CONSTRUCTION PROJECTS CONTINUE AT LOGAN

As passenger levels continue to increase at Boston Logan International Airport, the Massachusetts Port Authority (Massport) would like to remind the public there are a number of construction projects underway. Those using the airport should allow themselves extra traveling time and follow the signs and detours on the roadways.

Ongoing projects include a new roadway system and a post-security connector between Terminals B and C, the airport's busiest terminals, a new rooftop canopy and curbside entrance to Terminal C, and four new gates at Terminal E.

These projects began prior to the pandemic and are aimed at improving the customer experience while reducing congestion and air emissions.

More information about the ongoing projects can be found at www.Logan-Forward.com.

Suffolk County DA releases excerpts from journals, 'diaries' of Nathan Allen

Special to the Transcript

Editor's note: Please be aware that some of the verbatim content in this piece is not suitable for all ages, and racially-aggressive. Reader discretion is advised.

As investigators continue to examine the tragic events of June 26, 2021 in Winthrop, the Suffolk County District Attorney's office and state, local, and federal law enforcement agencies working on the matter are learning more troubling details about the man who gunned down Air Force veteran Ramona Cooper and retired Massachusetts State Trooper David Green.

Nathan Allen had two weapons with him on June 26th, a .9mm caliber semi-automatic pistol and a .45 caliber semi-automatic pistol. In addition to his weapons, he also carried hate fueled by white supremacy.

Massachusetts State Police continue to review volumes of extremist literature that Allen read with frequency over the last several months. Additionally, the State Police recovered many of Allen's journals in his apartment. Here are some excerpts from Allen's written journals, which have been edited with asterisks to not repeat the offensive language. In one notebook, he wrote:

Council addresses a community in mourning

By Laura Plummer

The Winthrop Town Council met in the Harvey Room of Town Hall on July 6 for the first time since the deadly shooting that rocked the community on June 26. Members of the public were able to attend in person, on Zoom or by watching the livestream on WCAT.

Council Pres. Phil Boncore opened the meeting with a moment of silence for the two victims of the shooting, Ramona Cooper and David Green, both Winthrop residents and public servants.

"We had a very unfortunate incident," he said. "Two of Winthrop's citizens were murdered in a hate crime, a senseless act."

Police Chief and Interim Town Manager Terence Delehanty called the incident "disappointing and devastating" and said that the town is "still struggling." He acknowledged the first responders who "did their very best to revive lives" and who "ended the horrid event."

"We still have work to do as a community," he said. "This was an eye-opening experience for us of how we treat one

Investigation into shooting continues amid questions into shooter's motives and ideology

Staff report

The Suffolk County District Attorney's office is continuing its investigation, along with local and federal authorities, into the circumstances and motives that resulted in the tragic shooting deaths of two Black Winthrop residents, 68 year-old David Green and 60 year-old Ramona Cooper, as they walked along Shirley St. between Cross St. and Beach Rd. by 28 year-old Nathan Allen on the afternoon of Saturday, June 26. Suffolk D.A. Rachael Rollins labeled the cold-blooded murders of Green and Cooper as "executions" in the aftermath of the shootings, noting

David Green and Ramona Cooper remembered by Town in candlelight vigil

By Cary Shuman

The Town of Winthrop celebrated the lives of David Green and Ramona Cooper at a Candlelight

Vigil for Unity and Hope July 1 at Winthrop Town Hall.

Mr. Green, 68, and Ms. Cooper, 60, were killed in a tragic incident on June 26 in the town.

Interim Town Manager Terence Delehanty presided over the ceremony that was attended by hundreds of Winthrop residents.

Gov. Charlie Baker, Lt. Gov. Karyn Polito, Suffolk County DA Rachel Rollins, Sheriff Steven Tompkins, Town Council President Philip Boncore, State Sen. Joseph Boncore, former House Speaker Robert A. DeLeo, and State Reps. Jeffrey Turco, Adrian Madaro, and Jessica Giannino also joined the Winthrop community at the program that was conducted under a highly visible presence of law enforcement personnel.

“Thank you all for coming to tonight’s vigil,” began Delehanty. “I just want all of us to pay remembrance to Ramona Cooper and Dave Green. I want to also make sure that tonight is about the victims. It’s about us supporting the victims and their families that were taken from us way too early in a devastating incident last Saturday.

“But I also want to thank the Cooper and Green families for coming today to help us heal. This is truly what Winthrop is about. This support in the time of crisis is what always Winthrop has been about.

“I promise both families tonight that their loved ones were not lost in vain,” said Delehanty. “I promise them we won’t just remember them tonight, we’ll remember them next week, next month, and next year. I want to thank both families to our country and to our state.”

Joshua Schreiber, rabbinical intern at Temple Tifereth Israel of Winthrop, played the guitar while presenting a song of prayer and hope for the future.

The Rev. Christopher O’Connor gave the opening prayer. “Lord, bring healing and peace to our Winthrop community,” said the Rev. O’Connor. “We beg you, welcome the souls of David and Ramona into the gift of Heaven. May the light of their memories, their heroism, their innocence illumine our hearts. Lord, give all gathered here to be the strength to be the change in the world that we hope and pray for. In other words, help all gathered here to be instruments of peace.”

