker of the House Robert DeLeo personally announced to the guests in attendance that the Massachusetts Historical Commission was going to award a $50,000 grant for repairs to the E.B. Newton School, it only added another level of good cheer to the entire event, which raised $10,000 as approximately 350 guests came out to support the town and help the continued transformation of the school into a cultural and historical center.

As many as 58 Winthrop eighth-grade students are expected to leave the Winthrop school system next year to attend private schools. In addition, another 11 students who were enrolled as freshmen at WHS this past year are leaving for private schools. Cutbacks in programs and overall reductions in the School Dept. budget are seen as the reasons for the large outflow of students.

Town Meeting, which reconvened Monday to take up budget articles after adjourning in April, whizzed through the budget, with members unanimously approving a recommendation by both the selectmen and the Advisory Committee to use MWRA mitigation funds to close a $2 million budget gap. The final budget approved by Town Meeting was $30,856,782, a level-funded budget of the previous year. The lone controversy at the session occurred when Selectman Robert E. Noonan took issue with a statement in the Advisory Committee's Redbook, which asserted that the town was circumventing the limits of Prop. 2 and 1/2. Noonan termed

OBITUARIES

William Tomczyk

World War II veteran and proud member of
The Greatest Generation

 Family and friends are invited to attend Visiting Hours on Friday, June 4 from 9 to 10:30 a.m. in the Vertuccio & Smith, Home for Funerals 773 Broadway (Rt. 107) Revere for William W. Tomczyk who died unexpectedly on Saturday, May 29 at the Katzman Family Center for Living in Chelsea. He was 97 years old. A Funeral Service will be held at 10:30 a.m. in the funeral home followed by Interment with Military Honors at Massachusetts National Cemetery in Bourne at 1 p.m.

Bill was born and raised in Boston's "Old West End" and educated in Boston Public Schools. He enlisted in the United States Navy on December 14, 1942 so he could serve his country during World War II. He served aboard the USS Colorado BB45, which he was most proud of. During his service, he earned the American Theatre Campaign Ribbon, Asiatic – Pacific Campaign Ribbon with six stars and the Philippine Liberation with One Star. Bill was aboard the USS Colorado in Tokyo Harbor during the signing of the surrender of the War and was honorably discharged after three years of service as a Seaman First Class. He returned home after the war to his beloved West End. In the late 1980's, Bill moved to Revere where he remained close to his family. He did not have any children of his own, however, he adored all of his nieces and nephews and treated them as if they were his own. Bill was a regular at Wonderland Dog Track in Revere where he would go to socialize, bet on the races and simply make new friends. He could be seen sporting his USS Colorado attire. Bill was a member of the "Greatest Generation," he lived it and he demonstrated it every day of his life. The beloved son of the late Stanley and Victoria Tomczyk, he was the cherished brother of Virginia V. Joltki and her husband, Paul of Malden and the late Stella Moroz, Laura Caccia, Walter Tomczyk, Joseph Tomczyk and Alexander Tomczyk; loving uncle of Michael Joltki, Michelle Scorzella and the late Susan Joltki, Richard Tomczyk, Patti Barberio, Linda Tomczyk, Michelle Gustafson, Kris Nazzaro, Stanley Tomczyk and the late Joseph Tomczyk, Stephen Caccia, Lois Collins, John Caccia, Anita Harmon and Larry Caccia. He is also lovingly survived by many loving grandnieces and grandnephews, great grandnieces and great grandnephews. In lieu of flowers, remembrances may be made to the New England Shelter for Homeless Veterans, 17 Court St. Boston, MA, 02108. Marijuana Delivery Operator licenses available to qualifying applicants

Staff report

The Cannabis Control Commission (Commission) is pleased to announce that Certified Economic Empowerment Applicants and Social Equity Program Participants can now apply for pre-certification and licensure for a second delivery license type—Marijuana Delivery Operator licenses - through the Massachusetts Cannabis Industry Portal (MassCIP). The availability of the Marijuana Delivery Operator license is a major development to the agency's ongoing commitment to ensure meaningful participation in the legal industry by individuals who have been disproportionately impacted by previous marijuana prohibition, as well as efforts to combat unregulated cannabis delivery happening throughout the Commonwealth. "I applaud the Commissioners, staff, and members of the public who envisioned this license type and worked hard to streamline the application and make it as accessible as possible," said Commission Executive Director Shawn Collins. "Our delivery policies and procedures will only bolster Massachusetts' reputation as a role model for states looking to incorporate equity into cannabis legalization and ensure public safety." As it launches the Marijuana Delivery Operator application in MassCIP, the Commission is also assisting applicants by publishing a Delivery Frequently Asked Questions (FAQ) document that helps applicants and the public navigate the submission and review process. Massachusetts residents can locate the FAQ by visiting MassCannabisControl.com and following the "Applicants and Licensee" constituent pathway to "Adult-Use Licensees/Frequently Asked Questions" or looking under "Public Documents." After opening up pre-certification and license applications for the Marijuana Courier (formerly known as Delivery-Only) businesses last May, the Commission approved the creation of Marijuana Delivery Operator licenses during its 2020 regulatory review process. Qualifying Microbusinesses also can offer delivery service upon receiving a Delivery Endorsement from the Commission. For a minimum of three years, the Commission's delivery license types are exclusively available to businesses controlled by, and with majority ownership comprised of, Certified Economic Empowerment Priority Applicants or Social Equity Program Participants. Under the Commission's regulations, the exclusivity period begins the date the first Marijuana Delivery Operator receives a notice to commence operations. Marijuana Delivery Operator licenses, which were created in direct response to a robust public hearing and public comment process in 2020, enable businesses to wholesale finished marijuana products from Marijuana Cultivators and Marijuana Product Manufacturers, white-label, or affix the branding name and/or logo of a Marijuana Establishment, and sell those products directly to consumers, among other functions. Along with the Commission's typical testing, packaging, and labeling safeguards, licensees will be required to comply with stringent public safety regulations to warehouse inventory, as well as other protections such as a minimum of two Marijuana Establishment Agents in any vehicle that undertakes delivery service, and the use of body cameras when carrying out the delivery, with certain privacy restrictions and notifications. Currently, more than 400 applicants are eligible for the Commission's delivery licenses, between 122 Certified Economic Empowerments Applicants and nearly 300 Social Equity Program Participants from cohorts one and two. Already the Commission has approved one final license and seven provisional licenses for Marijuana Couriers and pre-certified 62 applicants for that license type. Under the Commission's regulations, licensed delivery service will be able to occur with:

- A municipality which the delivery licensee has identified as its place of business;
- Any municipality which allows for adult-use retail within its borders; or
- Any municipality that has notified the Commission that delivery may operate within its borders.

