Community leaders held hate crime panel in memory of Winthrop victims

Special to the Transcript

Suffolk County District Attorney Kevin Hayden joined leaders in the Winthrop community last week to discuss the upcoming two-year anniversary of the killings of Ramona Cooper and David Green.

Winthrop Chief of Police Terence Delehanty hosted a panel discussion featuring District Attorney Hayden, Lieutenant Detective Timothy O’Connor from the Mass State Police, Chenée Castruita from the FBI Civil Rights Division, Peggy Shukur from the Anti-Defamation League (ADL), Andrea Baez, Chair of the Winthrop DEI Commission, and Meredith Hurley, Winthrop’s Director of Public Health.

The panel started with a recognition of the two lives lost on June 26, 2021, and the pain that was caused to the Cooper and Green families, the witnesses, and the community as a whole on that day. As the conversation went on, DA Hayden discussed the difference between a hate incident and a hate crime, and how reports are reviewed in his office. He stressed that they take all bias crimes seriously and will prosecute them to the fullest

POWER PLAYER

Chris Wayland’s outstanding ice hockey career set the foundation for becoming a driving force in Boston media

By Sydney Ciano

In 1980, Winthrop welcomed Mike Eruzi-one home with a parade. Mike was riding high in a convertible following his game-winning goal for Team USA when the Winthrop youth hockey team ran up to Belle Isle Bridge dressed in jerseys and cowboy hats. For 10-year-old Chris Wayland at the time, the miracle moment made him realize anything was possible with a team and common goal “because that was an impossible situation.”

The now-President and General Manager of NBCUniversal originally grew up in Everett before moving to Winthrop. There he learned to play hockey at half-rink, eventually following in his older brother’s footsteps and stepped into skates for Winthrop youth hockey. Young Chris spent his youth career as a forward before switching to a right extent possible if the facts support the charges. He also recognized the fears that victims often have surrounding reporting to police, including fear of retribution, and re-traumatization. Knowing this, he urged people to report and noted that his office will do whatever it can to support victims who go through the court process.

The panelists discussed the current climate and what types of hate crimes are currently happening in Massachusetts. Each shared what their agency does when it receives a report and what resources there are for victims. Those from Winthrop talked about the response that occurred in the days and weeks after the shootings occurred, and what they learned about the differing needs of community members. The ADL's Peggy Shukur took a moment to acknowledge that she was glad a community was having this discussion two years after a horrible crime, and that keeping the conversation going is important.

State Police Lieutenant Detective Tim O'Connor shared that his agency is often called in to lead or assist in homicide investigations when needed, as they did back in 2021 after the killings of Cooper and Green. He also recognized the courage and professionalism of the first responders on that day in 2021.

The panelists asked listeners who were interested to get involved in community activities that support others and for all to speak up should they see an incident of bias occur. Agent Castruita reminded everyone that reports can be made anonymously to the FBI Tip Line at 1-800-CALL-FBI (225-5324).

District Attorney Hayden, Chief Delehanty and all the panelists ended with asking everyone to remember the lives of the two brave public servants who were killed, Ramona Cooper and David Green, and to commit to fighting hate.

The panel discussion will begin airing later this week on Winthrop Community Access Television (WCATV), www.wcat-tv.org.

OUR Opinions

HAPPY FOURTH OF JULY

With the Fourth of July falling on a Tuesday this year, many of us will be enjoying an extra-long holiday week-end for which the weather hopefully will cooperate.

The Fourth of July brings back fond recollections from our youth, when we celebrated the Fourth with cookouts at our grandmother's house at Yirrell Beach on Pt. Shirley in Winthrop.

Those happy summer memories on the beach with family members, many of whom are no longer with us, are etched indelibly in our mind's eye and always bring a smile to our face as if they happened just yesterday, though they occurred decades ago.

Amidst all of our celebrating however, we often overlook the reason why we have a Fourth of July: It was on that date 247 years ago when a group of America's leaders and best thinkers gathered in Philadelphia to declare their independence from England by means of a proclamation to the world in which they stated, "We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness."

We hasten to point out that in 1776, "men" literally meant only "white men." About 20 percent -- almost 500,000 persons -- of the country's 2.5 million population were enslaved. Half of the rest -- women -- were treated as chattel and did not have the right to vote in America until more than 150 years after the signing of the Declaration of Independence.

But in the context of 2023, the basic premise of the Declaration of Independence -- "all men are created equal" -- resonates as loudly and as clearly as ever. To be sure, there are forces in our country that do not adhere to that belief. Racism, sexism, and prejudice still exist to far too large an extent.

But if we believe in the vision expressed by Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., who declared, "The arc of the moral universe is long, but it bends toward justice," the essence of the Declaration of Independence remains as true today as it did in 1776.