The Interfaith Council delivered the vigil prayers and petitions.

Ray Green, brother of David Green, gave remarks on behalf of the Green family.

“First of all I would like to thank the Town of Winthrop, the Winthrop Commission On Diversity, Inclusion, and Community Engagement, Winthrop Police for providing security for this event, and all the groups and individuals that have made this possible so we can come together to honor the memory of David Green, my brother, and Ramona Cooper,” said Ray Green.

“Over the last couple of days, the world has been watching us, and I want them to realize what kind of brother that I had and what kind of town that he and I grew up in,” continued Green. “My brother graduated from Winthrop High and he went in to the military and came back to take care of my parents and she also became at any time without being asked,” said Green. “He was a very great man, You talk to any of his friends here in Winthrop and you’ll hear that.” Green told the large gathering that he and his wife appreciated the great stories that Winthrop residents told him about their interactions with his brother through the years. “I just want people to know that this [incident] does not taint the memory of my brother or taint the memory of this town,” said Green. “This is a great town. My brother and I grew up here and we loved it. My mother and father shaped our personalities and the men we became, but also our neighbors in this town, so we have nothing but good to say about the people of this town, and I want the world to know that. And I want the world to know that my brother loved people and people loved him and they’re showing it. And I want to say this loud and clear: To my brother, all lives matter.”

David Green’s neighbor, Bill Leach, told the assemblage, “I just want to tell you that Dave was my next-door neighbor and he was a wonderful, wonderful guy. You couldn’t meet a nicer guy. He loved everybody.” John Bentley of the Commission on Inclusion and Diversity read a statement on behalf of the family of Ramona Cooper. “I’m going to read a statement that was prepared by [Ms. Cooper’s] son [Gary Cooper Jr.]” said Bentley. “On behalf of the Cooper family, we would like to extend our thanks to the community of Winthrop and the surrounding areas. Trooper Green and my mother, Ramona, will be missed. My mother did not have an easy life. She was adopted and grew up in Connecticut and had a twin sister, Aunt Regina, who is here tonight. “My mom enlisted in the Air Force and met my father. They married and I was born in 1989. I have fond memories of my mother as a child. She loved the beach and the water. She loved to take me to Domino’s and Blockbuster. I remember Christmas mornings and countless stray kittens that I would try to talk my mom into letting me keep. Finally, after buying four boxed turtles, she let me have my first kitten named Fluffy. “My mom was a hard worker. She graduated college and she was a very educated woman. She was kind, funny, and quiet. My mother had a positive impact on all she met, with her big smile and contagious laugh. I will miss her and I’m so glad that I have so many voicemails on my phone which my mom started, ‘Hey, honey, it’s me, how’re you doing’. She always made sure you ended up telling me how much she loved me.” Continued Bentley on behalf of the family, “The racial divide in America is not where it should be in 2021. tims of racially motivated crimes, that their deaths will not be in vain. We need to do better. To my mom, Ramona, I love you always and I can’t wait to see you again someday. You are truly missed.” Phil Boncore delivered the closing remarks. “We’re all here for the purpose of honoring David Green and Ramona Cooper,” said Boncore. “They were wonderful people who always tried to do good. They were really part of the part of the fabric of America and served in the Armed Forces protecting America and our liberty. Tonight we’re here in love and unity. Raise your candles and make sure that we stay forever in peace and love and unity as the Town of Winthrop. God bless you all.”

A SCAR THAT ALWAYS

WILL BE VISIBLE

The major media have moved on, as they inevitability do, in the aftermath of the tragic events that occurred on Shirley St. in the middle of a typically-peaceful, early-summer afternoon on Saturday, June 26.

But the murderous spree committed by 28 year-old Nathan Allen, who moved to Winthrop in October, 2019, which claimed the lives of two wonderful members of our community, 68 year-old David Green and 60 year-old Ramona Cooper, will never be far from the thoughts of all of us who call this place our home.

We have been covering the news for the Sun-Transcript for more than five decades. During that time, we have reported on many tragic events, from the crash of the Eastern Airlines plane off the Cottage Park Y.C. in 1960 that claimed 62 lives, to drownings, drunk-driving accidents, and murders.

Tragedy is a part of the human condition, as the ancient Greek playwrights acknowledged, and Winthrop has not been immune.

However, no incident in the course of our professional career ever has been as shocking and as heinous as what Nathan Allen perpetrated in a matter of a few minutes on Shirley St. on June 26.

All of us want to know what pushed Nathan Allen into the realm of becoming a radicalized white supremacist. There are many questions and we may never get all of the answers.

However, regardless of the how, what, and why behind the tragic events of June 26, we do know this: Allen’s targeting of David Green and Ramona Cooper, both of whom were Black, and the extreme ferocity with which he carried out his rampage, for which the word barbaric is an understatement, have left a scar that may heal, but always will be visible and painful in our community.

NO ESCAPING CLIMATE CHANGE

Heat domes. Polar vortexes. Superstorms. Megadroughts. Wildfire tornados. Rising sea levels.