For more information about Marijuana Delivery Operators, call the Commission at 774-415-0200, email Commission@CCCMass.com, or follow the agency on Facebook and Twitter.

A band concert from 8-9 a.m. opened Winthrop's Memorial Day observances. After the concert, the Civil War veterans formed at their headquarters on Pauline St. and marched through the town. Seven automobiles carried some of the older veterans who chose not to walk. Gen. Leonard Wood has recommended to Secretary of War Stimson that baseball be permitted to be played on Sundays at Ft. Banks, but that civilians not be allowed to attend. This would eliminate the unruly out-of-town folks who come to Winthrop on Sundays and who are the cause of the problems we have with baseball games being played on the Sabbath. Massachusetts state law forbids baseball to be played on Sundays, but Ft.

Banks is a federal government reservation and thus exempt from state laws. Thanks to the efforts of State Rep. Granger, the town will be reimbursed $8000 by the state for construction of the seawall on the Pt. Shirley road.

Some people prefer traditional funeral services. Others prefer cremation. Some want an elaborate ceremony. Then there are others who don't want any ceremony at all. When it comes to funerals, there are as many options as there are people. And we take pride in being able to say we offer them all.

Rescued sea turtles to be released into the wild

Staff Report

Following a historic season that saw hundreds of cold-stunned sea turtles wash ashore on Cape Cod, the New England Aquarium sent off 25 rehabilitated turtles to be released back into the wild from the North Carolina coast. The turtles spent the past four to six months at the Aquarium's Sea Turtle Hospital in Quincy. Volunteer pilots with the non-profit organization Turtles Fly Too met animal care staff members at the Marshfield Airport to safely get the turtles onboard and en route to North Carolina's warmer waters off Fort Macon State Park. Three planes transported the rehabilitated turtles south, along with nine turtles from National Marine Life Center and Mystic Aquarium. "It is so rewarding to see many of these turtles returning to their home," said Adam Kennedy, senior biologist at the Aquarium. "While I would love to be there to set the turtles down on the beach myself, knowing that this honor will go to others that have played such pivotal roles rescuing these animals over the years—especially this year—makes it just as special." Aquarium biologists and veterinarians had treated the Kemp's ridley turtles, an endangered species, for a variety of life-threatening medical conditions that resulted from weeks of hypothermia and the inability to feed during stranding season, which occurs when New England waters quickly turn cold in the fall. The 2020 season, which began in October, required strict safety protocols and tight coordination with partner organizations amid the pandemic. The Aquarium worked closely with Mass

Audubon's Wellfleet Bay Wildlife Sanctuary, National Marine Life Center, the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration's (NOAA) Fisheries Service, and Turtles Fly Too to save hundreds of turtles. Over the course of the season, the Aquarium admitted 569 sea turtles for rehabilitation. There are currently 15 turtles remaining at the Quincy facility, which will be released off Cape Cod over the summer. For more than 30 years, the New England Aquarium has helped rescue, rehabilitate, release, and research endangered and threatened sea turtles. The Aquarium's Sea Turtle Hospital functions similarly to how a human patient would be admitted to a hospital. When they first arrive, the turtles are assigned a federal number to track their medical plan, acting as an identifier for prescriptions and other specialized care. The turtles then receive a physical exam, replacement fluids, heart rate and respiration assessment, wound care as needed, and a trial swim. The trial swim helps biologists and veterinarians determine the turtle's level of activity and alertness. Turtles also get X-rays to assess for fractured bones and lung condition, with many diagnosed with pneumonia.

WINTHROP MEMORIAL DAY EXERCISES AT WINTHROP CEMETERY

Photos & Story by Marianne Salza

The American Legion Post 146, Winthrop Lodge of Elks, and members of the community solemnly gathered at the Winthrop Cemetery on May 31 to remember the endurance of American heroes for Memorial Day. In commemoration of fallen veterans, and those who laid down their lives while serving the country, local officials and veterans shared stories of valiant soldiers who fought for our freedom.

“Today we honor those who did not return,” said principal speaker, Lorraine Farmer, Sgt. USMC, Korean War. “My brother and husband both served in the Navy in the greatest generation. In WWII, there were over 405 American military personnel killed in the war. Over 600,000 were critically wounded. Let us pause, and wonder what these brave men and women would have accomplished, had they survived the war. Let us honor all those who died in all wars for this great country.”

Remarks from Lorraine Farmer

Good morning to the citizens of Winthrop and those visiting our little town. I'm happy to see so many children here that have joined their parents this morning for this solemn occasion.

First off, I would like to offer a welcome and congratulations to Jeffrey Turco, who is our newly elected State Representative in the Massachusetts House of Representatives.

I'd also like to welcome State Senator Joseph Boncore and Council President Philip Boncore.

I want to thank Winthrop's American Legion Post 146 for organizing this service and Richard Honan for the honor of speaking here today.

I come from a family of Military Veterans, my dad served in World War One, my brother and husband both served in the Navy in World War II. Thankfully, they all returned home safely. I also served in the Korean War as a sergeant in the United States Marine Corps.

But today is not about my family or any of us here today. Today, we gather together to honor those who did not return home. The brave men and women who died in defense of this great country. Perhaps, they had a mom, a dad, a sister or brothers. Perhaps a husband, a wife and children? Many of them could have been engaged to be married after the war. Sadly, it was not to be.

My brother and my husband both served in the Navy. They were part of the greatest generation. In World War II, there were over 405,000 American military personnel were killed in the war and over 600,000 were critically wounded.

Let us pause and look back for a moment and wonder what these brave men and women may have accomplished had they survived the war.