ENJOY THE LONG WEEKEND SAFELY

An often-overlooked aspect of the Fourth, especially during a long holiday weekend, is that too many among us will engage in behavior that is risky not only to ourselves, but to our loved ones and others around us.

Fireworks are illegal for everybody in Massachusetts, but that has not stopped the proliferation of fireworks in recent years. In Massachusetts alone in 2022, fire departments reported 106 fires and explosions attributed to fireworks, an increase of nearly a third from 2021. More than half of these incidents took place during the week of July 4. All told, fireworks-related incidents in Mass. last year caused 38 injuries and $414,279 in damages.

Every year there are more than 10,000 injuries across the country that require emergency room visits, with many fireworks' users losing fingers and suffering burns that will maim them for life.

Other risky behavior also spikes during the holiday weekend. From 2017 to 2021, there were 1,460 drivers who were killed in motor vehicle traffic crashes over the Fourth of July holiday period, of whom 38-percent were drunk.

This same admonition also applies to boat owners, who all-too-often think that being in the water while under the influence is safe and acceptable behavior.

In addition to happy memories from our youth, the Fourth of July also resurrects a tragic memory of a friend, an athletic young man in his 20s who was one of our basketball buddies, who became intoxicated at a backyard barbecue. He fell off a small porch when he missed a step and fractured some vertebrae, leaving him a paraplegic and wheelchair-bound for the rest of his life.

That tragic event happened almost 30 years ago, but the shock of hearing of our friend's accident, and then seeing him for the first time in a wheelchair, never to play basketball again, is something we never will forget.

In the 1800s and early 1900s, the Fourth of July served as a convenient excuse for young men to go on a rampage throughout their communities, vandalizing public and private property. The term "a safe and sane Fourth" was introduced at the turn of the 20th century to discourage deliberate acts of rowdiness.

Although we no longer celebrate the Fourth as wantonly as our ancestors did, nonetheless we all must do our part to make sure that we observe the Fourth's festivities safely and sanely, both for ourselves and our loved ones.

We wish all of our readers a happy, fun-filled, and safe Fourth of July.

WINTHROP SHOWED UP FOR PRIDE

Dear Editor,

The Winthrop Community had a very successful 2023 LGBTQ+ Pride month. By and large, we are making significant strides in working towards inclusion. There is much work to do, but progress and change are well underway. My husband and I started the Winthrop LGBTQ Pride + group in 2021 as a vehicle in which to create unity and support for LGBTQ residents and allies alike. It has been something for which we are incredibly grateful and proud of.

Winthrop's Commission for Diversity, Inclusion, and Community Relations (CDICR) is an integral part of our community's fabric and can serve as both a strong voice and leader on issues pertaining to racial, social justice, diversity and equality. It has the ability to position itself on the forefront and it should. Many towns and cities around Winthrop have vital Human Rights Coalitions and they are doing incredible things in their communities, and they are successful.

We would like to publicly acknowledge Winthrop Town Manager Anthony Marino, Senator Lydia Edwards, the Winthrop Town Council and of course, the many amazing residents throughout the community who advocate for social justice and unity, and celebrate our diversity. Senator Edwards was the catalyst behind the Pride Potluck event, which was amazing and in its second year. The Winthrop LGBTQ Pride group and Bike Winthrop teamed up to create the very first "Pride Ride" for our community. Big thanks goes to Winthrop resident Tara Streetman for initiating the idea for the Pride Ride and the folks at Bike Winthrop: Julia Wallerice, Bob Carroll, Janet Langley, Chris Aiello, Sarah Jane Fourness, Kim Witthaus and other members of Bike Winthrop for helping to make the Pride Ride happen.

Town Manager Marino and the Winthrop Town Council were instrumental in ensuring a Pride flag would be flown and proudly displayed in accordance with the newly created flag ordinance. And once again, overwhelming support came from Senator Lydia Edwards.

Additional thanks goes to the Winthrop Police Department (Terry Delehanty and John Goodwin) for providing us with police escorts to ensure our safety during the two-mile Pride Ride. We had a great time and look forward to next year's ride, which we hope to make even bigger and better.

Winthrop is a community full of wonderful people with kind and caring hearts. That kindness and commitment to celebrating our diversity has never shined so bright!

Happy Pride and Many Thanks,

Scott Mahoney-Wright

THANK YOU WINTHROP

Dear Editor,

My family and I continue to be overwhelmed by the support the town has shown our family. We lost our dearest Thomas last July 13, just two days after his nineteenth birthday. Thomas struggled with mental health issues for most of his adolescence. There were surely many bright spots in his life and he was doing well right up to his sudden passing, which made his loss devastating for us and for all those that knew him.