These terms were unheard of at the start of this century -- other than in academic journals -- but are now part of our everyday conversation.

Climate change and its catastrophic effects no longer exist in the realm of science fiction describing a distant and dystopian future -- they are part of the here-and-now in every corner of the globe.

Although it is true that our planet has been experiencing its hottest years in recorded history over the past decade, the term “global warming” does not really capture what is going on. Indeed, the phrase global warming almost has a warm and fuzzy connotation. After all, who likes to be cold?

But 14 years ago, the award-winning New York Times columnist and author Thomas Friedman used a different term to describe the effects of climate change. He called it “global weirding,” first coined by the environmentalist L. Hunter Lovins, which Friedman described this way:

“Avoid the term ‘global warming.’ I prefer the term ‘global weirding,’ because that is what actually happens as global temperatures rise and the climate changes. The weather gets weird. The hots are expected to get hotter, the wets wetter, the dries drier, and the most violent storms more numerous.”

Tom Friedman’s reference to the term global weirding came amidst a torrent of climate change denial by Republican politicians and fossil fuel industry executives, but has proven to be prescient in view of the climate calamities of the past few years.

Just about everything we do, individually and collectively, impacts our climate negatively.

As Congress takes up President Biden’s various infrastructure proposals, including many that address climate change, some may question the enormous expense of retrofitting our economy to lessen our impact on the planet.

However, putting the issue that way has it backwards. It’s not whether we can afford to address climate change, but rather, can we afford NOT to do so.

Forum

LETTERS to the Editor

I WILL NOT RUN FOR RE-ELECTION

Dear Editor:

After many months of debating my future involvement in town government, I have decided not to run for reelection as Town Councilor representing the Center. I want to thank this community and specifically my neighbors in the Center for allowing me to be their voice on the Town Council for the past 4 years.

When I started on the Council, I was in my first year of law school. Since then I have graduated, started a new career, gotten married, and had a son. While I love this community and will continue to serve the remainder of my term with the same commitment I always have. It has become extremely difficult for me to ignore my son, who is learning to talk, call out for me from the other room while I’m on calls for the Town. Every Councilor who gets elected is essentially volunteering to take a lot of time away from their family and careers. I respect the commitment of each and every individual who has undertaken this commitment and feel fortunate that there are others who will continue to do so when I leave.

I am proud of the progress the town has made over the past few years on issues like the Center Infrastructure Project, the creation of a Planning Department, the work we did alongside the Licensing Board and the Chamber of Commerce to ensure Winthrop businesses opened as quickly as possible in the wake of the COVID-19 shut down and in creating the Commission for Diversity, Inclusion, and Community Relations to ensure voices of all Winthrop Residents are being heard. These are all initiatives that will benefit the community for years to come.

Serving on the Council put me in position to learn a lot about the community. I am lucky to have met many amazing people dedicated to this community over the past four years who I may not have met otherwise. This Town is full of so many thoughtful, dedicated residents who only want the best for the town. I have found that our differences aren’t as great as they appear. I’ve found that our greatest asset is not our “quaint seaside town feel” or our proximity to downtown Boston. It is us. Winthrop has an undeniable character like no place I’ve ever been.

Thank you everyone for giving me this awesome opportunity. I especially want to thank my mom, Brenda who I would watch Selectmens meetings with growing up. I remember how proud she was years ago when she got elected to Town Meeting not from just any precinct, but from Precinct 5. She instilled a sense of community and public service in me that I’ll carry forever. I’d also like to thank my wife, Laura. Our community owes a great debt of gratitude to the spouses and partners of our elected officials who sacrifice as much, if not more for their community. I look forward to being able to spend a little more time with mine in the coming years.

I look forward to continue working alongside everyone in a smaller capacity to help the town in the years to come.

CONDEMNING WHITE SUPREMACY AND HATE CRIMES

Dear Editor,

On June 26th, Winthrop experienced a horrific act of domestic terrorism perpetuated by a white supremacist living in Winthrop; he was our neighbor. Two beloved Black community members were murdered because of the color of their skin, three were terribly injured in the car crash, and dozens were impacted mentally, psychologically, and emotionally. It is assumed that the white supremacist was not able to carry out his full plan to harm and likely kill members of our Jewish community.

One Winthrop condemns and stands up to all forms of hate and discrimination. Many have been shocked or are feeling numb from this collective community trauma. We often hear or think, “How could this happen here? Winthrop doesn’t have a problem with racism or anti-Semitism.” The truth is that all towns and cities in the United States have a problem, and as we have experienced, our cherished seaside town is not immune. That we felt this could not happen here points to our privilege of feeling safe. Many residents, especially our BIPOC (Black and Indigenous People of Color) and Jewish community members are not feeling safe. We have seen patterns of behavior that demonstrate racism, anti-Semitism, sexism, homophobia, xenophobia here in Winthrop. From microaggressions on social media to the overt hatred spewed at the Diana Ploss led rallies last fall, we see evidence that this recent horror was not an isolated incident, but rather an escalation. We know more than one white supremacist lives among us here in Winthrop.