Let us also honor all this those men and women who died in all wars while defending this great Country of ours.

Honor them for their bravery for they gave the supreme sacrifice. Honor all who gave their lives, while protecting your life, my life and the lives of countless other Americans.

They gave us freedom of worship, freedom to vote for whom ever we chose, freedom of speech and yes, the right and the freedom to disagree without malice. In essence, they gave their lives so that we could live in freedom.

Today is not a happy day for those that lost a loved one, so I ask all of you, please take the time and remember those who did not come home.

All gave some and some gave All!

Thank you and God Bless America!

WHS SPORTS ROUNDUP

SOFTBALL TEAM MASHES MASCO

The Winthrop High softball team made their long trek to Masconomet last Wednesday a worthwhile endeavour, coming home with a 14-5 victory over their new Northeastern Conference rival.

The Lady Vikings' bats were as hot as the weather (high 80s) that day, as they pounded out 18 hits and crossed home plate 14 times.

Speedy lead-off hitter Izzy Mahoney (2-for-5 with two RBI) started the game with a triple, the first of her two triples on the day, and from there, and the Lady Vikings were off and running.

Major contributors at the plate included Sofia Vitale (3-for-5 with four RBI and three runs scored) and Rachel Farley (2-for-5 with a triple and who also reached on an error).

Vitale was the starting pitcher, allowing eight hits and three runs through the first four frames. Nelly Carter came on for an inning, tossing a 3-up-and-3-down fifth, and Vitale came back to close out the contest in the final two innings.

Mahoney was awarded the Big Bat and Summer Fallent got the Big Glove for her defensive performance at shortstop and third, making five plays on the day.

Two days later the Lady Vikings made the shorter trek to Saugus, but came back with a 5-3 loss.

Winthrop scored two runs in the first and added another in the second on a home run by Carter, but that would prove to be the extent of the Lady Vikings' offensive output for the rest of the day.

Vitale went all six innings in the pitcher's circle, allowing eight hits, four earned runs, and fanning six opponents.

Coach Dave Guffey and his squad were scheduled to host Swampscott today (Thursday) in a contest that will be highlighted by Senior Day festivities and will make the long ride to Gloucester on Monday and then to Salem on Wednesday.

WHS GIRLS TENNIS BLANKS SALEM, 5-0

The Winthrop High girls tennis team celebrated its Senior Day in appropriate fashion with a 5-0 shutout of Salem last Thursday afternoon.

The Lady Vikings captured all of their matches with their Salem counterparts in straight sets.

Senior captain Natalia Kirilova won at first singles, 6-3, 6-1; senior captain Jami Snow triumphed at second singles, 6-1, 6-1; and freshman Genesis Bueno cruised to victory at third singles, 6-1, 6-1.

In the doubles matches, the first doubles duo of juniors Emma Forsyth and Madeleine Rossi won 6-1, 6-1 and the second doubles tandem of senior captain Emma Foley and senior Karina Silva triumphed by a score of 6-0, 6-1.

"It was nice to see the seniors play well on Senior Night," said WHS head coach Mike Nickerson.

The victory improved the Lady Vikings' record to 5-3. They were scheduled to meet Peabody yesterday (Wednesday) and will trek to Masconomet today (Thursday). They will host Gloucester on Monday.

WHS GIRLS TRACK SPLITS TWO MEETS

Although the Winthrop High girls track team came up on the short end of an 81-49 decision to Danvers on the holiday at Miller Field, there were a number of fine performances turned in by the Lady Vikings.

Nora McCarey was the top Winthrop scorer with 18 points. Nora handily won the long jump with a leap of 13'-3" (a jump that was eight inches further than her closest Danvers rival) and sped to victory in the 100 dash in 14.3 seconds and the 200 dash in 29.3. Nora also took second place in the triple jump with a final landing of 28'-10.5".

Bea Holzbach also had a fine meet with 14 points on the day. Bea captured first place in the triple jump (31'-6.5") and took second in the javelin (51'-8"), the 400 intermediate hurdles (67.0, just .3 behind the winner), and the 400 dash (63.8, just .6 behind the winner).

Corinne Jane placed second in three events, the long jump with a nice leap of 12'-10.5", the 110 high hurdles in 20.4, and the 100 dash in 14.6, to add nine points to the Winthrop scoresheet.

Tatyanna Lewis added three points with a second place effort in the shot-put with a throw of 23'-8" and Francesca Connor took second in the discus with a spin of 60'-5".

Elizabeth Carney crossed the line in third place in the mile in 6:28 to add a point to the Winthrop cause and April Ferguson likewise contributed a point for the Lady Vikings with a third in the two-mile in 14:09.2.

Last week Winthrop hosted Salem and cruised to a 107-11 victory.

First-place finishers for the Lady Vikings were Holzbach in the long jump, triple jump, 400 hurdles, and 400 dash;

A number of members of the WHS girls and boys track teams competed in the Division 4 State Meet this past week. On the girls' side, Christina Russo ran in the 200 dash and finished in 16th place in a time of 27.84. Teammate Lexi Vaccaro finished in 21st position in the 200 with a time of 28.24. Lexi also competed in the triple jump, ending up in 20th position with a landing of 32'-6". Alyssa Mackey ran in the 400 dash and grabbed 16th spot in a clocking of 63.84. Jordan Griffiths finished in 23rd position in the 800 in 2:35.24. Two Lady Vikings competed in the 400 meter hurdles. Amy Sena finished 18th in 71.84 and teammate Carly O'Keefe was right behind in 19th in 72.84. Naomi Meggison jumped 15'-9" for a ranking of 14th in the long jump. The Winthrop relay teams acquitted themselves well, with the 4 x 100 quartet taking eighth place in 53.34 and the 4 x 400 foursome finishing in 14th in a time of 4:28.24. For the boys, the lone entrant in the meet, which requires an athlete to achieve a predetermined time or distance, was Jordan Ekaidat, who grabbed eighth place in the 400 with a clocking of 51.84 and long-jumped to 18th spot with a leap of 20'-4.25".