From the lowest of lows, our family has regained some sense of stability as we move forward. Every day remains a battle as we continue to mourn Thomas and consider what might have been. Despite our tremendous grief, there has been one consistent bright spot since the day Thomas passed, and that's the love and support not only from those closest to us, but also from acquaintances and even strangers. Trust us when we tell you that any negative connotations associated with living in a small town pale in comparison to the love and support we received then and continue to feel daily.

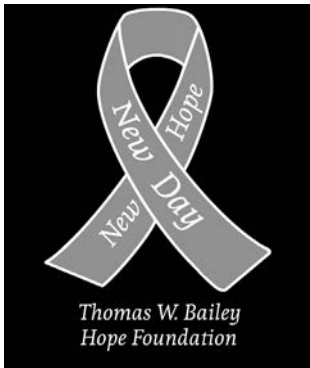

The Winthrop Police and Fire departments did anything they could to help us navigate this tragedy and did so with compassion. The packed church on the day of the funeral consisted of many friends, but also included many folks we didn't know but consider friends now. The safety net that the Winthrop Public School system has provided Thomas' brother Teddy has been essential in Teddy's educational progress in a time of despair. The high school athletic teams that teddy was once a part of continue to be a backbone for Teddy as he moves forward.

An additional bright spot to emerge from our family's tragedy has been the Thomas W. Bailey Hope Foundation. This is a foundation that family and friends created to keep the memory of Thomas alive. The mission of the Foundation is to provide a scholarship to any student that has been affected by mental health issues in their young lives. There were many worthy applicants, and we would have given them all a scholarship if we could have. The hope is that the scholarships that are awarded allow these students to pursue higher education and perhaps contribute, alongside the foundation, to help address the mental health issues that impact our children and the larger community in the future.

On Saturday, June 24, we held a fundraiser for the foundation at the Winthrop Golf Club. Beth, Teddy, and I agreed to this reluctantly, at the urging of my longtime friend Chris Shea. Chris had the vision and drive to put together what must be considered a truly successful event, on many levels. We raised awareness of the foundation, we generated funds for the foundation to continue to give out scholarships in the years to come, and despite the solemn purpose, we provided an atmosphere where laughter was heard from the first tee shot at 7:00 a.m. until the Beatles cover band faded out on Hey Jude at 11:00 p.m. Thanks Chris, we couldn't have done this without your passion and vision.

There were many volunteers and donors that are too numerous to mention individually here - family, friends, and businesses. Stop me on the street some day and I'll be happy to list them all, although, none of the names would be a surprise to longtime members of this community. They are the usual folks that rise to the occasion whenever called. I do need to mention the significant donation the Gene Distasio Scholarship has made to our foundation. The Distasio Scholarship was funded by the Oceanside Big Band and Jazz Fest that was directed by the Roy family over many years. Like our fundraiser last week, the funds raised there were from the community at an event where laughter and music were paramount. That donation helped us establish an early foothold and allowed us the opportunity to offer up a significant scholarship this past May. Special thanks go to the Distasio and Roy families. We can't thank you enough.

So, as I wipe another tear from my eye while considering all that has happened since last July 13, Beth, Teddy, and I would like to again offer a heartfelt Thank You to this town for all you have done for us. At this point, all we can do is try to give back to the community that has given us so much already. If this past weekend is any indication, we are in good hands.

And please remember to hug the ones you love and when you do, try to remember Thomas smile for those of you that were familiar with it.

Thank you, Winthrop, you should be proud of yourself.

If you would like to contribute to the Thomas W Bailey Hope Foundation Inc. you can Venmo @twbhope

Schools waiting on Dept. of Ed. grant figures

By Adam Swift

In the coming weeks, the Winthrop schools should know exactly how much it is getting in Department of Education grants for the 2023-24 school year.

“We are waiting on the Department of Education,” said Superintendent of Schools Lisa Howard. “Usually, when I am at the superintendent’s conference, which I will be at from July 11 to July 13, that’s when we get the numbers from the Department of Education on the grant allocations.”

Those grants typically include the entitlement grants such as the Special Education 240 grant and all the Title grants.

“I will bring those grants to the committee so you can approve the money coming in, and we will give you an overview of how those grants are being utilized,” Howard said at Monday night’s School Committee meeting.

Overall, Howard said most of the Department of Education grant funds are allocated toward staffing in the Winthrop schools because it balances the school budget to the tune of $1,878,746.

“That is on top of the current budget of $21,240,595,” said Howard. “We supplement that budget with close to $2 million worth of salaries.”

The superintendent said it is not the ideal way the district would like to use the Department of Education grant funding.