So what do we do? Where do we go from here and how does our community begin to heal? How can we ensure that David Green’s and Ramona Cooper’s deaths were not in vain? We start with educating ourselves on history of racism, anti-Semitism, and white supremacy to understand the present. We have open dialogue, talk with each other, listen to each other, and learn from one another. We reach out intentionally to those who are different than ourselves and embrace diversity. We learn how systems oppress and how to change those systems that discriminate to create a more equitable society. We stand up and speak out when we hear or see discrimination in our community. Silence is complacency and condones the beliefs and actions of the one(s) filled with hate. It fuels their energy to act, quietly encouraging. We must not be silent. We must not be complacent. We know hate lives here in Winthrop, and that for it to truly have no home, we must do more than make statements and hang signs. We must act. We must be willing to feel uncomfortable and to challenge our deepest notions of truth. And we’ll do it best when we act together.

We stand strong when we are One against hate.

FOLLOW UP ON TREE REMOVAL

Dear Editor,

Thank you for printing my letter. I ask that you please print the following addendum to my letter.

Subsequent to the printing of my first letter, I received an email from Winthrop’s Tree Warden stating that the tree at 24 Brookfield Road was removed due to being dangerous after suffering damage in a storm.

In the same communication, the Tree Warden stated that “The only other trees that have been removed were dead ones, including the one on Shirley St”.

Because of the Town’s non-compliance with our FOIA requests for a complete list of felled trees, and contracts and receipts related to tree removals, we have nothing more to go on than the reports from concerned citizens about these unexplained tree removals. I have now received approximately 12 additional claims from citizens reporting that healthy trees were removed from their neighborhoods without the requisite notice. That said, if these three specific trees (on Brookfield Road, Shirley Street, and Court Road) were indeed diseased or dangerous, their removal was not in violation of MGL Ch. 87.

In addition, my comment about “off-book tree removals” refers to the fact that, even after repeated requests, we still have no indication of individual transactions related to the removed trees.

It is my hope that we can resolve these correctable issues through the sharing of information and by prioritizing a go-forward plan that protects our mature trees and promotes greater tree planting measures in Winthrop.

ON TOWN OWNED LAND

Dear Editor,

The Town of Winthrop needs more transparency in approving development projects of town owned lands. In order to build public support and confidence in support of such development projects, the following points should be considered:

- 1) All residents should be invited to vote on projects on town owned land using a “polling process.”
- 2) Every household in the town should receive notification of the proposed development by U.S. mail unless the resident signed up for electronic mail notification.
- 3) If substantive changes to the proposal are made after submission, a further written notification of the proposed development by U.S. mail shall be made to each household.
- 4) All residents should be able to vote by either paper or electronic ballot to approve or reject the project on town owned land.
- 5) This process should be put in place before the middle school development process is formerly underway.
- 6) Finally, Winthrop residents should be allowed to vote on the sale or no sale of town property.

This “polling process” would only apply to projects on town owned land.

ARTICLE 972 - FOREIGN INFLUENCE ON WINTHROP HOUSE DESIGNS

Over the years, Then & Now has looked at some of the house designs in Winthrop and discussed the foreign influence in their architectural designs. One such design is the Mansard roofed homes shown in Picture One. A Mansard roof, in architecture, refers to a style of hip roof characterized by two slopes on each face of its four sides. The lower slope is much steeper, almost a vertical wall, while the upper slope, usually not visible from the ground, is pitched at the minimum needed to shed water. This two-slope sectional roof format makes maximum use of the interior space of the attic and is considered a practical form of adding a second floor to an existing building. Often the decorative potential of the Mansard Roof is exploited through the use of a convex or concave curvature in the lower sloped portion of the roof with elaborate dormer windows mounted thereon. The two Mansard roofed homes shown in the picture are located at 282 and 288 Pleasant Street with their carefully preserved dormers. At a time when homes in France were taxed by the number of floors below the roof line, this feature had the benefit of exempting the upper floor from being taxed. So far ten Mansard roofed homes have been identified as having been in Winthrop, eight of which still exist. There are also a number of Victorian style homes such as the one that still stands at 237 Pleasant Street and was owned in the 1800's by the Whorf family who were very active in studying the early history of Winthrop. Such houses are commonly referred to as being architecturally of a Victorian design but this "style" is really representative of a period in history. The Victorian era roughly corresponded to the time when Queen Victoria ruled in England from 1837 to 1901. During this period the ongoing industrialization development brought about many innovations in architectural design. There are a wide variety of Victorian styles in Winthrop each with its own distinctive features.

Having noted some European influence in a number of early homes, ones imagination can become very active. For instance, picture two depicts the Seaside Inn at the corner of Winthrop Shore Drive and Wave Way Avenue which was built about 1895 and later became the private residence of Robert Gordon, former owner of the Dun-Rite TV Store on Somerset Avenue. When looking at the Inn, as depicted in this picture with the windmill in the yard next to it, ones imagination can become over active and visualize this same arrangement, with a windmill, next to the Moulin Rouge Music Hall/Cabaret in Paris France as shown in picture three. It was built in 1889, just six years before the Seaside Inn was built here. While this connection may not be true, it is easy to see how it could have been an inspiration for the windmill built here. When this humorous comparison was discussed with Mr. Gordon he chuckled at the thought. Today the building is the private residence as depicted in picture four.