The Winthrop High softball team will embark on its Journey to the Tourney today (Thursday) when the Lady Vikings travel to the Academy of Notre Dame in Tyngsboro. Coach Dave Guffey's

Construction manager chosen for new Northeast Metro Tech Vocational school

Staff report

Superintendent David DiBarri and the Northeast Metro Tech Building Committee are pleased to share that Gilbane Building Company has been hired as the project's construction manager at-risk (CMR).

Designed by architect Drummey Rosane Anderson with PMA Consultants serving as the owner's project manager, the new school will be a state-of-the-art facility and will allow Northeast to grow its enrollment from 1,270 students to 1,600 -- a 26% increase.

The increase in available seats is expected to dramatically shorten the district's annual waitlist, which on average totals approximately 400 students.

The District is wrapping up the Schematic Design phase, through which details of the design and cost estimates are being finalized. The Schematic Design Report is slated to be submitted to the Massachusetts School Building Authority (MSBA), a state agency that supports the funding of capital improvement projects in the Commonwealth's public schools, for consideration in July.

Headquartered in Rhode Island with a local office in Boston, Gilbane has been providing construction management services for Massachusetts projects since 1946. Gilbane has extensive experience with large-scale and vocational K-12 school McCarey in the 110 hurdles; Ferguson in the 800 and two-mile; Carney in the mile; Sophia Munson in the 100 and 200 dashes; Skyla Zappulla in the high jump and shot-put; and Amanda Jurovich in the javelin.

Second-place points were contributed by Sage Calinda in the mile; Olexis Tallent in the 800; McCarey in the 200 dash; Zappulla in the 100 dash; Connor in the discus; Jane in the 110 hurdles; Lewis in the shot-put; Munson in the high jump and long jump; and Lucy Girard in the javelin.

Adding single points with third place efforts were McCarey in the triple jump and Jane in the discus.

Coach Warren MacPhail and his crew will travel to Saugus next Tuesday.

WHS BOYS TENNIS TEAM IN NEAR-UPSET OF MARBLEHEAD

The Winthrop High boys tennis team almost pulled off the upset of the 2021 season in the Northeastern Conference, battling the Marblehead Magicians down to the wire before falling by a score of 3-2 in a marathon match that was not settled until 7:30 last Wednesday afternoon on the courts at Ingleside Park.

"This was the most exciting match of my coaching career," said long-time WHS boys head coach Marie Finn. "Marblehead always is the top team in the Northeastern Conference because they have boys who play tennis year-round as their primary sport. So for us to be able to take them to the limit was truly remarkable."

After the Vikings' top two players, James Sicurella (0-6, 0-6) and Bobby Diaz (3-6, 4-6), came up short against their Marblehead counterparts at first and second singles, Evan Smotrich gave Winthrop a victory at third singles with a triumph in straight sets, 6-2, 6-1.

The Vikings' first doubles pairing of captain Augie Cherico and Ari Hain then battled their Marblehead foes in a tough, three-setter before emerging triumphant, 6-4, 5-7, 7-5.

"Augie and Ari played phenomenally," noted Finn. "Augie may have played the best match of his career. He was aggressive at the net and put away a lot of shots for points."

With the score now tied at 2-2, all eyes turned to the second-doubles match, which was the last match of the day to get underway at Ingleside's four courts.

After dropping the first set, 4-6, the Viking tandem of Ryan Kfoury and J.D. Parker battled back in the second set to even the match with a 6-4 victory.

"By that time, everyone else's matches had concluded and both teams were watching their match," said Finn.

Although the Marblehead team eventually prevailed, 6-3, in the final set to claim the victory for the Magicians, the Winthrop squad had proven its mettle against the iron of the NEC.

"Even though we came up short, I have to say that this match was a highlight of all of my years in coaching," noted Finn. "The Marblehead coach came up to me afterwards and was effusive in her praise of the team's performance."

Two days later, the Vikings took on Salem and claimed a 5-0 victory.

Finn and her crew, who now stand at 2-3 on the season, have a busy week ahead. They were set to take on Salem again yesterday (Wednesday) and will trek to Masconomet tomorrow (Thursday). They will make the long bus ride to Gloucester on Monday before returning home for Senior Day festivities next Friday against Beverly.

CHRIS CAPPUCCIO IS DOUBLE-WINNER FOR BOYS

Chris Cappuccio led the scoring for the Winthrop High boys track team in their meet with Danvers this past Monday.

Chris won the high jump with a leap of 5'-6" and topped the field in the 200 dash in 23.3 seconds. Chris also sped to second place in the 100 dash in 11.6 seconds (just .1 behind the winning time) and took third in the long jump with a leap of 18'-1.75" for a total of 14 points on the day.

Owen Riley took second place in the discus with a toss of 95'-9". Ryan Cash grabbed second spot in the 400 hurdles in a clocking of 71.5.

Dillon Riley took third in the shot-put with a toss of 36'-5" and third in the discus with a spin of 91'-9". Nicholas Cappuccio grabbed a third-place point in the 200 dash in 24.8.

Last Wednesday, the Vikings hosted Salem and earned a 78-49 victory.

First-place finishers for the Vikings were: Nathaniel Derosier in the high jump; Chris Cappuccio in the long jump, 100 dash, and 200 dash; Dan Guaque in the triple jump; Owen Riley in the discus; Zane Bower in the javelin; and Eric Azbegu in the 110 hurdles.

Second-place finishers for Winthrop were: Nicholas Cauppuccio in the long jump and 200 dash; Dillon Riley in both the shot-put and discus; Luke Riley in the javelin and the two-mile; and Ryan Cash in the 400 hurdles.

Adding a point to the Winthrop scoresheet with third-place efforts were: Kyle Testa in the discus; Ryan Cash in the javelin and mile; Nick Cappuccio in the 100 dash; John Rice in the 400 dash; and Derosier in the two-mile.

The Vikings will trek to Saugus this Tuesday.

WHS BASEBALL PLAYS WELL IN 4-0 LOSS AT SWAMPSCOTT

The Winthrop High baseball team engaged in only one game this past week thanks to scheduling conflicts and changes.

The Vikings traveled to Swampscott and although they played well, a lack of timely hitting resulted in a 4-0 loss to the Big Blue.