“Unfortunately, our hands are tied, and we need to use the majority of those grant funds to supplement the salaries of our schools,” said Howard. “Once they are posted, I will bring all of those numbers back to the School Committee to accept.”

and such,” said Council President James Letterie at Tuesday night’s meeting. “We had a recommendation that the council never voted on at that time, and I have received, as we all have, a few other emails concerning that, and I thought it would be good to bring it up again. I think it is something the council needs to discuss and take a serious look at.”

Public Works Director Steven Calla said it is an issue TSAC has taken up numerous times, and each time has come back with the same recommendation to make Almont Street a one-way street between Revere Street and Cross Street traveling in that direction toward Cross Street with Cross Street remaining a two-way street, and with Locust Street a one-way in the opposite direction.

“Neither one of those roads, neither Almont Street nor Locust Street, accommodates two-way traffic with the condition they are in now,” said Calla.

Fire Chief Scott Wiley said it can be difficult for emergency vehicles to travel down the streets, especially in the morning when there is traffic trying to back up on the roads.

Letterie said the recommendations will go before a joint meeting of the council’s public safety and rules and ordinances subcommittees before coming back to the full council for a public hearing.

“It’s a small town, and the streets are very narrow,” said Letterie. “There are a lot of potential changes that need to take place, and I don’t think we have to take them in a group. I think we have to look at them individually.”

Now, I want to put my experience helping businesses and communities to work for the benefit of my neighbors in Precinct 6 and everyone in Winthrop. I am all about listening, engaging, and surfacing ideas so that everyone has a voice and impact on the future of our community. Putting down roots in Winthrop, I seek to help the town thrive and grow, while preserving the sense of community that makes it such a great place. We face numerous challenges. We must find ways to invest additional funds into our schools, into the condition of our infrastructure, make our streets safer and so many other needs. The best way I know how to contribute my finance, accounting, and budgetary experience is to serve on the town council. With that, I am announcing my campaign for the at-large seat on the Winthrop Town Council.

If we haven’t met, I hope to meet you soon and ask for your support. I hope you’ll find that while we may not agree on every issue, I’m dedicated to honesty, compassion,

The Winthrop Improvement and Historical Association (WIHA) held its 109th Strawberry Festival on June 17. Members of the community enjoyed bountiful bowls of strawberry shortcake and cups of strawberry daiquiris before touring the 1637 Deane Winthrop House, where the Boston Scottish Fiddlers were performing. Beneath an outdoor tent, Drop Zone Brewery also served a hard seltzer and craft beers such as a Deane Winthrop Irish red beer, a Pauline Street pilsner, a Hazy Maze IPA, and a lemonade shandy. The Strawberry Festival was sponsored by the Paul Marks Company, Webster First Federal Credit Union, and the Winthrop Marketplace. Proceeds benefit the upkeep of the historical home.

Rick Feeley suggested this position change the year before Chris attended Dominic Savio High School in East Boston. As he remembers it, Feeley believed he could control the game better from the backside of the rink.

"[That change] sort of changed my whole path in hockey," Chris said, believing he had a much greater contribution to the game.

During his first year at the preparatory school, freshman hockey coach and biology teacher Bill Maradei challenged him each day at practice. Joining the varsity squad his sophomore year, Chris credited his defense coach Steve Goddard for the rest of his high school success.

"I wouldn't have played at the college level if it wasn't for [Goddard]," Chris said.

He attended Division III Elmira College in New York after high school, playing hockey all four years and graduated in 1988 with a degree in business administration and a specialization in marketing. Playing for the Soaring Eagles kept him in a competitive environment, which is what made the game so special for him. However, he thought his days on the ice would be over after graduation.

It was his one week at the Portland Pirates' camp that kept Chris in skates. Nick Fotiu, the head coach of the East Coast Hockey League's Nashville Knights at the time, took him on. Here, he learned that there was more to the sport than just athleticism. It was a business.

"You lose that pageantry of college hockey... the comradery," he said. "It's a cold hard business, either you perform or you go home."

With hockey being a key element of his life since the age of five, Chris believed he would find himself playing for the major league. If not the National Hockey League, he thought he would be helping other kids skate their way down the rink as a coach. After experiencing minor league hockey, though, he decided he needed a break from the sport.

"I certainly loved playing hockey, but the thing I loved the most... was I always wanted to be in the most competitive environment [as] possible and I wanted to be in a leadership position in that environment,” Chris said. Though at the time he did not know it, hockey helped Chris satisfy being part of a team, staying competitive, and achieving goals with a tight-knit small team. In fact, he shared that it is what he misses the most. Regardless, he felt that his time had run out on the hockey clock.

After the ECHL, Chris took some time before finding his rhythm with NBCUniversal. He first held a sales position at WQRC 99.9, not knowing exactly where his career would take him and expected himself to stay with the sales business.