Belle Liberman, as familiar a face to longtime Winthrop residents as any person in our community for the past 60 years, will be honored for her many years of service to the Winthrop Chamber of Commerce at a reception this Tuesday at La Siesta Restaurant. Belle was a long-time businesswoman who served on the Chamber of Commerce for decades and has been responsible for the holiday lighting program since 1984. Belle was a 1938 graduate of Winthrop High School who got her start in the business world selling jewelry. She worked for many years with Evangeline Lippincott at the Little Shop and eventually purchased the Little Shop in 1972, changing the name to Belle's Feminine Fashions.

Residents in the area of Ingleside Park expressed their dissatisfaction with the permitting of a Fiesta Carnival by the Town Council to benefit the Winthrop Parks and Rec. Some cited a town by-law that requires a joint public hearing of the licensing authority and the department on the application for a permit at least one month before the event.

The selectmen have ordered a two-day license suspension for a local liquor store for selling alcohol to a youth upon a complaint filed by Police Chief Angelo LaMonica.

The selectmen heard a request for a taxi license from petitioners Henry Basch and Carlo Della Russo, who told the selectmen that the town needs another taxi company. Russell Gillis, the owner of Viking Cab, spoke in opposition to the petition.

Joseph Swartz, owner of Winthrop Beach Taxi Co., has charged that a personal grudge by the selectmen has forced him out of business after the selectmen rejected his recent request for a fare increase. As a result of the selectmen's rejection of his request, Swartz in turn has blown the whistle on the illegal operation of bars and slot machines at local clubs that he alleges are being condoned by the selectmen.

A huge fireworks display and a concert by the U.S. Marine Band climaxed the annual American Legion Fourth of July carnival at Ingleside Park.

The annual Dollar Days sale sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce is being held by merchants throughout the town.

Fishermen are in their glory all over the town thanks to one of the best fishing seasons in memory, with the appearance of school striped bass off our shores adding to the joy. The stripers are averaging three to eight pounds and state law requires that they must be 16 inches in length.

Dr. John R. Vaughan, Chairman of the Board of Health, has announced a bathing ban at Donovan's Beach on Pleasant St. because of water pollution in the harbor. Vaughan said that the pollution, which state chemists discovered 10 days ago, probably is the result of the recent dredging projects in the harbor, not from sewerage overflows as have occurred in the past.

A committee has been named by the selectmen to study the advisability of the town acquiring the land and adjacent beaches known as the Sunnyside Ave. marsh and beach area.

The town's oldest resident, Mrs. Claire F. Small of Faun Bar Ave., will celebrate her 101st birthday Saturday. Mrs. Small, a resident of the town since 1887, has been bed-ridden for the past 12 years, but has kept active by making table mats and reading the Bible and daily papers.

State Senator Andrew P. Quigley, publisher of the Winthrop Transcript, has been named to the legislative delegation that will ask Gen. Douglas MacArthur to come speak to the Mass. Legislature.

139TH ANNUAL FOURTH OF JULY HORRIBLES PARADE

By Marianne Salza

Patriot Winthrop residents dressed as fire-works, sharks, and be keepers, walked from the Town Landing to Coughlin Park during The 139th Horribles Parade on the 4th of July. The Horribles Parade tradition began in the 19th Century in small towns, where people created statement-making, clever floats out of horses and buggies. Although the Independence Day event was smaller this year – and there was no pie-eating contest -- as it was the first parade following the pandemic, there was abundant fanfare as friends strutted in hilariously original costumes in celebration of America.

John Floyd, Deputy Harbor Master, Brian Gill, Peter Gill, The Horribles Parade Grand Marshal, and his grandsons, Riley Gill, and Declan Howard.

Allie Poulos, Laynie Logan, Lilly Bayberdorfer, and James and Violet Dougherty cheering from the back of a pick-up truck.

Brothers, Julian, Aidan, Tomas, and Sean Verdaguer.

Little ones in shark costumes riding down Shirley Street during the July 4, Horribles Parade.

Sandy Joneck-Schiff, dressed as a bee-keeper, emphasizing to "Save the Bees."

The Swanson, Chouinard, and Skomro Families gathering outside their home to watch the parade.

Mary, Kevin, Owen, John, Matthew, and Kim Mahoney, and Kerrie, Maggie, and Ellie Gottschall.

The patriotic Caraglia, Blamer, Aufiero, Chapdelaine, Delorey, Heinonen, Woodward, and Hanlon Families.

The Keene, Boncore, Titemore, Sciaraffa, and Mesa Families dressed as the Wizard of Oz.

Did you know that each year, international students are invited to attend Winthrop High School in Winthrop, Ma. This exciting initiative is part of the school district's efforts to expand its global education program. For many years, these dynamic international students have engaged with our community and formed relationships that go well beyond the walls of Winthrop High School.