The opening inning proved to be an omen of the kind of day that was in store for Winthrop.

Joe Hayes led off the game with a double off the fence in the left center field gap and then advanced to third on a passed ball with two outs with Cam Conway at the plate.

Cam worked a base-on-balls, but the pitch that was thrown for ball four was in the dirt. Hayes broke for home, thinking the ball had skipped behind the Swampscott catcher, but instead the catcher had blocked it and threw out Hayes at third.

"Joey got a bad read on a ball -- he thought it had gotten away from the catcher," said WHS head coach Mike DeFelice. "He had a good-sized lead to begin with, and broke two steps for home before he realized the ball was sitting in front of the catcher. He was thrown out trying to dive back into third on a great throw from the Swampscott catcher."

The lead-off double would be a recurring theme for the Vikings throughout the day. Joe Holgersen (who has been swinging an incredibly hot bat for Winthrop lately with seven hits in his last 10 at bats) led off with a two-bagger to start the third. Luca Zanelli had an excellent at bat to follow to draw a walk and the Vikings were in business with runners on first and second with no outs.

But another recurring theme of the day for Winthrop also took shape.

"We started to chase bad pitches early in the count, and watch some great ones go by with two strikes on us," noted DeFelice of his squad, who struck out 13 times -- eight of them looking.

After Zanelli's at bat, the next two Vikings fanned and the Winthrop threat ended meekly with a pop fly.

In the meantime, WHS pitcher David DiCicco was tossing what DeFelice termed as "perhaps the best game of David's high school career. He was getting ahead in the count early, moving his fast ball around, his curveball was on point all day, and he had Swampscott frustrated at the plate.

"David took a very disciplined and measured approach to each pitch, and each inning and was just very, very impressive all day," added DeFelice of DiCicco's route-going effort of 93 pitches.

Although a throwing error in the third accounted for the first two Swampscott runs, the Vikings overall were playing great baseball.

"The team cranked it up to another level and were making plays all day behind David -- and for David," noted DeFelice, "because they understood what he was doing on the hill in front of them."

Zach Bogusz led off the top of the fifth with yet another double. The next Winthrop batter struck out looking, but Zanelli drew another walk. With runners on first and second with one out, Hayes rocketed a missile back up through the middle.

As Bogusz was being waved around third, the Swampscott shortstop went racing deep into the hole behind second base and turned an absolutely remarkable double play to end the inning.

"The difference in the game was that Swampscott swung the bat well and put pressure on us defensively to make plays," said DeFelice. "Aside from the three lead-off doubles (the Vikings' only three hits on the day), we did not do the same.

"However, this group is really starting to play some quality baseball, and just when I think it's not possible for them to work any harder, they do," DeFelice added. "I know I keep repeating myself, but they believe they can beat anybody on our schedule, and they will not lay down or quit no matter the circumstances. I absolutely love coaching this team because they know how to compete. They look out for one another, pick each other up, and play for one another."

DeFelice and his crew have a busy week ahead with six games in seven days, including a doubleheader. They will host Masconomet today (Thursday) at Veterans Field at 1:00 and travel to Salem State College Saturday to meet Salem High.

They will host Bishop Fenwick in a doubleheader on Sunday starting at 10:00 and then will trek to Beverly on Monday and to Peabody on Wednesday.

Winthrop squad, which comes into the tourney with a 9-11 record, is the 17th seed in the Division 3 North Sectional bracket. Four Lady Vikings were named to the NEC South All Star team this week: Andrea Martucci, Taylor Brown, Liana Ferullo, and pitcher Alex Ferri.

Long-suffering Boston Bruins fans, who have not celebrated a Stanley Cup victory since the days of Bobby Orr in 1972, will be hoping that the Bruins can deliver an NHL title in their championship series with the Vancouver Canucks.

Former WHS star lefthander Larry Thomas, a junior at the University of Maine, has been drafted in the second round of the Major League draft by the Chicago White Sox.

Winthrop High star hurdler Billy Perella won the State Championship in the 110 meter high hurdles in 14.9 seconds. He becomes the first WHS track athlete to win both indoor and outdoor state titles since Mike Brenner accomplished that feat in the shotput in 1982. Steve Staffier won the state and New England titles in the 100-meter dash in 1983. Perella will compete in the New England championships this week in Hartford.

The WHS baseball team was eliminated in the second round of the MIAA Division 3 North baseball tourney with a 7-4 loss to Newburyport. Dave Melchionda had pitched a six-inning shut-out in an 11-0 win over Lexington Christian in the first round on Saturday for Coach Barry Rosen’s squad.

The WHS softball team defeated St. Mary’s of Lawrence 10-5 in the first round of the state tournament. Lori Thomas played excellent defense for Winthrop at shortstop and Joanna Saggese had two hits and three RBI.

Billy Moore tossed a nine-inning shutout to lead the WHS baseball team to a 4-0 win over Greater Lawrence in the first round of state tourney play. Joe Giaquinto socked a triple and a home run to lead the offense.

Judy Osvar was the winning pitcher as the WHS softball team recorded its first-ever state tourney victory over Bedford. Coach Ron Spinney’s Lady Vikings then defeated Newton Catholic 7-3 in 11 innings to advance to the semifinals.

projects including Quincy Comprehensive High School in Quincy, Minuteman Regional High School in Lexington and Essex North Shore Agricultural and Technical School in Danvers.

“Hiring a construction manager is a significant step forward in the Northeast Metro Tech building project,” Superintendent DiBarri said. "With Gilbane on board, we can now begin to move forward with the fine-tuning of our Schematic Design drawings and cost estimate to build the project. We look forward to sharing these details as they are finalized with our communities in the coming weeks and months through forums, events and regular updates."

“We’re incredibly excited to be a part of the NEMT project team. Having worked with both PMA and DRA in the past on similar successful projects, we’re confident we can work together through the next phases of design and construction to build a contemporary school the NEMT district communities will be proud of for years to come,” said Mike O’Brien, senior vice president and MA business unit leader for Gilbane.

The building project is estimated to cost $317.5 million, and the MSBA will contribute between $110-1140 million in grant funding to support the project, a total which will be finalized in August. Northeast's 12 sending communities will be responsible for the remainder of the project costs. Tax impact information for all 12 communities will be available this summer, and voters will have the opportunity to vote on the project this fall.