It was not until joining NBCUniversal that sports began to find a place back in his life. Eight months into running NBC10 Boston, Telemundo Boston, and New England Cable News, NBC Sports Boston asked if Chris would be willing to run their property as well.

The obvious answer was: yes.

He had grown up loving the local New England teams and played almost every sport: baseball, hockey, basketball, lacrosse, and soccer. His one regret? Not playing football.

On April 1, 2020, Chris became the company’s president, facing two challenges simultaneously:

transitioning four properties into one unit, and navigating the early beginnings of Covid-19.

He said in the transition, protecting the individual and distinct personalities of each business while finding a common goal for all was his biggest challenge. Chris wanted to leverage themselves in the marketplace as best as possible in the most effective and respectful way. Just as he did as a captain in skates, he led a group of individuals in unity to achieve something not one person or company could do alone.

Sports was his outlet to compete and achieve over and over again. Having the opportunity to run all four NBCUniversal properties allowed Chris to keep the competitive nature of sports in his life. He said he tries to recreate the team aspect of sports and the unity between players – or employees. Achieving a common goal, or a championship win, remains in Chris’ life even years away from the rink.

For him, the championship win is succeeding in the Boston media market. Boston is currently the ninth biggest market in the nation.

“We’ve moved... to a spot where we’ve completely come together as a group – those four properties – we’ve maintained their individual identities... but we understand that our scale as an operation allows us to compete in this marketplace in a way that nobody else can,” he said.

Another main goal of the company is to produce “News Worthy of You” – or news worthwhile to the local community as a whole. While it is exciting to produce news seen by thousands on the daily, Chris knows that they have a great responsibility to the people. He emphasizes that the news produced should be important and impactful to the consumers.

This business side of the media was not new to him. He learned from the ECHL that business was a priority.

While he still has his own opinions and feelings about developments in the sports world, especially with the Celtics as they have a partnership where the team owns 30 percent of the network, Chris finds himself being “a much more measured superfan” with less of an emotional attachment to the game.

His appreciation for the teams capable of and accomplishing winning a championship, though, has not faded. This same excitement now stretches to media employees who are given their chance at their own championship.

“You have all these dreams and goals to achieve... Boston, it’s certainly the best or one of the best sports towns in the country... it’s a really competitive news market with really competitive operators,” he said. “So if you get selected to be part of the Boston media marketplace in any way, shape, or form, that’s like making it to the National Hockey League,” or being a Team USA gold medalist.

TSA is prepared for record passenger volumes over the Independence Day holiday period

As the Independence Day holiday approaches, the Transportation Security Administration (TSA) is prepared for sustained higher summertime passenger volumes at airport security checkpoints nationwide. TSA anticipates the busiest travel days will occur from June 29 through July 5. The peak travel day of the holiday weekend is expected to be Friday, with TSA screening an estimated 2.82 million individuals and approximately 17.7 million during the seven-day travel period. Friday's travel figure would surpass our current single day travel record since Friday, June 16, where TSA screened nearly 2.8 million passengers. The peak Independence Day holiday travel day in 2019 was Sunday, July 7, where TSA screened 2.79 million passengers. "TSA is staffed and ready for the increasing travel volumes during this holiday travel period with the technologies and resources for improved security effectiveness, efficiency and passenger experience at security checkpoints," said TSA Administrator David Pekoske. "This is largely due to the funding we received in FY23 Omnibus Appropriations Act, which places all TSA employees on the same pay scale as most other federal employees. With the new pay implementation plan for all TSA employees starting in July, attrition levels at TSA have dropped to historic lows, which means our increased employee retention has resulted in sufficient staffing levels to meet the increased passenger demand throughout the country. We expect that passenger volumes will continue to grow, and we will continue to work with our industry partners in the transportation network to meet our passenger throughput standards of 30 minutes or less in standard lanes and 10 minutes or less in TSA PreCheck® lanes. We met these standards over 98 percent of the time so far this year."