Often, they volunteer within our community, participate in school and town sports and share their culture with everyone they encounter along the way!

Local host families help make this program a success and are in need for the 2021-22 school year. Welcoming an international student into your home is like gaining a son or daughter! The relationship you build with a student can last a lifetime as you become their “home away from home.”

It’s hard to teach our own children important life lessons such as acceptance, tolerance and the power of diversity. Hosting an international student is “hands on” teaching, and a great way to fill your home with joy and laughter while realizing that what makes us different can also bring us together.

To attract host families, Winthrop High School is working with Educatus Group as an organization-

OBITUARIES

Ramona Cooper
Died tragically

Ramona R. (Robinson) of Winthrop passed away unexpectedly due to a tragic incident on Saturday, June 26 at 60 years of age.

Ramona and her twin sister, Regina, were born in New Haven, CT. After birth, they were adopted into the loving family of Weston and Alice Robinson. Ramona grew up in West Haven, CT and graduated from West Haven High School in June of 1979. Growing up she always dreamed of joining the Air Force and her dream came true in January of 1980. When Ramona first went into the air force, she attended basic training at Lackland Air Force base in Texas, then completed her technical training at Shepard Air Force Base, TX, for telecommunication.

After completion of her technical training, she was stationed at Dover Air Force Base where she met the love of her life, Gary R. Cooper, Sr. They married on March 12, 1983 and in 1987, they were stationed in Karlsruhe, Germany where they welcomed their first and only child, Gary R. Cooper Jr.

Ramona loved working with aircrafts and enjoyed many years at Pratt and Whitney, where she worked in the engineering department. Her love for helping people led her to get a part time job, most recently working in the supply room at the VA in Jamaica Plain, MA.

Ramona always loved the shore and the water, saying multiple times she would love living on the shore. This dream led her to the town of Winthrop, where she enjoyed listening to the waves and collecting seashells. Ramona lived in Winthrop until the time of her tragic death on June 26, 2021. Ramona will be truly missed by all. May she rest in peace.

The devoted mother of Gary R. Cooper Jr. and his wife, Rochelle, she was the cherished twin sister of Regina Robinson and the late Weston Robinson; dear grandmother of Isaac, Lyric and Kiara; beloved daughter of the late Weston and Alice Robinson and former wife of Gary R. Cooper Sr. She is also survived by her loving niece and nephew.

Family and friends honored Ramona’s life by gathering at the Ruggiero Family Memorial Home, 971 Saratoga Street, (Orient Heights) East Boston, on Tuesday, July 6. Committal services were private. To leave an online condolence please visit www.ruggieromh.com.

The Senior Center will be reopening on Monday, July 12. We look forward to welcoming you back into the center! In the meantime, we can be reached at 617-846-8538, or via email: coareception@town.winthrop.ma.us.

There's a special kind of feeling when I think about you, Dad. It was such a heartache to lose you when there was so much more to live for. My memories will last forever of all the beautiful times we shared. I know that I was always Daddy's Little Girl and remember how you beamed when the 3 of us were together. It broke our hearts to lose you, as Mom and I were crushed. There will always be a special place within my heart that only you can own. Missing you so very much all these years that you have been gone from my life. I will always love you and miss you, until we meet again. It makes me happy to know that you and Mom are together again.

al partner on this program. Founded in 2003 and continually listed by CSJET (Council on Standards for International Educational Travel) for 7 consecutive years, Educatius Group (www.educatius.org/Host-Families) is the largest organization welcoming international high school students from over 50 different countries to the USA. Each year, Educatius Group recruits, trains and supports host families wishing to open their homes to international students while students study a full-time program at a local high school.

Commonly asked questions answered by Regional Manager Jodi Del Razo families welcome an international student into their homes?

Families host for a range of reasons. Some aim to give their own children exposure to international culture, to share American and local culture, and others enjoy filling their empty nests. Almost all host families agree that they have made a profound difference in a child’s life while enriching their own family and home. Many families keep in close contact long after the student has moved on. Our students are eager to live with and be part of an American host family and experience American life and traditions with you!

What type of support does Educatius Group offer for host families and students?

Educatius provides each host family with their own dedicated “local coordinator” who works closely with the host families, students, and schools to ensure the program is an all-around success. Local coordinators provide orientation and ongoing support for each host family and student before and during the student’s arrival. In addition, Educatius has an entire department dedicated to ensuring all students have a successful program. Our Student Experience team is always prepared and available to support our students and host families. Our Regional Managers are also readily available to students and host families through a 24-hour emergency line. Once you decide to be part of this program you will have support from start to finish. As an organization, we are proud of the support we provide as it is a pillar to our success.

This experience positively shapes our own community as well. There are different types of exchange programs. Educatius Group, enrolls international students at Winthrop High School and arranges and supports welcoming families to host them. It operates an “F-1 visa” foreign student program. This means that Educatius Group’s fees pay the full tuition amount to local high schools (even at public schools!) for each student on our program. A monthly stipend is also included to help offset the cost of hosting and Educatius students spend their “pocket money” in our community. So, Educatius Group encourages cross cultural understanding amongst people of diverse cultures, while also bringing direct economic benefits to communities like Winthrop (MA).