The new NEMT High School will address the current facility’s outdated building systems, including much-needed ADA accessibility and code compliance upgrades, in addition to overcrowding. The new school will feature 21st-century learning environments, improved Individualized Education Program (IEP) accommodations, state-of-the-art shop space, expanded program offerings, a new primary access roadway from Farm Street to reduce traffic congestion, a full-size gym, a 750-seat auditorium, outdoor space for learning and a new cafeteria. With a focus on sustainability, the project is targeting LEED Silver+ certification with energy-efficient mechanical systems, provisions for solar panels, and vegetated roofs. The compact, four-story design will feature an upper-level courtyard, roof decks, and a double-height library rotunda.

This project is made possible by the Massachusetts School Building Authority (MSBA), a state agency that supports the funding of capital improvement projects in the Commonwealth’s public schools. NEMT was selected from hundreds of applicants as qualified for receiving grant support to launch a feasibility study, a process that revealed building a new school is the most economical and educationally appropriate option in addressing the current NEMT facility deficiencies.

Grants for the Future of Work program available

Staff Report

The Baker-Polito Administration and MassDevelopment have announced up to $1 million in funding for the sixth round of the Collaborative Workspace Program, a MassDevelopment program that accelerates business formation, job creation, and entrepreneurial activity in communities by supporting infrastructure that fuels locally based innovation.

Eligible organizations may apply for seed grants of up to $15,000 to study the feasibility of new collaborative workspaces or fit-out grants of up to $100,000 for new equipment or building improvements, including adjustments to help spaces adhere to the social distancing and health and safety standards outlined in the Commonwealth's sector-specific COVID-19 Workplace Safety Standards.

"The COVID-19 pandemic has changed the outlook for what it means to be 'at work' for many people, with Massachusetts' vast network of co-working spaces offering another avenue for working, creating, and collaborating," said Housing and Economic Development Secretary Mike Kennealy, who serves as chair of MassDevelopment's Board of Directors. "Through MassDevelopment's Collaborative Workspace Program, our administration is pleased to offer coworking spaces the resources they need to grow their membership, expand offerings, and make adjustments to keep members safe."

Since its pilot launch, and through the first five rounds of grants, the Collaborative Workspace Program has made 164 awards totaling $9,842,041 for the planning, development, and build-out of collaborative workspaces.

By Cary Shuman

Distinguished veterans and residents of the Chelsea Soldier's Home, family, friends, and state officials came to St. Michael's Chapel Sunday to honor the Rev. Patrick Francis Healy, the Home's beloved chaplain, on the occasion of his 100th birthday.

The Rev. Healy is a highly decorated veteran himself, having served in the United States Armed Forces for 23 years, with stops in Japan, Germany, South Korea, and two tours of duty in Vietnam. He was the recipient of three Bronze Stars and the 'V' Device for heroism and valor.

Sunday morning the Rev. Healy officiated the chapel Mass in honor of Memorial Day before well-known attorney and former state representative Gene O'Flaherty presided over the impressive program honoring Healy, who was ordained on June 2, 1947, one day after his 26th birthday on June 1, 1947.

"We're here to celebrate Father Healy's 100th birthday," said O'Flaherty in a welcoming remark that drew a prolonged ovation for the eminent clergyman. "To Father Healy's extended family who are with us today, thank you very much for giving him to us."

O'Flaherty presented city and state citations to the Rev. Healy honoring his lifelong achievements and his continuing service as chaplain at the Soldier's Home "to the eternal gratitude of veterans, residents, and neighbors alike."

O'Flaherty, who was corporate counsel to former Boston Mayor Martin Walsh, delivered a special congratulatory message from President Joseph Biden through U.S. Labor Secretary Martin Walsh, wishing Healy a happy 100th birthday. Flaherty also read a congratulatory letter from the President of Ireland, Michael Higgins. The Rev. Patrick F. Healy was the ninth of ten children of Patrick and Catherine Healy, immigrants to Boston from Kerry and Limerick, Ireland.

Addressing the gathering, Flaherty said, "I know that each and every one of you has a very special relationship with this man. You've gone to him in times of trouble, you've gone to him in times of joy. But everyone has a special relationship with this man, which is why we're going to make sure today that we took the time to say, 'thank you, Father, for all you do for us each and every day, for the example you set to us as Catholics, and how to live each and every day.'

Family, friends
laud Healy

Jim McLaughlin, nephew of the Rev. Healy, was one of several family members who traveled from throughout New England to honor the eminent clergyman the family calls, "Padre."

"He's a great spiritual leader and a pastoral legend," said McLaughlin. "We've been blessed to have him as an example in our family. He's stood as a wonderful symbol in faith. As an uncle, he's married us, baptized us, and buried us."

Bob McLaughlin, also a nephew, said that his uncle was present when he was inducted into the United States Navy during a ceremony in South Weymouth.

"My father was a pilot and a commander in the Navy Reserve, so he swore me in and Father Healy was present and I was so honored to have him there," said McLaughlin.

Rosemarie DeFelice and Joseph Fineran, with the Rev. Patrick Healy.

Frank Kowalski, who assisted with Communion at the service, said, "Since he came to us several years ago, he's just been a godsend to everybody here at the Chapel. He takes care of all the veterans and all the members that now call St. Michael's their church. We're very happy to have him. Only God knows how long he's going to keep him here for us, but we hope it's still a long, long time."

The Rev. Healey recalls his early years

Patrick Francis Healy grew up on Prescott Street in Charlestown and graduated from Boston English High School in 1939.

As a youth, he attended St. Mary's Church in Charlestown. He was a member of the CYO and played football, hockey, basketball, and baseball.

He earned a tryout with the Boston Red Sox.

"We had the Bunker Hill Boys Club at one place and at the other end of the town was the YMCA with a gymnasium," said Healy. "We had a group called the Chestnut Eagles and five of us went into the priesthood."

On celebrating his 100th

One could feel the outpouring of love and respect in St. Michael's Chapel for the Rev. Healy throughout the birthday celebration Sunday.