Based on some of the most recent trends at the nation's airports, TSA recommends the following Top 10 travel tips to get through the TSA security checkpoint faster: Tip 1: TSA PreCheck members: Make sure the TSA PreCheck mark is on your boarding pass. Passengers must ensure that their Known Traveler Number (KTN) along with correct date of birth is in their airline reservation. Teenagers age 17 and under may now accompany TSA PreCheck enrolled parents or guardians through TSA PreCheck screening when traveling on the same reservation and when the TSA PreCheck indicator appears on the teen's boarding pass. Children 12 and under may still accompany an enrolled parent or guardian when traveling through the TSA PreCheck lanes anytime without restriction. Those enrolled in TSA PreCheck enjoy the benefits of faster checkpoint screening. The five-year membership costs $78. After submitting an online application, which takes just five minutes, applicants must schedule an appointment at any of the 500+ enrollment centers. After a successful enrollment center visit, most new enrollees will receive their KTN within three to five days. Members may renew membership online up to six months prior to expiration for another five-year term for $70. Most TSA PreCheck members wait less than five minutes at the checkpoint. Tip 2: Firearms and ammunition are not permitted in carry-on bags, but are permitted in checked bags when properly packed and declared. If passengers choose to travel with a firearm, they are permitted only when properly packed and declared at the airline ticket counter for checked baggage. Airlines may have additional requirements for traveling with firearms and ammunition, so travelers must also contact their airline regarding firearm and ammunition carriage policies prior to arriving at the airport. Passengers with firearms found in a carry-on bag at a TSA security checkpoint will lose TSA PreCheck eligibility for five years, which includes current TSA PreCheck members. Additionally, TSA may conduct additional screening for those passengers to ensure no other threats are present. Late last year, TSA increased the maximum civil penalty for a firearms violation to $14,950. Passengers with firearms found in a carry-on bag at a TSA checkpoint are also subject to applicable city or state laws at that airport that may include citation or arrest. Tip 3: Pack an empty bag and know before you go. When airline passengers begin packing for travel with an empty bag, they are less likely to be stopped at the security checkpoint for having prohibited items. Prior to packing that empty bag, check TSA's "What Can I Bring?" tool to know what is prohibited. The most common prohibited items at the TSA checkpoint are drinks and foods that are prohibited according to the liquids, gels and aerosols rule. Tip 4: Give yourself plenty of time. Summer travel is busy, so plan ahead! Passengers should give themselves plenty of time to park, return a rental car, take a shuttle to the airport if needed, check-in with the airline, check bags with the airline and prepare for the security checkpoint. Passengers may save time by removing items from pockets and placing them in their carry-on bag, instead of putting items directly into bins at the conveyor belt. Tip 5: Be aware of new checkpoint screening technology. TSA uses a variety of security methods and technologies to secure our transportation systems. Screening protocols can be unpredictable and may vary from airport

News Briefs // INTEGRITY REVIEW BUREAU RECEIVED 17 NEW CASES IN 2022

The Suffolk County unit that investigates claims of innocence, wrongful convictions, unjust sentences and other criminal court irregularities received 17 new cases for screening in 2022 and currently has 38 cases awaiting initial review, District Attorney Kevin Hayden announced.

In addition to the cases

awaiting review, the Integrity Review Bureau (IRB) has five cases selected for further investigation and three cases that will likely result in recommendations for relief, Hayden said.

“The IRB’s work is vital in bringing attention and remediation to cases where justice has not been served or has been inequitably applied. We are fully aware of the power we possess as prosecutors and as investigators, and we will always use that power to secure just convictions and to address unjust convictions,” Hayden said.

The current IRB structure, dating to 2019, was built upon the office’s DNA Committee, started in 2002, and its Conviction Integrity Program, started in 2012. In its current inception the IRB has received 108 applications for review, which have to date resulted in 18 defendants receiving some form of relief. The relief includes nine recommendations regarding convictions, four regarding sentencing, and five regarding other forms of relief, such as support for parole or commutation.

The IRB has continually refined its application and online Case Inquiry Form, with the latest revisions having been made in spring and summer of 2022. The goal is to make the application form and process accessible for anyone seeking review of a conviction or sentence.

“Making the application form as easy as possible to access and complete goes a long way when it’s used by inmates or others with limited access to computers and the internet. This is an advantageous blend of technology and justice system access,” Hayden said.

The IRB has dramatically reduced its response time to case inquiries received through the office’s website portal. Response time in 2020, with the IRB in its infancy and with a backlog of inherited cases, was over two weeks. Response time dropped to under three days in 2021 and under two days in 2022.

Of the 18 cases approved for relief, 14 of the applicants were Black, two were Hispanic and two were White. One of the applicants was female and the rest were male. The applicants have collectively served 564 years in prison.

A Special Town Meeting Monday will decide whether to continue a system of rent control in the town beyond July 31, the date when the federal rent control law expires. Pres. An unusual storm brought breakers crashing 60 feet high and pounding against Shore Drive. People gathered all along the crest to view the magnificent sight, said to have been caused by a storm at sea. Although no homes were threatened, lawns in the area received a salt bath.

Home-grown vegetables and salmon were served to the 75 members of the Winthrop Community Hospital household. Thanks to the efforts of hospital head custodian Jim Ahearn, the hospital has a thriving two-acre farm which is providing ample fare for the hospital family, both patients and employees.

We have not for years had a more noisy celebration than we had this year and, let it be said joyfully, one so free from malicious mischief. Although there was a false alarm at 2:00 a.m., two panes of glass were broken at Brown’s, and some flags and decorations disturbed, the festivities outshone these incidents. Fireworks and pyrotechnic displays took place at each of the hotels in town.