Caring host families in Winthrop and surrounding cities are now needed for talented international students arriving for the 2021-22 School Year. Families of any background, size or shape are welcome; but must have a separate bedroom for the student and speak English at home. Students are well-screened and must demonstrate high academic, health and English standards in order to be accepted into the program. All students have health insurance and come with their own spending money. Educatius provides a monthly stipend to host families for hosting. Although many families appreciate the monthly stipend, the value of sharing their home with an international student goes well beyond!

If you’d like to talk to someone about hosting an international student, contact us today!

THE FUNERAL OF WINTHROP RESIDENT, VETERAN AND STATE TROOPER (RETIRED) DAVID GREEN

Massachusetts State Troopers lead the funeral procession on Winthrop Street.

Members of the Mass. State Police family joined the funeral procession to Riverside Cemetery.

The flag draped casket of retired Massachusetts State Trooper David Green leaves the Kirby Funeral Home Friday afternoon, heading for the final resting place at Riverside Cemetery in Winthrop.

Last Friday, retired State Trooper, veteran and Winthrop resident David Green, who was gunned down was laid to rest in Winthrop’s Riverside Cemetery.

The funeral services were held from the Kirby Funeral Home, on Winthrop Street. The flagged draped casket of David Green was carried out, where a contingency of Massachusetts State Troopers stood at attention as the casket was placed into the hearse. A motorcycle escort left the funeral home, followed by the squad of state troopers and other dignitaries to Winthrop Cemetery, and members of the Winthrop Police Department, the hearse and the limousine with David Green’s family.

Winthrop Police Departments Deputy Chief, John Goodwin and other members of the department were in attendance last Friday afternoon.

Winthrop Street was blocked off during the final preparations for Winthrop resident and retired Massachusetts State Trooper, David Green.

Free admission to MFA on July 17 and 18

Staff Report

To celebrate the opening of “Paper Stories, Layered Dreams: The Art of Ekua Holmes,” the Museum of Fine Arts, Boston (MFA), is offering free general admission on Saturday, July 17 and Sunday, July 18, thanks to Citizens, the lead exhibition sponsor and a longstanding partner. Tickets will be available to reserve at 10 am on July 13.

A lifelong resident of Boston’s Roxbury neighborhood, Ekua Holmes (born 1955) is an artist and community activist whose body of work explores themes of childhood, family bonds, memory, and resilience. ‘Paper Stories, Layered Dreams: The Art of Ekua Holmes’ focuses on her award-winning children’s book illustrations—vibrant collages revealing stories of self-determination, love, and community that reflect the artist’s distinctive vision and commitment to Black imagery and representation.

The more than 40 works on view include original illustrations from Holmes’s published book projects: “Voice of Freedom: Fannie Lou Hamer, Spirit of the Civil Rights Movement” (2015) by Carole Boston Weatherford, “Out of Wonder: Poems Celebrating Poets” (2017) by Kwame Alexander, and “Black Is a Rainbow Color” (2020) by Angela Joy. The exhibition also features a selection of Holmes’s luminous illustrations for the recently released book “Saving American Beach” (2021) by Heidi Tyline King—on view for the first time—as well as a selection of her independent work, including portrait installation pieces. Interpretive materials include a video interview with the artist and a group of wall texts written by teen participants in the MFA’s Curatorial Study Hall program.

KETO SMOTHERED CHICKEN THIGHS

INGREDIENTS:

4 (8 ounce) skin-on, bone-in chicken thighs

1 teaspoon paprika

salt and pepper to taste

4 slices bacon, cut into 1/2 inch pieces

DIRECTIONS:

STEP 1: Preheat the oven to 400 degrees F (200 degrees C).

STEP 2: Season chicken thighs on all sides with paprika, salt, and pepper.

STEP 3: Cook bacon in a cast iron skillet or oven-safe pan over medium-high heat until browned, 4 to 5 minutes. Remove from skillet and drain on a paper towel-lined plate. Drain and discard excess grease from skillet.

STEP 4: Return skillet to medium heat and cook chicken thighs, skin-side down, for 3 to 4 minutes. Flip chicken over and place skillet in the preheated oven.

STEP 5: Bake until chicken thighs are no longer pink at the bone and juices run clear, about 30 minutes. An instant-read thermometer inserted near the bone should read 165 degrees F (74 degrees C). Remove chicken to a plate and cover with foil to keep warm. Remove all but 2 tablespoons drippings from skillet.

STEP 6: Return skillet to the stove over medium-high heat. Pour in chicken broth while whisking up brown bits from the bottom of the skillet. Add mushrooms and cook until soft, about 3 to 4 minutes. Pour in heavy whipping cream and whisk together until lightly simmering, then reduce heat to medium-low. Season with salt and pepper, if necessary.

STEP 7: Return chicken and any juices back into skillet; top with bacon and scallions. Serve immediately, spooning sauce over the chicken.

The town is mourning the passing of Norman Daw, 33, who died of heart and kidney failure attributable to the four serious wounds he received in the world war. Daw went off to the war after his sophomore year at WHS at the age of 17. He had been the New York City district sales manager for the DeForest Radio Company prior to his illness, which had forced him to come home to his parents' house at 326 Shirley St., where he died peacefully.