"It's been here all the time, from the beginning and it's mutual," said Healy.

To what does he attribute his longevity and incredible energy?

"Just following the will of God - it's up to Him," he said.

Long-time Soldier's Home employee Anthony Mafale was among the many people who joined the Rev. Patrick Healy at his 100th birthday celebration Sunday at St. Michael's Chapel.

NEWS FROM AROUND THE REGION

FREIGHT FOWARDING COMPANY LOOKING AT CHELSEA

CHELSEA - A Boston company is currently in the City’s review pipeline for a proposal that would completely remake the Willow Street-Highland Street industrial area – building a brand new building that would house a 33-dock freight forwarding business consisting of three yet-unnamed tenants.

Seyon Management, of Newbury Street, is proposing to demolish the existing warehouse at 22 Willow Street, combine the lot with 250 Marginal Street (now a vacant parking lot) and construct a new 146,410 sq. ft. building with 33 loading docks for the purpose of airport-related freight forwarding.

Another 202-car employee parking lot would be located at the corner of Highland and Essex Street – a piece of property that is now derelict and vacant.

The project is known as Chelsea Point consists of 8.61 acres of land in basically an entire block – excluding only the Carbone Metals operation. It is pegged as a $30 million buildout and could be started in February 2022 with a July 2023 occupancy.

Currently, the matter went before the Planning Board this Tuesday, and already has had a trip to the Zoning Board, where it will return once the Planning Board has completed its review.

Another vacant lot of land owned by Seyon, but not related to the project, is across the street at 212 Congress St. is likely to be used as a piece of mitigation. In the filing, Seyon indicated it had been working with GreenRoots to designate a use for the parcel, perhaps open space. However, Council President Roy Avellaneda said he has been in talks with them to gift the land to the City for the purpose of building affordable housing.

“I talked to the owner and that building that’s there could not be saved,” said Avellaneda. “It’s functionally obsolete. It made more sense to start from scratch...It looks like we’ll have that land in our control and looking for an affordable housing overlap project.”

He said he is not against the freight forwarding use, but does not necessarily believe MassPort has treated the City fairly when Chelsea so often agrees to house such businesses that are critical to the airport’s industrial flight operations.

“The airport overlay district has been on my mind because I feel we’re always locating things in our community that support the airport and it’s an area that MassPort would like to keep close...It’s not the use that I’ve been against, but what I resent is we’re helping them and they don’t recognize that.”

Councillor Giovanni Recupero, who represents the area and actually lives across the street from it on Essex Street, said he is in support because the developer listened to his input early on.

He said the original plan was to bring the trucks for the operation up onto Willow Street and other residential streets and he said that was a problem. The developer, he said, then agreed to purchase 250 Marginal Street and have the trucks enter and exit from Marginal – with all the loading docks also facing Marginal Street.

“The guy listened to what I asked him to do and I think this is a good thing,” he said. “The problem I had is he was going to bring the truck to building on Willow Street. I wouldn’t go for that. I asked him to have the trucks somehow come in and out on Marginal Street, so he figured out a way. He bought the lot in front of him. It was a lot of money...That building is operating in that way now, and he wants to build something new and bring in some jobs too.”

City Manager Tom Ambrosino said they are not necessarily against the idea of freight forwarding, and support this project. However, he said they are skittish of the Amazon warehouses and other “last-mile” proposals that have hit the Produce Center area and caused significant Amazon van traffic in Chelsea.

“I think we’re skittish of Amazon, but I’m not skittish of the industry here,” he said. “That’s an industry the City supports and we have a district by the airport for it. They’re knocking down a dilapidated building and will substantially improve the site. We’re hoping they get some good entities to come in as tenants. The Amazons of the world don’t bring good-paying jobs and do bring enormous van traffic. We really are trying to discourage that particular use, but the freight forwarding industry is one the City supports.”

The Chelsea Point project is likely to be on the June Zoning Board agenda.

FIRE CHIEF EXPLAINS NEW HIREES

EVERETT - Fire Chief Tony Carli appeared before the Council to discuss the first month of the new program to cross-train new firefighters as EMTs – noting that all 18 had been hired and are now working with Cataldo Ambulance for training, though he did not that though they are City employees they are not specifically assigned to Everett.

The plan is a strategic plan that has been in the works for several years, and Mayor Carlo DeMaria and the chief put the plan into place on April 5 when they hired 18 new people to begin the road to a new in-house ambulance/fire service – since most of the Fire Department calls are medically related, Carli said.

He said five of the EMTs are already certified and riding with Cataldo in various locations for training on the ambulance, mostly doing transfers and acting as a back-up service. The other 13 are in classes with Cataldo training to become EMTs.

Likewise, he said, they all have dates in July, August and November for the Fire Academy.

“They all have Academy dates starting in July,” he said. “We have some going in July, some in August and the remaining dates are in November. As they get in and graduate, they’ll come back to us... They won’t be active firefighters though until after they complete the Academy. We were fortunate to have gotten them in early this April and get them the medical training with Cataldo before the Academy.”

He said they do pull the recruits in on Thursdays to get them used to the firehouses and procedures at the department. He also said they’d be pulled out of Cataldo 30 days before they start the Fire Academy for more intensive local training in preparation.

MEMORIAL DAY AROUND EVERETT

COURTESY PHOTOS

The Schiavo Club held its annual Memorial Day parade, dedication and gathering on Monday, May 31, in Everett. With a larger crowd on hand than normal, elected officials, friends and the Everett High Marching Band accompanied the procession to decorate the Hero Square and Club bearing Carmen Schiavo's name. Here, the Club members lead the procession through West Everett to the corner of Oakes Street and Tufts Avenue where the Hero Square to Carmen Schiavo is located. The Club was also decorated with American flags and hosted plenty of patriotic residents to one of the first allowed gatherings in more than a year.

“I’m happy with the training they’ve received so far,” he said. “I think it’s been well-received by the members...They are City employees. We cover them and they have been on our payroll since April 5.”

“As the Mayor I’m continuously looking for ways to broaden our services. We’ve looked and watched our medical responses increase over the years, and this is way to better serve our city,” said Mayor Carlo DeMaria.