Last Sunday’s session at the Unitarian Church was devoted to the children, and for them the altar was cheery and bright.

to airport depending on available technology and the current threat environment.

• Computed Tomography (CT) Scanners: Some airports have installed new state-of-the-art CT scanners which significantly improves threat detection capabilities for carry-on bags and reduces physical searches of bag contents for prohibited items. CT units give Transportation Security Officers (TSOs) the ability to review a 3D image of passengers' bags and reduce physical searches of bag contents for prohibited items. Passengers screened in security lanes with CT units do not need to remove their 3-1-1 liquids or laptops, but they must place every carry-on item, including bags, into a bin for screening. Light items should be placed at the bottom of the bin to avoid anything falling out into the tunnel and causing an unnecessary bag jam. TSA advises travelers not to force larger items into the tunnel but to ask a TSO for assistance, as the opening to the X-ray tunnel on a CT unit is slightly smaller than on a traditional X-ray unit. Passengers are also reminded to bring a maximum of one carry-on bag and one personal item through security screening. If a passenger uses more than one bin, their bins may not come out of the tunnel together, so TSA encourages passengers to make sure they are not leaving anything behind at the checkpoint. As with any new technology, it will take some time for passengers to get used to this new screening technology. Some airports have construction underway to install these new CT scanners, and TSA asks passengers to be patient during the screening process.

• Advanced Imaging Technology (AIT): Before passengers go through the AIT, all items such as wallets, cell phones and all light outerwear must be removed. Light outerwear is defined as an outer layer of clothing with a full front zipper or buttons used to fasten the outer garment, excluding button up shirts. Examples include, but are not limited to, windbreakers and vests, suit/sport coats, blazers and light jackets. This includes all standard and TSA Pre-Check passengers.

Tip 6: Make sure you have an acceptable ID. Adult passengers 18 years and older must show valid identification at the airport checkpoint in order to travel. Below are some technologies TSA may use to validate your identity.

• Credential Authentication Technology (CAT): To strengthen identity verification, TSA is deploying CAT units to confirm the authenticity of a passenger's identification credential, flight details and screening status – without having to scan a boarding pass. With CAT, passengers only need to provide their acceptable photo identification to the TSO.

The second generation of CAT, called CAT-2, is currently deployed to 25 airports and adds a camera and smart phone reader to the other CAT features. The camera captures a real-time photo of the traveler at the Travel Document Checker podium and compares the traveler's photo on the identification credential against the in-person, real-time photo. Once the CAT-2 confirms the match, the TSO verifies and directs the traveler for appropriate security screening without ever exchanging a boarding pass. TSOs may perform additional passenger verification if needed. Photos captured by CAT units are never stored or used for any other purpose than immediate identity verification. Travelers who do not wish to participate in the facial matching process may opt out in favor of an alternative identity verification process without losing their place in line. TSA is committed to protecting passenger privacy, civil rights, civil liberties and ensuring the public's trust as it seeks to improve the passenger experience through its exploration of identity verification technologies.

Jane was the beloved wife of John G. Kelleher (The Captain). Born in Boston and raised in Chelmsford, she was the cherished daughter of the late George E. and Evelyn A. (Hill) Ellinwood.

Prior to her retirement, Jane worked as a nurse practitioner providing care for elderly patients throughout Greater Boston and she previously worked in the delivery room of the former Winthrop Hospital where she assisted with the delivery of many Winthrop residents! She was an active participant in the annual 4th of July committee and said there was no better place in the world to celebrate America's birthday than Point Shirley!

Jane was the devoted mother of Virginia Fontana and her husband, Michael of Malden, Elizabeth Boncore and her husband, Robert of Winthrop, John "Jake" Kelleher and his wife, Renee, Kathleen Fiamma and her husband, Vincent, and David Kelleher and his wife, Liza, all of Newburyport, Kevin Kelleher and his wife, Colleen of North Reading and Mary Vaccaro and her husband, Joseph of Winthrop. She was the adored grandmother of Kati, Julie, Domenic and Andrew Fontana, Jack, Emily Rose and Grace Kelleher, Alex, Amanda and Isa Kelleher, Alyson, Shannon and Dylan Kelleher and Christa and Holly Vaccaro; the dear sister of the late Sandra Carignan and the loving aunt of Steven and Michael Carignan, all of Chelmsford and the cherished sister-in-law of Sister Virginia Kelleher of Framingham.

Visiting hours were held in the Maurice W. Kirby Funeral Home, 210 Winthrop St., Winthrop on Monday, June 26 followed by a Funeral Mass in St. John the Evangelist Church (St. Michaels Parish) 320 Winthrop St., Winthrop. Interment was private.