A Winthrop man struck another automobile from behind at the Everett Ave. railroad crossing in Chelsea at the Revere Beach Parkway, completely destroying both vehicles when the gas tank of the other vehicle exploded. No one was hurt, as the chauffeur and owner of the other vehicle leaped out upon impact and the Winthrop man and his wife jumped out the doors of their vehicle when they realized that a collision was imminent. The first vehicle was valued at $5200 and the auto owned by the Winthrop man was valued at $3200.

PANDOLFO GRADUATES FROM EMERSON

Emerson College awarded more than 950 undergraduate degrees and more than 470 graduate degrees for the Class of 2021 on Sunday, May 2, at Fenway Park in Boston, MA during its 141st commencement exercises, and virtually on Sunday, May 9. The College also honored the Class of 2020 graduates in an additional ceremony at Fenway Park on May 2.

James Pandolfo of Winthrop received a BS in Sports Communication.

Former President Lee Pelton gave the commencement address at Fenway Park, and Emmy-nominated writer, producer, and alum Stefani Robinson '14 delivered the address during the virtual ceremony on May 9. Both ceremonies featured remarks by former President Lee Pelton and Provost and Vice President for Academic Affairs Michael Whelan, student speeches and awards, video montages, and recognition of each graduate.

Photos available upon request.

Happy Valley, Eastie’s second adult use cannabis shop opens on McClellan Hwy

By John Lynds

After years of red tape, permitting, city and state approvals and construction, East Boston’s second adult-use cannabis dispensary will open at 220 McClellan Highway--the former site of Enterprise Rental Car facility.

Newton-based Happy Valley Ventures LLC, which was originally approved to be a medical-use cannabis dispensary before voters approved recreational use in the state, will officially open its doors on Thursday, June 24.

Inside Happy Valley’s Eastie location customers will be buzzed into the foyer and then into the main showroom for what Happy Valley’s VP of Technology and Marketing Gregg Weiss said is an experience like no other for a cannabis dispensary.

The sleek showroom has several display cases featuring Happy Valley’s flower, edible and concentrated cannabis products complete with descriptions.

Customers can peruse the display cases or use one of the interactive touchscreen displays to find the product they are in search for.

“Some of the smaller dispensaries do not have the space available for a large showroom and a lot of the product is featured and explained online,” explained Weiss. “Customers simply arrive at other dispensaries, wait in line, pick up their product and go home. We wanted this dispensary to be more of an experience. What’s different between this location and our location in Gloucester is that it’s about two or three times the size. We have the display cases, artwork, touchscreen displays where customers can answer a few questions and are then paired with a product so it is a very different experi-

Weiss and Happy Valley General Manager Gilly Motta said they really want the Eastie dispensary to become a showcase for Happy Valley products.

“What’s different about Happy Valley, compared to some other dispensaries, is that we are a vertically integrated dispensary with our own Happy Valley cannabis products,” said Weiss. “We cultivate and manufacture in Gloucester. So all our flowers, edibles, tinctures, oil solvents are done in Gloucester and shipped to East Boston. We also sell wholesale to other dispensaries across the state. So this store is really a showcase for our own product, our own brand. We are really building a premium brand here on the East Coast.”

Happy Valley can be compared more to an Apple Store than a run of the mill dispensary. With its cool vibe of artwork, screen displays and high tech software, Motta said Happy Valley really stands out in the dispensary industry.

“Our cannabis hosts are super knowledgeable about all of the products,” said Motta. “So as Gregg said, you can use the touchscreen displays but we’ll also have our hosts in the showroom to help guide customers into making a decision on what products best suit them. That’s another benefit of being vertically integrated and not being dependent upon a wholesaler. We grow our own products and make our own edibles and things. This is our product line and that’s what you see--the brand that we’re building. Would you rather go to Best Buy and buy an iPhone or the Apple Store. Sure the sales rep at Best Buy knows a lot about the iPhone but has to know about all the other phones he’s selling whereas the Apple Store sales rep has way more knowledge about the iPhone because that is the only product he needs to sell. So Happy Valley is sort of that concept where our staff is really knowledgeable on the products because they are our products. Other dispensaries have a revolving inventory of products from different wholesalers. If you’re just a retailer and you’re not vertically integrated you’re just trying to fill up your shelves and move new products and you’re kind of con-stricted by the wholesale market. Here, all the education is around our own product and we get way more granular with our product line versus somebody dropping off an order of product from five different wholesalers. We have a two week training course that everybody goes through on our products because it’s way more thorough. It’s impossible for a typical retailer in this industry to be super knowledgeable about all his products when he has 50 different wholesalers on his shelf.”

While most cannabis shoppers pick dispensaries for both price and convenience Weiss and Motta hope Happy Valley provides more of an experience. “We want them to leave saying, “Wow, that was an experience I’ve never had at a dispensary”, said Weiss. “And we want that experience to bring them back and hopefully they bring their friends because it was the best experience they had.”