Some councilors such as Fred Capone, Jimmy Tri Le and Stephanie Martins were concerned about the plan.

“I just want to make sure if there’s something we can utilize them for, that we’re doing that,” said Capone. “I just don’t want there to be a belief we’re supporting Cataldo’s workforce by having City employees ride with them. If there’s something we can do to bring them into the firehouse as soon as we can, I think that would be a good idea.”

Councilor Martins wondered if the new recruits were only serving Everett, since they are paid by the City. However, Carli said the training on the ambulance doesn’t permit that, as they serve within Cataldo’s wide network.

“They are in Everett on occasion, but they are not assigned to Everett,” said the chief. “What they do is a lot of transports between facilities because we want them to learn patient care...They’re assigned out of a base from Cataldo...but they are not assigned to the City of Everett.”

That said, the Chief also defended the program, and said Cataldo’s partnership with the City on transforming the Fire Service has been critical. While many in the Fire Union aren’t particularly sold on the change as it is taking place now – and collective bargaining still has to take place on the matter – the Chief said the plan has been no secret.

He said when they graduate the Academy, they will be firefighters even if they’re riding on an ambulance for a particular day.

“They will be in our count and are firefighters 100 percent of the time,” he said. “It doesn’t make a difference if they’re riding on an ambulance. They will be on firefighting duties if that duty calls...I’ve stuck to this plan and it’s been year’s in the making.”

While there has been some progress on the hiring front for the City, Mayoral Chief of Staff Erin Devaney reported on Monday to the Council that many key positions still remain vacant.

Recently, the City did hire a Human Resources director, and they have an offer extended to a candidate for assistant assessor, but many of the key jobs like Planning and Development Director, City Engineer, Diversity/Equity/Inclusion Director and Elections Commissioner still remain vacant and are being recruited.

Other vacant positions include the Library Director and the Affordable Housing Coordinator.

Devaney said they are trying to be more creative in recruiting, and have started to use Indeed to get candidates. She said many of the candidates they have attracted have good professional experience, but none of them have any specific experience for these particular jobs.

Councilors Fred Capone and Rose DiFlorio have been particularly concerned about the vacancies since early this year, and have brought up the matter numerous times at the Council.

“Planning and Development, Engineering and Elections – these are all big,” said Capone. “It’s concerning to me we’re having this much difficulty getting applications. I don’t know what else we should be doing. It shouldn’t be this difficult to get applicants.”

DiFlorio said she believes the pay scale is too low, and with a big election for mayor coming up, few would want to gamble on getting shown the doors shortly after getting hired.

“I think we have two things against us,” she said. “One, the pay scale for department heads is from 1965 or something. Two, you have a big election coming up and I wouldn’t apply for a job in Everett not knowing if I had a job in January. I would not apply for a job in the City of Everett with this mayor’s race going on because you don’t know who your boss will be in November.”

Devaney said the positions aren’t contracted for a number of years, but she said they are appointed for a set time by the City Council – and she said they strive to hire people that everyone would be proud to have in any Administration.

Judge Joe // CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

While a champion for his Italian heritage, and his beloved veterans' programs, Judge Joe saw no color barrier or bank account when it came to helping anyone that appeared before him as a judge or appealed to him for help as a friend.

Joe Ferrino Sr. also served as the AMVETS Massachusetts and National Judge Advocate and in 1968 he was elected as its 25th National Commander, and the list could go on.

Not one person, family or friend that knew Judge Joe, does not have a handful of stories to make you smile or laugh out loud.

The Honorable Joseph V. Ferrino is gone, but his memory and his achievements live on in our everyday lives, as a reminder of his kind heart and his quest to better his community and his country. Joe will be missed by everyone, and he will never be forgotten.

On May 30, 2021 standing in the rain, family and friends gathered across from his family home in Winthrop, to remember Judge Joe, pay their respects and be part of the dedication to a square in his memory.

Despite very inclement weather, friends and family of Judge Joe Ferrino attended the dedication ceremony last Sunday morning on Pleasant and Plummer Streets. Many thanks to the Winthrop Police and the State Police for their services that morning keeping everyone safe from moving vehicles in the area.

The plaque commemorating a lifelong defender of civil laws, community values and a dedication to help those in need, Judge Joseph V. Ferrino, 1926-2020. This memorial square is located across from his home in Winthrop on the corners of Pleasant and Plummer Streets.

Shown above, Richard Ferrino with his two sons, Michael and Rich-ard at the square dedicated toa father and grand-father, one who will be surely missed every day, Judge Joseph V Ferrino. A man who loved his family, his community and his country, and proved it every day. Shown right, former Speaker of the House and a lifetime friend and supporter of Judge Ferrino, Bob DeLeo recalls a few moments with his mentor in the early days.

Joe Ferrino Jr., welcomes friends and family, and adds a few words in memory of his father, about his lifetime dedi-cation to fami-ly, community and country.

Closing out a very touching and heartfelt ceremony was the Winthrop American Legion Honor Guard, Post 146.

Former Speaker of the House Bob Deleo and Vicki Mucci are joined by State Representative Jeff Turco and Annmarie Gardner from the Winthrop Elks at the Sunday morning dedication to Judge Joe Ferrino.

Winthrop Police Chief Terence Delehanty addressed the crowd and recalled his lifetime experiences with his friend and colleague in law and order, Judge Ferrino.

Lifelong friend and partner in many organizations that her and Joe were involved in, nonother than, Winthrop's own Barbara Survillis. It was only right that she had the honor of addressing the lifetime accomplishments, of her friend Joseph Ferrino.

My Augie

*This world is a better place because You are in it !
My grandson number 5 the last of my boys.
When I think of this child I want to raise the roof and make some noise.
So handsome with beautiful blue eyes that glow.
Helpful to Anyone in need as we all know.
When he enters the room his presents is clear.
Tall, with a head full of curls, says "Augie is here."
Captain of soccer and tennis as well
I am so very proud of this boy - can you Tell
High School has ended the real world has begun.
You my grandson will make your place in our world and Shine Like The Sun.
God bless and guide you all through life's plan.
And Thank you "My Augie" for always holding my hand
I Love You