Donations can be made to a charity of your choice. To sign Jane's guestbook, please visit: www.mauricekirbyfh.com.

All types of services for all types of people.

Some people prefer traditional funeral services. Others prefer cremation.

Some want an elaborate ceremony.

Then there are others who don't want any ceremony at all. When it comes to funerals, there are as many options as there are people. And we take pride in being able to say we offer them all.

Solid waste information and changes

Special to the Transcript

The Massachusetts Department of Environmental Protection has established a goal for each city and town in the Commonwealth to reduce their tonnage by 30-percent by 2030. The Town of Winthrop is working toward meeting or beating that goal. As part of the Town's overall reduction strategy, Solid Waste and Recycling ordinances and regulations adopted by the Town Council and Board of Health will go into effect on July 1, 2023.

Waste Collection Fees will be billed every six months, in July and January. The current fee for curbside collection of solid waste (trash) and recycling will remain $160.00 per unit, per dwelling. The bill will be divided equally per billing cycle. Any interest on past due fees will continue to accrue until payment is made in full.

As of July 1, 2023, all residents will be permitted to utilize one (1) town-sued trash bin and one (1) town-issued recycling bin per unit, per dwelling. Single family homes have been issued one set of bins (1) trash bin and one (1) recycling bin. A two-family dwelling is issued two sets, one for each unit of the dwelling. A three-family dwelling is issued three sets, one for each unit of the dwelling. Please add the address on each bin and unit number if applicable.

Any additional trash will need to be in an official Town of Winthrop Overflow Trash Bag placed curbside, inside a covered bin supplied by the resident. Any trash placed for pickup not following this policy will not be collected by the hauler.

Town of Winthrop Overflow bags are sold in sleeves of five ($15.00)

Bags will be available at Woodside Ace Hardware, Shirley True Value Hardware, Cumberland Farms, Quick Food Mart, T & T, Winthrop Town Hall and DPW.

- Our overflow bags are made in the USA of recycled content and are 1.5 millimeters thick and measure 33" by 35", the equivalent of a 33-gallon bag.

- Any trash which does not fit in your town issued bin with the cover closed, will need an overflow bag. Overflow trash must be placed in a covered bin provided by the homeowner.

- These bags are for household trash only.

- Do not place any yard waste, recyclables, construction debris or hazardous waste, textiles, or banned materials in these bags.

- Overflow bags must not be left on the curb.

- Any bags/items left for collection not following these policies will not be collected by the hauler.

- No refund on purchased bags. If the product is defective, call the number on the bag for replacement.

Online Bulk Stickers

- Bulk Item Stickers are available online only at the town website, www.town.winthrop.ma.us. Once the order is received the stickers will be mailed to your home within 5-7 days.

- Bulk Item Stickers are non-refundable and non-transferable to another address or item.

- All Orange Bulk Sticker Items will be increased to $10.00 on July 1, 2023.

- Residents will be limited to two Orange (household) Bulk Sticker Items collected curbside weekly. A limit of two Blue (freon items), Yellow (appliances and large item) and Pink (electronics) Bulk Item Stickers are picked up on the third Tuesday monthly. If you do not place your 'White Goods' item out for collection on the third Tuesday, please call the DPW at 617-846-1341 to reschedule your pickup for the next month.

Abatements

Solid Waste Abatement Forms will be available online from the town website to download, at the Town Hall and the DPW. All Waste Collection Fees must be current and paid in full until the resident receives written approval of abatement. Abatements will be considered for:

- Unoccupied unit in a multi-dwelling- The entire unit must be vacant for the entire 6 months of the billing cycle to qualify for an abatement. The owner must provide proof of vacancy in the form of utility bills.

- Private Hauler- The owner will need to provide a copy of the contract with the hauler to the DPW. Documentation must include the service address, number of units, contract rate and term of the contract.

- 34-gallon Trash/Recycling Bins

- Bins will be available upon request with preference given for differently abled and senior residents.

- The fee is $100 per unit, per dwelling in two equal billing cycles annually.

- The owner must complete an abatement form for bin exchange. Upon approval by the Town Manager or their designee, a bin will be assigned and delivered to the property.

- Request for Additional Trash Bin

- The owners may request to add an additional 64-gallon trash bin to the allocated number of bins per dwelling. Currently there is a waitlist. The second trash bin fee annually is $280.00 in addition to the annual Solid Waste & Recycling Fee of $160.00 per unit, per dwelling.

- The owner must complete an abatement form for bin exchange. Upon approval by the Town Manager or their designee, a bin will be assigned and delivered to the property.

If you have questions, please visit the Solid Waste & Recycling page on The Town of Winthrop website www.town.winthrop.ma.us or call the DPW at 617-846-1341 X 2609.
